Tokio, April 24.—The relations between Japan and the United States were discussed today by Premier Count Yamamoto, who declared that they must remain peaceful in spite of local disturbance. He expressed confidence that the United States citizens would demand that no discrimination be made against the Japanese and that matters should be arranged in a spirit of fair play. He disapproved of exhibitions of temper or of unseemly agitation.

BONNIE BURN NEEDS TO BE MUCH LARGER

Sanitorium Governors Say so and They Want $75,000 From the County.

Elizabeth, April 24.—The Board of Governors of Bonnie Burn Sanitorium held a conference yesterday afternoon with the committee from the Board of Freeholders, of which J. Hervey Doane is chairman, with a view to securing favorable action on the proposition to enlarge the sanitorium. The need of more room is urgent as there is a waiting list of thirty, and accommodations for 150 are needed. At present there are eighty patients at the sanitorium.

The freeholders received the report which will be considered and a decision will be reached later. It is estimated that it will require between $75,000 and $80,000 to build the addition required and if this is decided bonds will be issued.

MARTINE'S SECRETARY VICTIM OF A SWINDLER

Washington, April 24.—Arrest of a well-dressed and plausible young man who has tried to swindle several members of Congress by various games, has disclosed a story of how Joseph Aranoff, secretary to Senator James E. Martine, of New Jersey, was "done" out of $350 by the same glib stranger a few weeks ago.

The man, who when arrested today, gave his name as Henry M. Thornton, called at Senator Martine's office while the senator was on the floor of the Senate, and showed Aranoff a letter from a firm of Jersey City lawyers, in which he was referred to in flattering terms. As he opened the letter, a check fell out. It was a cashier's check drawn on the Second National Bank of Orange, N. J., and as it seemed so good and the man's credentials seemed so genuine, Aranoff did not hesitate to take it to the office of the disbursing clerk of the Senate and get it cashed. A few days later the check came back, with a letter declaring it to be a forgery, and Aranoff put up the money to make it good.

When a Georgia congressman notified the police that an attempt was being made to flim-flam him, which he had discovered by accident, the police sent for Aranoff, and with a detective he went to the Georgia man's office and identified the swindler as the same man for whom he had cashed the check. The man is now in jail here.

THIS AUTOMOBILE TIRE IS REALLY WONDERFUL

The Fabricord tire, the product of the Century Tire Company, of North avenue, this city, is one of the marvels of the age and it has already attracted widespread attention not only in this country, but it will probably not be long before this tire will be manufactured not only in England, but on the Continent of Europe as well, as soon as the patents now pending are granted and the merits of the tire are known to the automobile trade.

In the Fabricord construction there is employed an entirely new method of application of the fibres of the cotton fabric—the strength of the fabric being almost entirely radical to the wheel. Tire users are beginning to notice their gasoline bills, which naturally grow larger and manufacturers are beginning to pay more attention to gasolene consumption necessary to propel vehicles equipped with their goods. In this respect the Fabricord tire is attracting considerable attention in the trade.

One of the commanding features of the Fabricord tire is the resiliency and by its use is attained the added comfort of easy riding, extraordinary coolness in running, which prolongs the life of the tire, utmost speed and coasting ability, besides the reduced strain on the motor; all of which means that this tire is a great economizer of fuel and will go far toward paying for itself in the saving of gasolene.

REBUILDING JEWETT HOUSE.

Work of reconstructing the John Jewett residence on Central avenue, which was damaged to the extent of $20,000 by fire two weeks ago, has been started and plans have been drawn which will make it one of the handsomest residential properties in this city when completed. The house will practically have to be rebuilt as the damage extended over the whole interior of the place.

A CHURCH SOCIAL.

A "down-and-out" social will be given by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Trinity Reformed church in the lecture room tonight. An interesting program has been arranged and all endeavorers and their friends are invited to be present.

ATYPICAL ASS'N TO MEET IN NEW YORK

Mr. Taft to Become an Honorary Vice-President of the National Body.

The National Association for the Study and Education of Exceptional Children will hold its annual meeting in the rooms of the Society for Ethical Culture, in New York, on Wednesday, April 30. A new board will be elected and among those who have consented to become honorary vice presidents will be former President William Howard Taft, United States Commissioner of Education Dr. Philander P. Claxton, Mrs. Frederick Schoff, president National Congress of Mothers; Dr. Abraham Jacobi, president American Medical Association.

There will be a medical advisory board, an educational advisory board, a sociological advisory board and women's auxiliary for all of which a committee of excellent names of national reputation have been secured. Dr. M. P. E. Groszmann, the head of Hebart Hall on Watchung Crest, which is supported by the association, will leave in June for an extended trip west, speaking at the University of California, University of Utah and the Teachers College in Colorado, and organizing his work among the colleges and public schools of the west.

WARREN CHAPEL IS GROWING PROSPEROUS

Rev. Mr. McKelvey's Parishioners Find Annual Reports Encouraging.

Reports submitted by the officers of Warren chapel at the annual meeting held last night were most encouraging to the chapel members and showed that every department of the church work is in a flourishing condition. The chapel now has a membership of 217 and during the year just closed nineteen were added by confession and seventeen by letter. One death and three dismissals have been recorded during the year, making the net gain in membership thirty-two. The treasurers' report showed a total of receipts amounting to $1,879.30 and disbursements of $1,869.60, leaving a balance on hand of $9.70.

The treasurer of the Wednesday evening missionary fund reported receipts amounting to $249.91 and disbursements of $249, leaving 91 cents in the treasury. An active membership of 496 was reported in the Sunday-school with an average attendance of sixty per cent. Receipts amounting to $646.08 have been taken in by the Sunday-school and disbursements totaled $600.03, leaving a balance on hand of $149.21.

Miss L. Lovell submitted the eleventh annual report of the sewing school, showing an enrollment of ninety. The Missionary and Aid Society enjoys a membership of thirty-six associate and sixty-four active members, and three barrels valued at $151.44 were packed by members of this organization for the home missions. The Missionary and Aid Society's treasurer reported receipts of $191.10, with expenditures of $191, leaving a balance of ten cents with which to start the new year. A total of $300.65 has been added to the mortgage fund during the year by the holding of sales and individual subscriptions. H. T. Greene, treasurer of the general fund, announced receipts of $125.46 with expenditures of $114.06, leaving a balance of $11.40.

Thirty-five members are enrolled in the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor and throughout the fifty meetings held an average attendance of twenty has been maintained. The general fund showed a balance on hand of $48.09, and the missionary fund $3.51. The following balances on the various funds were turned over by the respective treasurers: Flower fund, $37.34; mortgage fund, $229.52; balance on all funds, $318.46.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society has a total enrollment of fifty-one, with an average attendance of thirty-seven and the treasury still contains $10.75 after a most successful year of work. Forty members have been active in the Men's Association and the association has provided a "Pulpit Bible" and two "Hymn Boards." This organization ended the year with $24.33.

A financial statement of the chapel work shows that receipts amounting to $4,235.26 have been turned in and $3,409.75 disbursed, leaving $825.51 on hand. The total benevolences for the year just ended amounted to $1,107.29.

J. W. KIRKNER SUSPENDED BY N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, April 24.—John W. Kirkner, of 441 West Eighth street, Plainfield, of the firm of Spaulding, McClellan & Co., with offices at 71 Broadway, was suspended from the New York Stock Exchange this morning for six months, on a charge of violating the rules of the exchange. Mr. Kirkner was suspended on charges contained in a letter from a New Jersey trust company, to the effect that he had handled speculative accounts for an employe of that company a year ago. It was pointed out by opponents of stock exchange incorporations, that if the exchange were incorporated this disiplinary power could not be exercised as the accounts of the brokers were not forbidden by law, but were simply against the rules of the exchange.

COP TO QUIT TO TAKE A $2,500 A YEAR JOB

Daniel McDonald, who has been connected with the local police department for a number of years as a patrolman, will take the position of house detective for the Hudson Terminal Company, of New York, and he expects to resign his present position in the near future. His salary will be $2,500 a year. The position was first offered to Police Chief Kiely, but he declined and Mr. McDonald was then suggested for the place.

Mr. McDonald's office will be in the Hudson Terminal, and his duties will include the general policing of the large building. He will have several men under him. Sometime ago, Mr. McDonald was given a leave of absence of six months to take a position as superintendent of the dining-room in a large department store in New York, but he decided not to keep the position and later returned to his former job of patrolman.

It is understood that Mr. McDonald's promotion was brought about through the influence of former Mayor C. J. Fisk.

JOHN CONNELLY DIES; FUNERAL ON SATURDAY

John Connelly died yesterday afternoon at his home, 314 East Fifth street, from complications. He was born in Ireland and had been a resident of this city about eighteen years, coming here from Glen Gardner. He was a gardener by occupation.

Surviving is a widow, a son, Michael Connelly, of Bayonne, a daughter, Mrs. J. P. Smith, of New Rochelle, and three sons, John, William and Patrick Connelly, of this city; a brother, Patrick Connelly, of High Bridge, and a sister, Mrs. Stack, of Hampton Junction. The funeral will be held at the late home Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock and at St. Mary's R. C. church at 9 o'clock. The burial will be at Hampton Junction.

BRYAN'S OWN WORDS MAY PROVE BOOMERANG

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, April 24.—When Secretary Bryan reaches Sacramento he will be shown an extract from the Democratic National Platform sponsored by himself, favoring protection to foreigners residing in United States under treaty, but declaring the Democratic party opposed to admission of Asiatic immigrants who cannot be amalgamated with our population or whose presence among us would raise a race issue and involve the United States in diplomatic controversies with Oriental powers.

RICHARD PARROTT, JR., BECOMES A BENEDICT

Miss Minnie Gunzelman His Bride at a Quiet Wedding.

Miss Minnie Gunzelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gunzelman, of 320 Monroe avenue, and Richard Parrott, Jr., of this city, were quietly married at 7 o'clock, last night at the parsonage of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, the pastor, officiating.

Miss Bessie Gunzelman, a sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Harry Gunzelman, a brother of the bride, was the best man. The bride was gowned in blue satin, with hat to match, and she carried bride roses. The bridesmaid's gown was of pale blue satin, and she carried pink roses.

There was no reception, owing to the illness of the bride's mother. Mr. and Mrs. Parrott left last night for Newburg, N. Y., the former home of the bridegroom, where they will visit for a time. Their plans for the future are not definitely decided. Mrs. Parrott is a member of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, while Mr. Parrott is a member of the First M. E. church.

The bridegroom was formerly engaged in the coal business in this city, but recently sold out to Walter Temple.

BAR-KOCHBA PROVES BIG DRAWING CARD

Great Crowd Fills Reform Hall to Witness Performance of Playlet.

A playlet entitled, "Bar-Kochba," dealing with that critical period in history when the Jews made their last attempt, in the year 50 A. D., to free themselves from the bondage of the Romans, was cleverly presented last night in Reform Hall by the local Zionists' Camp. An excellent program of vocal and instrumental music was also enjoyed by the audience which taxed the enclosure to its capacity. A feature of the playlet was the superb impersonation of the characters by the participants, who were costumed in a fashion practically identical with the dress of the ancient Jews of the time of Bar-Kochba, the famous general.

The chief character in the cast was ably impersonated by Harry Rosenbaum, a West Front street merchant, and others in the cast were Abraham Goldfrab, Max Matlin, Abraham Kwint, Samuel Saidel, Jr., Edward Nadler, Harry Rosenberg and Miss Rosie Davidson. Miss Davidson enacted her part with unusual ability.

The balance of the program consisted of vocal selections, by the Misses Sadie Rothberg and Rose Seigel, accompanied by Miss Sadie Moskowitz, on the piano; piano selections by Leo Hersh. The group "Altnewland," of New York, recited and rendered vocal selections under the direction of Prof. Louis Monfried, of New York.

The committee consisted of Harry Katz, chairman; Samuel Rosenbaum, Morris Rosenbaum, Louis Matlin, Nathan Fallick, Zecariah Curitzky, Samuel Gallinson and Leo Zeisel.

YANKEES REAL RULERS IN SIAM HE DECLARES

For the past fifty years Siam has been practically ruled by Americans with its King in reality but a figurehead, declared Dr. L. D. Buckley, of New York, in an address last night in the Crescent Avenue church before an audience of about seventy-five persons. The kings of Siam, he explained, for the past half century selected an American as their chief advisors and secretaries and the Yankees' ideas and opinions on various matters of government have invariably been carried out, he added.

Dr. Bulkley illustrated his lecture with stereopticon views, showing on the screen the beautiful Buddist temples and idols. He said Siam is really the centre of the followers of Budda and among the interesting pictures shown on the screen was that of thousands of natives assembled in a large public square worshipping according to the native custom. Many views of public buildings and the natural and wonderful beauties of the small island, were taken by Bulkley when he was in that country.

HIS HORSES STOLEN.

The police authorities of Rahway have asked the local police to keep on the look-out for three bay horses stolen last night from the stable of a Mr. Mantell, a milkman, at that place.

MAN DROPPED DEAD HAD HEART ATTACK

Charles Minerd Was Fatally Stricken While Talking With His Wife.

Charles Minerd, aged 35 years, of 17 Harmony street, died suddenly at his home this morning following an acute attack of heart trouble. He arose early, complaining of pains in the head. Home remedies were administered and Mr. Minered, feeling better engaged in some gardening.

Upon returning to the house and conversing with his wife, Mr. Minerd suffered another attack and fell to the floor lifeless. Dr. Albert Pittis was summoned, but when he arrived he found life extinct. He had been a resident of the borough all his life, being born two doors from his late residence, where his mother, Mrs. Lottie Minerd, still lives. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lulu Minerd, and two children, Charlotte, aged four years, and Charles, aged two years. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

NETHERWOOD CONTRACTING COMPANY INCORPORATED

Elizabeth, April 24.—Articles of incorporation were filed here today by the Netherwood Contracting Company, with principal offices at 201 Park avenue, Plainfield. The company which takes over the business of Walter B. Dunton, of 230 East Front street is formed for the purpose of carrying on a general contracting business and road building. Th capital stock is $10,000, one hundred shares of $100 each. The incorporators are Walter B. Dunton, Pauline Bottenstien and Robert Newton Crane, all of Plainfield.

VENERABLE WOMAN DIES OF INFIRMITIES OF AGE

Mrs. Mada Haas, aged 93 years, a resident of North Plainfield for more than forty years, died last night of the infirmities of old age. She was born in Germany, coming to this country when a young woman. For forty years she made her home with Louis Bimble at 13 Jefferson avenue, the borough, and so far as known she leaves no relatives. She was a devout Christian and a communicant of St. Joseph's R. C. church.

The funeral will be held at the late home, tomorrow morning at 8:15 o'clock and at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock. The burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

OTHER COUNTIES MAY FOLLOW OUR EXAMPLE

The tuberculosis committee of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders, accompanied by Freeholder J Hervey Doane, of the Union County Board, visited Bonnie Burn Sanitorium, this morning, for the purpose of obtaining ideas which will be of benefit in building a similar institution for Somerset county. The visitors were favorably impressed, stating that they thought the institution and appointments were all that one could desire.

A similar committee from the Bergen County Board of Freeholders visited Bonnie Burn a few days ago for the same purpose and they expressed the same opinion as the Somerset county members. Bergen county proposes to build a sanitorium along the same lines as Bonnie Burn and the work will be started within a short time.

THREE DAYS' MEETING.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Society will hold a three days' convention at the German Reformed church, Duer street and Craig place, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Larner Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Hinkey, recently returned from China, will speak Friday and Saturday and Dr. A. B. Simpson, of New York, will deliver an address Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Dr. Simpson's lecture had been announced for 3 o'clock, but because of a request coming from Sunday-school workers who desire to attend but who cannot be present at 3 o'clock, the time was changed to the latter hour. A service of song will precede the speaking.

CHILDREN STEAL FLOWERS.

The numerous complaints coming to the police by owners of flower-beds located in the yards of local residences that school children have been stealing flowers, has prompted Chief Kiely to notify the various educational heads in the city to warn the pupils that this practise must stop.

BANKERS INSPECT CITY AS GUESTS OF THE P. S. C.

A party of New York and Philadelphia bankers visited Plainfield today under the guidance of a number of Public Service officials. The visitors are making an inspection of the company's property and the territory served, having set out from New Brunswick in six automobiles. The route here was via Bound Brook and after getting an idea of the high character of Plainfield as a residential section, the trip was continued through Westfield, Cranford and Elizabeth to Newark.

At Newark luncheon was served in the Corporation's home office and the entire afternoon will be given up to visiting carhouses, car shops, terminals, power stations, gas works, and commercial buildings in Essex, Hudson and Passaic counties.

FIGHTERS FINED.

John Boyle, of Manson place, and Albert Gross, who gave his address as Boston, Mass., were fined $10 each by City Judge De Meza this morning, when arraigned on a charge of assault and battery preferred by William Hooper and Richard Scudder, both colored, of West Fourth street. The complainants claimed they were walking along West Third street last night, when they were set upon by the two prisoners, who wielded fence pickets with telling effect, judging by the bandaged faces of the colored men. A lively encounter followed, which ended when Patrolman Nolan appeared on the scene and made the arrests. Terrence Deady, of Liberty street, who accompanied Boyle and Gross, took little part in the fracas, and was released in charge of the probation officer.

REHEARSING FOR CANTATA.

JOE JACKSON'S LEAGUE RECORD

Cleveland's Heavy Hitter's Auspicious Debut in Fast Company.

Joe Jackson, Cleveland's heavy hitting young outfielder, who started the campaign by mauling the White Sox pitchers for two doubles and a triple, was, as nearly every fan knows, obtained by the Naps practically from Connie Mack and nearly every fan knows, too, that it was under the Tall Tactician that the Slugging Southron started his major league career. What everyone does not know, however is that Jax, who ran well up in the voting for the Chalmers American League trophy last season and who seems likely to get even more consideration from the experts this year, played his first game in fast company against the team of which he is a member. Such is the case, however.

It was on August 25, 1908, that Jackson made his major league debut, he covering centre for the Mackmen in Philadelphia, in a game against the Naps. His great reputation had preceded him and Philadelphians were anxious to see what he could do. So were the baseball experts, for they figured that Jackson could hardly be as classy as he had been touted.

One of the most pessimistic of the Quaker City writers, speaking of Jackson's work on the day of his debut, said, "Jackson lived up to his reputation today. In the first inning he made a good catch of Turner's drive, taking the ball as cooly as if he had been in the American League all his life. Then, in the Athletics' half, he had the honor of driving in the first run of the game, Hartsel doubled, Nicholls sacrificed, and then, after fouling off one, Jackson drove a clean single to left. He then showed he knew inside baseball by racing to second after Turner had nailed Murphy's foul." The Naps won the game, 3 to 2, Heinie Berger pitching against "Rube" Vickers.

This is what Jackson did in his first major league contest:

Batting.

First inning—Singled and scored Hartsel.

Third inning—Grounded out to third, Bradley making a great stop.

Fifth inning—Hit one of Berger's inshoots an awful smash, but it went right to Lajoie, who threw to Bradley, doubling Hartsel.

Eighth inning—Tried for a long run and nearly made one. Turner making a great catch way out on the cinder path.

Fielding.

First inning—Caught Turner's fly out near flag pole.

Second inning—In anxiety to head off a runner at the plate fumbled and was charged with an error.

Second inning—Caught Perring's fly near flag pole.

Eighth inning—Threw Josh Clarke out at the plate.

MANN ENTERED IN MEET.

Physical Director E. C. Ostlin, of the local Y. M. C. A., will accompany Morris Mann, a member of that association, to New York tonight where he will compete in the standing broad jump event of the East Side Y. M. C. A. meet. Mann hopes to annex one of the cups offered for first place in each event.

INDIAN NICK-NAMES FOR NEW YORK GIANTS

The signing of Jim Thorpe by the New York Giants has caused some baseball writers to cook up a select list of Indian names for McGraw's team. Should Thorpe make good, it says there is a chance that the old name of Giants might be discarded and "The Indians" substituted. Following is a dramatis personae of the team offered:

Little-Chief-Not-Afraid-of-the-Umpires-McGraw.
Chew-in-the-face-Doyle.
Big-Six-Not-Afraid-of-Tickle-Snodgrass.
Heap-Much-Squaw-Man-Marquard.
Red-Fire-on-the-Head-Murray.
All-Time-Chew-Rag-Herzog.
Chain-on-the-Foot-McCormick.
Hit-and-Pitch-in-Pinches-Tendall.
Hole-in-the-Glove-Snodgrass.
Sun-in-the-Face-Devore.
No-More-Bone-in-Head-Meekle.
All-Time-Skin-Bear-Alive-Tesreau.
Always-No-Luck-Ames.
Crazy-Like-Fox-Faust.
Man-Hates-Squaw-Notes-Shafer.
John-E.-Myers, Esq.
James Thorpe, Esq. All-American battery.

MORE BOGUS CLOTH MEN WORKING IN ELIZABETH

Elizabeth, April 24.—In response to a story which appeared in a local paper concerning the operations of a number of alleged "fake" cloth peddlers, other complaints have been received implicating other members of the unauthorized peddler class.

It is suggested that citizens be request that all vendors who carry things for sale from door to door be requested to show their city license. If they cannot produce such an authority to do business they cannot be considered reliable.

There are at present in Elizabeth sixty-four truckmen who pay a license of $5.00 a year; 120 hucksters paying $10 a year, and twenty-four junkmen who are mulcted $10 each year, for the privilege of doing business in the city.

Under the supervision of Sergeant George J. Rabig, a vigilant eye is kept upon all classes of street merchants attempting to sell direct to people upon the streets or in the homes of the city. The increase in the city revenue from this source last year was $3,560, a much larger amount than in any previous year.

In order to protect those who do pay a license and to safeguard the public from unauthorized vendors of whatever description, persons doing business with strangers should ask for the permit of those who approach them and, in the absence of the necessary authority try to get in touch with the officer of the police department detailed to this work by Chief of Police Peters.

CALIFORNIA AWAITS.

(By Special Wire to The Daily Press.)

Sacramento, Cal., April 24.—No further action will be taken on proposed alien land laws until after the arrival here on Monday of Secretary of State Bryan. It is said that new amendments to the Senate bill are in preparation but will not be made public until Mr. Bryan has examined them.

MURDOCK REPORTS ON THE TARIFF MEASURE

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, April 24.—Indorsing the income tax in principle and promising to support reductions in the tariff where the rates are indefensible, but in the main criticising the Underwood tariff bill as badly prepared and dangerous to American industry, Representative Victor Murdock, of Kansas, filed in the House today a minority report on the tariff bill in behalf of the progressives. Mr. Murdock's report declares that no tariff revision should be undertaken until Congress can get a report on the various schedules from a non-partisan scientic tariff commission.

AUTHOR OF "COMPETITIVE TARIFF" NOW LEADS LIST OF TARIFF MAKERS, PAST AND PRESENT

As author of the "competitive tariff" now pending in the House of Representatives Oscar W. Underwood has taken his place in the brilliant galaxy of American tariff makers past and present.

After sixteen years of the high protection provided by the Dingley and Payne-Aldrich tariffs Mr. Underwood's bill calls for the abandonment of the protective principle under which American industry has exploited and sometimes monopolized the vast domestic market but practically ignored the opportunities of the foreign trade. As chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, enjoying more power than ever did Mr. McKinley, Mr. Dingley, Mr. Mills, or even Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Underwood proposes reduced rates which will spur the American manufacturer not only to greater energy in the defence of his home market, but force him to grapple with his competitors in neutral markets beyond the seas.

BIG SALARIES WILL NOT BE FLAUNTED UNDER INCOME TAX LAW

As soon as the income tax bill goes into effect the suffering of having to keep information about salaries bottled up will be great, and braggers are not going to be able to flip back the left lapel and lay bare their financial rewards for fear that an income investigator is hidden behind every black mustache and Southern Senator Stetson.

RINGLING CIRCUS TO APPEAR AT NEWARK IN MAY

Ringling Brothers' Circus and newly added $500,000 spectacle of "Joan of Arc," will exhibit in Newark on May 14. The spectacle in itself is an attraction that should bring thousands of visitors from the surrounding country. It is beyond question the greatest production of its kind ever seen in America.

The world's most skillful scenic artists, costumers, property-makers, chorus directors and stage managers were engaged to mount the production. A stage bigger than a hundred ordinary theatres was built and made portable so that it can be conveyed from town to town and erected each morning in the main tent. Thus the circus proprietors have made it possible for those who live in contributory towns as well as in the large cities to see this magnificent wordless play with its cast of 1,200 characters, a ballet of 300 dancing girls, a grand opera chorus of 400 voices, 600 horses and a train load of special scenery, costumes, properties and mechanical devices for producing such stage effects as thunder, lightning, storms, fires and the sound of battle.

In the old market place of Rouen, France, there now stands a monument by which the French of today have sought to redeem their part in the execution of Joan of Arc, who on May 30, 1431, was burned to death on the false charge of heresy after having delivered her country from the English and having restored the crown to Charles VII. History records but the meager facts of this strange heroine of eighteen years, who led the armies of France victorious through English invasion, and then, deserted by all, even the indolent monarch whom she preserved, died by the cruelest torture known with the name of the master upon her lips. Unsung in poetry, the name of this simple peasant girl has come down through the ages to be revered as that of a saint, and whose wonderful powers and whose bravery are verily believed to have been of divine inspiration.

On the triumphant incidents, the victorious engagements, the final defeat of the English armies, and the coronation of Charles VII, all achieved by the frail Maid of Orleans, has been founded the inspiring spectacle which gives Ringling Brothers' circus a new significance and makes an attraction such as the world in searching for amusement has never before found.

The regular circus program is more than ever attractive. Its company of 375 foreign artists, its double menagerie and its new street parade will prove a great surprise to those who attended from this city. The event is one that should not be missed.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

In "The Girl of My Dreams," Leila McIntyre introduces herself as possibly the most striking figure of the season. The town used to know her as one of the vaudeville team of Hyams and McIntyre—her husband, (John Hyams) being the co-star with her in this piece—who established themselves so agreeably in public favor. Miss McIntyre has discovered something wholly new and fascinating in personalities. Her appearance is something quite unlike anything ever seen on the stage. She is a pretty, demure little Quakeress in every sense of the word. But a Quakeress who finds time to dance in quite a fascinating manner. It would avail Miss McIntyre little if all her "fetch" were looks. She has developed activity so that her lively dancing, her delivery, and her fascinating personality, are in themselves almost sufficient to carry a musical entertainment into popularity, and the theatre-goer who misses the "Dr. Tinkle Tinker" song number, doesn't deserve the good things of life. "The Girl of My Dreams" is announced at the Plainfield theatre for Saturday afternoon and night.

SOLD "ROSEDALE."

William A. Brady, preparing for his revival of Lester Wallack's famous drama, "Rosedale," now playing at the Lyric theatre, New York, came across an interesting bit of information while searching some of the Wallack records of the day. It appears that while Lester Wallack wrote the play and played its leading role, the script was really owned by Wallack's father. "Rosedale" was produced Sept. 30, 1863, for the first time, but the play had been written a year previous, and the author, probably because he was in need of money, had sold the script outright to the elder Wallack. What price was paid is not known, but when "Rosedale" was put on the stage at the old Wallack theatre the author had no financial interest at all in the play beyond his salary as the leading man. Evidently, though, the elder Wallack later relented and on the occasion of the hundredth playing of the drama—to celebrate its centennial performance, likely—the rights were transferred to Lester and held by him thereafter. And to his profit, too, for Mr. Brady has a record of the early revivals of the play, and they were frequent, both in this city and elsewhere.

PEACE CONFERENCE.

It is expected that the fourth American Peace Conference to be held at St. Louis, Missouri, the latter part of next week, will be the largest, most representative and most distinguished gathering of peace advocates ever held in the western world. Eighty separate organizations, all of which aim to bring about the substitution of arbitration for war in the settlement of international disputes, will participate in the Congress. In addition to the delegates representing these societies, the participants will include members of Congress, governors of various States, mayors of many municipalities, foreign diplomats and others of prominence in public affairs.

The sessions will be begun next Thursday and will be continued until the end of the week. On the day preceding the opening of the congress the delegates will take part in elaborate exercises attending the dedication of the Jefferson Memorial. This memorial, erected at the edge of Forest Park, at a cost of $500,000, is to commemorate the Louisiana Purchase, the greatest peaceable acquisition of territory in the history of the world. The day selected for the dedication will be the 110th anniversary of the signing of the Louisiana Purchase Treaty, which secured to the United States the vast territory extending from the west bank of the Mississippi River to the summit of the Rocky Mountains.

A suggestion made by Francis J. Blatz at a recent meeting of the Common Council certainly is well worth serious consideration. It is that the municipality should receive some share of the money paid into the State for automobile licenses. This money is now used in repairing the State roads but none of it goes to the cities and towns. Consequently the municipalities are compelled to pay the total amount for all road work within their confines. It is self-evident that the streets of any community are more used by the automobilists than are the country roads. Therefore, why should not a part of the license money be returned to them for the work they must necessarily do each year because of the wear and tear caused by the auto?

Government by commission is a great question before the people today and by this we mean not great simply in New Jersey but throughout the United States. Tonight, an opportunity will be given the people of Plainfield to learn something of its practical workings and advantages for Mayor Frederick W. Donnelly, of Trenton, will deliver an address on the subject at the Plainfield High School auditorium. Following his formal remarks, any one in the audience will be privileged to ask the speaker any questions. Mr. Donnelly is a forceful and convincing speaker and his talk is sure to be a most interesting one.

In presenting its series of Republican gubernatorial booms, the Elizabeth Journal, after exhibiting Fowler, now turns its attention to Ackerman. The best way to kill off a candidate is to start him in the race too early.

As Secretary of State, William Jennings Bryan is a sad disappointment to his political enemies who shouted so loud that he was a dangerous man.

If President Wilson does not succeed in getting California to agree to his views, he will be breaking the record of his political career.

Some seem to think that the Vice-President could learn a lesson from the poll parrot that came in contact with a bull dog.

The contributing editor for Saturday's issue will be a New York lawyer, who takes an active interest in local affairs.

SENATOR NICHOLS AGAINST WILSON'S VISIT TO JERSEY

Trenton, April 24.—"It is ridiculous for President Wilson to come into this State to try to whip the Legislature into line for his jury reform proposition," declared Senator Isaac T. Nichols, of Cumberland county, on his visit to the State House.

"We do not need federal interference in State issues, and I don't think it will bring about any different result.

"In my county we have a Democratic sheriff. We have no complaint to make about his grand juries, nor have we had any complaint. I do not see any need for a change, but if we must have one I shall stand by the bill of Senator Read. I guess all the Republicans will do the same thing in the Senate and Assembly.

"The Democrats who have already taken their stands diversely ought to stick to their convictions and not let federal interference change their attitude. They would stultify themselves if they did."

ROSELLES ARE IN GRIP OF PECULIAR MALADY

Roselle, April 24.—A strange malady, the nature of which is puzzling the physicians, is spreading rapidly both here and in Roselle Park. In this borough it is estimated that more than seventy have been stricken during the past week, while on the north side the sufferers at the present time number about thirty.

The malady was at first supposed to be ptomaine, many of its symptoms being like those of ptomaine. Those attacked are stricken with violent pains in the stomach and are completely disabled for several days, the cramps continuing intermittently. Upon finally recovering they are left in a badly weakened condition for several days.

The doctors of the two boroughs are being kept busy, and are using every endeavor to check the disease, and in the meanwhile are conducting an investigation for the purpose of discovering, if possible, its cause. There have been no fatalities, and the general supposition is that the attacks will remain to be more painful than serious.

INCOME TAX IN MANY NATIONS

How It Is Assessed and Collected Abroad.

SOME MINUTE GRADATIONS.

Comparisons With That Proposed In Underwood Bill Are Difficult Since Rates, Rules and Exemption Are Constantly Changing—States and Cities Have Schedules of Their Own.

Now that the subject of the income tax is attracting so much attention in America it is interesting to note how other countries apply the system and what results they obtain from it. An exact comparison of the tax proposed in the Underwood bill with those collected elsewhere is not easily drawn, for the reason that rates, rules and exemptions the world over are constantly changing and that many other forms of taxation are hard to distinguish from the income tax proper.

For instance, the separate German states levy income taxes. Some German cities do also, and the imperial German government is about to take an especial contribution from large incomes, presumably paid in five instalments, so that for five years and perhaps longer, some Germans may have triple income taxes to pay.

In Great Britain the estate taxes levied as death duties bring in a revenue of $125,000,000 a year. They are graduated, rising to 8 and 10 per cent on large estates. On those of over $15,000,000 the first $5,000,000 pays 10 per cent and the remainder 15 per cent.

British Exemption Varies.

The British income tax proper was levied off and on during the Napoleonic wars and steadily since 1842. The exemption has varied from $500 to $800 and is now the latter figure. The rate has varied from less than 1 per cent upward.

During the Boer war it rose to 14d. in the pound, or nearly 6 per cent. It was not then graduated. A super tax is now levied, and the principles of graduation and discrimination have been further introduced, though to a less extent than on the continent.

The tax is producing this year $220,000,000, more than twice what the Underwood bill contemplates. An earned income of $15,000 pays 9d. in the pound on $9,200 and 14d on $5,000, $800 being exempt. An unearned income pays 14d. In general the lowest rate is 9d., or about 3.75 per cent.

The highest is 14d., with a super tax of 6d. on incomes over $25,000, or in all a little above 8 per cent. Besides the general exemption there is a special exemption of $50 for each child under sixteen.

A man with five children and $1,500 a year pays 9d. in the pound on $150, or about $5.40 tax.

The Austrian Method.

Austria divides the income tax into very many minute gradations. The exemption is $250, but above that limit the entire income is taxed. The lowest rate is 0.6 per cent. Strictly speaking, there is no "highest." The rate continues to rise as the income increases.

At $42,500 the tax paid is $1,937.50, or 4.5 per cent. An income of $500,000 would pay close to 5 per cent.

There are various exemptions for the emperor, diplomats, soldiers, families with children, the blind, crippled, bedridden, etc.

The German income tax laws vary with the state. In Prussia the exemption is $225. An income of $250 pays $1.50. The rate averages 3 per cent, but large incomes pay 5 per cent upon the greater part. Earned incomes are taxed less than unearned ones, and there are numerous exemptions.

Saxony has 118 gradations and taxes an income of $100 24 cents. There is an abatement for children. Large incomes pay a much higher rate than moderate ones. Bavaria taxes earned income up to 3 per cent, unearned income up to 4 per cent.

The exemption in the case of unearned income is only $17.50. If you have, say, $20 unearned income it pays 30 cents tax.

In Italy and Spain.

The tax in Italy rises to 20 per cent on large incomes, but takes the place of other taxation to an extent not here contemplated. Much the same is true of Spain.

New Zealand, a country very advanced in social legislation, exempts incomes up to $1,500. Incomes over $6,500 pay 5 per cent, and so do corporations.

In thirty-seven countries of the world the income tax is estimated to yield one-half of all the returns from direct taxation. In Great Britain it yields more than half.

Wisconsin has a state income tax. The exemption is $800 for a single person, $1,200 for husband a wife and $200 for each minor or other dependent. The rate varies from 1 to 6 per cent.

A Wisconsin millionaire, under the combination of state and federal taxation, may presently be called upon to pay 10 per cent upon the greater part of his income.

Of course the average rent payer in any American city pays much more than 10 per cent of his income in indirect taxation, federal, state and local.

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF NEW YORK'S NEWEST FAD

TANGO parties and anything that leads to them, late dinners and the consequent late arrival at musical comedies, especially on the nights when there is no opera; adjourning one's dinner party to the nearest theatre that has something new to show in turkey trotting, promptly followed by arrangements for private lessons with the "best turkey trotter in the show," pretty much sum up fashionable New York's idea of whiling away the empty hours. Quick to recognize all this, Charles Frohman has given Julia Sanderson a musical play, "The Sunshine Girl," this season which contains all the prevailing fashionable dances. From first curtain to last all varieties of turkey trotting and tango dancing abound in "The Sunshine Girl," which is just what it was intended to be—a dancing musical comedy.

THE FORUM.

THE BEST ADVERTISEMENT.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

I have been interested in the articles which have appeared in your paper from time to time concerning the best method of advertising the advantages of our city. In view of the campaign which it is proposed to conduct in the fall for a new Y. M. C. A. building, the following editorial from the Richmond Times-Dispatch may be of interest to you. In fifteen days the people of Richmond raised $200,000 for a building, and this editorial was commenting on that fact. I believe that what was true of Richmond will be true of Plainfield, and that the campaign which we had for our hospital has been worth to the city all the money that was given.

The part of the editorial to which I refer is as follows:

"It aroused the civic and religious spirit of our citizens, strengthened the ties that bind together and taught the lesson of co-operation. As a direct result the Chamber of Commerce Fund was raised and the Men's Business Club was formed. And still there is more.

"We have tried to advertise Richmond abroad and, as it turns out, the Y. M. C. A. campaign and its triumph gave us a better advertisement than we could have received by spending $200,000 direct in printer's ink."

Yours sincerely,
WM. D. MURRAY.

WISDOM IN DRESS.

Buy the Most Expensive Tailored Suit Your Purse Will Afford.

It is almost impossible to economize on a tailor made suit, as it must be irreproachably cut, however simple and unadorned, and good tailors are usually expensive. A respectable wardrobe should contain two tailor made suits. This is best accomplished by the purchasing of a tailor made every spring and fall. In this way the suit of the previous year, with slight renovation, is available for back wear. The frock illustrated is of the dressy tailored type in corn colored faille silk. The drapery is disposed in a particularly graceful fashion, while rows of buttons outline the panel which divides the skirt at one side. The yoke, vest and undersleeves are of cream colored embroidery.

PAPER BAGS.

Every Housekeeper Will Find Many Uses For Them

There are very few housekeepers who do not find uses for the ordinary paper bags that are continually accumulating. A most excellent way to keep these bags so that they will always be not only easy of access, but also in good condition and in assorted sizes is to have a pine board three inches wide by one inch thick neatly planed. Screw two brass rings in the top by which the board may be hung to the wall or pantry door and drive three nails with the heads filed off on the board. The bags will slip on and off the nails easily.

Another good idea is to reserve a small drawer in the kitchen or pantry for them. Before being placed in the drawer they should be carefully smoothed and folded.

An enamel cloth bag tacked upon the pantry door is also a convenient receptacle for these bags. An ingenious housewife has fashioned a bag convenient for holding paper bags and also for odds and ends of string. The bag is made by cutting two pieces of linen or duck of the length required. One piece is four inches narrower than the other. The narrower strip is stitched across its width to the wider strip to form three pockets. The two strips are placed flatly together and stitched and bound all around with braid. The middle pocket is made wide enough to hold large and small paper bags. The end pockets are intended for strings.

Robespierre Bouquets.

Robespierre bouquets are one charming phase of the dainty nosegays worn on the lapel of a street coat, pinned to the neckpiece or stuck at one corner of the big square muff. They consist of four small roses in "old tones," a spray or two of tiny white blossoms on moss colored stems and a single green thistle. The white blooms and the thistle must be purchased of an artificial flower dealer, but the roses may be home made. Take a half finger's length of inch wide panne velvet in pale pink, double it, shirr the two edges tightly, produce calyx with a few threads of yellow floss, and that makes one rose. A deep purple rose should be centered with bright green floss, a brown taupe rose with emerald and a Parma violet rose with orange. When all these velvet exotics have been clustered with the thistle and the fine white flowers their common stem should be wound with tin foil, as that makes the illusion the more complete.

Helps For Shiny Garments.

The back of a skirt has an unhappy fashion of getting shiny. Remedy this by rubbing over it on the right side ammonia and water in equal parts and then ironing on the wrong side while it is damp. The ammonia takes away the "shine," and the ironing smooths out the skirt until it is dry or it will crease again. When a shiny garment is beyond the help of ammonia, the pile being worn off, lay it flat on the table and rub it gently with fine sandpaper to roughen up the material again.

—To overlook, day after day, classified ads that were practically written to and for you—that is enough "bad luck" for any one person.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

EARLY SPINACH.

As soon as spinach comes into the market the housewife should have it on her table, for it is not only an appetizing food, but one of the best spring medicines. If you cannot get spinach substitute for it some of the other spring greens that may be cooked in the same way.

To prepare spinach the simple method of boiling it and sending it to the table with slices of hard boiled egg is one of the most popular.

A Wholesome Salad.

Spinach Salad.—Take half a peck of fresh spinach, wash it thoroughly in several waters, put in steamer and steam for fifteen minutes, turn into a colander and drain. Chop fine, season with salt, pepper and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Mix well and press into small molds or cups. When cold place each form on a lettuce leaf and put a spoonful of mayonnaise dressing on top.

Spinach In Blankets.—Boil spinach and when tender drain, chop fine and put in skillet in which minced onion has been browned in a teaspoonful of butter. Set on back of stove to simmer.

Now make an ordinary noodle dough with one egg well beaten and work in as much flour as you can. Roll thin and when partially dry cut in five inch squares. Fill with a heaping tablespoonful or more of spinach and press the edges together and drop into soup stock. Cook until they rise to the top. Take out with a strainer dipper.

Brown a tablespoonful of butter in a skillet, add a few brown breadcrumbs and pour over the dumplings.

Spinach With Sauce.

Spinach and Eggs.—Take a quarter peck of spinach, three eggs, two teaspoonfuls of salt, an eighth of a teaspoonful of white pepper, a tablespoonful each of lemon juice, butter and flour.

Wash and clean the spinach and then wash through several waters. Put into boiler with one-half cupful boiling water, cover and bring to boiling point very quickly, add one teaspoonful salt, remove the cover and boil ten minutes, turning quite often. Drain (save the water for the sauce) and chop. Put on platter, spread it about two inches thick, make six hollows in the top of the spinach large enough to receive an egg. Break the egg in small dish and put into the hollow of the spinach. Dust the top with salt and pepper. Place in the oven until eggs are firm.

Serve with the following sauce: Put the butter into saucepan. When melted add the flour, mix until smooth; then add the water which has been drained from the spinach. If there is not a cupful add enough water to make a cupful. Stir until smooth, add one teaspoonful salt, pepper, lemon juice and boil three minutes and pour over the eggs and spinach.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

This dainty undergarment is easily three garments in one. The seams that extend all the way to the upper edge do away with all fullness. The front closing makes the garment easy to adjust, and the drawers are just wide enough for comfort. The finish of beading and lace is a pretty one, but the garment scalloped by hand and embroidered by dots or some simple little design is somewhat daintier. Washable silk and cotton crape are favorite materials for undergarments.

Two and five-eighths yards of material thirty-six inches wide, together with five yards of edging and two and three-eighths yards of beading, are required for the combination for a woman of medium size.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 34 to 44 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7814, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the McKinley School, of Westfield, held a meeting on the afternoon of Thursday, April 12, at which it was decided to join the New Jersey Congress of Mothers, after hearing of the aims, purposes and work being done by that body of women, as told by Mrs. William M. Sandford, Jr.

This association is about two years old and Dr. Savitz superintendent of Union County schools, is enthusiastic abouts its work, saying that the atmosphere of the school has changed very much for the better since its inception and that the teachers all bear witness of the greater ease with which discipline is maintained.

The little children are taken care of and entertained in the kindergarten room during the meetings.

The association is now working hard to procure money for a stereopticon for the school—having about seventy dollars towards this purpose raised by means of a cake sale and coin punch cards.

Fifty punch glasses were donated to the association at this meeting by one member and Mr. Savitz volunteered to pay for the services of a woman to wash dishes and clean up the rooms after the next evening meeting to be held on May 15.

It was decided to attempt to rouse interest in a "Swat the Fly" campaign for Westfield this spring.

Playground Association.

The seventh annual meeting of the Playground and Recreation Association of America is to be held in Richmond, Virginia, from May 6 to 10 inclusive.

The general topic will be "The Use of Leisure Time." What does it mean this tremendous growth in recreation activities throughout not only America but the whole world? 785 cities in the U. S. now maintain 2,094 playgrounds and recreation centres, employing 5,320 recreation workers and 1,353 caretakers. 63 cities employ 655 workers the year around. An increase of 22 per cent. in the number of workers is reported for the past year. A total expenditure of $4,020,121.79 was reported. Individual gifts of sums as high as $5,000 were made by people willing not only to give but to sacrifice in order that "A life rather than a living" may be secured to all.

Report From Trenton.

The Trenton Evening True American commenting on the State Council of Mothers Clubs and Parent-Teacher Associations recently held there, says that the predominating influence for good of these associations in schools was clearly brought out, by the reports from all sections of our State. Mrs. S. P. Leeds, of Atlantic City, secretary of the New Jersey Mothers' Congress, reported the rapid spread of the movement even to remote parts of New Jersey. Daily inquiries are being made for information and advice regarding organization. Educational boards recognize the importance of the mothers help in the mental and physical development of public school children and favor the formation of Home and School Associations in every school.

Announcement was made that the committee on program for the annual meeting to be held in New Brunswick Nov. 14 and 15, 1913, comprised Mrs. William Downs, of East Orange; Mrs. W. M. Sandford Jr., of Plainfield, and Mrs. Drury Cooper, of New Brunswick.

Child Welfare Conference.

The advance program of the Seventeenth Child Welfare Conference of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers Associations to be held in Boston from May 15 to 20 inclusive, is now out, and includes the names of such speakers as Miss F. B. Curtis, International Kindergarten Association; Prof. E. P. St. John, of Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy; Hon. P. P. Claxton, U. S. Commission of Education; Prof. O'Shea, of Wisconsin University; Henry F. Cope, Religious Education Association; Miss Mary S. Garrett, of Pennsylvania Home for Deaf Children; Miss Elizabeth Harrison, Kindergartner, of Chicago; Hon. Logan Waller Page, U. S. Commissioner of Good Roads; Mrs. Mary S. Woolman, president Women's Educational Union; Miss Julia Lathrop, head of U. S. Children's Bureau; Dr. G. Stanley Hall, and last but not least the Rev. Franklin K. Mathiews, of Scotch Plains, whose address so electrified the New Jersey Mothers Congress held in Riverton in November, 1912.

Kenyon Portable Houses

The Famous "Take Down" Style for Camping

Folks who like to go camping and yet dislike the inconveniences of the camp will take very readily to the Kenyon Portable Houses, which are such a great innovation over the ordinary tent.

Compared to the ordinary outdoor camping in cabin or tent these little houses are palaces; yet they have all the simplicity that should go with outdoor life, and they are not forbiddingly expensive. They are just Little Brown Bungalows, that have doors and windows and rooms in them, that can be shipped or carted anywhere readily.

Last year more than a thousand families and camp groups increased the joys of summer many hundred per cent. by having one of these easily put up and as easily taken down houses to put in the woods where they liked, alongside of a stream or at the edge of a mountain lake—wherever they choose—and enjoyed life in the right way to their heart's content.

Since the resources of the KENYON FACTORIES are limited, we advise you to place you order for such house as you need as early as you can make up your mind to possess one.

Prices are as low as $65.26, which price includes delivery.

SENECA CANOEISTS SECOND ANNIVERSARY

Newark Club Will Celebrate Event with Dance and Reception Tomorrow.

Newark, April 24.—The Seneca Club, Inc., of this city, whose racing crew have won high honors on the waters of Newark Bay at Bayonne; the Rahway River at Cranford, the Hudson River, Lake Hopatcong, and the lakes of this city, will celebrate the second anniversary tomorrow night, with a reception and dance in Roseville Auditorium, Seventh and Orange streets. Although the Seneca Club has been in existence but two years, its roster numbers over fifty, and embraces some of the best canoeists in New Jersey. Last year they were beaten only by several points by the Wenona Club, of Bayonne, for the championship of the N. J. Canoe Association.

Among the clubs that will be represented at the celebration are: Laurel Social Club, Tuscarora Canoe Club and the Wynona Canoe Club, of this city; Wenona Club, of Bayonne; Field and River Club, Ullrich Canoe Club and Cranford Canoe Club, of Cranford; Ridgefield Park Canoe Club, Verona Canoe Club and the Passaic Valley Canoe Club. The Seneca canoeists headquarters are at Branch Brook Park Lake. Their club rooms are in the bank building of the City Trust Co., 12 Roseville avenue.

N. P. H. S. WAS NOT "POLITE" TO LEALS

Boroughites Did Not Care How They Hurt Rival's Feelings.

Bashfulness in handling the sphere, evidenced by both aggregations in the Leal-N. P. H. S. interscholastic battle at Hyde Oval yesterday afternoon, made the contest a scoring farce in which both combinations indulged in reckless throwing and pitiful attempts to clout the ball, the final score being 15 to 4 in favor of the boroughites. A number of laughable incidents occurred at the expense of the playing contingents and many seemingly easy grounders were made fizzels of in attempting to score spectacular putouts.

N. P. H. S. circled the bases at will, a fact which can be charged to poor support accorded the Leal battery all through the contest, fielders throwing the ball to the cushions only to have the base guardians handle the horsehide like eggs, and when they put the ball on a base runner, it was done with an "excuse me" motion. Real hits were scarce, N. P. H. S. getting nine against their rival's five, but what was left undone in the hit column and run columns was amply made up for in the error division, Leals making nine and N. P. H. S. eight, all of which aided in the run getting.

JACK MARTIN PLAINFIELD SHORTSTOP, MYSTERIOUSLY RELEASED BY NEW YORK

Official confirmation of the report published in this paper yesterday afternoon, to the effect that Jack Martin had been released by the New York Highlanders to the Rochester club, of the International League was received this morning. Martin's friends in this city are loud in their denunciation of the treatment accorded the local player by Frank Chance, the new Yankee manager, and there seems to be a touch of the underhand stuff in the Martin case from all reports.

It seems that Jack has been practising with the Yankee team every afternoon while they played at the Polo Grounds and following his daily custom reported at the New York field Tuesday afternoon and was used as a coach at first base during the game. At that time he was in close touch with the New York manager and he thought if anything had been done regarding his case that Chance would notify him at that time and great was his surprise when he returned to his home in this city Tuesday night to find a telegram awaiting him requesting him to report to the Rochester club at once. Martin could not understand this because of the fact that Chance had plenty of time to notify him of his release that afternoon and the local fans seem to think that the New York leader lacked the necessary amount of gumption. Why Chance did not tell Martin verbally instead of waiting until he was about to leave on a visiting team trip and then send a telegram to the local boy, who he knew could not reach him after he left New York is, of course, a matter for considerable speculation, and New York followers as well as those in Plainfield, of which Martin has many, will probably demand an explanation from Chance.

It is customary for a manager when letting a player go, to make a public statement, but the fact that none of the New York papers has received the slightest inkling of the release is ground enough for managerial criticism. Chance evidently feared to face the music that was sure to result after the release of Martin, who was well liked by his team-mates on the New York club and was thought by many to be the best the Yankee outfit could boast of if given a square show.

This is not Martin's first appearance in a Rochester uniform, he having played with that team after being released by the Highlanders last year. He will not join the Rochester team until it appears in Jersey City, contrary to the orders received through Chance's telegram. Martin's case will probably arouse a great deal of comment in the sporting world as there is a technicality present for which the New York manager can be held directly responsible. As far as can be learned, Frank Chance did not make public his intentions of letting Martin out, thus ignoring the waiver rule, and the clubs that were after his services, of which there were several in the American League and one in the National, did not get an opportunity to bid for them.

PLAINSMEN DID NOT SIGN.

Contrary to reports which have been circulated by High Bridge fans, Joe and Henry Alberts and Frank Hand, of Scotch Plains, have not signed to play with the High Bridge team in the Central New Jersey League this summer. The trio were considering such a proposition but when it was found that Scotch Plains could be represented by a team in the league, they decided to play with the home nine and did no signing whatever. Joe Alberts will manage the Plains team, "Nibs" Hand will catch, and Henry Alberts will play second.

WON HANDILY FROM IMPERIALS.

On the South Plainfield diamond yesterday afternoon, the South Plainfield Stars easily defeated the Imperial A. C., of this city, by a score of 13 to 1. Hamilton and Geary were in the points for the winners and Crowley and Phillips did battery duty for the Imperials.

THREE-EYE LEAGUE OPENS.

Quincy, Ill., April 24.—With many new faces in the ranks the eight teams of the "Three-I" baseball league opened the organization's championship season today. Dubuque played at Peoria, Decatur at Bloomington, Springfield at Danville and Davenport in this city. The season will continue until Sept. 7, the schedule providing for 140 games.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, will entertain a large number of visiting councils tonight at which time the degree team from Bayonne Council will initiate a class of five members. A smoker with refreshments will follow.

LIDGATE LET OUT TO RALEIGH TEAM

Local Backstop Made a Favorable Impression on the Baltimore Manager.

Announcement was made this morning of the transfer of Eugene Lidgate, the husky Fanwood boy being given a tryout for the catcher's berth on the Baltimore International League baseball team, to the Raleigh nine of the South Carolina League. The Oriole's manager let the local boy go yesterday but will have the privilege of recalling him at any time during the season.

Manager Dunn was favorably impressed with the work of Lidgate and was reluctant to let him go when the time arrived for thinning out players. It is probable, however, that the Fanwood player will be recalled before the present season ends and will do duty for the Baltimore league this season. He returned to his home in Fanwood yesterday afternoon and left to join the Raleigh team today.

N. P. H. S. MANAGER DIFFERS WITH RIVAL IN SCHEDULE

Manager Weston Hill, of the Roselle High School baseball team, has issued a revised schedule for the 1913 season and it is printed as given out by him, below. There is evidently some mistake about the game to be played with North Plainfield High School on May 14, for the Roselle manager has the game carded to be played in Roselle, whereas the borough leader has it down for Hyde Oval. The game is the second one of the series between these two teams, N. P. H. S. having been defeated in an eleven inning contest at Roselle two weeks ago by a score of 7 to 6. The return game naturally would be played in North Plainfield and the mistake is therefore probably the fault of the Roselle pilot.

The schedule:

*April 23—Roselle Park H. S. at Roselle.
April 26—Independents at Roselle.
April 29—Clifton H. S. at Roselle.
*April 30—Battin H. S. at Roselle.

PLAINFIELD PITCHER MAKING GOOD IN THE INTERNATIONAL

Leon Cadore, who pitched for the Plainfield baseball club here last year and was a favorite with local fans whenever he adorned the mound, has found his way into the International League and on Sunday made his debut in a Buffalo uniform against Newark. After Newark had found Beebe for five runs in the fourth, Cadore was sent to the box, and in four innings allowed neither a hit nor a run. But twelve men faced him during his performance on the hill.

Manager Driscoll counted on holding Cadore as one of the pitchers for the Brunswicks this season, but when he was grabbed by Buffalo, the manager had to scout around for another artist, and landed "Con" Donnelly, of the Louisville American Association. Donnelly has been scheduled to work in Brunswick for the past two Sundays, but unfavorable weather conditions have prevented all games to date.

"MAC" SAYS

It was a day like one in May
But Leal's soon found 'twas April.
(The remainder is found in the box score.)

Weather at Hyde Oval was ideal for aerial ascensions and fanning. Heard from the private school rooting section, "Wait till we two meet again."

Both bands of supporters made a heart-rendering attempt to stir up enthusiasm (but there was nothing present to enthuse over.)

Yesterday's contest was little more than a race to see which aggregation could set up the highest altitude record. N. P. H. S. was not far behind the losers in making "bonehead" bubbles.

Remember that time when Nash circled the bases when he was given a free ticket? Well, the ball never returned to the pitcher's box until after he had registered his tally. Four bases on misplays and poor judgment!

Those who saw the game yesterday are beginning to speculate on the boroughites' chances against P. H. S. The sorrowful exhibition against Leal's was probably due to the environment, however, and with better surroundings N. P. H. S. will do far better playing.

Just by way of variety, "Chief" Wardlow's $11,000 beauty, the Schneiders fanned the air every time he stepped to the plate. Maybe he had an "off day."

Nash and his newly invented "grazing" ball had little terror for the boroughites. The trouble with the Leal heaver's work was that he couldn't keep the animal near enough to the pasture. It soared far above the batters' shoulders everytime he let it go.

Wonder when those metropolitan newspapers that have been rooting Jack Martin will wake up to the fact that he has been sent to Rochester? They are apparently missing a chance to do some more crabbing.

Saturday promises to be another big day in local baseball. All of the local teams have games arranged for that date and most of them take place in this city.

STRIKE-OUT RECORDS OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

Leading Artists in This Department for the Past Sixteen Years.

Inspection of the pitching records of the National League for the past sixteen years develops the fact that the leading strike-out artist has generally been a member of one of the eastern clubs.

Only during four campaigns from 1897 to 1912, inclusive, did a western team supply the pace setter in making men retreat to the bench after hitting nothing but atmosphere. Frank (Noodles) Hahn, of Cincinnati, twice was the Strike-Out King of the National League; "Rube" Waddell, of Pittsburgh, once enjoyed this honor and so did Fred Beebe during a campaign when he wore the liveries of both the Chicago and St. Louis clubs. Hohn's years of prosperity in the strike-out line were 1899 and 1901, Waddell was the leader in 1900 and Beebe ranked first during 1906, which was the last year a westerner was in the king row.

The New York club has supplied the Strike-Out King in seven of the last sixteen years, Christy Mathewson having been the leader during seven campaigns, Richard Marquard in one and J. Bentley Seymour in one. Matty hung up the high mark in strike-outs for a season in 1903, when he whiffed 267 of his adversaries. The previous best record was 249, made by Seymour in 1898.

The Phillies have twice furnished the senior league with its Walter Johnson. Earl Moore led in breezing men in 1910 and Grover Cleveland Alexander, who has been threatening annually to win the Chalmers car, was the hero last year.

Below will be found a list of the leading strike-out pitchers in the National League from 1897 to 1912, inclusive.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. their agent because it reaches the kind of people They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

WORLD'S BIGGEST SHIP WILL BE HALF MILE LONG, SAYS AN EXPERT

Growth In Size of Liners Has Continued Steadily For Forty Years.

One "Greatest" Rapidly Succeeds Another, and the End Is Not Yet.

DIMENSIONS OF THE TWO BIGGEST SHIPS.

AQUITANIA.
Length	901 feet
Beam	97 feet
Gross tonnage	47,000 tons
Speed	23 knots
Passenger capacity	3,250
Number of crew	1,000
IMPERATOR.
Length	909 feet
Beam	96 feet
Gross tonnage	50,000 tons
Speed	22½ knots
Passenger capacity	4,000
Number of crew	1,000

ANOTHER "biggest ship in the world" was launched recently at a Scotch shipyard. She is the Aquitania of the Cunard line and is much larger than another "biggest in the world," the ill fated Titanic, the sinking of which on her maiden voyage, with the loss of more than 1,500 lives, was a blow that stunned the whole civilized world.

Not long ago the Hamburg-American liner Imperator was launched as "the biggest ship in the world." The Aquitania takes that honor now, in popular opinion, being a foot longer than the great German ship. The Imperator, however, will have a greater tonnage and passenger capacity. Her speed will be less than that of the Aquitania by half a knot an hour.

The big ship building race between these two powerful ocean transportation companies is not yet ended. In fact, the planning of other ships which will be bigger than either the Imperator or the Aquitania already is under way; hence comes the question, "What will the 'world's biggest steamship' eventually be?"

Astounding Prediction.

The answer of an English authority is, "A ship half a mile long, registering 200,000 tons, having a beam of 240 feet and accommodations for 60,000 passengers, if the growth in the size of ships continues as fast for the next forty years as it has during the last forty."

By means of a plotted curve he indicated the growing size of modern liners, which begins with the Great Western in 1840 and rises with steadily increasing ascent to the Aquitania and Imperator of today. If this curve is projected in the most conservative path to the year 1935 you have a ship 1,600 feet long and in two decades more one of 2,350, or five times the length of the Olympic.

"Ships have been growing larger," he said, "ever since Mr. Paleolithicus, or more probably his young son, first sat on a log and paddled himself across a creek. And the growth has been perfectly continuous except for one break at the close of the Roman empire, when civilization declined.

"The extremely rapid development of material civilization today will surely not be so much halted in the next generation, especially since the speed of progress is accelerating. And one of the characteristics of civilization has for a century been a universal growth in the size of things—buildings, railroads, ships, machines.

A Steady Growth.

"It is hard to imagine a ship whose cable links each weigh two-thirds of a ton being launched in two decades and a half. But the curve of growth has been steady and sure, except where the Great Eastern exceeded it. If we say that it will not continue in the future we but echo what has been said time and again in the past, and always the curve has continued.

"Objections that greater ships would be unwieldy or too deep for our harbors have been made in the past and blotted out by the next leviathan. The advantages of having such large ships will be the greater speed they will afford, a reduction of the dangers at sea and the provision of greater comforts and amusements, not to mention the practical abolition of seasickness."

The launching of the Aquitania necessitated arrangements on a scale of magnitude never before required at a shipyard on the river Clyde.

The area of the sliding ways was about 10,000 square feet and the pressure about 2.6 tons per square foot. Though the new ship was built on the berth occupied by the Lusitania, the ground had to be remade.

To enable it to bear the load it was piled and crosspiled, and over the crosspiles were placed layers of steel plates and quantities of cement, especially toward the way ends, where the pressure when the vessel was partly water borne was enormous. In addition to the preparations in the yard, a good deal was done in the river itself with the object of securing sufficient room and water for the liner when she was put afloat.

Under their act of 1904 the Clyde navigation trustees widened a part of the river opposite the yard for the purpose of accommodating the Lusitania, and since that time, in anticipation of the launching of the Aquitania, the widening has been continued along the north side of the Newshot isle—that is, along the south bank of the Clyde.

Dredging Necessary.

A large piece of land was removed, and dredging operations increased the depth of water in front of the slip. Special provision had to be made in order that when the ship "dipped" on finally leaving the ways there would be an adequate depth of water.

This abnormal depth is, however, necessary only over a comparatively small area. The builders' fitting out basin at Clydebank also had to be dredged to accommodate the liner.

The Aquitania is expected to reach New York on her maiden trip in the spring of 1914. Her arrival there will present a new problem to the harbor experts, for special precautions must be observed in placing such a leviathan in a berth at the water front.

An important feature of the Aquitania is the protection of vulnerable parts by means of a double shell, an inner as well as an outer, both being water tight. Further provision against flooding in case of an accident also has been made by the construction of water tight decks. Anti-rolling tanks also will be used.

The division of the ship into water tight compartments is much more extensive than is required by any regulations, and exceptional conditions might therefore have been obtainable in connection with the lifeboats.

The Cunard company fifteen months ago submitted its plans to the British board of trade for an installation of lifeboats to accommodate every passenger on board. Two motor lifeboats also will be provided.

Lesson From the Titanic.

The same provisions against accidents also will be found in the big liners Lusitania, Mauretania and Imperator. Profiting by the appalling lesson of the Titanic disaster, the owners of that lost "queen of the seas" also are equipping their vessels with double hulls. The Olympic, sister ship to the Titanic, is an example.

All that human skill can do to make the Olympic safe has been done. For four months she was in the hands of her builders, and at a cost of $1,500,000 she was given a double hull and equipped with lifeboats capable of holding all her passengers and crew and with davits to lower them safe from the ship in the event of an accident.

The Olympic is now a ship within a ship, and to make her so she was submitted to the greatest piece of surgery ever performed. This inner skin is a great water tight compartment so subdivided by bulkheads that it would appear impossible to sink her, no matter how great a hole might be torn in the outer shell.

The greatest menace to navigation is icebergs and, next, derelicts. It was an iceberg that sent the mighty Titanic to her doom, an iceberg that ripped her bottom open as a fishmonger rips a fish. But there need be no fear of such a catastrophe overtaking the improved Olympic. The surgeons attended to that.

When the Olympic came from the operating room she had a new skin grafted, not on the outside, for that is an everyday operation, but on the inside.

From bow to stern on either side and from her double bottom to a distance of seven feet above the water line this inner skin extends. Between the inner skin and the outer skin and extending across the entire ship are thick steel bulkheads.

The result of the double skin and the bulkheads is to produce over 100 water tight compartments, making it impossible for the big ship to sink even though she were stove in at the bows for a distance of forty feet.

Plenty of Lifeboats.

To make the ship doubly safe for her crew and passengers there are sixty-five lifeboats on the boat deck, capable of holding 3,488 persons, and when it is realized that the carrying capacity of the vessel, both passenger and crew, is 3,473 it will be seen that there is no scarcity of boats.

When the Olympic went into the hands of the surgeons it was necessary to lift several of the twenty-eight boilers of the steamer from their beds to permit the riveters and platers to work.

Upward of 100,000 rivets had to be drawn and 250,000 new rivets hammered home on the 1,200 tons of new plates that compose the inner skin of the ship.

As a result of the operation the weight of the patient was increased from 45,324 to 46,356 tons gross register.

Such a great amount of labor on the big ships now under construction never will be necessary after they are put into service for the reason that the double shell and other safety devices are being installed as primary features of construction.

For instance, the Aquitania and the Imperator will carry two motor lifeboats each and will have powerful searchlights and wireless apparatus of the greatest possible efficiency.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER CASE IN CHICAGO THAT PUZZLES THE POLICE

George Dietz, a prominent German merchant of Chicago, was cruelly slain in his room, and the police have been unable to run down the assailant. Mrs. George Dietz is unable to furnish any clew and knows of no enemies that might have killed her husband. The case is a very mysterious one. The police are seeking a man and woman and admit that the actual murderer has not yet been arrested.

An Old Established Factory Giving Up a Branch of Its Business Makes Possible

This Unexpected Offering of Dining-Room Furniture

We have two fixed sales of furniture a year—in February and August. Between these two sales, as we visit the factories, we make special purchases wherever we can of furniture up to our standard, offering these special lots either in February or August.

This special lot of dining-room furniture which forms a part of this unexpected sale was intended for August. But it was ready three months ahead of time, was shipped, reached New York yesterday—so we offer it beginning today and continuing until all the pieces are sold, right now when people are opening their Summer Homes and refurnishing.

To this special purchase we have added all the odd pieces of dining-room furniture on our floors.

The Entire Collection Amounts to $51,980

There is nothing but dining room furniture in this sale, but there is practically every kind of dining room furniture, including mahogany and oak (brown and golden), running from low prices up through medium to the finer grades.

Every piece is reduced at least one-quarter in price; many of the pieces are reduced one-third; some are reduced more. The average reduction is more than one-third.

The factory from which this new shipment comes has been established for thirty-five years. It has sold furniture to all of the good stores in the country. It gives up this dining room branch of its business only because it has larger plans in other directions.

There are matched-up suites and single side-boards, serving tables, china closets, extension tables—and dining room chairs suitable to go with all the other pieces.

Come prepared to be surprised even after reading this enthusiastic notice, for the collection, taken all in all, and considering the quality of the furniture and the low prices marked on it, is the best offering of dining room furniture we have made—and that is saying a great deal for a store that has been in the furniture business for over quarter of a century and that has placed in people's homes many times ten million dollars of furniture.

The sale opens today on the Sixth Gallery—where, by the way, you will be able to see the finest collection of Summer furniture which we believe is to be found in New York City.

CLUB OBSERVES ITS ANNIVERSARY

Monday Afternoon Organization Marks its Twenty-five Years of Existence.

AT THE PARK CLUB

Luncheon, Addresses and Entertainment—Miss E. E. Kenyon, the Founder, and Mrs. H. F. Fox, the President, Speak.

The luncheon given yesterday afternoon at the Park Club by the Monday Afternoon Club to celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary of organization was the most brilliant mid-day social function of the season. The elaborate luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, following which addresses were made by Miss Eliza Elvira Kenyon, founder of the club, and its first president, and Mrs. Hugh Francis Fox, the present head of the organization. A delightful entertainment was provided by the Misses Dorothy, Rosalind and Cynthia Fuller, of England, whose specialties are Irish, Scottish and English folk songs. The stage was transformed into a mass of spring-time beauty, fruit tree blossoms, fox gloves, daffadils, hollihocks, tulips and other wild flowers being used to form an English garden effect.

Miss Kenyon told of the motive which prompted her to organize the club. She reviewed the work of the past and said she hoped that the club would continue in its policy of striving to better the social conditions and to educate the general public of Plainfield.

Mrs. Fox said:

"Friends, I give you greeting! You have heard from Miss Kenyon of the aspirations and the work accomplished by this club in the past. May I suggest those of the future.

"Over two thousand years ago the question was asked: 'Who can find a virtuous woman, for her price is far above rubies. She looketh well to the ways of her household. She perceiveth that her merchandise is good.'

"In my childhood this was a pos-

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY TO PRESENT FAIRY PLAY

The Girls' Friendly Society of Grace church will give the fairy play, "Little Red Riding Hood," in the Parish House, Tuesday night, April 29.—Miss Ida Coad has charge of the arrangements. Miss Jessie Vincent will be the accompanist; Arthur E. Baines will play the violin and Clifford S. Coad the mandolin. The cast for the play follows:

Little Red Riding Hood, Miss Adeline Buxton; Dame Margot (her mother), Miss Nellie Richardson; Prince Cupid (in search of a rustic bride), Miss Ethel Coad; Bo-Peep, Boy Blue, Simple Simon (village friends of Red Riding Hood), the Misses Augustine Berrien, Jenny Bremble, Viola Goldrich; Gobble-Em-Up (seemingly a wolf, but in reality a broken down goblin), Miss Amy Vincent; Sylvania (fairy queen of the woods), Miss Cora Baker; Butterfly, Rosy Pink, Dew Drop (sprites attending fairy queen), the Misses Gladys Stites, Emma Laird, Bessie Goldrich; Autumn fairies: the Misses Lillian MacDonald, Stella MacDonald, and Nellie Bond; Japanese Girls: the Misses Clementine Bremble, Amy Vincent, Adeline Buxton, Viola Stutz, Jessie Vincent, Dorothy Stenger.

MISS OLIVIA S. MOORMAN BRIDE OF JOSEPH M. HAWKINS

Miss Olivia S. Moorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moorman, of Lynchburg, Va., and Joseph M. Hawkins, of East Seventh street, were married Wednesday night at the home of the bride's parents. A reception followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for Atlantic City, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will reside in Plainfield.

Mr. Hawkins first met his bride while she was visiting her aunts, Mrs. Ralph Waldo Emerson and Mrs. Irving Biniger, of this city, about a year ago. Mr. Hawkins holds a responsible position with the American Bank Note Company in New York. It is expected that the friends of the couple will give them a reception after their return home.

P. H. S. CLASS DANCE.

In accordance with their annual custom, the Plainfield High School junior and senior classes will hold their dance and reception in the auditorium of the school tonight. Dancing will be the feature of the evening, but a program of games has been arranged for those who do not care to indulge in this recreation.

VOSSLER FAVORS THE SUGGESTIONS

Boro School Chief Comments on Meredith's Ideas on Simplicity.

HE WILL MAKE RULES

Plans to Carry Out Recommendation Made by the Assistant Commissioner of Education of New Jersey.

In respose to circulars sent out by Assistant Commissioner of Education A. B. Meredith to principals of New Jersey high schools recommending simplicity in dress and the elimination of elaborate ceremonies and unnecessary expense in connection with graduating exercises of the high school commencements, Arthur B. Vossler, supervising principal of the North Plainfield High School has taken the advice given therein.

"I am heartily in favor of Mr. Meredith's recommendations," said Mr. Vossler today, "and while I think it will take time to put all of his suggestions in operations, I am sure when the changes are made the high schools of the country will be much the better for it. While it has always been the custom of North Plainfield High School to discourage any unusual elaborativeness, I am going to make additional rules to govern the graduation ceremonies this year which will comply with the Assistant Commissioner's suggestions. I favor the limiting of expenses and think that the cost for commencement exercises at the present time should be greatly reduced. Present conditions, which tend to promote competition in the matter of dress, should be rectified for they bring embarrassment on the pupil of insufficient means who is not able to expend as much for a graduating costume as his or her classmate.

"It is my belief that if the boys and girls had to earn their own graduation money with which to cover their commencement expenses it would entitle them to spend whatever they choose for this purpose, but since that is not the case there should be a limit placed on the disbursements.

"For the North Plainfield High School, I shall recommend that no girl be allowed to spend more than ten dollars for her graduation necessities, that amount to include the cost of her commencement dress. In some schools the girls have made their own graduation day dresses, and while every school should have the facilities for dressmaking, as North Plainfield High School has, in many cases the pupils are not far enough advanced in that branch of training to make their own clothes suitable for an occasion of this kind. This situation exists in North Plainfield but if the pupils were able to make their own dresses for commencement I should also include this recommendation.

"The presentation of flowers to graduates at this year's commencement will not be permitted. I also recommend that the use of carriages to convey the pupils to and from the scene of the exercises be abolished, unless the weather makes walking most inconvenient.

"Parents of graduates ought to bear in mind that high school graduation exercises are not as important as a wedding nor as a college commencement. I believe that the custom of holding separate class day exercises and other social functions during graduation week should be done away with and the functions coinciding with the commencement be combined in a way so as to have one program and a short and interesting one at that. By the time of the year that commencement comes the pupils are tired out and are in no physical condition to attend several social functions bunched closely together."

Mr. Vossler said that he believes Mr. Meredith's efforts will result in a great good.

Lindsey Best, principal of the Plainfield High School, said he favors a decrease in the cost of commencements.

NATIONAL GUARD CAMP ORDERS.

Governor James J. Fielder, through Adjutant-General Wilbur F. Sadler, Jr., has issued orders announcing that the annual encampment of the National Guard will be held during June, July and August at places to be designated by Division Commander Dennis F. Collins. The infantry will camp at Sea Girt, July 12 to August 16, inclusive, and the field artillery at Tobyhanna, Pa., Battery B, June 21-30 and Battery D, August 1-10.

TRADE BOARD HEAD ON COMMISSION GOV'T

The following communication was received today from William Jeffery, president of the Plainfield Board of Trade:

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

There seems to be an element of danger in going too fast at the commission plan of government election. We should undertake a campaign of education and take our time about it, giving the matter cool, deliberate, satisfactory investigation, and when the people are called upon to decide, if they want it, they will be able to act intelligently in the matter.

It is quite true that if the election were called to consider the matter at present, the commission plan might slide through, but the absent vote would most likely far outnumber those who would vote and there would be a great division of an expression between those who would vote, so that the vote in favor of the commission plan would not be equal to the majority of the votes of the city as it should be if the people really believe in the commission plan of government and want it.

Mayor Donnelly, of Trenton, in his "Statement of Facts" last evening at the Plainfield High School Auditorium, cited several instances of improvement that ought to be welcomed by the city.

I propose to appoint a committee of the Board of Trade, to find out how the commission plan is really working in cities of the same size as Plainfield, particularly those of them that were managed previous to their exceptance of the commission plan, by councils of such desirable personnel as our Council, and see how the commission plan can if possible be applied to the city of Plainfield with practical, satisfactory results.

LESSON IN COOKERY.

Miss Miriam Spaulding, of the Teachers College, New York, who will give a demonstration of cookery at the First M. E. church, Tuesday afternoon, April 29, under the auspices of the Current Events Circle, will speak on "Some Spring Dishes," and give a practical demonstration. The Public Service Corporation will loan a complete electric stove, and A. M. Griffin, the hardware merchant, will loan a fireless cooker. Persons attending will have an opportunity to secure the good things cooked, if they desire.

CHIEF DOANE ADDRESSES HIGH BRIDGE FIREMEN

Fire Chief T. O. Doane was a guest of honor at a banquet given by the fire department of High Bridge, Tuesday night, at the latter place, and he gave an excellent talk on the subject of "Fighting Fires." From his long experience in the fire department, Chief Doane was able to offer many helpful suggestions which will doubtless prove of benefit to the department of High Bridge.

The banquet was arranged by Fire Chief W. H. Black, of High Bridge, who is assistant secretary of the Taylor Iron Works. Among the guests outside of the members of the fire department were Mayor Williams and members of the Common Council.

SOCK SOCIAL NETTED $16 TO LOCAL W. C. T. U.

The "sock social" held at the W. C. T. U. rooms, yesterday afternoon, was a success. About $16 was realized from the small socks brought in by the members, and the contents were placed in a large sock and counted. The money will be used to pay the union's proportion of the share of expense of the National convention to be held at Asbury Park.

Mrs. Edmund Heal had charge of the informal program, which included a catechism of the World's W. C. T. U., in which much valuable information was gained by the members. There were a number of new members present.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WILLIAM TALLMAN HELD

The funeral of William Tallman, aged 95 years, was held at his late home on Tappan avenue, North Plainfield, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. There was a large attendance of friends, including many members of the Park Avenue Baptist church, of which Mr. Tallman was a member and deacon-emeritus for a number of years.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, conducted the service, and in an address recalled the long and faithful Christian life of Mr. Tallman and his devotion to his church and home. During the service two selections were sung by Miss Steiner and Mrs. Ada Cuming. The burial will take place tomorrow morning at Greenwood cemetery.

ASKS LOCAL CITIZENS TO ATTEND A MEETING

Duncan W. Taylor, a former councilman, who is much interested in the work of the Plainfield Tuberculosis League, is anxious that there be a large attendance at the mass meeting to be held on Monday night, under the auspices of that organization.

"A few years ago," said Mr. Taylor today, "the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Plainfield was formed to do what it could to attending to existing cases of tuberculosis and to study the best methods of prevention for the future. Union county now has a good sanitarium for such cases on the hill above Scotch Plains. So our local problem at present is to do what we can to prevent the spread of the disease—realizing that it is only by persistent effort that this preventable disease can be conquered.

"A new school is just being started to look after children who are in such a condition that they could easily have tuberculosis, to teach them in classes in the open air and to instruct them how to take care of themselves. The support of the people of Plainfield is solicited to see that these efforts are continued. There will be a mass meeting in the High School on April 28 at 8 p. m., to discuss this subject, and addresses will be given by Dr. S. R. Williams and Dr. Haven Emerson, of New York.

THORNTON-NAGEL.

Miss Helen Nagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nagel, of Dunellen, and John Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Thornton, of South Plainfield, were married Wednesday in St. John's Roman Catholic church, Dunellen. Rev. Edward J. Murphy officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Loretta Thornton, a sister of the groom and Charles Thornton, a brother, acted as best man. The bride was clothed in a traveling costume and left with her husband immediately following the ceremony, for Washington, D. C., where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return the newlyweds will reside in South Plainfield.

LARGE GATHERING OF ARCANUMITES

Plainfield Council of the Order Entertains 200 Delegates From Other Lodges.

A GIFT FOR H. A. TODD

State Officers of Fraternal Organization Speak and the Members of the Craft Are the Guests of Stephen Haff at a Banquet.

Two candidates for membership were initiated, speeches were made and a banquet was enjoyed last night when Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, entertained over 200 visiting Arcanumites, representing seven different councils in various parts of the State. William Jay Amerman, of the Bayonne council, candidate for the office of grand orator at the convention to be held in Asbury Park next week, made an address. The royal reception accorded him, gives promise that he will be elected into the honorable office. The visiting delegates represented Carteret Council and Abernethy Council, of Rahway; Resolute Council and Elizabeth Council, of Elizabeth; Fireside Council, of Westfield; Bayonne Council, of Bayonne, and Greenbrook Council, of this city.

The degree team of Bayonne Council is composed of twenty members and the electrical display, gorgeous uniforms and the intricate formations, features of the initiation ceremonies, furnished unusual entertainment for the large gathering. Hugh A. Todd, of this city, who is also a representative to the Grand Council session to be held at Asbury Park, was presented with a Past Regent's jewel by Mr. Amerman, in behalf of his colleagues.

Addresses during the evening were made by Supervising Deputy Errear, Regent Edward Shearer, of Greenbrook Council; Grand Trustee Beach, Regent Duryea, and John Koester, of Bayonne, chairman of the committee of the State Order; Regent Bogart, of Resolute Council; Regent Vose, of Carteret Council, and Regent Marsh, of Plainfield Council. Henry P. Stevens, orator of the local council, had charge of the program.

The arcanumites at the banquet were the guests of Stephen Haff, of the Plainfield Council, and manager of the "Ritz."

MISSIONARY CONVENTION CONTRIBUTED $31,000

The Women's Baptist Missionary Convention which closed in the Madison Avenue Baptist church, last night, was marked by the liquidation of a $31,000 indebtedness, of which amount the missionaries contributed more than $900. One missionary, unable to give any money, contributed a ring which was sold for $75 and the purchaser returned the ring to the former owner.

During the two days' convention addresses were made by missionaries home on an extended leave of absence. Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, pastor of the convention church, made an address yesterday afternoon. The First, Park Avenue and Temple Baptist churches were represented at the convention.

HOUSE FLY ANTIS IN MASS MEETING

Ardell Addresses Audience on the Deadly Work of the Pesty "Critter."

ILLUSTRATES REMARKS

Some Three Hundred in Audience Get Information and Advice as to Necessity of Swatting the Fly—W. N. Runyon Presides.

Telling in a graphic way the damage done by the common housefly, James Ardell, of the Brooklyn "Eagle," interested 350 Plainfielders in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night at a mass meetting in connection with the fly campaign now being waged by the local Board of Health. The lecturer exhibited a number of illustrative stereopticon views which made his talk an unusually convincing one from a health standpoint. The speaker's familiarity with his subject enabled him to describe the slides in a way that brought particular stress on the most common germ breeders and carriers and he urged the audience to enforce strict laws of cleanliness in their homes, especially at this time of the year when the housefly is multiplying rapidly.

Mr. Ardell showed, by means of colored views, the dangers encountered in everyday life by the householder and outlined certain methods which would tend to remedy the defects. He told of dangers brought about by the housefly during the preparation of foodstuffs and described the different ways in which the disease breeders were conveyed to the human system. Mr. Ardell said that where filthy conditions existed disease germs were bound to be abundant and flies were one of the greatest and most common of the disease carriers as they came in contact with refuse of all kinds and used no discrimination in selecting environments. The speaker laid particular emphasis on the distribution of refuse in the barnyards and on the premises, thus forming one of the most generally frequented breeding spots for the pest.

In referring to methods involved in making a flyless city, the speaker urged the removal of all manner of rubbish as the fly is born and thrives in filth and manure, nothing being too filthy for the pest to eat or light on. Slides were exhibited by the speaker showing the way the fly travels from place to place walking on bread, fruits and vegetables, wiping his feet on the butter and bathing in the milk. The lecturer traced the course of the insect in visiting the patient sick with typhoid fever, consumption and cholera, showing how he comes in contact and endangers the healthy person. Mr. Ardell said that the only way to eliminate the pest was to kill him when he was a maggot in the manure pile or while in the egg state.

Mr. Ardell's talk was divided into two periods and during the intermission Dr. Harold D. Corbusier, of the Health Board, and W. N. Runyon gave brief addresses. Both of them thanked the Boy Scouts, of which there were representative delegations present, for their work in forming inspection brigades last Saturday, and also the people who attended the mass meeting for the hearty co-operation accorded the committee in its work of extermination. Each urged the enactment of the laws of cleanliness in every Plainfield home and told what individual effort could accomplish toward eliminating the common disease bearer.

RAG CARPET SOCIAL.

A rag carpet party was held at the home of Mrs. Norman Sears, on Somerset street, yesterday afternoon for the No. 2 Band of Workers, of Trinity Reformed church and $15 was netted. Twenty-two members attended the affair and enjoyed the social program arranged by Mrs. Sears, president of the band. The yearly meeting of the class will be held next Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Abram VanCleaf, 20 Elm place.

TALKS ON GOV'T BY COMMISSION

Mayor Donnelly, of Trenton, Tells How Plan Has Benefitted That City.

BEST FOR TAXPAYERS

Commissioners Materially Reduced Indebtedness and People Are Satisfied With New Form of Government.

What has actually been accomplished in Trenton during the past eighteen months through a commission form of government was explained in an interesting way by Mayor Frank W. Donnelly, of that city, at a meeting held at the Plainfield High School last night. There were about one hundred citizens present and while there might have been some doubts as to whether Plainfield needs such a form of government, everyone was impressed with the plain, straight-forward talk by Mr. Donnelly as he told in detail of the success of the commission administration in his city.

Howard H. Williams, chairman of the local committee in charge of the campaign for commission government, introduced Rev. J. Y. Broek, of Trinity Reformed church, as the chairman of the meeting. In presenting the speaker, Mr. Broek said that everyone residing here is proud of progressive Plainfield, which is a clean and decent place in which to live. He said that everyone ought to thank God that they live in such a place, but if it was to advance it must be along the pathway of righteousness. As for the commission government idea Mr. Broek said that it was a question that must be carefully considered and if it was found that Plainfield needed such a government, he hoped that the campaign would meet with success. Mayor Donnelly was then introduced and for more than an hour he held the close attention of his audience as he related in detail how Trenton had been wrested from the politician and put on a firm forundation.

Continuing, Mr. Donnelly spoke in

GIRL OF MY DREAMS IS ONE GREAT SHOW

That dainty lassie "The Girl of My Dreams," having visited many cities to ascertain her personal popularity now seeks the smile and plaudits of our local theatregoers. Delightful, dainty Leila McIntyre impersonates this maiden of universal heart appeal and John Hyams makes love to her, in the charming musical play success to which Jos. M. Gaites now invites theatre patrons tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Plainfield theatre.

"The Girl of My Dreams" is the joint work of Wilbur D. Nesbit and Otto Hauerbach, the late Karl Hoschna is responsible for the music of melodious tunes and jingling airs—the same Karl Hoschna who wrote the haunting theme in "Madame Sherry," "Every Little Movement."

Frank Smithson is the stage producer and his work is free from any vulgarity or overworked stage effects. All of the dances arranged for the principals are graceful waltz movements and sprightly galops. Many novel chorus "numbers" are worked into the songs, most noteworthy of which are the ones illustrating "Dear Litle Games of Guessing" and "Dr. Tinkle Tinkle."

"SHOWER" FOR MISS KIELY.

Miss Abby Kiely, of West Front street, was given a surprise variety "shower" at the home of Miss Gertrude Cashin, on East Sixth street, Wednesday night. The affair was arranged by Miss Cashin and Miss Agnes Daly. Miss Kiely received a large collection of useful articles. Her engagement to Joseph Cashin was announced recently. The wedding will take place in the near future.

A DUTCH SUPPER.

Over 100 members of the Netherwood Reformed church and their friends were entertained last night at a Dutch supper served by a committee composed of Mrs. J. C. Schinkel, chairman; Mrs. J. C. Hansen and Mrs. J. Hansen. Members of the Sunday-school classes acted as waitresses and the church netted a tidy sum as a result of the affair.

MRS. COTGREAVE'S FUNERAL.

The funeral services of Mrs. Harriet Cotgreave, who died Monday night at her home on South Second street, were held at her late residence yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Cortland Mallery, of the Heavenly Rest church, officiating. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery.

CLAPP AND FORT MADE SPEECHES

Two Leaders of the Party Address Progressives at Big Banquet in Trenton.

WORDS FROM JOHNSON

California's Governor Sends Message to Diners at the Mercer County Progressive League Event—Fort Says No Union With Old Party.

Trenton, April 25.—United States Senator Moses B. Clapp, of Minnesota and former Governor John Franklin Fort, State chairman of the Progressive party in New Jersey, stirred over 700 diners to a high pitch of enthusiasm at a banquet held last night by the Mercer County Progressive League at the Masonic Temple. A telegram of congratulation and encouragement from Governor Hiram Johnson, of California, Roosevelt's running mate in the Presidential campaign, caused a scene of wild enthusiasm. Senator Clapp reviewed the brief history, rehearsed the cause and pointed out the future path of the Progressive party.

During the course of his speech former Governor Fort said:

"The Republican party are asking us to come back. But to what and where do they wish us to come? They say that we are largely a part of the old Republican army, that we are one division and they another. By asking us to 'come back' they admit we are the advance division. And we are. We had eighty-eight electoral votes and they eight. We have one hundred and forty-three thousand voters in New Jersey and they have eighty-eight thousand; we have over four and a quarter million voters in the nation and they have less than three million. If we could go back to the leadership of Lincoln, Grant, Garfield or McKinley, it might be a matter worth considering, but not to the leadership of Barnes, Penrose and Smoot. Why should our division, the largest and the most advanced, go back. We are today in a fine strategic position on the right flank of the enemies of the people. Shall we fall back to the rear division and let the army of privilege and special interests resume their old place on the right flank of the people? If they want to unite with us, why not let their division move up and join us. Possibly we could stand still until they come up, but we cannot go back. We cannot abandon the position we have fought for and won. We cannot yield a single principle for which we stand. We have won the income tax, direct election of United States Senators, Public Utilities Commissions and the regulation of railway rates; the direct primary for everything but President. But we still are fighting for the initiative and referendum and the recall and the direct nominations of the President of the United States. We still stand for the minimum wage for women and for equal suffrage for male and female; for a more simple method of amending the Federal and State constitution; in a word, for the absolute rule of the people in all governmental affairs. Are they ready for all these things? Are they heartily for them? There can be no union of the two divisions of the army until they march up to our position and stand for these things. These things are all coming. The marvel to me is how blind to public sentiment men who think they are leaders can be.

"Every advance that has been made in popular government in the past ten years, we have been told would subvert the government if it were adopted. Are we willing to put outselves under the leadership of men who have been wrong on every advanced movement in these past years? They are just as wrong now in opposing the things I have mentioned and that we are now advocating. We are not responsible for the disruption of the Republican party last year. Is there a sane man in the nation who believes that the Republican party would have been dead today if a Progressive platform had been adopted, and Theodore Roosevelt nominated at the Republican convention held at Chicago last June? The Republican party did not die; it committed suicide. If the division of that party which did this thing last year wishes to come up with us and unite, they must first hold a court marshal and try, convict and shoot the men guilty of the political fraud which caused its death last year. When that is done, I for one, am ready to welcome them with open arms. The vast mass of the men who are still in the old party would be glad to come with us—they are only held out by the name—that is all. Who imagines that it was an easy thing to cut away from a party in which one had spent all the best years of his manhood? It was a terrible struggle between conscience and righteousness on the one hand, and heredity and past environment on the other; but there was no alternative except we approved fraud theft and dishonor."

COMMANDERY TO ATTEND.

Arrangements for an union service of the Men's Club of the Church of the Heavenly Rest and Trinity Commandery, Knight Templars, which will take place Thursday night, in that edifice, were completed last night at a meeting of the former body.

A PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE.

The Men's Club of the Church of the Heavenly Rest will hold a progressive euchre on Thursday night, May 8.

TO ENTERTAIN CHOIR BOYS.

F. F. Wills, auditor at the Spicer Manufacturing Company, and tenor soloist at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, has invited the choir boys to his home, on Kensington avenue, this evening, for rehearsal. Afterward refreshments will be served.

A FREAK CHICKEN.

E. T. Ryno, of Raritan road, is the owner of a freak chicken possessing four perfectly formed legs and feet. The barnyard curiosity is now four days old, healthy and normal in every other way.

The coal bag social held at the Wilson Memorial chapel, Watchung, last night, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, netted $105 with which to pay for the next winter's supply of coal.

SUFFRAGIST BEAUTY CONTEST FOR MAY DEMONSTRATION

The above are some of the young women chosen to take part in the suffragette pageant on May 2 at New York.

A score or more of the most beautiful young women are wanted to appear in tableaux and dances, and suffragists were invited to come and apply. All day Monday and Tuesday hundreds of them stood up for inspection, but only about forty of that number were accepted. Some were too short, others too tall, a few were too fat and the rest were disqualified for one reason or another.

Delegates from all over the country will be in New York for the "Votes for Women" demonstration, and recruiting is now going on for the suffragette parade on May 3.

SHAFT COMMEMORATES WILD WEST DAYS OF OLD.

Kings of the Plains Unveil Monument at St. Joseph, Mo.

A handsome granite monument, commemorative of the pony express riders of earlier days, was unveiled recently in Patee park, St. Joseph, Mo. The monument stands on the spot from which the first express rider started April 3, 1860. It was presented to St Joseph by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Charles Cliff of St. Joseph, one of the few surviving pony express riders, unveiled the shaft.

William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody, one of the original riders, and Governor Elliott W. Major of Missouri, a direct descendant of one of the owners of the first pony express company, delivered addresses.

The monument is of red granite blasted from a quarry in the Ozark mountains. On its front the following words are inscribed:

This monument, erected by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the city of St Joseph, marks the place where the first pony express started on April 3 1860.

Among those who took part in the ceremonies was L. P. Evans of Wathena, Kan., a cousin of John Fry, the rider who started with the first express pouch.

BIGGEST CANDLE IN WORLD.

To Be Burned at Rome In Honor of the Late J. P. Morgan.

The largest wax candle ever molded was ordered recently by Father E. T. Malone and his parishioners at Our Lady of Mount Carmel's Roman Catholic church in Jersey City, N. J. It will be sent to the Vatican at Rome to be burned on feast days in memory of the late J. P. Morgan.

It will cost $1,500 to make the candle and send it to Rome. An oil painting of Mr. Morgan by Paulo Restivo will be placed at the base. The candle will be sixteen feet in height, with a base eighteen inches wide tapering to six inches.

Father Monteleone says that if the candle was lighted one day each year it would last for 300 years, but if steadily burned it would be consumed in nine months.

BOSTON FIRM RAISES FOXES.

Will Produce the Valuable Prince Edward Island "Silver-Black."

The raising of the Prince Edward Island "silver black" fox is making progress in Boston. A charter was issued recently for a $350,000 company to be known as the Massachusetts Silver Black Fox company, with offices in that city.

A pair of tested breeders of this type of fox is worth from $30,000 to $35,000. Prince Edward Island has long been noted as one spot where silver-black foxes can be raised with success. The industry began on the island twenty years ago. At that time entirely black foxes were unobtainable. By inbreeding a type of animal has been produced which is jet black all over, except for a few silver hairs on the tip of the tail and a stripe along the back.

Sect of Self Whippers.

In certain unfrequented parts of Las Animas county, Colo., the Penitentes, a strange religious sect, recently put in a week atoning for their sins of the year. The rites consist of scourging themselves with pieces of twisted soapweed until the blood flows freely from many gashes in the skin. At sunset each day the Penitentes walk to a secluded spot and reproduce in a crude fashion the crucifixion.

STYLISH — RELIABLE

Think of the Stone

Says George Eliot: "People who love Gouncy peaches are apt not to think of the stone, and sometimes lay their teeth against it."

The thought is beautifully ingenious to "clothing conditions." Some men are influenced by wild statements, "dawny phrases" and lurid promises—they buy the clothes on "surface value"—they are pleased until they "sentence" the suit to a season of hard Labor!

And then all of a sudden they are jarred by the Stone of Inferiority! A suit like a friend, must stand by you in all sorts of weather. It must be willing to receive "rough handling" and still come up smiling.

Our clothes do these—and we do more! We give you a Service Pledge that turns chance into a "sure thing."

CLUB OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

sible condition, for the bulk of all the food stuffs consumed were prepared on the Southern home farm. So the house-mother perceived that her merchandise was good. Today she giveth not meat to her household and a portion to her maidens, for the borders of her household are enlarged. The new conscience of which Miss Adams speaks in the title of her book is manifest in many relations of life. I have no doubt that most of us have seen the day when we rejoiced in our emancipation from garment-making, finding what we needed in the stores at almost the cost of the materials. The new conscience will no longer permit this light-hearted acceptance of our sister's sweated work. The borders of our household are enlarged.

"President Wilson has said: 'This is not a day of triumph: it is a day of dedication. To cleanse, to reconsider, to restore, to correct the evil without impairing the good, to purify and humanize every process of our common life without weakening or sentimentalizing it.' How can we women clense and restore and humanize every process of our common life? How can we look well to the ways of our household? Are not our maidens and our children in the sweat-shops and the factory? No individual woman can cleanse and restore wholesome methods of food preparation or textile manufacture, but we can accomplish it through our clubs and our federation of clubs. We have planned a beginning of this work for the Monday Afternoon Club in next year's program, by a study of local industrial conditions among women and children; the study of pure foods; what they are and how obtained, and of textile values.

"The virtuous woman must be industrious and vigilant, even as in the days of Solomon. To look well to the ways of her household requires an ever broadening vision. Like the 'three grey sisters' of the fairy tale, we must lend our eyes to one another, co-ordinate all of our forces, join hands with every enlightened community, not only in the State and in the nation, but throughout the world, for indeed, the borders of our household are enlarged."

Mrs. Fox was at the main table, where seventeen of the surviving charter members were seated. There were Miss Eliza Elvira Kenyon, Mrs. P. W. Field, Mrs. Henry D. Hibbard, Mrs. George P. Mellick, Mrs. Dexter Tiffany, Mrs. David P. Hall, Mrs. Rowland Cox, Mrs. Hugh F. Hastings, Mrs. John M. Whiton, Mrs. E. C. Perkins, of New York; Mrs. William H. Sterling, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Eugene Hatch, Mrs. Henry M. Maxson, and the Misses Isabelle Arnold, F. F. Clark and Emily Tracy, the last named of New York.

At another table were seated these other charter members: Mrs. John Gray Foster, Mrs. John F. Harman, Mrs. DeWitt Ivins, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. William D. SOCIOLOGICAL MEET ON AT ATLANTA, GA.

Atlanta, Ga., April 25.—Hundreds of delegates, all men and women of earnest thought, devoted to the best intersts of the South and of the country at large, have gathered in Atlanta for the second annual meeting of the Southern Sociological Congress. The congress was organized in Nashville last year as a result of a call by Governor Hooper, of Tennessee, who is still the president of the organization and will preside over the sessions of the present meeting.

Following the opening formalities this evening, the sessions of the congress will be continued until next Tuesday. In addition to the general sessions, there will be numerous sectional meetings or conferences, at which the six themes of the congress will be given especial attention. These themes include child welfare, public health, organized charities, courts and prisons, negro problems and church and social service.

No general sessions of the congress will be held tomorrow, but Sunday will be a very busy day for the delegates. In the forenoon the pulpits of practically all of the leading churches of the city will be occupied by well known divines and other prominent speakers among the visitors. The features of the afternoon will be a great mass meeting at which social service in all its phases will be the subject of addresses by men and women well qualified to speak on the topics assigned them.

Four mass meetings will be held Sunday evening, two for white and two for colored people. The speakers will include Owen R. Lovejoy, of New York; Congressman Richmond P. Hobson, of Alabama, and Miss Julia Lathrop, director of the Federal Children's Bureau.

At the succeeding sessions of the congress the noted speakers and their topics will include the following: "The South's Challenge for a Better Nation," President S. C. Mitchell, of the University of South Carolina; "The Prevention of Lynching," Governor William H. Mann, of Virginia; "The Future of the American Negro," Dr. Booker T. Washington and Dr. H. S. Bradley, of Worcester, Mass.; "Needed Reforms in Criminal Procedure," Dr. Maurice Parmalee, of the University of Missouri; "A National Movement to Suppress Segregated Vice," Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, of Washington, D. C.; "After Care of Mother and Illegitimate Child," Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, of Virginia; "A Commuity Programme for Child Welfare," Dr. Hastings H. Hart, of New York; "Now to Relate Church Activities to Social Service," Bishop Robert Strange, of Wilmington, N. C.; "The Social Task of the Board of Health," Dr. Oscar Dowling, of New Orleans; "The Care of Neglected and Delinquent Children," Bernard Flexner, of Louisville; "The Negro Working Out His Own Salvation," Prof. E. C. Branson, of the University of Georgia, and "The Social Task of the Modern Church," Dr. W. L. Poteat, president of Wake Forest College.

TARIFF TERMS.

Wherever possible, the Underwood tariff bill items will be figured out on ad valorem basis, for it is considered that duties reckoned that way are much more equitable than are specific duties. But, on the other hand, it is contended that specific duties are more easily adjusted and more certain and, moreover, frequently prevent frauds being perpetrated in the shape of undervaluations.

People as a rule do not understand the meaning of these two terms, ad valorem duties and specific duties, and this explanation given by a Newark newspaper should be of general interest.

"The difference between a specific duty and an ad valorem duty puzzles so many persons who read the daily reports on the tariff that it seems desirable to offer an explanation.

"Broadly speaking, an ad valorem duty, as its name indicates, is a tax assessed on the value of an article imported. A specific duty is a tax on the article itself, regadrless of its value. For illustration, take pins and pens under the present tariff law. The duty on pins is twenty per cent. ad valorem, that is to say, if an importer buys pins abroad to the amount of ten thousand dollars, he must pay a duty of twenty per cent. or two thousand dollars, before he can get them through the custom house. The number of pins in a lot is inconsequent; the duty is laid upon their value.

"Now as to pens: Here the duty is specific and is eight cents a gross, regardless of their value or what they cost. It makes no difference whether the importer buys one gross or a thousand, whether they are worth fifty cents a gross or fifty dollars, he pays just eight cents for each and every gross imported. Here the tax is on the quantity, and not the value of the thing imported.

Why has not Paul Adams been made a regular member of the fire department? That is a question many people would like to have answered, and we take this means of asking the Mayor and the chairman of the Councilmanic fire committee to let the reason be known. Adams entered the department over a year and a half ago, filling a vacancy then existing. From what can be learned he has proven to be an efficient firemen and the regular firemen speak highly of him. But there may be some cause for not giving him a regular appointment and if there is the public is entitled to know it.

None should miss attending the mass meeting to be held at the Plainfield High School auditorium on Monday night when the nation-wide campaign against the great white plague will be discussed by two distinguished men. Dr. Linsly R. Williams and Dr. Haven Emerson, both of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, will be the speakers. They will tell what is being done throughout the land to stay the ravages of this terrible disease and they will also have some advice to give the people of this city as to what they can do to aid in the work.

Prompt action has been taken by Principal Vossler, of the North Plainfield High School, on the suggestions made by Assistant Commissioner of Education A. B. Meredith as to commencement day arrangements. The latter advised that the custom of apeing college exercises be stopped, holding that elaborateness is undemocratic and not in harmony with the public school system. Mr. Vossler is to be congratulated.

When it is not expressing unkind opinions of President Wilson, the Newark Star seems to enjoy knocking Secretary of State Bryan, but Bryan must pay the same penalty that any other public man does who is a personal and political friend of the former Governor, whom former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., thoroughly detests.

The contributing editor for tomorrow's issue will be Howard H. Williams. His subject will be "Commission Government."

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION

part as follows:

"The statements that I will make will stand the acid test of critics from sides and from the fair-minded and other-minded newspaper men, who take delight in distorting the facts that exist in Trenton."

"The Mayor touched on a point that is the real trouble and cause of this unrest. He spoke of the time when the charter was adopted. This original charter has been elaborated upon until you can't make any headway; you can't meet the demands of modern ideas; the tax rate has become prohibitive, and suspicion and unrest is everywhere. The only solution of it is a business application to government.

"Recent investigations made by the United States Congress or a committee from Congress shows that there was a million dollars a day waste in this country or $365,000,000 annually," he continued.

"The fault under the present plan is not with the office holders, but with the system. If you adopt Commission Government, you will probably elect those who are in office now. In approximately 280 cities that have adopted Commission Government, the office-holders have been selected by the people to operate their public affairs under the new form. It is a business proposition, and you have got to have men of experience, and only high grade men at that.

"In Trenton one-third of the voting population are foreigners and out of sixty-seven candidates they selected the ten best men at the primaries, and then elected the best five men out of the ten; men who had had experience in public life.

"We took over a legacy of $800,000 in floating notes held by the banks to cover deficiencies in making up the budgets and the uncollected taxes. We have in eighteen months reduced that floating indebtedness, eliminating $300,000, which is covered by the Martin Act to $400,000. Last year we collected three hundred thousand dollars, personal poll tax, before the first of March, excepting five thousand, something that was never done before in the history of Trenton. For the first time in 22 years we paid every bill on the last day of the month, and at the end of the fiscal year, had a balance in the treasury, something that was never known before. The tax rate was reduced the first year under Commission Government from 2.12 to 2.10, but the commission form was not entirely responsible for it.

"In getting after the actual running expenses of the city, the very first year there was a saving in salaries of $60,000. Waste of $60,000 in an annual budget of $700,000! Also there would be a waste on a bond issue of $9,000 to $12,000, which we have overcome.

"The police of the city have the full backing of the commissioners. They have the supervision of the gathering of garbage. They show the housekeepers how to tie the papers in the cans so that they don't blow all over the street, what kind of cans to put it in, and he has authority to ring a front door bell and tell the person who lives there that their garbage is not in shape to be taken away. They are also sanitary inspectors and report collections of filth and dirt.

"There have been two fire companies added.

"In the commission form of government, when there is an extra amount of work in one department, men are transferred from another department to help out instead of employing extra men.

"Formerly there was two police justices and two assistants, whereas, now there is one justice and one assistant, which makes a saving of $5,000 a year.

"It is also helping the liquor business. It is making the liquor dealer more careful in dispensing his wares. It is not profitable to have them locked up six months for drunkenness or fined ten or twenty dollars, because as a rule the crowd around the corner has to raise the fine.

"We laid last year nineteen miles of new sidewalks. Some of our best citizens had notices to appear before the police court if they didn't start to fix their walk in twenty-four hours, and we are going to lay as much more this year.

"In the street cleaning, we had five crews, and each crew had a good politician at its head. The politicians were drawing about $4.50 or $5.00 a day. We got down to two crews and the streets are better cleaned and better taken care of, and at a saving of $5,000.

"We bought some valves for the water department in open bidding, for which we had always paid $1.56. Under competitive bidding they came in I think they were 54 or 56 cents, for the same valve.

"When the street proposition came up I started out on a campaign to find some new ideas and get away from the patent materials, that the papers have been talking about, for paving. I found open competitive bidding, I found alternative bidding by specification on two or three different materials. When I came home with these schemes, the contractors immediately went up in the air, said it was impossible. We laid $100,000 of new pavement last year under open specifications and alternative bidding. The city engineer, and the city chemist, a new innovation, made tests of everything; he even made tests of the coal and you would be surprised how much longer coal lasts now than it used to; and we held these men responsible, and we made a saving of $18,000 on prices quoted the year before. We are laying Bermuda asphalt for $1.28; the price had been previously from $1.70, or I might say $1.60 on small jobs, from $1.70 to $2.10, but in the best asphalt with a six inch concrete base and 2½ or 3 inch surface, we laid lots of it for $1.35 to $1.45 against $1.80 to $2.10.

"We keep the pavements repaired. When the trolley company do not make repairs between the tracks, we do it and send them the bill; and we do it for everybody else.

"We have bought the land for a disposal plant and a filtration plant. We have given out bids for the filtration plant and we are going to have one of the finest plants in the country. In open bidding the price stands about $348,000 against $659,000 that was bid under the old system.

"The people of Trenton are satisfied with the new government, satisfied with the commissioners, and if it was put to a vote today, commission government would win out by ten to one. Everything is done in the open, not behind closed doors.

"It has been suggested that I say something about the excise question. That is a big question to talk about. We had very poor excise conditions in the city of Trenton. Lots of men in the business were struggling for existence, as there was one saloon for every 290 people. One of our first rules was to limit the number to one to every 500. We are trying to spread them out as they are all in one section, one block I think has 13 saloons and near there, there are 22 saloons on 5 blocks. The business is legalized and is here to stay, but under the new system the saloon man will be in a much better condition and be a better man. Trenton, for the past 25 years, has been closed on Sunday, and now we close them at 1 o'clock night and don't let them open until 5 in the morning. We had a very low license fee, it was $350. It is now $400, and as conditions improve the saloonkeepers themselves will want to see it increased.

At the close of Mr. Donnelly's talk an opportunity was given those present to ask questions, but as he seemed to cover the question so thoroughly no one accepted the invitation. A rising vote of thanks was given to the speaker for his interesting and able talk.

NASHVILLE (TENN.) GIRL MARRIES THEATRICAL MANAGER OF NEW YORK

Mr. Frederic W. Thompson, theatrical manager and widely known as one of the pioneer amusement park promoters in this country, having conceived Luna Park, at Coney Island, recently married Miss Selene Wheat Pilcher, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moorhouse Pilcher, of New Orleans, La., and Nashville, Tenn. Her father was a wealthy lawyer and planter. In Nashville, which is Mr. Thompson's home city, the couple met twenty years ago.

A cousin of the bride, Lieutenant Winston Pilcher, U. S. A., retired, of Nashville, gave the bride away. Her only relatives present were Miss Stewart Elliott and Mr. Frank Sanger, also of Nashville. Miss Maria Thompson Davies, the authoress, was the bride's principal attendant.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO SEVENTH-DAY BAPTISTS

The Missionary Committee of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church will have charge of the prayer meeting at that church this week, and Harold Stillman will be the leader of the Junior Society's meeting.

"Paul, the Pioneer," is the topic that the pastor, Rev. Edwin Shaw, has chosen for his discourse tomorrow (Saturday) morning, at the usual time of Sabbath service.

The chalk talk which the pastor gives to the children in connection with the morning service will this week have the name of "Pioneers."

At the prayer meeting this evening the topic suggested is the Sabbath-school lesson of last week under the subject "From Bethel to Peniel."

A SCHOOL DEBATE.

An innovation will be introduced in the New Market Public School, Monday, when a debate will be held among selected orators from the various classrooms on the subject of "Votes for Women." Those who will support women's suffrage are Miss Helen Rogers, Miss Lydia Haight, Miss Blanche Pearson, Miss Ada Noble and Miss Emily Piddington. The negative side will be advocated by Miss Josephine Mitze, William Cashin, Andrew Carter, Elston Randolph, Elmer Schenck and Russell Van Nuis.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Adele Rowland is to go into vaudeville.

Viola Allen will spend her vacation in Europe.

Jose Collins will star in a new operetta next season.

Edward Sheldon's play, "Romance," will be produced in Germany.

Henrietta Crossman will continue her season until the middle of May.

Austin Webb is one of the principals in a new sketch called "My Friend."

Louise Galloway is playing in a vaudeville sketch called "Little Mother."

Florence Holbrook, formerly associated with Cecil Lean, is to be starred next season.

Mordkin, the Russian dancer, may appear with Adeline Genee at the London Coliseum this spring.

Lillian Russel has concluded her lecture tour, and may appear for a brief engagement in vaudeville.

Tyrone Power has started his long tour in "Julius Caesar." He will play in Canada through May and June.

The company presenting "The Five Frankforters" will be kept together and appear in the play next season.

"Stop Thief," has caught New Yorkers so much with its rapid fire of fun that it will continue in that city all summer.

Hedwig Reicher is to go into vaudeville with a playlet entitled "The Conquest." Franklyn Ritchie will be in her support.

Max Rogers and Bobby North are to star together next season in a musical and comedy mixture with a notable vaudeville cast.

Florence Reed, who made such a big hit in "The Scarlet Woman," is playing in Los Angeles in the Morosco Stock Company.

Louise Randolph, who was the manager of her own company in Chicago, is to be the leading woman of a stock company in Springfield, Mass.

Charles Frohman will produce in the near future a musical comedy entitled "The X-Ray Girl," by Paul Rubens, author of "The Sunshine Girl."

"The Argyle Case," with Robert Hilliard as the star, and W. J. Burns, the famous detective, as one of the authors, is to have a London production.

A new farce is to be produced which is a satire on the prevailing type of criminal plays. Its title is "Are You a Crook?" and Marguerite Clark is to have the leading part.

Rida Johnson Young has writteen a baseball play which Selwyn and Company will produce next season. Mrs. Young has been traveling with the New York Giants with a view to securing suggestions.

THE SANE COMMENCEMENT.

The Trenton High School Successfully answered last year all the charges now being brought by the State educational authorities against the usual ridiculous "Commencement." When the pupils voted to adopt the Washington trip plan, they decided also to do away entirely with all impractical, expensive graduating exercises, and inaugurate a series of sane senible commencements.

The program as presented last year is worthy of notice. It was, first of all, given in the High School auditorium, which furnished ample room for all parents, and which made unnecessary the hiring of a theatre. Second, it was purely a demonstration of what the school had accomplished for the graduating pupils. There was none of those heavy essays or thunderous orations that rack any wiseacre's brain to follow. A pupil from the German department showed her proficiency in that language by giving a German recitation. The commercial department pupils demonstrated with what rapidity they could take dictation in shorthand and how well they could handle the typewriter. The chemistry students performed a number of experiments before the very eyes of the audience, and some of the English pupils rendered a little play of Tennyson's.

Such a program was a true revelation to all parents, and it was a thorough success. Then, too, the pupils who performed chemical experiment or labored at the typewriters were not hampered in "evening dress," for there was no such thing in evidence, and the expenses of the affair were correspondingly lessened. This year's class is to follow the precedent then established.—Trenton True American.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staats, of Brooklyn, have returned home after a visit with relatives in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robin Brown, of Verdon street, the borough, are parents of a son, born to them on Tuesday.

Sale of Women's Suits

Savings of 1/3 to 1/2 on the Season's Best Models

We begin in the second floor cloak and suit store, tomorrow, what we consider one of the most important sales of women's and misses' suits that has ever been announced at this time of the season. In fact, the values are so out of the ordinary that you would hardly find them equaled in July at the most sweeping reduction sale, and think well of the fact that an opportunity such as this comes right now in the height of the season.

From the $50.00 suits that are offered at $25.00 to the $16.95 suits at $10.95, there's style distinction, there are the leading models and materials of the season, and as each suit embodies the highest class workmanship, this sale is worth attending even if you have to travel miles to get here. Note the extent of the savings; then you can see for yourself how urgent it is to come.

WOMEN'S AND MISSES $50.00 SUITS AT $25.00
WOMEN'S AND MISSES $37.50 SUITS AT $21.95
WOMEN'S AND MISSES' $35.00 SUITS AT $20.00
WOMEN'S AND MISSES' $30.00 SUITS AT $18.95
WOMEN'S AND MISSES' $27.00 SUITS AT $17.50
WOMEN'S AND MISSES $25.00 SUITS AT $15.95
WOMEN'S AND MISSES' $22.50 SUITS AT $15.00
WOMEN'S AND MISSES' $20.00 SUITS AT $13.50
WOMEN'S AND MISSES' $18.95 SUITS AT $12.50
WOMEN'S AND MISSES' $16.50 SUITS AT $10.95

You will be amazed when you find the rich and beautiful models in the following materials:

Silk Mixtures, Eponges, Novelty Suitings, Whipcords, Serges, Bedford Cords, Vigoreaux, Shepherd Checks, Diagonals.

Included are about one hundred superbly beautiful gems of styles. They are recognized as the most distinctive creations that ever were exhibited. Shon in Bulgarian blues, new tans, smart browns, rich grays, navy, Copenhagen and black.

Let us crown the beauty of your spring wardrobe with one of these ideal suit creations and you will have the pleasant thought that NO MONEY CAN BUY finer materials or more faultless styles anywhere.

MOTIVES BACK OF WIDESPREAD STRIKE OF BELGIAN WORKMEN

Unequal Distribution of the Ballot Privilege Was the Cause of the Trouble.

Situation Gave Officials Little Concern at First, but Soon Grew Serious.

NOT in many years has the Belgian government faced such a serious situation as that created by the great "manhood suffrage" strike which was recently declared and which, according to conservative estimates, called 250,000 workmen from their employment almost instantly.

Although the strike had been announced in advance and extensive preparations had been made to offset its influence, the trouble quickly became more widespread than the officials had anticipated and the result in many districts was a complete stopping of all industry. Suffering and great inconvenience followed as natural consequences.

While much has been printed in this country about the disturbances little attention has been given to explaining the trouble back of the great strike.

The Strike Explained.

A concise and accurate explanation of the motive was stated as follows by one familiar with the circumstances:

"The strike is a protest against the refusal of the Belgian government to introduce the new franchise bill embodying equal and universal suffrage. The present Belgian house of representatives was elected on the principle of proportionate representation.

"That principle, in brief, is as follows: Every male Belgian who is twenty-five years old who has resided one year in his commune and who is not legally disqualified has one vote.

"If he is married or is a widower with children and pays $1 a year direct taxation he receives a second vote. Persons holding official positions, having university degrees or owning property worth a certain sum get two extra votes. No person, however, is permitted to use more than three votes.

"The Socialists want the entire system of plural voting abolished and demand that every Belgian citizen, male and female, over the age of twenty-one, be given one vote, and one vote only."

A Socialist Movement.

The beginning of the strike was a Socialist movement. The Catholic workmen, who have organizations of their own, did not sanction the strike. The Socialist leaders announced that it was to be a "strike of folded arms" and that no violence need be feared. In other words, the plan made in advance was to try to paralyze all industry in Belgium or as much as would be necessary to bring about a situation of extreme gravity.

The strike began at dawn April 14, when the night shifts quit the mines and mills throughout the country, leaving them empty save for a few caretakers told off by the Socialist party to keep the property from deteriorating.

At least a quarter of a million men laid down their tools, according to reports given out in representative non-Socialist quarters. There were numerous exceptions to the general walkout in many districts.

The strike was complete in places such as the mining districts, but only partial in the great seaport of Antwerp, where the shipping continued loading and unloading as though nothing had occurred.

Reports from the provinces told of complete or nearly complete stoppage of work at Liege, Charleroi, Mons, La Louviere and other smaller cities. At Mons alone it was estimated that there were 40,000 strikers and at La Louviere 26,000, most of them belonging to the metal, carriage building and tobacco trades.

Raoul Warocque, a deputy and mine owner, declared his intention of subscribing $10,000 daily to the strike fund.

Work Stopped at Liege.

Work ceased in the greater number of the industrial concerns at Liege and in the surrounding suburbs of Bressoux, Jupille, and Wandre. Of 3,500 workmen 1,400 remained at their machines.

In the national arms factory at Herstal the strike was complete.

All the coal miners at Seraing, Jemoppe, Tilleur, Mentegnee, Flemalle-Haute, Flemalle-Grande and St. Nicholas stopped work.

Of the 35,000 coal miners in the Mons district all quit their work except 2,000, who kept the machinery running. All the manufactories also were idle, including the machine shops and potteries.

The suspension of work at the coal mines in the Charleroi district was complete the first day, except that sufficient men remained at their posts to keep the machinery in good order and the pumps working. The metal workers only partially quit. The total number on strike at Charleroi was 59,961 out of 78,836 employees in the various trades.

La Louviere Idle.

Twenty strikers were arrested for interfering with workers.

The miners' strike at La Louviere was general the first morning, not a man beyond those necessary to keep the machinery in order going into the mines. All the factories closed their doors except a pottery.

Some attempts were made to cut telegraph wires in the vicinity.

The potteries in the Ghent neighborhood were all silent, but in the linen and cotton mills something more than half the hands remained at work, except in two cases, where all quit. The metal workers also went out, but a few cement mixers continued work.

The strike, which had appeared not to affect Antwerp in any way early in the morning, set in during the forenoon, when there was a partial suspension of work by the dock laborers. The movement also extended to other branches.

The stoppage of work at Tournai was only partial in the quarries and coal mines, while at the factories nearly the full complement of workers went into the shops.

Growth of the Strike.

The full force of the strike was not felt at Antwerp for the reason that the steamship companies, forewarned, diverted so much of their shipping to other cities that there was little work to do at the Antwerp docks. The strikers also adopted a similar plan in advance, all of them saving funds and provisions and those who could afford to do so sending their families to France or other countries for a times

By the evening of the third day the officials admitted that the strike was spreading and that at least 310,000 men were idle. Some estimates put the number as high as 370,000. Premier Broqueville, speaking in the parliament at Brussels, put the number at 350,000. Estimates of conservative journals reduced the total to a few hundred less than 300,000.

More than 10,000 strikers surrounded the national hall of legislation, but there was no violence. Several hundred paraded the capital without police interference.

In answer to Socialist and Liberal attacks in the chamber the premier declared that the government could not yield to threats. When a Liberal deputy proposed a national referendum on constitutional revision the premier said:

"When quiet is restored the government will be at your disposal to study out the question."

Bruges Workers Quit.

The dock strike spread to Bruges, and 200 men loading the German steamer Wiegand stopped work. The Bruges manufacturers posted notices calling attention to the impossibility of filling the orders on hand, as their workmen were on strike. They pointed out that no new orders were coming in and that many of their customers were placing their orders abroad, thus adding to the dislocation of industry and increasing the loss caused by the strike both to employee and employer.

At Antwerp the dock strike extended to coal unloaders at the Central basins. The burgomaster predicted that work at the port would be at a complete standstill in a few days for lack of freights. The arrivals of cereals, timber and similar cargo at the railroad freight depot rapidly became scarcer. A band of women gathered in front of the Socialist co-operative storehouse, protesting against work being performed there during the strike. The police dispersed them.

At Ghent 1,500 more men joined the strike, bringing the total there to 18,000, of whom 8,000 marched in the streets. There was no disorder.

Of the 208,000 workmen in the provinces of Hainault and Namur 163,000 walked out, according to officials.

Violence Reported.

The promise of the leaders to carry on a peaceable strike was not kept because of the refusal of the workmen in some districts to obey orders. On the fourth day of the walkout bands of young men went through the workmen's residential district in Seraing, breaking windows in the homes of men who had refused to quit work.

Other bands occupied the roads leading to the city and stopped gangs of men who were entering the city from outlying villages with the intention of going to work.

Even when acts of violence were reported in Brussels the government obstinately refused to yield to the Socialists' demands. The police had a hard time in the suburbs of Brussels, where strikers bought nippers and rubber gloves with the intention of cutting wires and wrecking electrical machinery.

The seriousness of the situation became apparent when officials announced that they were almost out of coal and that the stopping of railroad transportation and the shutting down of gas and electric plants seemed inevitable.

Facing this extremity, however, the government refused to yield. To all proposals of a national referendum on constitutional revision the premier merely reiterated:

"The government considers itself threatened and cannot yield. When quiet is restored it will be at your disposal."

$1 for Umbrellas

WORTH $1.50 AND $1.75.

Don't stop with buying one of these umbrellas—they are so cheap that you ought to afford at least two of them so as to be supplied in emergencies, and to be able to help your friends out when they are visiting you and get caught in a shower. You needn't worry about the umbrella coming back at this price.

These umbrellas are of American piece dyed fabrics, with extra fine tape edged; they are mounted on 8-rib paragon frames, making them strong and dependable in the stress of storm; each has case and tassel; many handsome handles to choose from; $1.50 and $1.75 umbrellas for..$1.00

FACTS ABOUT THE GOVERNOR.

No refrigerator gives better satisfaction than the Governor—we know it from years and years of experience. We have sold thousands of them; they never come back; they are never complained of. They are strong where others are weak; where others are strong, they are stronger. They save enough ice to pay for themselves in about three years. You cannot afford to buy any other than the Governor, and here are savings of from $2 to $20 apiece if you buy Friday or Saturday.

AMERICAN BIRDS NEARLY EXTINCT

Some Valuable Species Already Gone, Scientists Say.

BETTER GAME LAWS URGED

Only Long Closed Seasons Will Save Wild Life of the Country, Is Experts' Opinion—Destruction of Insect Eaters Causing Big Loss to Farmers—Startling Facts Presented.

That American birds, like the American bison, soon will be extinct unless immediate measures are taken for their protection is the prediction of an investigator who recently set forth his views in the Chicago Record-Herald.

Ornithologists and sportsmen for several years have been calling attention to the same fact and have repeatedly pointed out that better game laws must be passed and rigidly enforced if we are to save the wild life of our country.

The robins, whose arrival in the north is considered one of the first authentic signs of spring, are being slaughtered by tens of thousands every year, authorities say. In fact, no bird from humming bird to eagle, is safe from the craze to kill.

As for the so called game birds, the ducks and snipe and prairie chickens, they are already so scarce that their busy haunts of twenty years ago are silent and deserted today. Some species are already extinct, and many others are almost gone, yet the sportsmen who make our game laws refuse to save any of the vanishing species by the only possible means—a long closed season. Emerson Hough, who is a citizen first and a sportsman afterward, frankly writes:

"Our game laws have failed, and we know they have failed. Our game is almost gone, and we know it is almost gone. America has changed, and we know it has changed, although we have not changed with it. We have handled our game in a wholly greedy, unscrupulous and selfish fashion. This has been our policy as a nation."

Loss to Farmers.

The game of North America does not belong exclusively to the men who kill. The other 97 per cent of the people have vested rights in it far exceeding those of the 3 per cent.

Farmers are already suffering millions of loss from insects that used to be kept within bounds by the quail and other birds. Yet at the present moment we are permitting the extermination of our finest species of birds, mammals and fishes "according to law."

"There is not a single state in our country," says William T. Hornaday, director of the New York zoological park, "from which the killable game is not being rapidly and persistently shot to death, legally or illegally, very much more rapidly than it is breeding, with the extermination of most of it in sight. We have reached the point where the alternatives are long closed seasons or a gameless continent, and we must choose one or the other speedily."

Startling Facts Cited.

Mr. Hornaday has written a book, "Our Vanishing Wild Life," in which he sets forth some startling facts. Here are some figures he compiled:

In 1860 pot hunters in Hartford, Mich., shipped three carloads of dead passenger pigeons to market each day for forty days, making a total of 11,880,000 birds. Another Michigan town marketed 15,840,000 in two years.

Today the passenger pigeon is totally extinct save for one lonely female bird twenty years old in the Cincinnatti zoological gardens. The greed of man has wiped it from the face of the earth, and, like the great auk, it must be numbered with the dead species.

Other species that have been exterminated in our own day are the Labrador duck, the pallas cormorant, the Eskimo curlew, the Cuban macaw, the Carolina parrakeet and the yellow winged green parrot.

Mr. Hornaday names more than twenty-five other North American birds that are threatened with early extermination. He says it is already too late to save the stately white whooping crane and the trumpeter swan. Three of the most beautiful and curious water haunting birds of the southern United States—the flamingo, scarlet ibis and roseate spoonbill—are doomed unless the European feather trade can be stopped from having them shot into total oblivion. The upland plover, black capped petrel and California condor are about gone.

The wood duck, one of the most exquisitely plumaged birds in America, is threatened with extinction. Yet many states are actually encouraging its destruction by giving extra long open seasons for the killing of this species.

Birds Were Shipped.

For forty years the marshes, prairies, farms and streams of the whole upper Mississippi valley have been combed over year after year by the guns of the market shooter.

Often the migratory game was located by telegraphic reports. Game birds were slain by the wagon load, boatload, barrel and carload "for the Chicago market." And the farmers of the middle west stolidly plowed their fields and fed their hogs and permitted the slaughter to go on.

—To overlook, day after day, classified ads that were practically written to and for you—that is enough "bad luck" for any one person.

SENATORS WILL BE ELECTED BY DIRECT VOTE IN AND AFTER 1915

Ratification of Amendment to the Constitution Assures the Change.

Views of Those Who Disagree as to the Wisdom of the New Method.

NEW AMENDMENT TO THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION.

The text of the amendment providing for the direct election of United States senators is as follows:

"The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, elected by the people thereof for six years, and each senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures.

"When vacancies happen in the representation of any state in the senate the executive authority of such state shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies, provided that the legislature of any state may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct."

WHEN the legislature of Connecticut recently ratified the federal constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people a change which had been advocated for more than sixty years was at last assured. As a result all men elected to the senate for the term beginning March 4, 1915, and for all terms thereafter will be chosen by direct vote.

Connecticut was the thirty-sixth state to ratify the amendment, and her addition to the list made up the three-fourths required under the language of the constitution for the amendment of that instrument.

News of the Connecticut legislature's action was received with joy by advocates of the proposed change throughout the nation. It indicated the end of a long struggle in which much effort had been spent apparently in vain, for in spite of the many years the amendment had been advocated it was not until June 24, 1911, that the senate was induced for the first time in its history to give its consent to the change. On that day it voted to submit the proposed amendment to the states.

Massachusetts Was First.

The proposed change in the organic law was approved first by Massachusetts, May 23, 1912. Other states followed in rapid succession until within half a dozen of the necessary three-fourths had swung into line. Then progress became slower, and in some states the proposition was bitterly fought.

The complete list of states which ratified the amendment before Connecticut joined the procession are:

Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Not all of these states have officially notified Washington of their action, but letters urging promptness were sent recently to all states which had failed to report, and their compliance will mean an early announcement from the national capital that the amendment has been adopted.

The amendment as finally adopted is based upon what is known as the Bristow amendment, which would give the federal government the same authority it now holds with respect to the election of members of the house of representatives to supervise the election if necessary.

The Democrats in general fought this provision, but finally accepted it as the only compromise that could be brought about.

History of Amendment.

The amendment was introduced in the house April 5, 1911, and favorably reported April 12. It was amended and passed the next day. The proposition was introduced in the senate April 17, 1911, referred first to the committee on privileges and elections and re-referred to the judiciary committee.

In this committee it was fought long and aggressively, but a favorable report finally was obtained, and Senator Borah reported it, and on May 8, 1911, it was made the unfinished business. May 23 and 24 it was debated, and the next day an agreement was reached to vote on June 12.

The Bristow amendment was adopted June 12 by a vote of 44 to 44, the vice president casting the favorable vote that wrote it into the resolution. The same day the resolution was agreed to as amended by a vote of 64 to 24. The house twice before had rejected the terms of the Bristow amendment, but after long delay and many weeks of inactivity the house conferees agreed to it.

Speaker Clark and William Jennings Bryan threw their influence for it on the ground that an amendment to the constitution in this form was better than none at all.

Effective In 1915.

Although senators agree that the amendment will determine the choice of senators for terms beginning in 1915, several legislatures have adjourned until that year and in such states some confusion may result. Senator Borah of Idaho, who is regarded as one of the best constitutional lawyers in the senate, says, however, that all subsequent elections must come under the amendment.

Special sessions of the legislature will be urged in many states in order that the machinery for senatorial elections under the new system may be prepared.

Among the prominent senators whose terms will expire two years hence and whose return will be dependent upon the direct votes of the people are Senators Brandegee of Connecticut, Bristow of Kansas, Cummins of Iowa, Dillingham of Vermont, Gallinger of New Hampshire, Gore of Oklahoma, Penrose of Pennsylvania, Perkins of California, Root of New York, Smith of Georgia, John Walter Smith of Maryland, Smoot of Utah, Stephenson of Wisconsin and Stone of Missouri.

Maryland May Elect First.

Maryland probably will be the first state to elect. Senator Jackson is now filling the unexpired term of Senator Rayner by appointment of a Republican governor. The legislature will meet next winter in regular session and then will make provision for the election of a senator to succeed Mr. Jackson. It is not probable that a Republican governor will call a special session of the legislature.

Senator Borah, who for three years conducted the fight for the amendment and through his insistence brought the house conferees to terms and obtained the final agreement to the resolution submitting the question to the states, was greatly gratified when he learned of the action of Connecticut.

Discussing the importance of the amendment, he said:

"It will do away with deadlocks and scandals in state legislatures and will remove the corrupting influences that have done so much to destroy the confidence of the people in their legislatures. It is safe to say that nine-tenths of the corruption engendered in state legislatures has its source in senatorial elections.

"It will enable the people to elect state legislatures on well defined state issues, disentangled from senatorial elections, and enable the people to elect United States senators on well defined national issues disentangled from matters of local legislation. In other words, it will give a free scope in this feature of the government to the representative principles of our government.

"The ratification of this amendment demonstrates, after all, it is not so difficult to amend the constitution. When the people are thoroughly aroused and are thoroughly interested they can make congress conform to their desires promptly and rapidly."

New State Laws Necessary.

The new amendment gives to the state legislatures the right to prescribe the methods of electing senators. Many legislatures which have adjourned will not reconvene until a few weeks before the terms of more than thirty senators expire.

It is expected that in many states the legislatures will adopt the plan authorized in the new amendment and direct the governors to appoint senators temporarily until the people can elect men at regularly called elections.

Special sessions of the legislatures will be urged in many states, so that the necessary laws can be passed before the general elections of 1914. In some states action has already been taken or will be before the legislatures end their present sessions authorizing the people to vote for senators at next year's election.

Senator Joseph L. Bristow of Kansas, author of the joint resolution adopted by congress, by which ratification was set in motion, expressed great delight when informed of Connecticut's action. It was his firm conviction, he said, that the direct election of senators would prevent corrupt practices and make it possible for a man of moderate means to enter the senate.

In his opinion, it will be impossible for a man of wealth to purchase the electorate of an entire state, an entirely different matter from buying a sufficient number of legislators to secure an election. A repetition of the Lorimer and similar scandals, in the judgment of Mr. Bristow, will be impossible.

Senator Cummins of Iowa said: "For the past ten years I have been working in behalf of such an amendment to the constitution. In my opinion, this will prove one of the greatest reforms in the direction of the purification of the ballot that has ever been undertaken in this generation."

Pleasing to President.

President Wilson's comment on learning that Connecticut had ratified the amedment and assured its adoption was:

"I am sincerely glad that the amendment had been ratified so promptly and that a reform so long fought for has at last been accomplished."

Not all factions are agreed, however, that the adoption of the amendment is an improvement or that it is directly in line with the principles of our government. Some views of those who are not committed to the amendment are thus set forth by a writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger:

"The adoption of this amendment means a long step toward the abandonment of our system of representative government and the establishment in its place of a pure democracy. The senate will not be the same any more. It will no longer represent the states as such, but the people of the states. Yet will the senators in no sense stand for 'popular government.'

Figures of Population.

"New York has a population of 9,113,279, New Jersey a population of 2,537,167 and Pennsylvania a population of 7,665,111, making a total population for these three states of 19,315,557. Nevada has a population of 81,875, Wyoming a population of 145,965 and Utah a population of 373,351, making a total population for these three states of 601,191. Yet with 18,714,366 more people New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania will count for no more in the senate than Nevada, Wyoming and Utah.

"At the last presidential election New York cast 1,587,983 votes, New Jersey cast 432,534 votes and Pennsylvania cast 1,220,201 votes. At the same election Nevada cast 20,044 votes, Wyoming cast 42,296 votes and Utah cast 111,876 votes. Under the new amendment one voter in Nevada will count for more than sixty voters in Pennsylvania, for under the new amendment each of the states, whatever its population, is to have two senators.

"Population is the basis of representation in the house of representatives, and as the senate is to be made a popular assembly, in effect if not in terms, manifestly there should be another amendment to the constitution making population the basis of representation in the senate. As the character of the senate is to be changed by this amendment, still another amendment would be in order—an amendment providing for the abolition of the senate and the transfer of such special powers as it has to the house.

"That would simplify the processes of legislation, would save the taxpayers an enormous sum of money for the support of a body which has outlived its days and would bring the legislative branch of the government into closer touch with the people, to their confusion and loss, doubtless, but within the ready reach of every wind of demagogy that might blow.

"It would also bring the country into agreement with the most advanced progressive thought of the times and open the way for the amendment of the constitution, to the end that the people might review the decisions of the courts in popular assemblies or at the polls. With the senate abolished and the right secured to the people of reviewing and setting aside the judgments of the courts when they failed to satisfy the sense of 'popular justice,' we should be making progress, indeed.

Question of Judgment.

"In view of the adoption of the new amendment to the constitution, it might well be asked are the people of the United States capable of self government? This amendment is the work of men who have utterly misconceived the theory upon which the senate was made a part of the legislative branch of the government or who have misled the people into sacrificing one of the surest defenses they have had since the foundation of this republic against the fury of partisan strife and the menace of sectional reprisal.

"The senate has been a salutary check upon the crude and dangerous work of the house and the tyranny of the executive, and to the senate, with all its imperfections, is the country indebted for the defeat of many iniquitous enterprises.

"It is to be made now as nearly like the house in the character of its membership, in the methods that men must adopt to secure their election, and instead of the house as the product of the shifting passions of the hour we shall have two, with the added danger of demagogues elected for six years, instead of two, and capable in that time of doing irreparable damage to the country and all its remaining institutions."

Although there was some delay in getting the last few ratifications necessary to make up the three-fourths, no proposed change in the federal constitution ever received such a quick response from legislatures. Once the movement was under way progress was rapid, and it is now predicted that the complete ratification of the amendment will have been certified to officially before the summer is ended.

"The final act with respect to this amendment will occur within the next three months," said Senator Borah after Connecticut's ratification was reported. "The legislatures of Tennessee and Florida are soon to meet, and I have received assurances from the state officials and from senators from those states that the amendment will be ratified.

"The state department will receive official notification of the ratification of this amendment by three-fourths of the states many months before the next senatorial campaign."

High Bridge-Califon.

Miss Della Youngs, of Schooley's Mountain, is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Smith, of Califon.

Miss Daisy Beavers, of Califon, is recovering from an illness.

Silas Hockenbury is ill at his home at Mt. Grove.

On the site of the one destroyed by fire, a residence is being built on the Solomon Moyle farm, near Stone Mill.

Mrs. Ella Hall, of Mt. Grove, has moved to the Rinehart house at Cokesbury.

The members of Lahlatang Tribe No. 164, Improved Order of Red Men, of High Bridge, are arranging to celebrate Independence Day with a three-day event at Riverside Park.

The fourth annual banquet of the High Bridge Board of Trade will be held May 15 in Rialto Hall. Among the speakers will be Governor Fielder, former Senator George E. Post, of Pennsylvania and officials of the New Jersey Central Railroad. Knox Taylor, president of the board, will preside.

Sandford Robinson, of Philadelphia, spent Wednesday at Califon and High Bridge.

Jerry Hoffman is improving his property in Academy street, Califon.

Flemington.

The Hunterdon County Medical Society has elected the following officers: President, Dr. F. Ashley Thomas, of Flemington; first vice president, Dr. H. M. Harmon, of Frenchtown; second vice president, Dr. A. H. Coleman, of Frenchtown; secretary, Dr. O. H. Sproul, of Flemington; treasurer, Dr. E. W. Closson, of Lambertville; reporter, Dr. H. M. Leaver, of Quakertown.

The Flemington Presbyterian Brotherhood held its monthly meeting in the chapel last evening. The principal speaker was Samuel H. Bullock, who talked on "Education Outside of School."

J. Harvey Stothoff has accepted a position with the Keystone Drill Company, of New York.

Flemington Lodge, No. 94, I. O. O. F., will attend divine services in a body at the Methodist church Sunday evening. The order will be addressed by the pastor, Rev. J. H. E. Schultz, who will have "The Principles of a True Fraternity" as his subject.

The first quarterly conference of the Methodist church was conducted Wednesday evening. Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph, the district superintendent, presided.

Mrs. William Fisher entertained at whist Wednesday afternoon.

The members of Locktown Grange, who recently presented "Who Is Who?" and "Tommy's Wife," will repeat the performances this evening.

Whitehouse.

The Whitehouse Station Fire Department will soon be amply supplied with water for fighting fires. Sealed bids will be received at the office of Eugene Hoffman, at that place, on Tuesday night for digging a ditch 1,660 feet long and three and a half feet deep for water pipes through the town.

Miss Mary Robinson, of East Whitehouse, has gone to Somerville, where she has taken a position as housekeeper at Castle Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Emmons, of Pottersville, are home from a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Willard Young, at Lebanon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church at Lebanon netted $28 at the entertainment last week, when the new organ was given its first tryout.

Mrs. Harry Hill and Mrs. William Tiger, sister and niece respectively of Mrs. Emanuel Dilley, of East Whitehouse, returned to Newark yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Jarman, of Woodhaven, Long Island, have leased the Willowhurst, in East Whitehouse, from Mrs. Catharine E. Johnson.

Mrs. William Remsen and son, William Remsen, Jr., of East Whitehouse, have gone to Saddle River to live.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wright and daughter, Miss Myrtle Wright, and son, Foster Wright, of Jersey City, are in East Whitehouse.

Mrs. Julia Wood returned to her home in Bath Beach yesterday after a visit to Mrs. Catharine E. Johnson, at the Willowhurst.

Bids will be received by the Hunterdon county freeholders at Gano's Hotel, New Germantown, on May 8, for the construction of a concrete culvert in the new road in New Germantown.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shurts have returned to East Orange after a visit to the family of J. Smith Clark, at Lebanon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed church at Whitehouse Station will be entertained May 7 at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Lindsley, near Dreahook.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, of Elizabeth, are visiting G. Frederick Brown, at Lamington.

Miss Bertie Weeks, of Mineola, Long Island, and Charles and Morris Sherwood, of Roslyn, returned home yesterday, after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Willets, at Lamington.

Miss Charlotte Cromwell, of Mineola, Long Island, is at Lamington.

Get all the Heat in Your Coal

A PRACTICAL way to clip the ever-climbing cost of living is to stop heat waste in the house furnace. And—the way to save furnace heat is to install a furnace that delivers heat to the house instead of to the chimney.

Square Pot Furnaces develop 100 per cent. efficiency from fuel consumed and keep the chimney cool.

They embody a great improvement over other furnaces—a square firepot which, because it has more surface, radiates more heat. This means an actual increase of efficiency at no increase of fuel cost. This firepot is non-clogging, and maintains a live fire because it clears easily.

If you would like value received for dollars spent for coal, install a Square Pot Furnace.

German Valley.

The body of Miss Elizabeth Hughson Schuyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Schuuyler, Jr., of Jersey City, was brought to Chester yesterday and buried in the local cemetery. Many years ago Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler were residents of the village.

Mrs. Stephen Hoffman, of near Chester, is seriously ill from heart trouble.

Miss Florence Davis is spending several days at the home of Miss Ruth Howell, in Chester.

Floyd Wack is ill from mumps at his home in Milldale.

Miss Elizabeth Barker, of Chester, is visiting for a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins, in Califon.

After several months' sickness, Alexander Karns, of German Valley, is able to be about again.

Westfield.

Reports of the engineer have been submitted to the Board of Education in which it was shown by borings taken at twelve points in the Washington School grounds that the site, which was once a pond, is not desirable for a new High School.

The fire alarm system of Westfield is to be increased by the addition of five new alarm boxes. They will be at Broad and Elm streets, Washington street and the Boulevard, Effingham place and Clark street, St. Mark's avenue and Stanley oval, and at Lincoln and Grant avenues, in the section near Mountainside.

Several brooks in Mountainside are to be dammed in order to afford a water supply in case of fire. Reservoirs of 12,000 gallons will thus be made.

New Providence.

The teachers of the New Providence Township schools are preparing an elaborate program for the annual commencement entertainment, to be held in June. Similar preparations are being made in the borough.

Mrs. George Roberts, of Clinton avenue, is in Paterson attending a birthday party given in honor of her mother, Mrs. M. A. Cooper, of Paterson.

Badgley & Clark, builders, of this place, were awarded the contract to rebuild the restaurant building and dwelling at Glenside Park, which were destroyed by fire several weeks ago. The work of actual rebuilding will commence as soon as the demolition of the remains of the destroyed buildings is accomplished.

A large delivery truck, laden with a three-ton cargo of wire nails, from Igoe Brothers, of Newark, en route to Bernardsville, was finally liberated Wednesday, after spending the night and part of the preceding day with two wheels securely embedded in a culvert in front of the residence of Henry Dehos, Springfield avenue, New Providence Township.

Several Notable Purchases of GIRLS' and YOUNG WOMEN'S APPAREL

Will be presented tomorrow—including

100 Young Women's $25 to $30 Suits at $18.50
95 Young Women's $25 to $30 Coats at $15
150 Young Girls' $12 to $13.50 Coats at $6.75

We were fortunate in procuring this Apparel t osell at these much less-than-regular prices, because throughout the year, the GIMBEL Salon for the Younger Generation is looked upon as being the Specialty Shop of New York for Girls and Young Women—and naturally its outlet is the largest.

It scarcely seems fair to give precedence to any one of these collections, for they are equally commendable.

The $18.50 Suits are of wool poplin, eponge, serge and checked worsteds, in the most modish colors—including a large number in navy. Many are in dressy styles, others are for utility wear. Every coat is lined with a beautiful silk. Sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

Every one of the $15 Coats is different, for they are a well-known tailor's samples. Matelasse, eponge and serge in dark and light colors. Lined throughout with peau de cygne. Sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

The $6.75 Coats, are just for the girls of 5 to 12 years. All are of serge. In White, Dutch and Navy Blues, Tan, Rose and Brown. Many have Lingerie Collars—and the majority are lined with silk.

Just 50 of These Young Women's Crepe Meteor Dresses at $15

Pretty enough for wear to the Matinee or to informal parties, as they are fashioned with draped skirts, and their bodies are almost entirely of chiffon. Sizes 14, 16 and 18 years. Third Floor

A Corset That Gives the Straight Back
"La Camille"

It is quite obvious that a Corset with a perfect straight back must be laced in the front—as is "La Camille."

But this Corset has a vital feature and one that makes it distinctive—the "Ventilo" back, which eliminates all pressure on the spinal column.

In New York, this Corset is exclusively at GIMBELS—various models at $5 to $15. Pink Corset Shop—Second Floor

The New Reboux Veil
Chic and Conveniens, $2 and $3

Whether of shadow lace or a Shetland-finished veiling, it is run with rather a wide ribbon at the top—this, when tied in the back, forms a bandeau on the brim of the hat. At the neck line it is gathered on a quilling of ribbon which gives the effect of a ruff—this eliminates the trouble of adjusting and pinning the veil to fit snugly.

Every New Blouse Mode of Paris Is at GIMBELS

Not at extravagant prices either, for as soon as we receive a new model from Paris, we have it reproduced to sell at a mere fraction of its original cost. Dozens of these blouses tomorrow at prices ranging from $1.50 to $29.50—besides these two special collections.

White Crepe de Chine "Prince Imperial" Blouses At $5

A large number, but the unusualness of the price suggests that you should not procrastinate.

This is the artistic Blouse with the flat collar and V-neck that is outlined with wide pleated frills—these extend to the waistline.

Although the price of Crepe de Chine has increased, the quality in these Blouses is superior to any that we have had at anything like tomorrow's price.

The Blouses are better made too.

In white voile, $2—Illustrated.

New Modes in Dainty Lingerie Blouses At $2 to $4.75

The Corded Voile Blouses are precisely like those from Paris, except that they are not hand-made—this is because we imported the material. $4.75.

The Bolero Blouse is quite unique, as it is made of plain white crepe combined with crepe embroidered with tiny rosebuds. Illustrated. $2.

And there are Blouses with wide bands of ribbon inset underneath—the latest fad of Paris. $2.

A host of other styles besides those illustrated. Third Floor

New Styles! New Prices! New Coats for Women!

During the past month our $15 Coats have been the talk of New York, not only because of their superior quality, but because we have had them in styles for all occasions, and because every day has brought new modes to the collection. Tomorrow we shall introduce the

New Overcoats of Eponge at $15.
The Piazza Wrap of Double-Faced Silk at $15.

In making this announcement for tomorrow we have really put "the cart before the horse," for we have prepared—

An Extraordinary Collection of Coats at $17.50, $19.50 and $22.50

The Silk-and-wool Poplin Coats at $17.50 are imported—these are trimmed with jet rope braid and jet bugle bandings.

The plain and brocaded charmeuse Wraps at $17.50 are copied from a gracefully draped imported model—trimmed with wide fluting of silk. Black and taupe, lined with contrasting colors.

Probably the greatest surprise will be the Moire Wraps at $19.50 and $22.50—the latter in an artistic Mandarin style.

Another black charmeuse Wrap lined with brocaded silk is $19.50.

Imported White Polo Coats, $22.50

In a smart Raglan style are these Coats of a fine and soft woolen. Other Polo Coats at $16.50, $19.50, $25 and $29.50.

Coats for Sporting Wear, $17.50

Fine quality of eponge in the style illustrated. Navy, red, white, hunter's green and black. Lined with peau de cygne.

New Steamer Coats at $15, $18.50, $25 to $57.50 Third Floor.

Mrs. Andrew Mercer has returned to her home at Lodi, after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. Addison Van Doren.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Curtis and daughter, of Chimney Rock, are spending a few days with friends at Adams, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Muller, of Wakefield, New York city, have issued invitations for a reception to be held at their home on Sunday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dudley Mathews.

Next Sunday begins a series of meetings under the caption of "inspirational Week." George M. LaMonte will speak.

Mrs. Fred R. Stephenson, of Kissenee, Florida, is spending a few days with friends in town.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church has elected the following officers: President, Miss Effie Miller; vice president, Albert V. Kershaw; secretary, Emily Haelig; corresponding secretary, Madalyn Clark, treasurer, Raymond Chapman; pianist, Marguerite Bonham; assistant pianist, Janet Brokaw. Chairman of committees—Lookout, Mrs. Charles V. Higgins; prayer meeting, A. V. Kershaw; missionary, Winifred Paskett; music, Cora Brokaw; flower, Marguerite Brokaw.

Mrs. William H. Powelson is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hall, of Hempstead, Long Island.

Mrs. Clara Hull has returned home to Hempstead, after spending a few days with relatives and friends in Bound Brook.

Somerville.

Mrs. Arthur Tobien, of George School, near Trenton, is a guest this week of her sister, Mrs. George D. Ehni.

Mrs. H. H. Brokaw and Miss Kathryn Opdycke have been visiting friends in Brooklyn.

The members of Somerville Lodge, No. 43, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the ninety-fourth anniversary of the founding of the order in this country by attending services at St. John's church on Sunday, at 4 p. m.

Miss Margaret Van Nuys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Van Nuys, was operated on yesterday for appendicitis in Somerset Hospital by Dr. Ill, of Newark, and her condition is reported as being considerably improved.

The Raritan Reformed Sunday-school has decided to combine with the union excursion from Somerville to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove on July 24.

The last trolley from Somerville to Raritan last night had the roof badly damaged by the raliroad bridge at the subway. The car was going at quite a speed and bounced upward just as it was to go under the bridge, and the pole caught. Part of the roof was torn away and many of the windows were smashed. None of the passengers were injured, and the car was able to continue its journey.

Dunellen & Vicinity

Former Councilman Charles Berkheiser is still missing, although his relatives and the police of nearby cities have made a diligent search for him.

The Holy Name Society of St. John's church will entertain members of the same society from St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, and St. Mary's church, Plainfield, Tuesday night, when the second game of the second euchre tournament will be played. A general social time follows these contests, which are proving a popular and entertaining diversion to the enthusiasts which always attend. Dunellen won the first set played in Social Hall, adjoining St. Mary's church, in Plainfield.

Members of the local W. C. T. U. met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Burdick.

Martin Williams is detained at his home with illness.

Charles Fadaus is visiting relatives in Hagerstown, Md.

Mrs. Delia Gault is visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Walter Vliet is slowly recovering from his recent attack of illness.

Mrs. William Wyckoff and daughter, Miss Edith Wyckoff, have returned from a visit to High Bridge, where they were the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Samuel Tate.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Miller, Leroy Miller and Miss Nellie Faulkner have returned to their homes in Walden, N. Y., after spending several days in town as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield R. Hetfield.

The directors of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association held a meeting last night.

The Symphony orchestra, led by W. A. Korff, will give a concert Tuesday night in the First Baptist church for the benefit of the choir fund. The church choir will add several numbers to the program and it is probable that some well known vocal soloist will be secured to appear.

Rev. Herbert Poland, of Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., will become the pastor of the local Seventh-Day Baptist church to fill the vacancy made when the Rev. Henry Jordan leaves for his new pastorate in the West. The new minister has been heard here several times and was very well received.

South Plainfield.

The Baraca Class of the Baptist church is completing arrangements for a carnival and field day to be held on Memorial Day. There will be a baseball game and other athletic events and in the evening a play, entitled "The Gypsy Queen" will be given at Washington Hall.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold its monthly business meeting at the Baptist church, tonight.

Rev. Mr. Allen, pastor of the Baptist church, will give an illustrated talk Sunday morning on the subject of "Danger Signals," and in the evening he will preach on the subject "The Wealth of the World."

'Plains & Fanwood.

Rheinhart and F. Hand are leading in the Parish House bowling tournament. Joseph Alberti and Mr. Vanderbilt, the scratch men, are having a difficult time in overcoming the liberal handicaps given to the other participants, and the chances are their efforts will be futile.

The Parish House second baseball team will cross bats tomorrow with the team from Garwood. Instructor Batterson has moulded the youngsters into a fast traveling combination.

The local school boy team will play its second league game today in Springfield. The players will make the trip by stage.

Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, the pastor, led an interesting prayer service last night in the Methodist church.

Mrs. Henry Ripsley, of the borough, is entertaining Mrs. Bradley Hendricks, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walpole, of Front street, are entertaining guests from Brooklyn.

James Walsh, of Prospect avenue, has purchased a new auto.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Epworth League will be held tonight in the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, of Phillipsburg, are visiting Mrs. Wilbur Boyd, of Westfield avenue.

Master Wescott Reiner gave a party to a number of his friends at his home in the borough yesterday afternoon to celebrate his fourth birthday. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Fred Creesy has returned home after a short visit with Mrs. Herbert Cassidy, of East Orange.

The Fanwood A. C. will play their next game on Saturday afternoon when they lineup against the Plainfield West Ends.

About $15 was taken in at the Utility candy and cake sale held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Tull yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the All Saints Episcopal church.

The All Saints' Episcopal church mission donation this year was $70. Of this amount $18 was subscribed by the Sunday-school, the rest being taken from the church treasury.

The work of reconstructing the residence of Ten Eyck Beardsley, which was partially destroyed by fire, is practically completed. Mr. Beardsley expects to move in on the first of May.

UNCLE SAM'S GREAT SEAL.

Story of the Design It Carries on Its Reverse Side.

Every American is familiar with the great seal of the United States—the design of an eagle with outstretched wings, bearing in its beak a scroll with the words "E Pluribus Unum," but few know that there is a reverse side to the seal, which, though never used, is just as officially a part of the great seal as the side bearing the eagle. All seals were originally made with two sides, like a coin. Soft wax was placed on both the face and back of the document to be witnessed by the seal. The obverse, or head, impression was made in the upper wax; the reverse, or tail, impression on the under.

The reverse side of the great seal of the United States has for its design a truncated pyramid of masonry. Immediately above it is a sleepy looking eye framed in a triangle, which is surrounded by a sunburst. Above is the motto, "Annuit Coeptis." On the base of the pyramid is the date 1776, written in Roman numerals. The pyramid is set in a field sparsely covered with plants. Below the field and following the curve of the circular rim there winds a scroll bearing the words "Novus Ordo Seclorum."

It was designed by Charles Thomson, secretary of the Continental congress, in 1782. "The uncompleted pyramid signifies growing strength and duration," he wrote to congress concerning the design. "The eye over it and the motto allude to the signal interpositions of Providence in favor of the American cause. The date underneath is that of the Declaration of Independence, and the words under it signify the beginning of the new American era, which commences from that date."

The design was criticised so severely by art critics and others as being unworthy of a great nation that it was never used officially.

Nevertheless it was adopted by congress as a part of the great seal, and as such it must remain until that adoption is repealed.—New York Times.

OUR STOCK EXCHANGES.

Small In Some Ways Compared With Those of London and Paris.

So much is said about the bigness of things in this country and especially in regard to money matters that we not infrequently get a wrong impression of our relative size.

Take the stock exchanges as an example. In many respects our American exchanges are small affairs compared with those in Paris and London. On the average daily speculation in London far exceeds that in New York and Philadelphia combined. There are more than 5,000 members of the London exchange, 1,100 in New York, fewer than 250 in Philadelphia and only 70 in Paris. London has nearly 10,000 listed securities, while Wall street has under 1,000, of which almost exactly two-thirds are bonds. The par value of London's list is nearly double that of New York and Philadelphia together. The London exchange pays a dividend to members of 100 per cent. To be a member one must own at least three of the 20,000 shares of the exchange. These shares are $65 paid in but sell for about $950. No one broker may own more than 200 shares.

Membership in the Paris bourse is now worth upward of $400,000. There a broker must put up a guarantee fund of $50,000 against failure. In London the commission charged by brokers to buy or sell a stock the price of which is between $50 and $100 a share is 25 cents, and over $200 it is 50 cents. Payments for stocks bought in London are made only once every two weeks on a given settlement day, whereas in this country all settlements must occur within a working day.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sweetbreads.

There are two glandular bodies each of which is known as the sweetbread. The larger is the pancreas, a gland which lies transversely across the posterior wall of the abdomen behind the stomach. It discharges its secretion, the pancreatic fluid, into the duodenum. The other sweetbread is the thymus gland found in the lower throat and chest. The gland is ductless and is peculiar to infantile life. Little is known of its function in the economy of life. The thymus gland of young cattle, such as lambs and calves, is the sweetbread of a delicate dietary.—New York Sun.

Useless Endeavor.

An English missionary advised a mill hand to husband his resources, to spend less in beer and tobacco, in order that he might not feel the pinch of slack times later on. But the mill hand, stroking his chin doubtfully, answered in broad Lancashire dialect:

"Aw know a chap as saved about £15 against the slack times, an' they never coom that winter, an' he had all that brass thrown on his hands."

Our New York Letter

April 24th, 1913.

Dear Elizabeth—

Do you remember those darling Chippendale chairs that old Mrs. van Wagenen used to have? Well, my dear, I saw a perfect reproduction to-day at W. & J. Sloane's, on Fifth Ave. and 47th St. And not only were there Chippendale reproductions, but also exact duplicates of Heppelwaite and Sherarton furniture, Jacobean pieces, and I should imagine from the unusual display, examples and copies of fine furniture of every period.

But I know that the thing that is on your mind just now is the matter of rugs for your Summer home, and you are praying that I will not begin to rhapsodize over furniture, but begin to tell you about my findings in rugs.

You will find nothing better for your porch than the Holland rush rug, which is so heavy as to lie quite flat on the floor, and is both rain proof and sun proof. It's an ideal rug for a cement porch, because it is so heavy that the cold will not penetrate. A round rug five and a half feet in diameter, is eight fifty. An oval rug, nine by six feet, with a fibre border in color, is seventeen fifty, and an oblong rug of the same dimensions, without a border, is twelve seventy-five. If you don't want to spend as much for a porch rug, there are others at lower figures. The imported rush rugs are very low-priced, and they tell me that they are selling a great many of these. They are not so heavy, however. On of these, eight by fourteen feet, is only eight fifty. Both the Holland rush rug and the imported rush rug come in several convenient sizes.

Don't, I beg of you, deny yourself the joy of possessing one of the delightful old fashioned Colonial hand-braided rag rugs that Sloane is showing. These look as though they came from just such a quaint old Colonial homestead as you dream about. They are made from fresh, new goods, and are exact duplicates of genuine Colonial rugs. These, too, come in varied sizes. A rug five feet five inches long and three feet two inches wide will cost thirteen seventy-five.

If you want bedroom floor coverings that are cool, restful, harmonious and durable, use rag rugs. You can get these from two fifty for a round rug, three feet in diameter, to nine dollars for a rug nine by twelve feet, and higher, according to quality. You will be charmed with the Littleton English Art Squares which Sloane is handling exclusively, as I understand. These rugs, in the nine by twelve size, are thirty-two dollars, and they are certainly exquisite. They are very English. The colorings are usually lovely and dainty. There is nothing quite like them over here. They have floral borders, and lattice and trellis centers. Be sure that you come here to choose your dining-room rug, for you will find the very best quality in Brussels from twenty-nine twenty-five to thirty-one fifty.

The willow furniture here is lovely, and also very reasonable. By the way, did you know that black is becoming a most popular shade for house furnishings? The black willow pieces are joys to behold, with their cushions of bright colored cretonnes. A roomy Brighton chair in black willow is only twelve seventy-five. With cretonne cushions in bright colors, this is charming. The cushions always cost extra, of course.

I haven't told you half, but I know that you were particularly anxious to hear about the rugs. Come down Saturday if you can arrange it, and we will go to Sloane's together. We can feel perfectly free to look to our heart's content. Until then, I am,

As ever,
Belle Manhattan.

ARCANUMITES MEET AT SHORE MONDAY

Annual Convention of the Grand Council to Be Held at Asbury Park.

Asbury Park, April 25.—The thirty-first annual session of the Grand Council, Royal Arcanum, of New Jersey, will be held in the Boardwalk Casino at Asbury Park next Monday and Tuesday. Headquarters will be established at the Metropolitan. On Friday night the first delegates will arrive. Saturday evening a new feature, a county union meeting, will be held in the Casino, at which time ritualistic work will be performed by the degree teams of Coronal Council of Keyport and Red Bank Council. Supreme Representative W. T. Dabney of Richmond, Va., and all of the State officers will be present. On Sunday afternoon a public meeting will be held. Rev. Dr. Charles Townsend, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Orange, will make the address. The soloists will be John Hesse, tenor; Miss Mabel Vaughn, soprano; Arthur Parker, violinist. On Monday evening the women will have a dance at the Casino, preceded by an hour's musical program and an address of welcome by Mayor Bennett. Tuesday afternoon they will be given a theatre party at the Lyric.

Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock the business sessions will begin, Grand Regent Joseph M. Arnold, of Princeton, presiding. His annual report and the statements of Grand Secretary Robert H. Alberts, of Hoboken, and Grand Treasurer William C. McKever, of Rutherford, will be followed by committee reports and the presentation of resolutions. On Tuesday morning officers will be elected and the real work of the session performed. Supreme Representative Dabney will install the new officers and address the convention. Asbury Park will undoubtedly be chosen as the meeting place for next year.

Reports will show that there were 20,089 members in the order on March 31, a gain of close to 400 during the year. In the past 35 years the order has paid out in death claims the big sum of $156,155.976.67, and there is at present a surplus of over six million dollars. In addition to this reserve the elder members of the order have been assisted to the sum of $4,329,534.61. There are 1,934 subordinate councils throughout the United States and Canada.

The Royal Arcanum was organized by nine members in Boston, June 23, 1877. It was progressive in its principles from the start, and has always kept to the front in fraternal endeavor and usefulness. It issues life insurance policies for one, two and three thousand dollars to healthy applicants between the ages of 18 and 55 years. Its rates have been based upon the average risks of 400,000 men. Valuable auixiliaries of the Royal Arcanum are its hospital bed fund association, which aims to care for members when afflicted with disease, an employment bureau and in every respect to promote the broadest type of true fraternalism.

The present State officers are. Grand regent, J. M. Arnold, Princeton; vice regent, Charles H. Haring, Elizabeth; grand orator, Henry J. Bierman, Newark; grand secretary, Robert H. Alberts, Hoboken; grand treasurer, William C. McKever, Rutherford; grand chaplain, John H. Farrel, Paterson; Grand Guide, B. L. Odell, Hasbrouck Heights; Grand Warden, E. T. McNaughton, Jr., Rahway; Grand Sentry, Robert W. Barr, Jersey City.

The Epworth League chapters of the Elizabeth district will hold a group rally in the First M. E. church Monday. The program will include short addresses and special music.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

This Russian blouse suit has the regulation knickerbockers worn beneath the blouse. For the suit a great variety of materials is available. White galatea is the one illustrated, with simple scalloped edges, but linen and pique, madras and gingham are equally correct. This belt is made of the material, but patent leather is much liked, and a patent leather belt over a suit of colored linen of pique always gives a smart finish. In place of scalloping the edges, stitching could be used, or any simple banding.

For a boy four years of age four and a half yards of material twenty-seven inches wide will be needed, with one yard of twenty-seven inch material as decoration if it is trimmed as shown in the back view.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for boys of two to six years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7830, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

IN MAPLE SUGAR TIME.

MAPLE sugar or maple sirup may be used in mixing many agreeable desserts. There are few palates that do not appreciate maple sugar, and at this season, when it may be bought in the shops, housewives should avail themselves of it.

Plain layer cake may be made with maple icing. It is delicious, especially if the icing is sprinkled before it hardens with English walnut meats.

Fruit Cooked In Maple Sirup.—Apples that are hard enough to hold their shape and are not mellow may be cooked in the sirup. Put thin sirup in a clean vessel (avoid iron) and when boiled down half add the fruit.

A Maple Mold.

Maple Parfait.—Beat the yolks of six eggs till very creamy, add three-fourths cup of maple sirup. Place on the stove, stirring until it has thickened enough to make a coating on the spoon. Turn into a bowl and beat till cold, when it should be very light and creamy. Add one-half ounce of gelatin dissolved in three tablespoonfuls cold water. Beat five minutes. Lastly whip one pint cream stiff and mix lightly with egg mixture. Turn into a mold holding three pints and let stand three hours.

Maple Junket.—Make the junket in the usual way with the crushed junket tablet or liquid rennet, but sweeten with grated maple sugar dissolved in the milk in double boiler. Use about one-third of a cup of the maple sugar to a quart of milk. Maple sirup will answer as well. Use from three to four tablespoonfuls of the sirup or quantity to sweeten to your taste. Serve with whipped cream and grated sugar and chopped nuts.

A Delicate Food.

Maple Custard.—Beat the yolks of three eggs well, add slowly a third of a cup of maple sirup and a pint of scalded milk. Put over the fire in a double boiler and stir until it begins to thicken. Remove from the fire and when cool add a teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat the whites of the eggs to a froth, add gradually a quarter of a cup of powdered sugar and beat to a stiff white foam. Add to the custard. Turn into a buttered mold and cover tightly. Put into kettle of boiling water, with a muffin ring or something of the sort under the mold so it will not touch the bottom of the kettle. Have the water boiling rapidly for twenty minutes. Let it cool in the mold; then turn out on the serving dish and chill. Serve with a meringue or whipped cream over it and sprinkle pounded maple sugar and chopped nuts over the top.

SPRING RECIPES.

Two Exceptionally Nice Fish Dishes For Faded Appetites.

Shattuck Halibut.—Wipe a one and one-half pound slice of chicken halibut with cheesecloth wrung out of cold water. Put in a buttered copper platter, fireproof baking dish or dripping pan of correct size and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Arrange on top five three-fourth inch slices cut from peeled medium sized tomatoes; then sprinkle with one third cupful of thin strips of green pepper, cut lengthwise, from which the seeds have been removed. Bake in a hot oven twenty-five minutes, basting four times during the baking, using for the first basting one-third cupful of melted butter and afterward the liquid in the pan, says the Woman's Home Companion.

Herring Salad.—Cook salt herring fifteen minutes in boiling water to cover. Drain, cool and separate in flakes; there should be one cupful. Add an equal measure of one-third inch cubes of cold boiled potatoes and one-fourth the measure of finely chopped whites of hard boiled eggs. Mix thoroughly, moisten with French dressing, cover and let stand in a cold place one hour. Moisten with Huntington dressing and mold in a salad dish on a bed of crisp lettuce leaves. Sprinkle with the yolks of two hard boiled eggs, forced through a potato ricer or puree strainer, and garnish with rings cut from whites of hard boiled egg and tiny sprigs of parsley.

TRY THESE FORMULAS.

They Are Good For In Between Season Condiments.

Lemon pickle—a condiment which is especially tempting in hot weather and a supply made now will be appreciated in the summer. Scrub the rind of twelve lemons and make three or four lengthwise slits in each lemon. Fill these slits with salt and let the fruit stand in an earthen dish for a week, turning them every day in the brine that forms. Remove the lemons and add to the brine a quart of cider vinegar, one pepper and an ounce of green ginger root cut small. Boil the liquid, skim it and pour it over the lemons. Seal in glass jars.

Orange marmalade is an appetizing substitute for fresh fruit which, just when it is most craved, in the early spring, is scarcest. A tried recipe calls for a dozen large oranges sliced thin (using the skin) with seeds and core removed. To this add seven pounds of granulated sugar and boil until clear. Pack in glasses or white porcelain marmalade jars.

Another marmalade which will help make up for the absence of fresh fruit until berry season arrives is made of grapefruit. To make it cover six small grapefruit with water and boil until soft (taking care when testing not to puncture the skins). Drain and set aside until cool enough to handle. Pare the grapefruit thin with a sharp knife and shred this rind. Cut fruit in two and remove pulp. Add a quart of water to five pounds of granulated sugar and boil clear. Add rinds and boil ten minutes, then add pulp and boil until it will thicken when cooled.

The Pocket Again.

On one or two of the new blouse models the waist is furnished with a useful little pocket placed on the left side of the chest, and, thanks to our golfing sisters, the skirt of the ordinary walking costume is now often supplied with a similar though larger receptacle. Necessitated in the case of the golfer by the need of carrying balls, it has been adopted by her less athletic sisters as a means of carrying handkerchiefs, penny purse, etc. By penny purse is meant that in which just the necessary small coins for fares, etc., are deposited, that containing more important moneys being much more safely tucked away, either in a hidden pocket or in the usual bag, without which very few women are to be seen nowadays.

To Clean Tennis Balls.

Tennis balls can be cleaned with pipe clay mixed with enough water to form a smooth paste. Add to this a melted tallow candle and allow it to cool. Then brush all the dust off the balls, take a lump of pipe clay tallow mixture and dissolve it in cold water to the consistency of cream. Apply to the balls with a sponge, let dry and wipe off gently.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, spoke at the meeting at the Rescue Mission on Madison avenue, last night.

Colonel Jenkins, of New York, accompanied by a male quartet, will conduct the service in the First Baptist church on Sunday evening at 7:45.

Y. M. A. A. HAS A HARD CONTEST ON

Will Have to Put up Some Real Baseball to Defeat Fast Bound Brookers.

A Bound Brook baseball team will invade this city tomorrow afternoon as opponents of the Y. M. A. A. ball nine at the latter's field at the corner of Seventh and Center streets and the local pilot promises a stellar attraction for east end fans. The Center street diamond has been remodeled and is now in the best of condition for the inaugural contest. Regular practices have been held during the past week by the Y. M. A. A. combination and the result has been several shifts in the lineup.

Thorn, the star pitcher of the Roselle High School team, which beat North Plainfield High School in an eleven inning clash at Roselle two weeks ago, will be on the mound for the locals with Vail held in reserve and the Roselle High School catcher will do the backstop work. The teams will lineup as follows:

Y. M. A. A.	BOUND BROOK.
Lambertson or Howll	Green, first base
Huff	Hall, second base
Raffiniello	D. Koechlin, shortstop
Trotter	R. Koechlin, third base
Thorn or Vail	E. Mathiews, pitcher
Kiely	Whitenack, center field
Meyers	J. Mathiews, left field
J. Gerry	Walgrey, right field

PENN RELAY GAMES WILL BE THE GREATEST EVER

Philadelphia, Pa., April 25.—One of the greatest aggregations of college and school athletes ever drawn together in a single meet will compete on Franklin Field tomorrow in the nineteenth annual relay races and field sports under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania. All day today the athletes have been streaming into town. Altogether there are more than 1,600 of them. Among them they represent nearly all of the leading educational institutions of the East, West and part of the South, including universities, colleges, preparatory schools, academies, high schools and grammar schools.

The relay races for the college championships at one, two and four miles are expected to attract the greatest interest. The entries in these events are the best in the history of the games. Western colleges, especially, are better represented than ever before. Michigan will be the most prominent of the Western colleges, though Illinois, Missouri and Notre Dame will also have some very good athletes on hand. Chicago, Northwestern, Ohio State and Brigham Young University also figure among the entries from the West.

In addition to the three big relay races for the intercollegiate championship of America, the program provides for a number of class races for one mile, open to minor colleges. The special events will be the same as last year, the 100-yard dash, 120-yard hurdles, broad jump, high jump, hammer throw, shot-put, discus and pole-vault.

WORKING LOCAL BATTERY.

The manager of the Somerville A. C. is trying to secure the permanent services of Herbert Stine and Percy Bailey, of this city, to do regular duty there Saturday afternoons. Stine and Bailey formed one of the best batteries that the North Plainfield High School ever turned out and since their graduation a number of baseball managers have been dickering for their services but neither has announced any intention of leaving local confines to play at Somerville. They performed at that place last Saturday afternoon, working against the Clinker A. C., and Bailey made a decided hit with the Somerville fans, fanning fourteen batters with Stine behind the bat.

MARTIN MAY PLAY AGAINST SKEETERS

Local Shortstop Reported to Rochester This Afternoon at Jersey City.

Jack Martin, the local shortstop, who has been released by the New York American League club to the Rochester team, of the International League, reported to Manager Ganzell, of that aggregation, this afternoon, at Jersey City, where Rochester opposed the Skeeters. Martin is well known to the Rochester fans and players as he was a member of the team on two other occasions, his playing having made him a favorite on the International League circuit.

Since he quit active playing with the New York Yankees, Martin has been doing a great deal of practising on local diamonds and has even attended the workouts of the Chance tribe during its recent sojourn at the Polo Grounds, so he is in the pink of condition to enter the fray at once. Rochester is said to be shy on a shortstop regular and it is more than likely that the local guardian of the infield position will be used in the initial set-to at Jersey City.

BASKETBALL GAMES FOR SAENGERBUND

Two Contests Scheduled to Be Decided on Borough Court Tonight.

Basketball continues to maintain its grip in this city if the pair of contests scheduled to take place at Saengerbund Hall, the popular North Plainfield rendezvous, tonight, may be taken as a criterion. Two representative teams of colored players, one a girls' and the other a boys', will clash with similar delegations from Orange at that place tonight and the court festivities will be followed by a dance in which the spectators will be invited to participate.

Two of the best teams of players that could be gathered together in local circles have been picked to battle against the visitors here tonight and both contests give promise of being fast and interesting from a playing and spectators' point of view. The Orange teams have beeen playing all season and have each hung up a creditable record on the court, while the Plainfielders will be playing for the initial time and are somewhat handicapped by their inexperience. Nevertheless, they entertain high hopes for victory as frequent practises have put them in the best of condition for the fray.

Y. M. A. A. PRACTISE TONIGHT.

Manager Conger, of the Y. M. A. A. baseball team, wants all of his candidates on hand at the Centre street diamond tonight, for a final workout before the big game with Bound Brook tomorrow afternoon. The lineup issued by Conger in another column of this paper is subject to change. The players will have to report tonight in order to be sure of a berth in the contest tomorrow afternoon.

GIANTS' SUNDAY GAME.

Manager Pete Simmons and his Royal Colored Giants will lineup against the Cartaret team at that place Sunday afternoon. The game promises to be a good one and a large delegation of fans from this city are expected to accompany the local sluggers.

"MAC" SAYS

Another tinge of basketball, it looks as though the season would be a continuous one, winding up sometime in the spring of 1914. The National game is aching for an opportunity to show its real superiority while the court game is being promoted.

Leal's went to Cartaret this afternoon. The private school boys are real optimists, they look for victory every time.

Two problems that have been troubling the local fans' brains for sometime past have been disposed of and now we can stay awake and await results. Jack Martin has reported to Rochester and Eugene Lidgate to the Raleigh team, of the Carolina League.

Martin will have to contest for the shortfield berth against his former Yankee team-mate, one Preist. The ex-New Yorkers should find many consoling things to say to each other at their reunion this afternoon.

P. H. S. appears to be still winning and those who know say that the local school boys will continue to do so even after they stack up against N. P. H. S., May 3. The result remains to be seen.

One of the P. H. S. loyal supporters came into the office yesterday with a glowing story of the new High School, claiming that the first shovel of earth had been lifted yesterday morning for the new structure. He outlined what the city school boys would do to surrounding scholastic teams after they got their up-to-date headquarters. Upon investigation it was found that the turf had been disturbed in the course of resodding the lawn. Come again, Johnny.

It's certainly too bad that the "Scout" happens to be a weekly instead of a daily for the writer certainly needs a little practise in shaping his attacks. Little can be gleaned as to his real ability through his spasmodic attacks but his appearance when collecting fees at a N. P. H. S. baseball game is enough to convince us that his conscience is terribly troubled. Don't pine away, Becky, this is indeed a cruel world and it takes a man to take all of the knocks that are forthcoming from rabid newspaper readers.

N. P. H. S. VS. HIGH BRIDGE.

N. P. H. S. will furnish a ball nine to lineup against the High Bridge High School contingent at that place tomorrow afternoon, facing Gerard, the High Bridge twirler, who has been doing such phenomenal strikeout work in the last few games. In anticipation of a gruelling battle N. P. H. S. has made special preparations for the treatment they are due to accord the High Bridge moundsman.

LEAL'S AT CARTARET.

A baseball team from Leal's School went to Cartaret this afternoon to play the Academy baseball team of that place.

"Lucky" Seventh Proves Disastrous to Woodbridge High School

A comparison of the scores hung up by North Plainfield High School last Friday afternoon and the one hung up by Plainfield High yesterday afternoon against the Woodbridge High School contingent, seem to indicate that the boroughites have an edge on the locals in the race for the Interscholastic League title. Playing on the Woodbridge diamond yesterday afternoon the P. H. S. aggregation defeated the home nine by a count of 9 to 5, while N. P. H. S. put it over the same combination to the tune of 18 to 8 at Hyde Oval Friday afternoon. The same Woodbridge twirlers worked on both occasions and P. H. S. made nine hits against the seven clouted out by N. P. H. S.

The contest yesterday was featured by the box work of Sminck and the free tickets handed out by the home twirlers who were unstinting in this department. Sminck made nine batters whiff the air and held the opposing side to a half dozen hits, all well scattered. Plainfield received eight free trips from the Woodbridge moundsmen, six of which came after the seventh inning when Wand went to the box. Up to the time that Wand came into the struggle the playing was close and he entered the conflict when the score stood 4 to 3 in favor of P. H. S. Both sides had big scoring rallies in the stretch stanza and the visitors sewed up the game by pulling across four tallies against their opponents two.

The fielding was of top notch variety, but two penalties being recorded by the official scorer, both of which were excusable slip-ups. Carty's work with the willow was of great assistance to the visiting aggregation in rolling up a victorious score, his trio of bingles being the kind that mean runs. Heron, Grisley and McElroy also garnered hitting laurels during the afternoon.

The score:

HOPE CHAPEL WILL PLAY THE SAUER BASBALL NINE

Hope Chapel will lineup against the speedy Saurer Motor Truck Company's baseball team on the Hope Common diamond tomorrow afternoon in one of its ante-season contests. Both teams are in the best of shape to open their respective schedules and the game will without doubt be an interesting one to witness.

The Saurer aggregation is the same that played in the Manufacturers' League last season and since that organization became extinct have been playing independent ball on local lots.

FAILED TO WIN A PLACE.

Morris Mann, the local Y. M. C. A. member, who went to New York last night to compete in the broad jump event in the game conducted by the East Side branch of the Y. M. C. A., failed to establish a place for himself against the rest of the large field that turned out for the event. He was the only entrant from this city.

COMMERCIAL HIGH PLAYS HERE.

On the Parker Field diamond tomorrow afternoon, the Commercial High School baseball team will lineup against the Plainfield High School boys in their annual contest. These two teams have always been the closest of rivals and the game this year gives every indication of being a hummer.

ROYAL GIANTS WILL PLAY AT THE OVAL TOMORROW

Manager Dorflinger, of the Plainfield baseball club, has arranged for a practise game to be played at Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon, which will afford him an opportunity to get a line on the material he has at hand to form a ball nine here this summer. Local talent was plentiful at the initial call issued by Dorflinger last Saturday afternoon and the practise contest will give him a chance to see what the recruits can do in a competitive way.

The Royals are considered to be one of the fastest of local ball combinations and will have Hall and Valentine to do battery duty, a special couple engaged for this contest. Dorflinger intends to give Russell Stewart, the former Sunday-school leaguer, an opportunity to show his skill along the twirling line and will use him against the Giants tomorrow.

SOCCER GAME PLAYED HERE WITH BRUNSWICK

A big crowd of soccer fans from New Brunswick will accompany the team of that place in its invasion of Plainfield tomorrow afternoon to lineup against the locals on the Clinton avenue field and reports have it that this contest will be one of the rare treats of the season. The New Brunswick team has not lost a game this season out of the eight played and they are coming here determined to hold up their reputation.

DAVE DRISCOLL'S TEAM DID GET OFFER TO PLAY HERE

According to first hand information the reason that Dave Driscoll and his following of baseball artists have not appeared in this city so far this year and indications do not seem to point to their playing here at all, was because the playing manager did not receive an offer from the local management. Driscoll likes Plainfield as a place to exhibit and had he been requested to come to this city, with favorable inducements, it is more than likely that local fans could have had the opportunity of witnessing the actions of the Driscoll herd once more in the Central League race.

It is said that Driscoll lost money last year on the local diamond and would not appear here for the same consideration that he received last summer, hence Dorflinger's attempt to corral local material.

SOMERVILLE SCHOOL CLASS, '93, HOLDS DINNER

Somerville, April 25.—The class of '93, Somerville public school, gave a dinner last night at the Country Club in celebration of its twentieth anniversary, and nearly all of the members of the class were present. The guest of honor was Miss R. Anna Miller, who instructed the class in English, and who is now the principal of the High School. The members of the class are Blanche Vredenburg Abbott Bergen, of Newark; Stelle Hayes Smith Staats, of Bound Brook; Elizabeth Blackwell Schenck Van Arsdale, Helen May Ten Eyck Vosseller, Walter King Crater, William Percival Snyder, Arthur Cornell Swinton, all of Somerville; Dr. George Henry, of Flemington. One member of the class, Louis McConaughy, of Somerville, is dead.

N. P. H. S. PLAYERS SCORED A BIG HIT

Annual Athletic Association Play Produced at the Park Club Last Night.

Produced under the auspices of the Boys' Athletic Association of the North Plainfield High School, "Bachelor Hall," a three act comedy provided entertainment for a crowded house at the Park Club last night. For nearly three hours the amateur thespians laid a maze of intricates and then unwound them in a way that held the audience spell bound. Not a single hitch occurred to mar the success of the production and it was staged in a way which reflected great credit on the careful coaching that has been accorded the youthful actors, particularly on the part of Paul Mertz, a teacher in the school, who has devoted much time to the rehearsals and in polishing off the rough edges brought to the surface during weeks of patient drilling.

All of the members of the cast of this year's play were particularly well adapted to their respective parts and it would be hard to select an individual who starred above the rest in the play. The work of Atwood Giddings as "Pinkerton Case," an amateur detective; Estes Small, as "Elisha Basset;" Ashley Burner, as "Silas Jervis;" and Carrol Taylor, as "Jack Meredith," a naval officer and would-be reporter; were particularly worthy of mention and received favorable comment on every hand following the performance. The play itself was well adapted to the class of actors who took the various parts and the amusing incidents were many and well brought out.

Those who took the other roles were Elmer French, as "Vere Lee," an amateur actor and author of the "Fatal Shot;" Miss Lucile Ewart, "Betty Vance," ward of Hon Geoffrey Myrtleton; Charles Beckman, as "Jasper," the butler at "Bachelor Hall;" Miss Edith Dalley, as "Polly Reynolds," an amateur actress; T. Fetherston, "The Hon. G. Myrtleman," a Congressman at Washington; Miss Mildred McAuliffe, "Mrs. Van Styne," who has dramatic aspirations; Miss Mary Martin, "Claire," her daughter who has not, and Lester Chandler, an officer of the law.

As a result of their acting the North Plainfield athletes will net about $80 which will be turned over to the treasurer for expenditure in the furtherance of athletics. Between the second and third acts, Paul Mertz, the coach, was presented with a gold collar and cuff set, the gift of the cast in appreciation of his assistance in staging the affair. Carrol Taylor made the speech of presentation. The executive staff of the play was composed of Mr. Mertz as coach, Carrol Taylor and George Townley as business managers, Hyman Abrams as advertising manager, Alfred Schroeder and Lester Chandler as property managers, and Mr. Mertz as stage manager. Following the production dancing was enjoyed until 1 o'clock this morning, Paroubek's orchestra furnishing the terpischore music.

DR. THOMAS C. HALL TO SPEAK HERE ON FRIDAY

Dr. Thomas C. Hall, professor of Christian ethics at Union Seminary, will speak on "Woman Suffrage," at the Plainfield High School auditorium, Friday evening, May 2, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the local league.

Dr. Hall is devoting his life to a study of the social problem and it is said that whether a person agrees with him or not they never fail to be interested in what he has to say. He will speak on "Shall Women Vote," and all are cordially invited to hear him. There will be no admission fee.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

Owing to the great demand for the four per cent. installment bonds, issued by the State Trust Company, the company has retermined to continue their offering, and subscriptions received before May 1 will entitle persons to bonds drawing interest from that date while on all bonds subscribed for during May interest will begin June 1. To those who have not already availed themselves of the opportunity thus presented to lay aside a portion of their income systematically, the suggestion is made that they do so now.

Thompson Adds Oldsmobile Line.

Andrew C. Thompson Automobile Company has just secured the agency for the Oldsmobile cars. The Oldsmobile is without doubt the best known automobile built and enjoys the reputation of being a leader among the very high grade cars. The 1913 six cylinder 50 H. P. Oldsmobile is an unusually attractive car of striking individuality, the price $3,200, and $3,350, for the five and seven passenger cars represents the greatest automobile value ever offered in a high grade car. ***

NOTED MEN TO TALK AT A MASS MEETING

Two Distinguished Doctors to Speak on White Plague Ravages Monday Night.

That Plainfield is in line with the rest of the world in the big war on the White Plague is known to everybody interested in the welfare of the city but it is asserted that the average citizen does not begin to know of the ravages of the disease or the tremendous seriousness of the fight against it that is going on elsewhere. To get for its own members and to give to the whole city the incentive that comes from knowing that a cause is world-wide, the Anti-Tuberculosis League is going to hold a free public meeting in the High School auditorium on Monday night at 8 o'clock. The speakers, Dr. Haven Emerson and Dr. Linsley R. Williams, will come from New York.

Dr. Williams is a member of the Board of Directors of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor; a member of the Committee for the Prevention of Tuberculosis; member of the Committee on Public Health, Hospitals and the Budget of the New York Academy of Medicine; a member of the Metropolitan Sewerage Commission; visiting physician to the New York City Hospitals, and professor in the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University.

Dr. Emerson is assistant visiting physician at Bellevue Hospital; associate in medicine and physiology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons; lecturer in the Department of Nursing and Health at Teachers College on the Prevention of Tuberculosis; a member of the Committee on Public Health, Hospitals, and Budget at the New York Academy of Medicine.

Recent floods and tornadoes in the Middle West destroyed many lives, but the mortality figures for those catastrophes were trifling, as compared with the annual deaths from tuberculosis within the comparatively restricted flood area. And for the country at large the number of victims in Iowa, Ohio, and Indiana, added to the total of the White Plague's death roll, would hardly change the fifth figure beyond the decimal point in the percentage statement.

Add all the spectacular disasters of the world together, put in the slaughter of the war in the Balkans for good measure, and still the total is almost zero as compared with the frightful year in and year out destruction of lives by consumption in this country alone.

Dr. Emerson and Dr. Williams will tell Plainfield what is being done to protect humanity and what Plainfield itself can do to aid in the fight.

KIRKNER'S VIOLATION ONLY A TECHNICAL ONE

New York, April 26.—Spaulding, McLellan & Co. have made the following statement in reference to the suspension of John W. Kirkner, of Plainfield, the board member of the firm, from the Stock Exchange:

"Mr. Kirkner was charged with having violated the rule prohibiting the carrying of a margined account for an employe of a Trust Company, the violation, if any, was wholly unintentional.

"The account in question was carried by an employe of a railroad company, who gave a power of attorney to a third person authorizing the latter to deal with the account. Neither Mr. Kirkner nor either of the other members of the firm of Spaulding, McLellan & Co. know or suspected that this third party was an employe of a Trust Company nor that he had any interest in the account until they were so informed by the Trust Company and this information was received after the transaction complained of had taken place. It will thus be seen that any violation of the rules by Mr. Kirkner was purely technical and was wholly without his knowledge or that of his firm."

DANCE FOR COLORED FOLK.

Although the dance and basketball game for colored folk at Saengerbund Hall last night attracted many, over fifty persons were present at the regular Friday night reception and dance held in the Washington School auditorium for the benefit of colored people. A program of dancing was enjoyed.

MAY LOSE EYE SIGHT.

James Kierderling, foreman for Arthur E. Smith, a contractor, went to New York today to have his eye examined with the possible hope of saving the optic. Three months ago Mr. Kierderling got a piece of steel in the eye and he has been under treatment ever since, but with not much success.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rawley, of Haggerstown, Md., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George B. Bishop, of 204 West Front street. Mrs. Rawley is a sister of Mrs. Bishop.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF JOHN CONNELLY HELD

The funeral service of John Connelly was held at St. Mary' R. C. church at 9 o'clock this morning. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Father Daniel Hogan was the celebrant; Father Vincent Sciolla, the deacon, and Father Meehan, the sub-deacon.

There was a large number of floral tributes, including one from the Third Ward Democratic Club of Bayonne, and another from the Neil O. Mahoney Association of Bayonne, and one from friends at Tompkins Cove, N. Y., together with tributes from relatives and friends in this city.

The burial took place today at Hampton Junction and the pall bearers were John, Thomas, Daniel, Jeffery and William Connelly, all relatives of the departed, and Councilman Patrick J. Reville.

THEY HAVE PRAISE FOR DAILY PRESS EDITORIAL

When the West End Civic Association's executive committee held a special session at the home of Frank G. Wyckoff, Thursday night, one of the maters brought to their attention was an editorial in the Daily Press, advocating a better fire department equipment including an auto fire engine. This editorial was the subject of much favorable comment and the committee expressed itself as heartily endorsing it. The newspaper's comment will be given further consideration by the association at its regular meeting to be held in the Washington School auditorium Monday, May 12.

The matters of rectifying the lack of uniformity in assessments in this city will also be discussed at the monthly meeting and it is probable that some definite steps will be taken by the civic body to have corrected the present unequal and unfair assessments. Jacob Sachar, one of the largest property owners of the West End, has been actively engaged for some time past in compiling a report concerning these assesments and will present his findings at the monthly meeting. Barton Davis, chairman of the committee appointed to arrange for the association's entertainment, to be given at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening, May 6, is compiling an interesting program for that occasion.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT IN RATHER UNIQUE WAY

Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, of West Third street, gave a party at their home last evening to announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Lavinia Scott Burke, to Matthew Gilmour Brown, son of he late William J. Brown, of Glasgow, Scotland. The announcement was made in a novel manner. Pink ribbons were suspended from each guest's plate to a large basket of cut flowers in the centre of the table. When the guests were seated to partake of an elaborate supper, the ribbons were drawn and at the end of each was a card announcing the engagement.

Miss Burke and Mr. Brown then received the congratulations of all the guests. Mr. Burke then presented Miss Burke with a diamond ring. Then followed an interesting program consisting of piano selections by Miss Jessie Duncan and Miss Margaret McGregor, accompanied on the violin by P. L. Casner. There were songs by the guests and dancing was enjoyed until midnight. The affair was arranged by T. B. Douglas. There were about thirty guests from Hoboken, Perth Amboy and this city.

DR. VINCENT TO LECTURE.

Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota, will lecture at the Plainfield High School, Saturday night, May 3, under the auspices of the Alumni Association. The proceeds will be devoted to the fund used by the association for its educational work. It was through the influence of classmates of Dr. Vincent that he has consented to come to Plainfield. He is a graduate of the Plainfield High School. Tickets for the lecture are on sale at all drug stores and at the High School.

MAKES ASSIGNMENT.

M. Perlstine, trading as the Plainfield Lace Store, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, and in the adjustment of the claims, it has been decided to pay twenty-five per cent. of all that is due. Twenty per cent. will be paid in cash at once and the balance by notes, suitably endorsed, payable at a later day. Two of the heaviest local creditors are the newspapers, but most of the claims against the store are from out of town.

M. W. BELLIS WILL WED MISS RAMSEY TONIGHT

Miss Ella V. E. Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Ramsey, of 98 Jackson avenue, and Millard W. Bellis, of Park place, the borough, will be married at 7:30 o'clock this evening by Rev. J. O. McKelvey at his home on Grandview avenue. Miss Jessie Hummer, of the borough, will be the bridesmaid and Howard Firstbrook, of this city, the best man.

Following the ceremony the couple will leave on a trip through Virginia, stopping at Washington on their return. They will reside at 561 East Second street.

The bride formerly resided in Flemington, but has lived here for the past few years. Mr. Bellis is employed in the commercial department of the Public Service Corporation.

TESTIMONIAL FOR THE ONLY CHARLES SEBRING

Several societies in Plainfield and North Plainfield have appointed a general committee for the purpose of arranging for the testimonial reception and dance for Charles Sebring, which will be held in his auditorium on Friday night, May 16. The affair will be given in acknowledgement of many acts of kindness on the part of Mr. Sebring, who has turned over his auditorium on various occasions for the use of different organizations of the city and borough.

Arrangements have been completed to provide good music for the dancing and there will be a number of addresses. The committee is composed of John O'Keefe, William McCullough, William Mahoney, Robert Hamilton, Cormack McDonough, James F. Connolly, Vincent Meaney, William Sullivan, Robert McCormack, Wilbur Shafer, James McCann, Martin Whalen, Jr., James Whalen, Charles Collins, Michael Fitzsimmons, James Commiskey, Frank Donnelly, Charles Ferrora, Tony Parretti and John Caufield.

SEEKS $45,750 FOR STEVENS.

To secure for Stevens Institute in Hoboken the $45,750 collected by the government at the conclusion of the Civil War as the collateral tax on a bequest to the institue by its founder, Edward A. Stevens, of Hoboken, Congressman Hamill, of New Jersey, will shortly reintroduce in Congress the bill framed by him for that purpose. It has long been contended that the levy of the collateral tax upon the founder's bequest was illegal. On May 8, 1911, Mr. Hamill introduced his bill, only to have it languish in the committee on claims. The instrument provides authorization for the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the institute the $45,750 with interest from 1870. This time Mr. Hamill has hopes of being able to press the bill to passage.

LINEMAN'S AWFUL PERIL.

Passaic, April 26.—Because a trolley car pole slipped out of position and struck a guy wire which Fred Matthews was holding while atop a telegraph pole, a powerful current of electricty doubled him over a cross-arm, rendering him unconscious. While women screamed, two companions of Mathiews held him until other down. An ambulance surgeon revived Matthews, whose only apparent injury was the blistering of his hands. After a few minutes he went back to work, but Superintendent Daniel Dolan, whose shoulder blade was dislocated when he tripped over a wire in going to Matthews' aid, had to be taken to the General Hospital.

NO "TANGO" IN HIGH SCHOOL.

Bayonne, April 26.—The principal of the Bayonne High School before the general assembly of pupils issued an order prohibiting the dancing of the "tango" in the High School. It has been the custom of the students to pass the greater part of the noon hour in dancing in the gymnasium. The principal said: "The 'turkey trot' was bad enough, but this new dance is positively shocking, and I will not stand for it in the Bayonne High School."

William Brown, a watchmaker, who has been critically ill at his home on Watchung avenue for some time past, was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital for treatment yesterday.

Mrs. E. R. Gavitt, of Omaha, Neb. is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Rogers, of West Fifth street. MISSIONARY ALLIANCE IN SESSION HERE TODAY

The Christian and Missionary Alliance is holding a successful series of meetings at the German Reformed church, Duer street and Craig place, the borough. Rev. Verner Brown, of Philadelphia, and Rev. Philip Hinckey, of China, gave inspiring addresses yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hinckey and Mrs. Hinckey will address the gathering tonight, telling of the mission work in China in which they are especially interested, and giving helpful suggestions for mission study. Students of China are especially invited to attend these meetings.

Rev. A. B. Simpson, of New York, will speak at the meeting to be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and in the evening Rev. W. W. Newbury, of Nyack, N. Y., will give an address. Mr. and Mrs. Hinckey will return to China in July.

NEIGHBORS' QUARREL IS AIRED IN LOCAL COURT

John Durocher, of 716 West Front street, arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning on a charge of using profane and indecent language on complaint of Mrs. Martha Burgess, who resides next door to him, testified on the witness stand that he was a Bible class pupil and does not swear. According to the testimony Mrs. Burgess' children threw stones, pieces of wood, old cans and bottles and other rubbish into the defendant's yard. Mr. Durocher said he lost his temper, paid his neighbor a visit and swore for the first time in his life. He declared he asked Mrs. Burgess "What in the 'dickens' do you think my yard is, a dump?" Mrs. Burgess' version was that the defendant came over into her yard, pushed her in the face with his clenched fist and used language that does not appear fit to print. This Mr. Durocher denied. Mrs. Burgess and her children also denied that they threw any rubbish in the adjoining yard. She was represented by Francis J. Blatz, of the law firm of Coddington & Blatz.

Judge DeMeza disposed of the case by telling Mrs. Burgess that he believed they threw the cans and bottles and that he was of the opinion that Mr. Burocher used indecent language, and suspended sentence.

PARTS FROM "CREATION" TO BE SUNG BY CHOIR

ATTACK MADE ON GAHAGAN'S WILL

At a Hearing in Orphans' Court Dr. Probasco, His Physician, Testified.

Elizabeth, April 26 (Special).—The hearing on the contest of the will of William A. Gahagan, late of Belvidere avenue, Plainfield, a marble dealer, who died three months ago, was continued yesterday in the Orphans' Court before Judge James C. Connolly.

Several witnesses were heard, among them Dr. Norman H. Probasco, of Plainfield. Judge Connolly continued the hearing until next Friday.

The contest is due to the adding of a codicil to the will by the testator through the influence, it is alleged, of Mrs. Elizabeth Holman, of Jersey City, daughter of Mr. Gahagan's first wife.

The hearing thus far has shown that the heirs under the codicil will contest the fight against it vigorously when their side is heard next Friday.

Dr. Probasco, who was present at the time the will was executed, stated on the witness stand that although Mr. Gahagan was weak and unable to sign his name without assistance, he was absolutely in control of his mind, and expressed himself, after attaching his signature to the codicil, that he was glad it was done. The objectors to the codicil through counsel sought to show that Mr. Gahagan had a bad spell immediately before the transaction and had been given morphine, thus incapacitating his mind and judgment. Dr. Probasco contended that the bad spell took place the day before and was due to a weak heart, but which left him totally responsible and cheerful the next day when the attack had ceased.

At conclusion of yesterday's proceedings the impression seemed to prevail that both the will and codicil will be admitted to probate.

Former Judges Carey and Erwin, of Jersey City, represent Mr. Gahagan's four children by his first wife and two executors, former Judge W. A. Coddington is counsel for Mrs. Gahagan and Augustus Sheelan, another executor.

MUSICAL COMEDY AT THE LOCAL THEATRE TONIGHT

"The Girl of My Dreams," is a clean and amusing musical comedy, containing real humor and furnishes a great diversity of entertainment. The wit is as brilliant as the stage settings, costumes and effects. John Hyams and Leila McIntyre are the bright particular stars of an exceptionally clever cast. Miss McIntyre's greatest hit is the unique "Dr. Tinkle Tinker" song number. Mr. Hyams is funny at all times. The music is tuneful. The tableau of Toytown accompanying Miss McIntyre's "Dr. Tinkle Tinker" is especially effective. Possibilities for the funny and ridiculous grow out of the replacing of a damaged hat. Besides an excellent cast of principals there will be a big beauty chorus and a pony ballet. "The Girl of My Dreams" is the attraction at the Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight.

GRADUATION DAY FOR FOUR NURSES

Annual Exercises of Muhlenberg Hospital Training School May 22.

DR. EATON SPEAKER

President George P. Mellick to Present Diplomas—Reception to Be Held on Thursday Night, May 1.

The graduation exercises of the training school of Muhlenberg Hospital will be held at the Hartridge Auditorium on Thursday night, May 22, at 8 o'clock, with an attractive program. This year's senior class comprises four young women. Miss Elizabeth Florence Duff, of Staten Island, who will complete her course on May 17; Miss Isabella Cecelia McNicol, of Staten Island, who completes her course on May 28; Miss Aurelia May Brown, of New York, and Miss Eleanor Disborough Schenck, of Scotch Plains, who will complete their course on September 1.

Owing to the fact that Miss Brown and Miss Schenck will finish their course within a few months of the graduation date, the Board of Governors will permit them to receive their diplomas on May 22 with the other two members of the class. There are now twenty-three pupil nurses in the training school.

The Board of Governors has secured as the speaker for the graduation, Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, of Watchung, who is pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York. George P. Mellick, as president of the Board of Governors, will present the diplomas to the graduates and another member of the board will present the graduating pins. A reception with dancing will follow the exercises.

The members of the training school have arranged to give a reception and dance to the graduates at the Nurses' Home on Thursday night, May 1, the affair being intended just for the class, the pupil nurses and a few intimate friends.

Millinery Success

There's more than mere reputation that makes a successful department. And because of the extraordinary gains and forward strides made by our Millinery we voice public sentiment in saying:

Every Hat here is the Acme of Fashion.

Hats That Have Character.

No Fancy Prices, yet most exclusive.

The ever fertile mind of Miss Curns add those distinctive touches that are equal to the Metropolitan Modiste.

Therefore our old and the many new patrons are loud in their praise of our Millinery Supremacy.

Yes, we are proud of rendering such service. We are doing the best that seems possible today—our aim—to do better tomorrow.

Dunellen & Vicinity

When Edward Porter, of Dunellen, was arraigned on a disorderly charge before Justice Sedam, in New Brunswick Thursday, on complaint of Mrs. Marie E. Scribner, also of Dunellen, he asserted that the latter was his lawful wife. Porter declared that Mrs. Scribner and himself were married by the late Justice Storms, at New Market, when the former was but fifteen years old; lived together for fifteen years and had three children born to them. Mrs. Scribner, who was married recently in North Plainfield to her present husband, Harry Scribner, denied this in part, saying that Porter took her to New York when she was fifteen years old and that she lived with him for a like number of years, but claimed she was never legally married to him and challenged Porter to produce a marriage certificate. Porter claimed it had been lost. The defendant was held in bail for further examination.

Think of the Stone

Says George Eliot: "People who force downey peaches are apt not to think of the stone, and sometimes jar their teeth against it."

The thought fits beautifully into clothing conditions. Some men are influenced by wild statements, "downy phrases" and lurid promises—they buy their clothes on "surface value"—they are pleased until they "sentence" the suit to a season of hard labor!

And then all of a sudden they are jarred by the Stone of Inferiority! A suit like a friend, must stand by you in all sorts of weather. It must be willing to receive "rough handling" and still come up smiling.

Our clothes do these—and we do more! We give you a Service Pledge that turns chance into a "sure thing."

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Brightside Circle of The King's Daughters will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. A. Powlison, 203 Somerset street, Thursday afternoon, May 1, at 3:30 o'clock. Officers will be elected and the members are requested to note the change in date and hour of meeting.

The annual meeting of the City Union of The King's Daughters will be held in Vincent chapel of the First M. E. church, Thursday afternoon, May 8, at 3 o'clock, at which time officers will be elected.

Rev. F. J. Hubach, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will preach tomorrow morning on the subject, "The Successful Christian Life," and in the evening on the subject of "China."

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire will preach at the Ebenezer Baptist church, Reform Hall, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Bethany Mission Workers of Brooklyn will have charge of the W. C. T. U. gospel temperance meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

CARNIVAL'S BILL.

The shows to be seen at the carnival under the auspices of Plainfield Council, United Commercial Travelers, the week of May 5, include Ashborne's dog, pony and monkey circus, which will be a big feature. Mills' celebrated "Ten in One" is another big attraction, also "A Trip to Mars," "School Days," Prof. Dupont and his $20,000 beauty and the Cyclone, which will be one of the big attractions at Coney Island this summer. Miss Elma Meier, the undisputed champion high trick and fancy shallow water diver will give daily exhibitions on the "Midway," and Antonio Olivette with his Neapolitan concert band will give concerts afternoon and evening.

More than 100 members have been added to the Toronto, Ont., Machinists' union since January 1 of this year, and it is probable that a renewed effort will be made in the near future to establish the eight-hour day in that trade in Toronto.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, APRIL 26, 1913.

The editorial columns of this paper are conducted on Saturdays by representative citizens who are free to express their own views. Howard H. Williams, a New York lawyer, who is deeply interested in local civic affairs, is the Contributing Editor for today.

SOME QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

In the present campaign for Commission Government there are certain questions that are asked so repeatedly that it is evident many of our citizens have not a complete understanding of the situation regarding the proposed change, and it is therefore desirable to answer these questions briefly, but as positively as it is possible from a construction of the statute in this State and the experience of other cities which have made the change.

First—What Kind of Men Will Be Commissioners?

Fortunately we have an immediate answer in view of the announcement of Mayor Stewart that he will be a candidate for office, and it is the expectation of those in favor of the change that other men of conspicuous ability will offer themselves as candidates. In other cities it has been found that the people have chosen commissioners of experience in either public affairs or large business enterprises, with the result that the men so chosen rank distinctly higher than the ordinary municipal officers. In Plainfield we have very excellent men in the Council at the present time and presumably some of the best of them would be elected to serve as commissioners.

Second—What Compensation Will the Commissioners Receive?

The New Jersey law permits commissioners in cities the size of Plainfield to receive a salary of not more than $1,500 a year, and the commissioner who is chosen to act as Mayor may receive $300 more. The commissioners with this limitation fix their own salaries. It is conceivable that in a city like Plainfield, where the demands upon the commissioner of one department might be much heavier than the demands upon his fellow-commissioners, he would receive the full limit allowed by law while the other commissioners might accept a much lower salary for their own services. In this connection it is to be remarked that the law provides for five commissioners in cities of over 10,000 in population, but it gives to the city the right to reduce the number to three. Without attempting to forecast what decision the commissioners themselves might reach on this point, it is at least possible that they should conclude to handle the affairs of the city with only three commissioners, thereby making it necessary to pay only three salaries, but the compensation would not be increased even if the number of commissioners were decreased.

Third—What Time Must the Commissioners Give?

In enacting the Commission Government law the Legislature followed in this respect the Galveston plan, anticipating that the commissioners would be business men in the community and would not be required to devote their whole time to city affairs. Therefore the salaries are correspondingly low, being intended to cover only such part of the time of the commissioners as may be devoted necessarily to such business.

Fourth—What Will Be the Probable Influence on Expenditure?

To all who heard the address of Mayor Donnelly, of Trenton, on Thursday evening it must be evident that Commission Government tends to economy. In Trenton for the present year the tax rate is to be reduced about two points; in our own city it is being increased sixteen points. This reduction is possible in Trenton by savings and economies effected in the city expenditure—not through lessened efficiency but rather through increased efficiency and the reduction of waste. In Trenton there are more public improvements made every year than under the former government, but at greatly reduced cost. The floating debt, which was $800,000 at the time when the change in government was effected, has been reduced to $164,000; the saving in interest is enough to pay all the expenses of the Financial Department. These benefits resulted from the closer attention to city affairs that commissioners can afford and are encouraged to give by the increased opportunity to do good work that arises from the concentration of responsibility upon the individual.

Fifth—What Advantage Can There Be to the City so Well Governed as Plainfield in Making the Proposed Change?

As has been indicated, the experience of other cities demonstrates that under the Commission form the municipal officers have a greater incentive to do efficient work and at the same time they are untrammeled in their individual action, but beyond the incidental advantage so gained is the direct popular control made possible through the provision for the initiative and referendum. Should it be found desirable to erect one or more new schools at a very heavy first cost the commissioners can submit the question to the people for their determination, or if they should not be inclined to do so the people themselves can require the submission of such a question at a popular election. So with the water question, and franchises for electric railways and lighting companies, the people have the final control, making it impossible at any time for such questions to be finally decided adversely to public interest. As former Mayor Fisk very properly said in his talk on this subject, the time to make the change is before the city experiences any loss through the provisions of the present Charter, not that such a loss is anticipated; nevertheless it is possible. In the homely words of the proverb—"it is time to lock the door before the horse is stolen."

RURAL CREDIT IDEA TAKES THEM ABROAD

New York, April 26.—When the steamship Saxonia of the Cunard line sailed from this port today it had on board about eighty of the members of the American Commission on Agricultural Co-operation, bound for Europe to make a thorough and systematic study of the rural credit and banking systems in use in fourteen of the countries of Europe. The commission has a total membership of one hundred, but some of its members, who are United States Senators or Representatives in Congress, are detained by the exigencies of the extra session of Congress and will not be able to join the other members of the commission until after adjournment of Congress.

Practically all the members of the commission, and several prominent government officials arrived here two days ago and completed their arrangements for the trip, which will occupy several months. Yesterday they attended a banquet given in their honor at which the Secretary of Agriculture and several other prominent government officials were also present.

The plan of sending a commission of investigation to Europe originated at the meeting of the Southern Commercial Congress, which was held in April of last year at Nashville, Tenn. The plan evolved at that gathering met with the hearty approval of the federal government and of the governments of the States of the Union and in accordance with it each State appointed two delegates to the commission, whose expenses are to be paid by their respective States. President Wilson appointed a commission of seven to represent the federal government, with Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida, as chairman; the commission also includes the delegates appointed by the Secretary of State to attend the International Institute of Agriculture, which will open at Rome on May 7.

In accordance with the plan elaborated for the work of the commission, the scope of the investigation provides for an examination of the methods employed by progressive agricultural communities in Europe in production and marketing, and in the financing of both these operations. In addition to that the following special subjects are to be investigated: The parts played, respectively, in the promotion of agriculture by the governments and by voluntary organizations of the agricultural classes; the application of the co-operative system to agricultural production, distribution and finance; the effect of co-operative organizations upon social conditions in rural communities, the relation of the cost of living to the business organization of the food-producing classes.

It has long been recognized throughout the United States that the farmers of the country, who number 12,000,000 and who annually add $8,400,000,000 to the national wealth, are seriously handicapped by the lack of a financial credit system adequate to their needs. It is estimated that the farmers of the United States are employing about $6,000,000,000 of borrowed capital on which they annually have to pay $510,000,000 interest. Counting commissions and renewal charges, the rate averages 8½ per cent., while the farmers in Germany and other European countries can obtain all the capital required by them at a rate of interest of from 3½ to 4½ per cent. In Germany as well as in other European countries the "rural credit" system has been developed with excellent results and to great benefit to the agricultural classes and it is believed by the promoters of the commission that similarly beneficial results may be obtained by the inauguration of an adequate agricultural credit system in the United States. Canada also is greatly interested in the subject and every one of the Canadian provinces is represented in the commission by delegates.

After reaching Rome the commission will be given a reception by the International Institute of Agriculture on May 10, and on the following day the members will be received by the king and queen of Italy at the Qurinal. The commission will remain in Italy eight days and during that time will visit Naples, Florence, Bologna and Milan. Thence it will proceed to Austria-Hungary, spending five days at Vienna and five at Buda-Pest. The itinerary also includes ten days in Germany, with stops at Munich, Dresden, Berlin and Cologne, ten days in Denmark and Sweden; ten days in Belgium and Holland; eight days in France; eight days in England and Ireland and five days in the principal Balkan States. It is expected that the commission will return to the United States on the steamship Cedric, of the White Star line, leaving Queenstown, July 18.

THE FORUM.

REPLIES TO JEFFERY'S LETTER.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

William Jeffery, in a letter to a local paper of this date, appears to see "an element of danger in going too fast" on the question of the commission form of government. He suggests "a campaign of education," that, "when the people are called upon to decide if they want it, they will be able to act intelligently in the matter."

I think all intelligent voters will say "amen" to the educational campaign part of Mr. Jeffery's letter, though they may not share in his fear of an "element of danger" in an intelligent and impartial inquiry on the merits of the commission plan of government. I think that if Mr. Jeffery had listened in an impartial manner to Mayor Donelly's plain, honest, straightforward statement of facts Thursday night, before he penned his letter, he would not have written it.

I am glad, however, to notice that Mr. Jeffery admits he got some light from Mayor Donnely, whose "statement of facts" cited several instances of improvement that ought to be welcomed by the city.

Mr. Jeffery says: "I propose to appoint a committee of the Board of Trade to find out how the commission plan is really working in cities where in operation."

For my own part I object to Mr. Jeffery or his Board of Trade committee taking upon themselves to inquire on my behalf or that of the voters of Plainfield, for the reason that they are self-appointed on that board, and have no constituancy to represent save themselves, any more than any single voter of this city.

If Mr. Jeffery is anxious for the appointment of a committee of inquiry, let a public meeting be called to choose such a committee, who will represent the people and do the people's work in open daylight without prejudice, by that means we can soon decide which way to vote on that important question commission plan of city government.

PROCTOR'S GOOD SHOW.

The program at the Proctor show is a good one. The sketch produced by Leander DeCordova & Co., "In the Loop Hole," is an intensely dramatic effort in which a trust magnate is the leading character. Mr. DeCordova, who is a Somerville boy, is a clever actor and has a good supporting company. Fox & Foxie's circus, a dog and a cat, furnishes fourteen minutes of good solid laughter. The pickaninnies in a rousing good singing and dancing act had everyone going. The Hebrew comedians, Howe & Scott, have a fund of odd stories and parodies, and last but not least the English singers and dancers, the Anderson Sisters, in a clever act, go to make a very enjoyable evening.

A SUMMARY OF THE GAME REGULATIONS

Hunters and Fishermen Affected by Eighteen Statutes Recently Issued.

The Fish and Game Commission has prepared a digest of the laws passed by the recent session of the Legislature affecting fish and game in this State. There are eighteen new laws on the books as the result of this year's session, all of which are now in effect.

For the benefit of those who are interested in the new legislation, the commission is circulating synopses of the law in this form:

Chapter 36—Prohibits the placing of any rye or food in salt water within 400 feet of any ice, marsh or meadow, bar or bank, or heaped seawood not covered with water, for the purpose of decoying water wild fowl so that the same may be shot at while feeding; also prohibits the shooting at water wild fowl while feeding where food of any kind is known to have been sown, deposited or placed.

Chapter 55—Open season for black bass, Oswego bass, white bass, calico bass, crappie or pike perch, from June 15 to November 30, both dates inclusive. Open season for pike and pickerel, May 20 to November 30, both dates inclusive.

Chapter 56—Provides that hatchery raised trout may be sold at any time for food purposes, if properly tagged, and said tag shall be removed only by the consumer. (Open season for brook trout, April 1 to July 15, both dates inclusive.)

Chapter 73—Prohibits the hunting of water wild fowl from any sand bar not covered by water.

Chapter 114—Permits regularly organized or incorporated associations holding what is commonly known as "field trials," but only upon license obtained from the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners.

Open Season For Quail.

Chapter 120—Open season for quail, rabbit, squirrel, only the male English or ring-necked pheasant, ruffed grouse, prairie chicken, wild turkey or Hungarian partridge, from November 10 to December 15, both dates inclusive. Penalty for taking any of the above between October 10 and November 9, both dates inclusive, $100.

Open season for woodcock, October 10 to December 15, both dates inclusive.

Chapter 126—Unlawful by moonlight or with the aid of any artificial light to shoot or kill any skunk, mink, muskrat or otter, or to take any of the foregoing except by means of a trap, or to disturb or destroy any muskrat lodge.

Open season for trapping skunk, mink, muskrat or otter, November 15 to April 1 following, both dates inclusive.

Chapter 135—Unlawful to sell any squirrel, deer, game bird or song bird, but ducks, geese, brant and rabbit are excepted; provided that black and mallard ducks, pheasants and deer raised on game preserves or coming from another State may be sold at all times, if properly tagged.

Licenses to Raisers.

Chapter 147—Provides for the issuance of a license to any person desiring to engage in the business of raising and selling domesticated English ring-necked, Mongolian, and other pheasants, mallard and black ducks and deer, or any of them, in a wholly enclosed preserve. Cost of license, $5 yearly. Licenses heretofore granted at $25 each remain in force until December 31, 1916.

Chapter 148—Permits any fish and game commissioner, the fish and game protector, or the assistant fish and game protector, to file complaints for any violation of the fish and game laws upon information or belief.

Chapter 157—Unlawful to hunt with a hound or firearms, or to go into the woods or fields with a hound or firearms, except only during the season for quail, etc., but this prohibition does not interfere with hunting for snipe, woodcock and deer in the legal season therefor. By special permission of the board foxes may be hunted with hounds from December 15 to March 30, the last date mentioned inclusive.

Chapter 161—Unlawful to possess any lobster the length of which from the end of the bone of the nose to the centre of the rear end of the body shell shall measure less than 4⅛ inches, or any spawning lobster.

Chapter 162—Prohibits the taking of any lobster in Cape May county within three nautical miles of the coast line for five years.

Chapter 176—Unlawful to take in any part of the State any crappie or calico bass measuring less than six inches.

Use of Air Guns.

Chapter 186—Unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter, loan, give, buy, or have in possession, or use or shoot any air gun, spring gun or pistol or other weapon of similar nature, in which the propelling force is spring or air, ejecting a bullet or missile smaller than three-eighths of an inch in diameter with sufficient force to injure a person. (This is a general act of the State, the enforcement of which does not devolve upon the Fish and Game Commission.)

Chapter 248—Prohibits taking of striped bass in salt or fresh water by means of a net except from November 15 to March 1, both dates inclusive, and prohibits the catching, killing or possession at any time any striped bass less than ten inches in length.

Chapter 303—Authorizes the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners to give permission to kill and destroy the European starling when the governing body of any municipality shall decide that they are so numerous in such municipality as to become a nuisance.

Chapter 307—Makes it unlawful to fish with pound nets in any of the fresh or salt waters of the State, excepting Atlantic Ocean, Sandy Hook and Raritan Bay and that portion of Delaware Bay within Cape May county.

YOUNG'S RELEASE FOLLOWS THE ONE GIVEN JACK MARTIN

Following the action he took in the case of Jack Martin, of this city, Frank Chance, the Yankee manager, has tied the can to "Pep" Young, who he has sold to the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast League. Young left for the coast yesterday and Martin reported to Manager Ganzel, in Jersey City, at the same time.

Wolverton filed a claim for Young last winter and under baseball law he had first call. The Harrisburg shortstop fielded well with the New Yorks, but he was so weak at the bat that Chance decided not to carry him. As soon as Claude Derrick recovers the use of his injured hand, it is believed that he will replace Hartzell at shortstop, but whether Hartzell will supplant Midkiff at third base or not remains to be seen. Chance is well satisfied with his other extra infielder, Bill Stump, for the present, at least.

It is rumored in American League circles, however, that Chance is working the wires for another infielder, also a first class catcher. The gossips name Olson and Turner, of the Clevelands, and Robbie Zeider, of the White Sox, as possible additions to the New York Americans, but there is no authentic information on this point. Chance has reduced the roster of the team to twenty-two men, including himself.

RACING AT LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., April 26.—Lexington is filled with followers of the turf, while at the track of the Kentucky Racing Association are quartered hundreds of fast horses, all here for the opening today of the annual season of spring racing. The meeting will continue fourteen days. The principal stake events on the program are the Phoenix Hotel Spring handicap, Ashland Oaks, Idle Hour stakes, Blue Grass stakes, Camden handicap, Brewers' selling stake, and the Breeders' futurity.

"MAC" SAYS

Leals took another yesterday, thanks to the good work of Freddy Dickerson in the box. And the $11,000 beauty did not play. Wonder why?

The private school boys ought to avoid getting into the habit of winning so much. It may be hard to overcome the habit once it is formed.

Nash's "grazing" ball was not needed in the victory either. He presided behind the bat and threw to second instead of to the plate.

N. P. H. S. went to High Bridge this morning to spoil the reputation of one Gerard, a recently unearthed pitching phenom of that place.

They are rounding up stray dogs by the dozen in the borough. Hope springs eternal in some humans' inner regions. Beware of the dog catcher! He is after them all.

Sunday-school Leaguers will hold another indoor session Monday night in preparation for the opening of the circuit May 17.

Some people go crazy after they knock for a while but it appears to us as though the youngster known as "Becky" was that way before he started. There's a cure for all diseases, take a chance, Rastus.

Jack Martin reported to the Rochester team of the International League in the game played at Jersey City yesterday afternoon but did not get into the fray at that time. It is probable that the local youngster will be used in the place of Vaughn today, however.

Young, one of Martin's running mates for the shortfield berth on the Yankee troop, has been released to the Sacramento team.

NEAF APGAR HAS BEST CARD AT SALEM SHOOT

Neaf Apgar, of this city, was the high professional scorer at the spring tournament conducted by the Salem County Rod and Gun Club yesterday afternoon, over fifty amateur and professional marksmen facing the traps in competition for the many prizes. The program included ten events of fifteen targets each. Wells ran a close second to the Plainfield gunner in the race for high individual honors.

A gold watch was awarded to C. L. Platt, of Bridgeton, for high amateur and a watch fob to Charles Brown, of Salem, for low amateur.

BASEBALL AT BRUNSWICK.

Dave Driscoll will bring his team to Amustment Park, New Brunswick, tomorrow afternoon, to lineup against the Oswego club. Many Plainfielders are contemplating witnessing the contest, some with an idea of getting a line on what Driscoll has to offer in the way of players this year.

LOCAL BASKETEERS LOST TO ORANGERS

Both Plainfield Colored Teams Lost Their Games at Saengerbund Hall.

A basketball double-header in hot weather such as one on the menu last night, does not often prove attractive, but the two games played at Saengerbund Hall last night between teams of this city and Orange were both interesting from a spectator's standpoint and the feminine contest is one of the kind that makes the popular indoor game take in the colder climate. The Plainfield Speedboys were walloped to the tune of 40 to 21 by the experienced Imperial A. C. five, of Orange, but nevertheless the contest was one well worth going to see, being full of interesting incidences that brought forth reepated rounds of applause from a packed gallery. This was the first contest played by the local quintet and considering this fact they put up a splendid showing against their speedy rivals.

The second clash between the colored girls' teams of this city and Orange was an even more enthusiastic one, the Plainfielders being nosed out by a margin of one point, the final score being 5 to 4. The goal shooting was exceedingly low in this contest and it was anybody's game until the final whistle sounded with the visitors one point in advance. This was the first game for the girls' team of this city, while the Orangers have been playing all season and were therefore better equipped for the fray than the Queen City representatives. But two preliminary practices were accorded the local contingent and during these two brief spells of play the excellent coaching of Mrs. James F. Lawson turned out a near winner. The Plainfield teams lined up as follows:

Boys'—J. Loyd and R. Greene, forwards; H. Lee, captain, centre; Hall and Mann, guards; Clay, substitute.

Girls'—Captain Sarah Cruse and Charlotte Mann, forwards; Marie Briddle, centre; Marie Briddle and Anna Carig, guards; Fredia Mann, Gertrude Cruse and Elizabeth Briddle, substitutes.

LOCAL BOWLERS WILL COMPETE AT NEWARK

Sam Rothberg has entered his team of bowlers in the fourth annual Iroquois Two-Man and Individual Bowling Competition, opening in Newark May 1. The locals will roll in both the doubles and the singles and the Plainfielders have gathered together a strong lineup with which they hope to cop several of the cash prizes offered for competition.

Among the pinners Rothberg has signed up are "Chic" Thompson, who finished second in the N. B. A. tourney at Detroit; Ed. Britton, who helped to win the recent endurance contest on Walters' Alleys; Harry Radin, who last year competed in the A. B. C. tourney; Charlie Montross, who won first place in the head pin tournament in Westfield last month; George Miller, Jim Mahoney, Frank Willet and Jim Scott. Anyone wishing to make the trip should notify Sam Rothberg at once.

MINIATURE ATHLETIC FIELD FOR Y. M. C. A.

Has Been Laid Out in the Rear of the Building and is Already Popular.

Boys' Secretary C. William Bingeman, of the local Y. M. C. A., is today dodging inquiries relative to his ruddy complexion, which has become unusually prominent during the past two days and many and varied have been the causes assigned for his sudden facial change. Mr. Bingeman appears to have some accomplices in his work, however, for Myrton Glover, Irving Schenck and a number of other Y. M. C. A. members are bearing a similar disguise, probably resulting from the same cause. A tour of investigation was started at the association this morning and those who ventured to the rear of the building were surprised to see a number of juvenile athletes testing their athletic prowess on a miniature athletic field, which has suddenly sprung up in the rear of the Y. M. C. A. This field has all the necessary facilities for training purposes and the Y. M. C. A. boys who are contemplating spending their vacations at the New Jersey Boys' Camp at Lake Wawayanda this summer were busily engaged trying to jump two inches higher than they ever did before, or pushing the eight pounds of lead over their frames for a record mark.

Supervisor Henri Welle and Physical Director E. C. Ostlin were assisting Mr. Bingeman in the training work and after some persuasion, the guilty tan bearers finally discovered a loop-hole leading them out of their troubles and announced that they had been treated to the redness by Mother Nature during the course of their work in transforming the back yard of the Y. M. C. A. into an athletic field. This theory was generally accepted, especially after the investigators were asked to take part in the athletic events then in progress, this part of the program allaying their curiosity for the time being.

The field has been arranged on a small scale but has all of the training requisites, including jumping pits, take-offs, high jumping standards and shot-putting circles, all laid out in regulation style. The competitors entered in the State meets both at the camp and at Orange will be able to do preliminary work on this field, which will no doubt fill a long felt need.

LEALS' BASEBALL TEAM WON FROM VISITING AGGREGATION

Leal's won its second game of the season, yesterday afternoon, defeating the baseball team of Cartaret Academy by a count of 16 to 8. Good pitching on the part of Shepherd, who had but one bad inning, featured the contest.

The score:

LOCAL TEAM AT CARTARET.

Manager Pete Simmons will take his Royal Colored Giants to Cartaret tomorrow afternoon to lineup against the team of that place. A large crowd of local rooters are expected to accompany the Giants on the trip.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

"Stop Thief" is approaching the sixth month of its run at the Gaiety theatre, where this splendidly acted farce bids fair to remain all summer. "Stop Thief" is a funny play. It will keep you laughing all the time the curtain is up and send you home in a state of great good humor. What more can mortal want?

May Irwin is still making Geo. M. Cohan feel sorry that when he built his theatre just north of 42nd street he didn't make it larger. In "Widow by Proxy" May Irwin has scored a rip-roaring success, just like old times, only more so. And there are times when even the comfortable proportions at Cohan's are taxed to accommodate the laughter loving crowds that go to see this funny lady act. Have you ever heard May Irwin sing that famous song, "The Foolish Frog?" Miss Irwin is warbling it this week. Next week she will introduce "The New Bully." Also next week Miss Irwin will offer a double bill, presenting, in conjunction with "Widow by Proxy," "Mrs. Peckham's Carouse," a one act farce that is a positive scream in every line.

When H. H. Frazee's new Longacre theatre is formally opened on Monday evening, April 28, it will be found to represent the most complete structure in modern theatre construction that it has been possible for the architect and contractor to erect. From the viewpoints of safety, convenience and comfort, this newest of metropolitan playhouses is equipped with more facilities than the building laws require, while in decorative scheme and structural design the general color tones and graceful perspective are rich in the simplicity with which they are treated. Located on Forty-eighth street, just west of Broadway, the Longacre theatre is in the heart of the new theatre district.

GHENT EXPOSITION.

Ghent, April 26.—The Ghent World's Exposition, the biggest affair of the kind ever attempted in Belgium, was opened auspiciously today. The exhibition occupies a large tract of ground within easy access of the city. In all there are more than ten thousand exhibitors, representing the European countries, the United States, several of the South American republics, Japan, Persia, Siam and the British colonies. The largest foreign section is the French, which has a vast space for exhibits, leaving nothing undone to impress the public with the importance and value of France's products. The exhibition devotes particular attention to agriculture and horticulture. During the summer the International Congress of Agriculture will meet in Ghent and at the same time the quinquennial show of the Royal Society of Agriculture and Botany will hold forth at the exposition. Other sections are devoted to elaborate displays of the fine arts, machinery and manufacturers and electrical exhibits. Today the population of Ghent, which is about 175,000, has been more than doubled by the visitors. Enormous crowds filled the exposition grounds. The inauguration was participated in by King Albert, Queen Elizabeth, foreign diplomats from Brussels, Premier de Broqueville and his associates in the ministry, and many other notables.

DON'T BE MISLED.

Plainfield Citizens Should Read and Heed This Advice.

Kidney trouble is dangerous and often fatal.

Don't experiment with something new and untried.

Use a tested kidney remedy.

Begin with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Used in kidney troubles 50 years.

Recommended here and everywhere.

A Plainfield citizen's statement forms convincing proof.

It's local testimony—it can be investigated.

Thomas Haskard, 927 S. Second St., Plainfield, N. J., says: "I never hesitate to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills, for my personal experience with them has shown me their merit. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Randolph's Drug Store, relieved me time and time again when I have been suffering from kidney trouble and I owe a great deal to them. You man continue to publish my testimonial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Advertisement.

AS WALLACK WROTE IT.

Not a single line, not the slightest detail in the stage business of Lester Wallack's famous old drama, "Rosedale," has been altered in the star cast revival of the play now current at the Lyric theatre in New York city. William A. Brady, who directed the production, made himself clear on that point at one of the early rehearsals. He came into the Lyric theatre to find four or five members of his cast—the younger members—in considerable mental anxiety over the reading of some of their lines.

"Why," protested one of them, "here are half a dozen 'asides' in my part. I'm not to pay any attention to them, am I? And who'll cut them out and then connect the speeches when the 'asides' are elminated?"

"No one," replied Mr. Brady. "The 'asides,' the soliloquies, all the inverted sentences, the curiously bombastic lines—every word, every expression, every exclamation, remains precisely as Lester Wallack wrote it and played it. Nothing is to be changed."

Teamsters in Regina, Sask., have organized with a charter number of fifty. The officers have been installed and the union has begun business.

The garment workers in Toronto, Ont., have secured the advance asked for cutters in all except two of the struck shops. Where agreements are signed the men return to work.

COCOANUT DAINTIES.

WHEN cooking with cocoanut get a fresh nut if you can and grate it. Desiccated cocoanut is generally used because it is so much more convenient, but the flavor of the other makes it much more desirable.

Cocoanut Sponge Pudding.—Take two cupfuls of hot milk and pour over one and one-half cupfuls of sponge cake crumbs; then add one cupful of sugar, the beaten yolks of three eggs and one cupful of grated cocoanut. Allow it to stand for one-half hour; then add a grating of nutmeg, a little rosewater and the whites of the eggs beaten to dry froth. Bake in a buttered mold. Serve with wine sauce.

Combined With Fruit.

Cocoanut Fruit Custard.—Any canned or fresh fruit which is convenient may be used for this. Place a portion of the fruit in individual dishes and pour some custard over; then sprinkle with grated or desiccated cocoanut and serve with hard sauce.

To make the sauce take a cupful of confectioner's sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, three drops of lemon juice, a dash of nutmeg and hot water.

Begin to cream the butter with a little of the sugar. Add sugar gradually. This will soon be too stiff. Then add some boiling water. This will melt the sugar and cause it to become quite soft. Beat until a light, soft fluff is formed. Pile lightly on to a fancy dish.

Nut and Tapioca.

Cream Tapioca With Cocoanut.—Take three tablespoonfuls of tapioca and soak for four hours in cold water. Pour off the water and stir it into one quart of boiling milk. Boil for ten minutes and then add the yolks of four eggs well beaten, half of a small cupful of sugar and three large tablespoonfuls of dessicated cocoanut. Stir and boil this for five minutes longer. Pour into a pudding dish. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, adding a very little powdered sugar, and spread over the pudding, sifting a little cocoanut on top. Brown in the oven.

YOU CAN SEE WILD WEST IN PLAINFIELD

Oklahoma Ranch to Be Set up Here Next Tuesday for One Day Only.

The wild Indians of the plains—the genuine blanket-wear, feather-decorated red men of the prairies—are almost a thing of the past. Where they have not been decimated by disease and living under conditions for which their nature unfits them, they have lost their distinctive character through contract with civilization. They have learned to dress like the white man and they have absorbed the white man's ways. The Wild West shows have undoubtedly done a great deal to civilize the Indians. They have brought the Indian in contact with the white man's world by travel and by association; and no matter how aboriginal an Indian may be, a season or two "on the road" will change his character and give him many of the ideas and aspirations of the white man—and sometimes his faults. While this civilizing process is beneficial in the majority of instances, it destroys for the public the romance of the Indian character. The public prefers to see the real Indian, fresh from his wild state on the reservations, and not the Indian whose only claim to being an aborignie is his color and an Indian dress which he may doff after the show. The managers of the Oklahoma Ranch Wild West Show, which exhibits in this city next Tuesday, have, it is announced, made a successful effort to gather together a congress of real, wild Indians—Indians who have never before been identified with an amusement institution, and who are now coming in contact with the white man's civilization for the first time. This, it is evident, serves to give the performance a character for genuineness that is absent from the usual Wild West exhibition. These Indians have been selected from some of the Oklahoma tribes as well as from the reservations of the Northwest. There are splendid specimens of the Sioux, Nez Perces, Pot-Bouille, Flathead, Cheyenne, Apache, Comanche and other tribes. The braves are accompanied by their squaws and pappooses, and the Indian camp, with its tepees, its ponies and its semi-barbaric decorations is one of the most interesting features of camp life on the grounds of the big show. The Indians are utilized in the battle scenes and in the picturesque street parade which takes place at 10:30 on the morning of the exhibition. Col. Zack Mulhall, the famous Oklahoma ranchman, and his no less famous daughters, Lucille and Georgie; thrilling auto polo, and other big features are announced for the show. Reserved seats on sale at Queen City Hotel on day of exhibition.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., April 26.—William H. Taft, former President of the United States and now a professor at the Yale University Law School, will deliver his first lecture at the university Saturday afternoon. His subject will be questions of Modern Government.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt is to make a suffrage speech in the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, Friday evening, the night before the big suffrage parade that is to take place in the metropolis.

Hundreds of Sunday school workers from all parts of the United States will sail from New York Saturday to attend the World's Seventh Sunday School Convention which will be held in Zurich, Switzerland, early in July. Prior to the Zurich convention the American delegates will make a tour of Egypt and the Holy Land.

Many noted men of the nation will gather in St. Louis Wednesday to attend the unveiling of the Jefferson memorial monument on the site of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The exercises of the unveiling will serve as a curtain-raiser for the fourth American Peace Congress, which will begin its sessions in St. Louis Thursday. Representatives of the United States, Canada and England will meet at the congress to discuss arrangements for the celebration in 1914-15 of the 100th anniversary of peace among English-speaking peoples.

Other notable gatherings of the week will include the twentieth annual meeting of the International Kindergarten Union, in Washington, D. C., the Southern Conference of Woman and Child Labor, in Meriden, Miss., and the twentieth annual meeting of the National Council of Women of Canada, which will assemble in Montreal Thursday for a session of eight days.

NEW YORK

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

George Evans and his "Honey Boy" Minstrels will appear at the Plainfield theatre, Monday night, April 28. New in its entirety, this year's production is described as being adequately staged and handsomely embellished in a costumic and scenic way and presenting the diminutive comedian's conception of "idealized minstrealsy." Seated in the usual semi-circle, with Vaughn Comfort presiding as interlocutor, the following minstrel favorites are presented when the curtain rises on the beautiful scenic opening part, "The Floral Bower;" Comedians John King, Sam Lee, Jack Kennedy, Raymond Maxson and Tommy Hyde; Singers James Meehan, Jim Doherty, Joseph Gillespie, Thomas Richards, Carl Byal, Jack Foley, Lew Weed and John Alexander. Heart-touching melodies of former days and popular songs of the present are rendered during this division, which is brought to a slap-bang finish with the rendition of the big hit of the Friars' Frolic, led by Tommy Hyde, "I Want to Hear An Irish Band Play on St. Patrick's Day." As in former years the pretentious afterpiece is intended to be the piece de resistance of the production. This year it is called "De Go Lightly Guards' Reception," and its book, lyrics and music are from the versatile "Honey Boy." Evans in his favorite characterization of a roustabout darkey of the levee is given the nom de guerre of "Cicero Didimus Jones." Also as the pseudo "General Woof Woof," he is the instigator of many laugh-procreating situations. The scenes of the afterpiece are laid in Hamtown, Ala. "De Go Lightly Guards" and "The Daughter of the Regiment," the latter rendered by Charles Hilliard, the refined and artistic delineator of womankind, both melodies written by the "Honey Boy," are its song hits. "Seminary Days," a novel song and dance creation by James E. Gorman, stage manager for all Cohan and Harris productions, is the second part. Besides introducing John King, the incomparable wench personator, and Sam Lee, the simulator of a "no account niggah," it furnishes opportunity for the giving of a clever saltatorial exhibition by the contingent of dancers with the show. The members of the company are presented in the roles of dusky belles, and sportive beaux in this beautiful moonlight picture of a girls' seminary in the Southland. Evans' monologue, which shows him in his happiest vein, and a clever terpsichorean exhibition by Tommy Hyde feature the olio.

Milwaukee's club for working girls will charge $3.50 to $4.50 a week for three meals a day, the use of a splendid laundry, wide lawn, large screened porches, parlors and comfortable sleeping rooms.

Printers in Fort Arthur and Fort William are out after an increase of wages. The employers in the two cities are advertising for printers and this is believed to indicate that they expect to resist the demand.

PROPOSALS FOR COAL.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, N. J., at a meeting held April 7, 1913, notice is hereby given that the Board of Education will meet on Wednesday, April 23, 1913, at 8 p. m., at the Board room in the High School building, corner Ninth Street and Arlington avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Board of Education will receive sealed proposals for furnishing eight hundred tons (more or less) of the best anthracite coal for steaming and hot-air purposes; in the different sizes. The quantity required of each size can be obtained at the office of the Secretary of the Board, High School building, Ninth street and Arlington avenue.

Parties bidding will be required to specify in their bids the name of the coal and shippers of same.

All coal to be thoroughly screened over a sieve fine enough to take out all dust and small particles of coal, and to be prepared acceptable to the Committee on Fuel, or their agent or representative.

All coal to be placed in the coal bins within the public school buildings without any extra expense to the Board for handling or trimming the coal in the bins, and to be delivered at such time as the Board may direct.

Bids to specify whether long or short tons.

Payment for all coal contracted for to be made after July 1, 1913.

All proposals to be endorsed "Proposals for Coal," and addressed to the Secretary of the Board.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Board will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided such parties or their agents choose to be then and there present; and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Board.

No bids will be received until the day and hour above named, and none thereafter.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

For the Board of Education.

SHERIFF WRIGHT HAS JURY PLAN

Union County's Shrievalty Office Will Have Chance to Explain it to Governor.

BASED ON POPULATIONS

Worked Out on Mathematical Basis Grand Jury Representation Would Give Plainfield 21—Same Basis for Petit Jury.

Sheriff W. H. Wright, of Union county, has arranged through L. Edward Hermann, secretary to Governor Fielder, for an interview with the Governor before the special session of the Legislature convenes on May 6, concerning a jury measure, which may be incorporated in coming legislation.

Under Wright's plan it will be mandatory upon a jury commission appointed by the Supreme Court justices to have every municipality in a county represented in the jury list, according to population. The figures for this county show that placing one name in the box for every thousand or fraction of population of each municipality, there would be a list of 150 from which to draw the Grand Jury. On the ratio of three to every thousand or fraction of population there would be a list of 450 from which to draw the petit juries.

As worked out on a mathematical basis the Grand Jury representation for Union county would be as follows: Clark township, 1; Cranford, 4; Elizabeth, 74; Fanwood, 3; Garwood, 2; Kenilworth, 1; Linden, 1; Linden borough, 2; Mountainside, 1; New Providence, 1; New Providence township, 1; Plainfield, 21; Rahway, 10; Roselle, 3; Roselle Park, 4; Springfield, 2; Summit, 8; Union, 4; Westfield, 7; total, 150. The same basis would be used for petit juries except that three times the number of names would be placed in the box from each municipality.

The jury list, under Mr. Wright's plan, would be published in two county papers thirty days prior to the date on which the juries would be drawn at the beginning of a court term. A duplicate list would be given the judge of the Court of Common Pleas and he could make the erasures he saw fit.

None of the jury reform bills introduced at the present session of the Legislature divides the representation on the grand and petit juries as proposed by Sheriff Wright. While it may happen that all the grand jurors, under Mr. Wright's plan, may come from one or two municipalities, the chances are very remote, and the possibility of packing a jury is reduced to a minimum, it is held.

MONDAY AFTERNOON CLUB ELECTION NEXT WEEK

Officers of the Monday Afternoon Club will be elected at a meeting to be held Monday, May 5, in Hartridge Auditorium.

Mrs. Frank Whitney French, chairman of the arrangement committee, who had charge of the sale of tickets contributed largely toward making the celebration of the twenty-fifth anversary of the club last Tuesday, a successful one. Mrs. Henry D. Hibbard had charge of the table decorations. Mrs. Deuse Van Vliet arranged the artistic array of apple blossoms and wild flowers about the room where the luncheon was served and the English garden scene on the stage was made possible through the efforts of Mrs. DeWitt C. Hubbell, Mrs. Henry Haws and Mrs. Henry C. White. Miss Josephine Rosan had the printing of the menus in charge and the elaborate repast served was arranged by Mrs. William A. Connor.

ATTENDED CHURCH SERVICE.

Thirty members of Trafalgar Lodge, Sons of St. George, attended service at Hope Chapel last night, where a special sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. Frederick L. Greene, for their benefit. Mr. Greene took for his text, "For we are workers together with God," and pointed out that whatever good is accomplished through the possession of high ideals is the direct result of the recognition of the laws of God. The preacher spoke of the law as applicable to every-day life, not only spiritual but commercial, social and political.

"CREATION" NUMBERS HEARD AT A RECITAL

Crescent Avenue Church Quartet Choir Gives a Superb Musical Program.

The quartet choir of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, under the direction of Dr. E. Mettler Davis, organist and choirmaster, gave its last special musical service at the church yesterday afternoon, the program including selections from Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation," following an organ recital at 4:45 o'clock. The work of the quartet was of the usual high order and the service was greatly enjoyed by an unusually large congregation.

This services marked the last appearance of Gwilym Miles, baritone. In the oratorio there is no solo part for contralto and Miss Grace J. Carroll was given no opportunity for solo work, singing only in the chorus parts.

The following numbers were given in a pleasing way: Soprano solo, "With Verdure Clad;" tenor solo, "In Native Worth;" baritone solo, "Rolling in Foaming Billows;" trio, "How Many Are Thy Works O God;" chorus, "The Heavens Are Telling;" chorus, "And the Spirit of God Moved Upon the Face of the Waters."

The quartet was composed of Miss Lillian Vernon Watt, soprano; Miss Grace J. Carroll, contralto; James H. Richards, tenor; Gwilym Miles, baritone. Beginning next Sunday two new voices will be heard in the quartet, William Haskell, tenor, of Yonkers, N. Y., and Graham Reed, baritone, formerly soloist of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York. Miss Watt and Miss Carroll will continue another year.

IT WILL BE THE BOYS' DAY TOMORROW, WILD WEST HERE

Prince Lucca, whose cleverness as a horseman is in keeping with his reputation as one of the most intrepid of the Czar's Cossack fighters, will head the company of wild Cossack riders which the management of the Oklahoma Ranch Wild West will offer to the public during the exhibitions in Plainfield tomorrow. Strictly speaking, the Cossacks are not a Wild West feature. They might more appropriately be called a feature of the Wild East. They are introduced in the performance, however, for the purpose of giving the audience an idea of the method of riding in vogue in the Russian Steppes as compared with the method common to the American cowboy, the riders of Mexico and the wild horsemen of the Indian reservations. The contrast is said to be most interesting, as each of these nationalities has a distinct method in handling a wild horse.

An unusual performance is promised for the big show. There will be a genuine round-up, in which a big company of cowboys will illustrate the method of roping cattle on the ranch and "breaking" outlaw horses. There will be an exhibition of fancy shooting by the Kearneys, famous crack shots. Homer Wilson, the noted lariat expert, will give an exhibition of roping that is said to be without a parallel. May Holmes will show the approved method of roping from the standpoint of the cowgirl. Otto Kline, one of the champions of the Calgary Stampede, will give an exhibition of fancy riding. So will Lucille and Georgie Mulhall, the two famous Oklahoma girls whose feats of roping, shooting and riding have made them famous around the world. The great company of cowboys, scouts and old plainsmen, who repulse the Indians in their attack upon a pioneers' camp, is headed by Col. Zack Mulhall, famous rancher and all around Wild West celebrity. Mexicans will attack the stage coach, and noted bull-fighters will illustrate the sensational character of this peculiar Spanish sport without its unpleasant features. The latest sensation, auto polo, is offered as a special attraction.

There will be performances at 2:15 and 8:15, preseded at 10:30 in the morning by a spectacular street parade. Reserved seats on sale at Queen City Hotel on day of exhibition.

P. C. C. DINNER-DANCES.

The Plainfield Country Club will inaugurate its dinner-dances on Saturday, May 3, the day of the opening of the golf season, and continue them at least until July, to be resumed after the mid-summer season. It is planned to hold throughout the season a number of informal phonograph dances on mid-week evenings when the clubhouse is not in use for dinners or private functions. Due notice will be given of these dances. They will begin at 8:15 and continue until 10:15 o'clock. These informal mid-week dances will be for members only and out of town guests. Residents of Plainfield who are not members cannot be invited.

FORMER STUDENTS TO HOLD A REUNION

Centenary Collegiate Institute Grads to Gather at Hotel Astor on May 10.

Invitations have been issued for a reception and reunion of former students of the Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown, to be held at the Hotel Astor, New York city, Saturday afternoon, May 10, from 2 to 5 o'clock. There is considerable local interest in the affair for the reason that there are a large number of graduates of the institution residing in this city, a majority of whom will probably plan to attend.

The gathering is to be purely social in its character; the only business being the election of officers of the alumni association. The sum of $1 will be charged to cover necessary expenses, including buffet collation and music. Graduates are privileged to invite a guest at this rate.

John R. Evans, of this city, is treasurer of the reunion committee, and Miss Bertha H. Whitney, of this city, is also a member of the committee. It is expected that there will be about three hundred guests and a jolly time is being planned for by the committee.

Another fact that makes this affair of special interest is that Rev. Dr. George H. Whitney, of this city, was president of Centenary Collegiate Institute for twenty-one years. He has since been the president-emeritus. Many persons of prominence have been graduated from the well-known Methodist institution, including Dr. Eugene Noble, president of Dickinson College; Rev. Dr. George Eckman, editor of the Christian Advocate and Bishop Henderson. Nearly all of the leading members of the Newark conference were former students. Among the Plainfield graduates are Francis Crawford, Rev. William C. O'Donnell, Miss Florence Burt, John R. Evans, Mrs. Harry Terry, Mrs. H. H. Pond, H. K. Tetsuka, Miss Bertha Whitney, Miss Frances Rittenhouse, Miss May Vincent Whitney, Mrs. Martin B. Stutsman, Lucius T. Koons, Harold Whitney, Dr. Irwin Darnell, Ralph Bingaman, Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson and James W. Jackson, the last two named being trustees of the institution.

Dr. Whitney in speaking of some of the interesting incidents when he was president of the institution at Hackettstown, recalled today that his first two students were brothers of the name of Carter, sons of a former collegemate of his, who are brothers of Mrs. Hughes, wife of United States Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Hughes.

JEFFERSON SCHOOL PUPILS' FIRST DANCE

Under the auspices of the eighth grade of the Jefferson School, of which Miss Trenbath is the teacher, an entertainment and dance was given at the school Saturday evening. It was the first affair of the kind held in this school and was a success. It was arranged for the members of the class and their parents, while each pupil was privileged to invite one friend.

During the early part of the evening H. W. Rankin entertained the guests with sleight-of-hand tricks, and the rest of the time was devoted to dancing, music being furnished by some of the teachers, as well as on the piano-player. Miss Trenbath was assisted by other teachers of the Jefferson and Irving schools and by Miss Anna Booream, supervisor of the Jefferson School. Miss Genevieve Petrie, principal of the two schools, was present to meet the children and their parents. Lemonade and cake were served during the evening.

TONIGHT'S MEETING.

Public spirited citizens will turn out tonight, rain or shine, to hear the distinguished tuberculosis specialists from New York. The High School is the place and 8 o'clock is the hour. Every member of the Anti-Tuberculosis League with many other good citizens will be the audience. On Friday, May 2, the Open Air School of the league at Muhlenberg place will be open for inspection from 4 to 6 o'clock. One may learn tonight and on Friday may witness its good works.

15 STRIKEOUTS FOR DIXON.

Pitching for the West End A. C. at Perth Amboy yesterday afternoon against the Oak Field Club, of that place, young Dixon, of this city, scored fifteen strikeouts. The final score was 11 to 5 in favor of the Plainfielders. Lou Dixon, the Dunellen backstop, caught the game for his younger brother.

PRESENT YOUR BILLS.

All bills against the city must be in the hands of City Clerk J. T. MacMurray by tomorrow night to insure payment at the May meeting of the Common Council.

MADAME HOMER WILL SING HERE ON MAY 13

One of the notable musical events of the spring season will be the appearance of Madame Louise Homer, contralto, at the Plainfield theatre, on Tuesday evening, May 13, under the auspices of the Charity Circle of The King's Daughters. Madame Homer is considered one of the first American contraltos now appearing in opera and one of the great lyric artists of the world, and at the earnest solicitation of friends has once more consented to appear in concerts this season. Her reappearance at the Metropolitan Opera House the past season was said to be one of the notable triumphs of the contralto's brilliant career. Her program in this city will be a popular one. Tickets will be on sale at the Plainfield theatre on and after Monday, May 5.

PRINTERS UP AGAINST PRES'T WILSON'S PLAN

The New Jersey State Printers' League at its meeting in Perth Amboy yesterday representing 18,000 printers in New Jersey, went on record condemning any attempt to foist judge-made juries on the people without at least a referendum and unanimously resolved that it was the sense of the league that "the labor organizations and wage-earners generally throughout the State make the voice of labor heard at Trenton at the extra session to compel Senators who defeated the bill at the regular session to vote for a popular convention representative of the whole people.

Winferd C. Cram and Harry W. Thomas, of the local typographical union, were among the large number of delegates at the meeting. Delegate Walker, of the Perth Amboy local, was chairman. Mayor Garrison, of Perth Amboy, welcomed the delegates and gave them the freedom of the city, remarking: "When the printers come we throw the keys of the town away so that it can't be locked."

MARTINE TO ASK FOR PROBE INTO THE MINT

Washington, D. C., April 28.—In the belief that scandals exist in the conduct of the United States Mint at Philadelphia, based upon information he has received, Senator James E. Martine will offer a resolution in the Senate today calling for the appointment of a committee of five Senators to make an investigation.

For some weeks Senator Martine has been receiving statements, of a more of less sensational character, regarding conditions at the mint, and these have so grown as to seem to demand an official investigation to determine their veracity and the extent to which officials may be blameable. On the nature of some of the charges and the names of those who make them Senator Martine is disposed to be silent for the present. It is known that some of the charges relate to the reported retention in office of subordinates who are said to have been found guilty of petty thefts.

It is the intention of Senator Martine to have the scandals, of whatever nature, thoroughly probed, and with that end in view, he will state to the Senate today that he has information from most trustworthy sources concerning conditions in the mint, and will offer his resolution.

SCUTARI EVACUATED BY MONTENEGRINS?

Austria Prepares to Take City While Prince Danilo Marches Nortward.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Vienna, April 28.—Crown Prince Danilo, of Montenegro, and his troops have marched out of Scutari toward the north, according to official dispatches here today. Government circles in Vienna regard the movement of troops at tantamount to the evacuation of the fortress.

London, April 28.—Threatened with an invasion by Austria supported by the powers, Montenegro still refuses to yield. Mr. Popovitch, the Montenegro plenipotentiary to London, today handed in the reply of his country to the representatives of England and the continental powers that Scutari be given up. This reply, which was formally tendered to the Ambassadors at the foreign office, protests against coercion and requests that the powers again examine the question before presenting a last ultimatum. Montenegro, despite its size, desires to be placed on an equal footing with the other members of the Balkan league, says the communication.

Vienna, April 28.—Arch-Duke Franz Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, held a long conference with Emperor Francis Joseph following a special meeting of the cabinet. Afterwards, it was announced that unless the ambassadorial high court, which is sitting in the foreign office in London, decided upon definite and energetic action at once, Austria will take independent steps to enforce the decision of the powers, that Montenegro must not possess Scutari.

REPORTED MURDER WAS ONLY STREET FIGHT

The local police department was stirred to unusual activity last night, when Chief Kiely received a telephone call from the home of Joseph Brandt, of Rock avenue, to the effect that a man had been murdered in a fight and his body was lying in McDowell street. When Chief Kiely, City Physician Currie and a squad of patrolmen arrived on the scene of the supposed murder they found Matthew Ward, 18 years old, of Bergen street, with blood running from a severe scalp wound. He was being supported by two men, and had just recovered his senses.

According to the police, Ward, with several companions, who have been arrested several times for raising disturbances in the West End, became engaged in a quarrel with several Polish people who were coming from a party in Dunellen. A fight is said to have taken place in that town near the boundary line. Ward asserts he was walking along the street with his friends when they were set upon by the Poles. He was struck over the head with a blunt instrument and deserted by both friend and foe, when he fell unconscious to the ground, so he says.

WARN THE PRESIDENT.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, April 28.—Senator Newlands, of Nevada, gave out a statement today regarding the coming conference between President Wilson and the Democratic Senators from the Pacific coast and intermountain States, the substance of which was that the loss of four United States Senators from that region would cripple the Democratic administration and therefore it behooves the President and the party not to legislate in the tariff bill so as to injure the products of mines, forests and fields of those States.

ENVOY OF JAPAN.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

London, April 28.—A despatch from Tokio says that Parliament today decided to send Ehara Soroku, a member of the House of Lords, to Sacramento as a representative of the Government. The Japanese Foreign Office, according to the message, was instructed to communicate with the United States Government, and also the California authorities to ascertain whether Sorokus' proposed visit would be received in a friendly manner. The special envoy plans to leave about May 10.

MORRIS ABRAMS WILL APPEAL.

Morris Abrams, the local shoe merchant, who also conducts a shoe store in New Brunswick, will appear before the State Board for the Equalization of Taxes at New Brunswick, Thursday morning, at 11 o'clock, when he will make an appeal for a reduction of assessment on his property in New Brunswick. He will be represented by Attorney Walter D. Van Sickle, of New Brunswick.

Captain Charles A. Peterson, of Company K, has moved from 144 East Fourth street to 1332 George street.

JOHN GRIESEL DIES WHILE VISITING HERE

New York Broker Suffered Fatal Attack of Heart Trouble While Bathing.

John H. Griesel, aged about 50 years, of New York, died suddenly of heart trouble yesterday morning at the home of his brother-in-law, Wilbur H. Rogers, of 990 Central avenue, where he and Mrs. Griesel were making a short visit. Mr. Griesel was stricken in the bath-tub, where he was found by his wife.

Dr. Harold D. Corbusier was summoned, but Mr. Griesel was dead before he arrived. Dr. F. W. Westcott, the county physician, pronounced death to heart trouble, after which he gave permission to remove the body to Mr. Griesel's late home on 70th street, New York, where the funeral service will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Griesel was a partner of Mr. Rogers under the firm name of Griesel & Rogers, being engaged in the stock brokerage business in New York. He was a member of the New York Stock Exchange, and he testified before the Pujo committee as a loan broker in its recent investigations. He was a member of the New York Athletic Club. His wife was Nellie H. Rogers, sister of Wilbur H. Rogers.

SALVATION ARMY OFFICERS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Col. W. F. Jenkins, accompanied by Adjutant William Barrett, Captain Robert Young, Captain Frank Fowler and Envoy Howard Margetts, of the Salvation Army, had charge of the service at the First Baptist church, last night. The program consisted of an address by Col. Jenkins, remarks by Captain Young, and vocal and instrumental music by the quartet. Adjutant Jackson, of this city, also gave a short talk. The quartet sang several selections and also played on brass instruments.

Col. Jenkins read the story of the Prodigal Son and gave a short Gospel talk. The offering was given to the Salvation Army according to the annual custom. Adjutant Wall, who is in charge of the local corps, was unable to be present, owing to the fact that he has been ill with rheumatism for several months. Mrs. Wall is in charge of the work during his illness.

MISS TOWNLEY'S ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED AT A PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Townley announced the engagement of their daughter, Bertrude, to Henri Porlier, of Newark, at a party given at their home on Grandview avenue, Saturday evening. The time was spent playing cards and violin and piano selections were given by Harold Welch and Miss Ethel Manchester. The announcement was made at the supper table, which was attractively decorated with roses, the color scheme being pink.

The guests were the Misses Mildred Thomas, Emma Regan, Jessica Herring, Alma Angevine, Ethel Manchester, Bess Wyckoff, Marion Englehart, Mabel and Bertrude Townley, and Edward Kuenstler, Harold Welch, Walter Brant, Frank Thomas, Joe Regan, Henry Perkins and Henri Porlier.

FLOWERS- GREEN.

Miss Cora Flowers, daughter of Mrs. Christiana Flowers, and Edward Green, colored, both of this city, were married Saturday evening at the home of John Scruggs, 224 West Fourth street, by Rev. P. W. Ross, of Westfield, who is now pastor of the Second Baptist church, of Perth Amboy. Following the ceremony a reception was held. The couple will reside in this city. The bride formerly lived in Buckingham county, Virginia.

BURGLARY FOILED.

A would be burglar, evidently an amateur, was foiled in his attempt to loot the home of Walter Crowley, of 144 Central avenue, shortly before 10 o'clock last night, when he knocked over a chair as he climbed through a rear window which he had forced open. The noise aroused Mr. Crowley, who ran from his bedroom to the kitchen just in time to see the intruder make a hurried exit through the opening he had entered. Mr. Crowley described the man to the police as being short and stockily built.

HIS WORKS SHOWN.

MET HIS DEATH ON R. R. TRACKS

William Horner, Aged 65 Yrs., Dodged One Engine to Be Killed by Another.

STRUCK BY A FLYER

Wife and Two Sons Survive Him—The Funeral Services to Be Held on Wednesday Afternoon at His Home on East Fifth Street.

Stepping aside to allow a westbound train pass, while he was walking along the tracks of the Central Railroad near Rock avenue, shortly before noon yesterday, William Horner, 65 years old, of 432 East Fifth street, was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio flyer traveling in the opposite direction and was instantly killed. The engineer of the latter train stopped his engine and the mangled body of the victim was placed on the pusher engine and taken to the North Avenue station. A physician, riding in one of the passenger coaches, examined the body, but life was extinct. The remains were taken to Cole's undertaking rooms, where they were viewed by County Physician F. W. Westcott, who issued a burial permit.

Mr Horner was on his way to a friends' house in Rock avenue when the accident occurred. He is survived by his widow and a son, Clarence Horner, of this city; a son by a former wife, who is now living in Philadelphia; his mother, also of Philadelphia, and a brother and sister living in Delaware.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at his late home. Rev. Dr. Charles M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Hillside cemetery, where Freedom Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, of which Mr. Horner was a member, will hold a short service.

YOUNG MORAN BECOMES A WIRELESS OPERATOR

Completing the course of study provided at the Marconi School of Wireless Telegraphy in New York city in the remarkably short time of three weeks, Leon Moran, of North Plainfield, successfully passed the examinations for wireless operator at the Brookyln Navy Yard, Saturday morning. He was the one of the six out of a large field of applicants who qualified in the tests and came out with honors, gaining a rank of first grade. He was engaged by the Marconi Company to take charge of a wireless station in San Francisco and signed an eight months' contract this morning. Moran, who is but eighteen years of age, will leave at once to take up his new duties which are understood to consist of dispatching signals to boats belonging to the Southern Pacific Railroad.

The young operator came into prominence some weeks ago when he saved the life of William Trickstun, a fellow wireless experimenter, when the later was knocked unconscious when the receiver he was handling short-circuited. But for the prompt action of Moran, who shut off the power, Thickstun would have been killed.

THEY RAISED $400 FOR MISSIONS AT CONVENTION

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Society three days' convention at the German Reformed church, Craig place and Duer street, came to a close yesterday afternoon, following inspiring services, during which a collection amounting to over $400 was taken for home and foreign missions. Rev. Dr. A. B. Simpson, of Nyack, N. Y., president of the society, was the principal speaker at yesterday's session. His address was preceded by a song service.

The series of meetings were well attended each day. Among those who spoke in the cause were Rev. and Mrs. Philip Hinkey, who recently returned from the mission fields of China; Rev. G. J. Brown, of Philadelphia; Rev. J. Francis, of Jersey City, and Rev. W. W. Newbury, of Newark.

Former Councilman Charles Berkheiser is still missing. As far as can be ascertained he has written to none of his relatives or friends in this locality. The search for him is still being continued, however.

These men were elected officers of the New Market Building and Loan Association at a recent meeting: President, J. M. Evans; vice president, Percival Vail; treasurer, C. E. Kelley; secretary, C. M. Kelley; auditor, William Fitz Randolph; directors, Judge Rene P. F. von Minden, F. A. Lauterbach and F. P. Vail.

Members of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Whittier School will hold a special meeting tomorrow night.

Members of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, and St. Mary's church, Plainfield, will be the guests of members of the same society of St. John's church, tomorrow night, when the second game of the euchre tournament will be played. The Dunellenites are at present leading.

A concert will be given tomorrow night in the First Baptist church for the benefit of the choir fund.

The proposition of having a new borough of Middlesex will be voted upon Tuesday, May 6, at a special election called for this purpose to be held in the Beechwood Heights fire house. The polls will be open from 6 in the morning until 6 at night.

Among the players of the Dunellen baseball team out Saturday for practise were Warry McLaughlin, Lou Dixon, Norman Barnes, Brit Martin, William Coyle, Harry Giddes, Adam Schott, Lindbloom and Wolfe.

The Parish House "regulars" cavorted about the baseball diamond Saturday afternoon under the direction of Instructor Batterson, who is trying to mould a first-class aggregation from the limited talent on hand.

The local bowling tournament will continue tonight on the Parish House alleys. Walsh and Weldon are now leading, closely followed by Fred Hand. That the main prizes will be captured by those enjoying the liberal handicaps seems assured, as to date, the scratch men have come far from nearing the scores of their opponents. It is the opinion of many that William I. Guest, chairman of the Parish House Bowling committee, has assigned considerably larger handicaps than he should to make competition keen.

John Coles, of Park avenue, is steadily improving from his recent illness.

Miss Helen Southard, of Cook avenue, is entertaining Miss Emma Roth, of Brooklyn.

Miss Anna Goodman, of Stanberry avenue, is entertaining out of town friends.

The Holy Name Societies of Union county held a meeting yesterday in the Stoney Hill Catholic church.

INVESTIGATING MINER'S DEATH

New Brunswick, April 26.—Detectives connected with the office of Prosecutor George Silzer are investigating the death of Charles H. Miner, whose body was found in the Raritan River. The missing watch was found at his home. Upon embalming the body it was found the man had suffered a stroke of paralysis and this may have affected his brain and caused him to end his life. The marks on the face probably came from the body striking stones in the bottom of the river.

Following a dispute at the Columbia Rope Company's mills at Halifax, N. S., some 1,100 rope workers of that city are on strike. One of the largest cordage concerns in the country has just closed down indefinitely.

Quick Heat

SQUARE POT BOILERS develop full heating capacity in a few moments and are rightfully called "quick heaters." The reason can be seen by a glance at the sectional view herewith. Interior surfaces in SQUARE POT BOILERS are brought low, in direct contact with the fire, and also trend sharply upward, thus providing instantaneous water heating and lively circulation. The result is a free-steaming boiler that gives quick and satisfactory house heating.

SQUARE POT BOILERS are economical of coal, require little attention and are easily regulated for either mild or severe weather. Call on the nearest dealer for a full demonstration.

FACTS AND COMMENT ON NEW YORK NEWS

New York, April 28.—Police Commissioner Waldo is considering a plan for improving the identification methods of the police department, which was recently suggested to him in a letter. The writer suggested to abandon the present method of taking front and side views of the features of crooks and other criminals for the rogues gallery record and to instal a moving picture camera for the purpose of obtaining a more complete picture record showing not only the features but also peculiarities of expression and motion of the criminals. It is believed that five feet of film, costing about 70 cents, would suffice for each lawbreaker. Some of the police officials are favorably impressed with the plan and it is quite possible that it will be given a trial.

The opening of the trials of the four ex-Inspectors of Police who were indicted a short time ago for conspiracy to "obstruct justice" in keeping George A. Sipp, an important witness against Policeman Eugene Fox, one of the alleged police grafters, out of the State, has been set for next Monday and it is expected that the testimony to be introduced by the District Attorney will be full of sensational interest. However, the people of New York have grown so accustomed to these everlasting stories of police grafting that the evidence wil have to be unusually startling to cause more than a mere ripple of public interest.

In the meantime the burglars and other crooks gathered in this city in large numbers, continue to follow their profession unconcernedly and with remarkable success. Almost daily some of the elegant residences in the most exclusive section of the city are visited by daylight burglars in their professional capacity and the aggregate value of the jewelry and other valuables stolen is estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars. Pawnshops also receive considerable attention from burglars just now and more than a dozen of pawnshops in various parts of the city have been visited and "cleaned out" by burglars during the last two months.

For the first time in his career as public official Magistrate Levy was called upon to perform a marriage ceremony the other day. Although somewhat embarrassed, the magistrate went through the ceremony and after it was all over he congratulated himself upon the neatness with which he had officiated at his first marriage ceremony. There was a rather peculiar expression upon the faces of the principals and of the witnesses which led the inexperienced magistrate to inquire whether there had been anything amiss at the function. He learned that in his confusion he had pledged the bridegroom to love, honor and "obey" his 19-year-old bride and that the groom, under the strain of the occasion had given his promise. "Well," said the Magistrate philosophically, "he'll have to obey her anyhow, so why shouldn't he promise it?"

A few weeks ago Harry M. Graves, of Chicago, an intelligent and well educated man, but hopelessly crippled in his legs, caused considerable sensation by publicly threatening to commit suicide should he not succeed in finding employment in this city. Graves came to New York with his wife about nine months ago and tried to find employment, but although he applied to scores of employers asking for help in the advertising columns of the newspapers, not one of them was willing to employ the cripple. When Graves made his public appeal a few weeks ago, his sad case was written up in the newspapers. Since then several persons sent money to Graves, which he promptly returned but his appeal for work remained unanswered. It is true, several jobs were offered to Graves, but owing to their nature he could not accept them in his crippled condition. One of the Y. M. C. A. branches offered him a position as errand boy for $8 a week, which seems almost like a mighty poor joke in view of the fact that it was clearly stated in the newspapers at the time that Graves found it difficult to move about even with the aid of crutches.

Shylock would have appreciated the quandry in which Samuel Cohen, a tailor in Brooklyn found himself the other day. Cohen had done some work for another tailor, Louis Brucker and when the latter failed to pay him the $15 which he had agreed to pay for the work, Cohen sued him and obtained a judgment for the amount. Drucker was put in jail and would probably have remained there for fifteen days had it not been for his wife. Mrs. Drucker, accompanied by her eight children, invaded Mr. Cohen's house and having informed him that, as he had deprived her of her husband, he might as well deprive her of her children also, she departed, leaving the howling eight children with Cohen and his wife. One day Cohen endured the visitation, then he decided to give up the fight. Not only did he abandon his claim for the $15 against Drucker, but he gladly paid the costs and charges amounting to more than $5 to get Drucker out of jail and restore him to his family.

The militant and also the merely obstrusive suffragettes never overlook any opportunity to make propanganda for their cause and more man finds it almost impossible to escape the annoyance of suffrage speeches and demonstrations sandwiched into theatrical and even charitable entertainments. The other day there was an entertainment for the benefit of the Volunteer Fresh Air Fund and French Day Nursery and the Century theatre was packed. One of the numbers on the program was a suffrage address by Mrs. James Lee Laidlaw. When the time for her address arrived, nearly all unattached or only semi-attached men in the audience rose, as if upon a preconcerted signal, and marched out of the theatre, while the suffragettes hissed and in other ways showed their displeasure. The men did not return until after Mrs. Laidlaw had finished her harangue.

The Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance the other day, requiring that all city employes must be citizens and residents of the State of New York. This ordinance, which, however, has not yet been approved by the Mayor, is aimed at a large number of prominent officials in the employ of various municipal departments, who draw large salaries and fees but do not live in New York, but spend their money in New Jersey or elsewhere.

IN JEFFERSON'S HONOR.

Elaborate ceremonies on Wednesday will mark the dedication of the magnificant memorial to Thomas Jefferson at St. Louis, Missouri. The monument, in fact, is a tribute not only to the memory of the third President of the United States for it is intended as well to commemorate the acquisition of the vast Louisiana territory by Jefferson, and singularly enough the celebration will take place on the 110th anniversary of that great event.

The cost of this memorial has been met by the use of a $500,000 surplus remaining from the Louisiana Exposition in St. Louis in 1904. The memorial, which stands in Forest Park, is in the form of a huge hall and is about 300 feet long and seventy-five feet wide. It will be used to house relics, interesting from an historical standpoint, of Thomas Jefferson, of the Louisiana purchase and of the Louisiana purchase exposition.

Under an immense arch, the full height of the building, stands an heroic statue of Jefferson. The arch is seventy feet deep, with a rotunda or dome sixty feet in diameter. The dome is artistically decorated with emblems of the Nation and State. To the east and west of the open arch extend the wings of the building. The facade of the wings is fronted by immense pillars of stone. The exterior of the structure is of stone, while the interior is of concrete and marble. The most striking artistic features of the memorial aside from the statue, are four poised eagles which stand on the four corners above the arch covering the Jefferson statue. The eagles are five feet high and were designed by Karl Bitter.

The statue of Jefferson, occupying the center of the rotunda, is of masterful lines and overpowering size. The work of the sculptor shows the statesman seated in a massive chair, which stands on pedestal ten feet in height. The seated figure is nine feet high, giving the monument a height of nineteen feet. The statue, like the eagles, is the work of Karl Bitter. The main floor of the two wings of the building is divided into four large exhibit halls, several offices, and the Jefferson hall and anterooms. Jefferson hall, in which will be hung portraits of historic persons of the Louisiana purchase and paintings of notable places in the Louisiana territory, occupies the west wing. In the east wing will be the largest of the exhibit rooms, a museum of historical relics.

Another feature will be the historical library, which will include not only books but thousands of manuscripts and letters bearing upon the history of the Louisiana territory. The collection of manuscripts goes back to the French and Spanish sovereignty of the territory. The Indian collection also is large including more than 30,000 specimens. Among the most notable of the Jefferson relics which will find a place in the museum is the sun dial which Thomas Jefferson made and used at his home in Virginia. Bitter's celebrated "Signing of the Treaty" will have a conspicuous place under the arch. This work of sculpture represents Monroe, Marbois and Livingston putting their signatures to the Louisiana purchase treaty, April 30, 1803. Within the arch have been placed tablets of bronze bearing inscriptions relating to the history of the Louisiana purchase. The building is fireproof throughout. The walls and stairs are of stone and marble, the window frames of steel and the doors of bronze. All of the tables, book stacks, exhibition cases and other interior furnishings are of metal.

Postmaster General Burleson announces that no applications for postmasterships will be received unless they are accompanied by written pledges of applicants, endorsed by congressmen, that they will devote their whole time to their duties. It seems that postmasters as a rule do not take their responsibilities as seriously as does our efficient Elias H. Bird, who is always on the job.

Montclair has done about as well as Plainfield in its popular subscription campaign for Mountainside hospital ,having raised $225,000. But the people over there are not satisfied. They intend to renew their struggle in the fall in an effort to bring the total up to $300,000.

There should be a large attendance at the Anti-Tuberculosis Society mass meeting at the Plainfield High School tonight, for the matters to be discussed are of vital interest to this or any other community.

England objects to free tolls at the Panama Canal and Japan is opposed to the California land bill. Yes, William Jennings Bryan is a busy man these days.

THE FORUM.

"THE SUN DO MOVE."

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

L. V. F. Randolph gives as a chief reason for his opposition to the commission plan of government that the present system has been in operation for one hundred years. The answer to that is the assemblies have been electing United States Senators one hundred years, but the people are going to do it in 1915. The moral is obvious. The expense of the election to enable the people of Plainfield to decide whether or not they want commission government is public expense and it is for the public to determine it. I hope that the educational campaign on the commission plan will continue until it is generally understood and accepted.

PERSIAN GULF SPRINGS.

Fresh Water That Bubbles Up From the Bed of the Ocean.

Bahrein island, in the Persian gulf, is said to be the hottest place on earth. It is usual there to find the thermometer at 140 degrees F. On the coast of this island, where practically all the people live, there is no fresh water, which is needed above all things in so high a temperature. And it is to be had from the bottom of the sea. Here and there scattered over the floor of the harbor of Bahrein are springs of pure fresh water, which wells up through the sand to mingle with the salt water of the sea.

It seems a difficult task to find these threads of fresh water amid the ocean's volume, but the islanders are thought to have found them ages ago and to have passed on their location from generation to generation. A diver equips himself with a water bag made of skins, the mouth of which is closed, and descends to the bottom of the harbor at a point where one of the springs issues. The bag is carefully inverted over the current of fresh water as it flows up from the sand, the mouth is opened, the skin is filled, the mouth is closed, and the diver returns to the boat awaiting him on the surface.

One scientist gives it as his belief that at some period in the shadowy past that which is now the harbor's bottom was not covered by the sea. The springs were then on the shore and ready for the islanders' needs. Little by little the sea encroached on the land, but the location of the springs was not forgotten.

An Annoying Speed Limit.

An old man of nearly eighty years walked ten miles from his home to an adjoining town. When he reached his destination he was greeted with some astonishment by an acquaintance.

"You walked all the way?" the latter exclaimed. "How did you get along?"

"Oh, first rate," the old man replied genially—"that is, I did till I came to that sign out there, 'Slow down to fifteen miles an hour.' That kept me back some."—Youth's Companion.

JOHNSON MEETS BRYAN.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Sacramento, Cal., April 28.—Gov. Hiram Johnson met William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State, when he arrived in Sacramento at 6 o'clock this morning. Secretary Bryan entered an automobile with the Governor and was driven to the Executive mansion, where the two breakfasted. "I had a pleasant trip, but have no plans to discuss," was Mr. Bryan's response to questions of newspaper men.

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

By FRANCES MARSHALL

French Desserts That Are Cheap.

One reason why the French are noted as good cooks is that they know how to serve economical foods that are really god to eat. Many French recipes seem complicated; and it seems that the ingredients required would make necessary a pocketbook ide with strings. These recipes are generally formulated by the great French chefs who preside over the kitchens of the fashionable hotels and restaurants of the big cities, where economy is apparently no aim. The recipe books of the French housewife of limited means shows that economy and appetizing food can go hand in hand.

The Use of Cereals.

The French housewife uses cereals, in combination with fruit, for very substantial luncheon desserts. Rice is the cereal she most uses, but hom-y and other breakfast cereals, well oked, and either served hot, or oulded like jelly in small moulds, uld here be substituted for rice.

Fruit prepared in syrup served th cereal is one way to make an onomical French dessert. To do take, for instance, currents. Wash l stem them. Make a syrup of ial parts of granulated sugar and ter boiled together for ten min-s and then cooled. Pour it over currents and chill them on the . At serving time pour the cold rents and the syrup about hot , arranged in a neat mound in center of a glass dish.

f the cereal is served cold, the up can be poured hot on the un-ked fruit and then poured about the moulded cereal.

Any summer fruit can be utilized in this way—berries and peaches being especially delicious.

Fritters.

Fritters are also much used in France for dessert; and, as they can be varied in so many ways and flavored with so many inexpensive fillings, they are truly economical.

The recipe for French fritter batter calls for two ounces of butter, the grated rind of a lemon, a cupful of water and two teaspoonfuls of sugar boiled for ten minutes. At the end of that time add a cup and a half of flour, sifted, and remove from the fire after stirring smooth. Add five eggs, beating each one as it is added for two or three minutes. When the batter is light drop it in spoonfuls in boiling fat or roll it out and cut it.

To make many kinds of fruit fritters from this rule cook the batter in spoonfuls until light brown then split each fritter and put the filling inside. Close the fritter, roll it in powdered sugar and serve plain or with whipped cream. Strawberries, stewed for a very few moments with a little sugar, other berries, peaches, pineapple—all cooked with sugar for a few minutes—can be used in this way. When making the cut-out fritters put a spoonful of apricot strawberry, raspberry or other thick jam on one round, put another round over that, pince the edges together and fry brown. Serve rolled in powdered or fine granulated sugar.

Some Cookery Suggestions

BRAISED MEAT.

BRAISING is a combination of steaming and baking. The meat is cooked in the oven in a cov-d pan, in the bottom of which ould be sufficient stock to create a eam.

Braising is an economical process, for here is little loss by evaporation

Braised Breast of Veal.—Take half a east of veal, have it carefully boned nd spread the boned side with force-eat made from half a pound of bread oaked in milk, one egg, one teaspoon-l of savory herbs, one teaspoonful f chopped parsley and salt and pep-per. Roll the meat and tie both ends with string. Line a braising pan with slices of bacon, sliced onion and carrot nd a small bouquet of herbs. Upon his place the meat, add a little butter nd let the meat get slightly brown ver the fire; then add a half pint of ch stock. Cook gently for about one our and a half.

Cooking Mutton and Beef.

Braised Leg of Mutton.—Slice differ-nt vegetables in suitable proportions, uch as carrot, turnip, onion, celery, ettuce, etc. Take also a sprig each of arjoram, thyme, parsley and a bay f. Put these in a braising pan un-the mutton and pour in enough ock to come half way up the meat. over very closely and stew till the meat is quite tender. Then place it on a baking pan and put it in the oven to brown while the stock is reduced to a glaze to pour over it.

Braised Beef.—Take a pound and a alf of beef, a small carrot cut fine, a minced onion, a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful each of flour and cara mel, pepper to taste.

Wipe the meat and put into pudding pan with the carrot, onion, salt and pepper; pour two cupfuls of boiling water over all. Cover and put in hot oven for one and a half to two hours. Have two cupfuls of gravy and add to the meat when needed. Remove the meat and add the flour, mixed with a little cold water and the caramel, and boil three minutes.

Braised Veal.

Braised Veal Cutlets.—For one and a half pounds of veal cutlet have a carrot, turnip, onion, stick of celery, a little butter, a few slices of pork or bacon stock and thickening for the gravy Cut the meat into pieces about three inches square, pound well with a rolling pin; then press back into shape. Cut the vegetables small and fry them in a little butter till slightly brown. Lay these in a saucepan with the pork and the cutlets on the top. Cover with stock, add pepper and salt, cover closely and stew very gently for one and a half hours. When done remove the cutlets and vegetables and thicken the gravy with a teaspoonful of butter rubbed into the same quantity of flour. Brown these over the fire and add the boiling stock till the sauce is quite smooth and boil for five minutes Dish the cutlets in a circle, put the vegetables in the center and pour the gravy over all.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Boy At the Masthead.

m Jumped Out nto the Water.

WHEN daddy told Jack and Evelyn the name of this story, of course Jack asked at once:

"What's a masthead, daddy?"

Daddy answered: "That means the very head or top of a t of a ship. This story happened about a hundred years ago, before there any steamships, and the larger ships had very high masts on which to the sails.

There was a boy who was the son of the captain of one of these large g ships. I do not know his name, so we'll call him Tom.

Well, Tom's father took him with him on his voyages to far parts of the , and so the boy, as far as his strength allowed him, was becoming a good sailor. The men on board of the ship were fond of him, for he was ght, active little fellow, and they taught him how to make sailors' knots nise the sails and help to drop and raise the anchor and mend the canvas e sails and do the other work which sailors of that day used to do. But e all things Tom, like all other boys, used to like to climb the masts.

The ship was lying at anchor in a harbor far across the sea. She was ing for her cargo, and there was nothing for the crew to do, so they were about the deck enjoying the warm sunshine. Suddenly one of them ed up and let out a cry of fear.

The others rushed to him. He could not talk. He could only point to the of the mainmast of the ship. There, standing up on the very top, was . In a spirit of mischief he had climbed to the very top, and now he was ding there, frightened and helpless, too scared to try to climb down. The was moving slowly with the waves, and he could keep his feet, but that s about all.

"It seemed that no one could help him and he must fall to the deck and crushed to death. Some of the sailors rushed for the mast to climb to , but it was plainly to be seen that before any of them could get up the would fall and be killed. What was to be done?

"Just then the captain came out of his cabin and saw his boy in such ter-le danger. For a moment he stood helpless; then he rushed back into the bin and came out with his gun. Pointing it at Tom, he cried out as loudly he could:

"'Jump, Tom, jump. Jump far out into the water or I will fire at you!'

"It was the boy's only chance for safety. In the water he might be saved. t if he fell on deck he would surely be killed. He heard his father's cry and amped out as far as he could into the water. Almost before he struck the aves the sailors had a boat out, and they saved him. But he never again climbed to the masthead."

THE MONTH-END SALE
TUESDAY IN THE SUBWAY STORE WEDNESDAY

TOMORROW AND WEDNESDAY IN THE SUBWAY STORE

These liberal underpricing events at each month-end are now an institution firmly established. We desire, however, to preface this event with the good news that every one of the SEVENTY-FIVE complete sections in the Subway Store has surpassed all previous efforts for this occasion.

THE LAW OF THE MONTH-END
Everything advertised must be decidedly underpriced, and must be materially lower in price than it has previously been during the month, even if reduced in price before.

We have only space to announce a portion of the many splendid values which will serve as fair examples of what one may expect at the GIMBEL Subway Store Tuesday and Wednesday.

Women's Coats, Suits & Dresses

A very attractive collection extraordinarily underpriced for the Month-End Sale.

$12 Cloth Coats at $5
Serges and Covert Cloth, three-quarter length, notch collar, large turn-back cuffs and patch pockets (like picture).

$15 to $18.75 SUITS at $7.50
For Women and Misses
A miscellaneous assortment of odd numbers—not all sizes, but they have the same guarantee as our higher-priced suits have, and the styles are the very latest.

JUNIORS' $1 SUITS at $5
These come from the Third Floor Salon and will be a very special feature at tomorrow's sale. There are no two alike.

$7.50 $5 $5

$10 AND $15 SILK DRESSES AT $5
Odd numbers and great variety; newest styles. Silk poplins, wash silks, foulards, taffetas and messalines

$1 WASH SKIRTS AT 50c
Just because they are slightly soiled—Half Price.

$3.50 TO $5 ALL-WOOL SERGE SKIRTS, $1.85

$3.50 TO $5 RAIN COATS, $1.45
Slip-ons and single-texture Bombazine rubber-backed coats, with cemented seams.

$1 AND $1.50 CHILDREN'S WASH DRESSES, 65c

Men's & Young Men's Suits, $12 & $15 Grades, at $7.75

All-wool materials—good tailoring and every other point which has always made GIMBEL Clothes at $15 Clothes to be depended upon for style, wear & satisfaction.

Wonderful things sometimes happen in these Month-End Sales. Manufacturers often open their hearts to our buyers, not without an eye to business, because co-operation increases trade

This is a case of one of those WONDERFUL instances, and about 500 men, young and old, are going to be mightily pleased with their purchase tomorrow.

Smart and attractive patterns, and the models well assorted, so that young men and older men are sure of a selection—sizes 32 to 44 in. chest measurement.

It is too bad that there are not more than 460 suits, but then there is a limit to all good things, so we suggest to our friends not to be tardy.

BOYS' $2.50 & $3 SUITS, $1.65
Norfolk styles, 7 to 16 years. Russian styles, 3 to 7 years.
This is well worthy of keeping company with the men's clothing event, because a similar reason and like good fortune brought it about. These suits are of fine, strong, durable fabrics, and smart in appearance. Many of them would be excellent value at $3.

MEN'S $2, $2.50 and $3 TROUSERS AT $1.65.
Well-fitting, nicely tailored garments—in neat worsteds, cassimeres or cheviots.

HOPE CHAPEL NINE WON PRACTISE GAME

Many New Players Received Tryout on Chapel Aggregation Saturday Afternoon.

But three hits, which in the end resulted in the same number of runs, were allowed by Schott, the Hope chapel twirler, in the Chapelites encounter with the Saurer Motor Truck aggregation on Hope Common Saturday afternoon, the final card reading Hope chapel 9, Saurer 3. In winning the game the Hope contingent banged out eight lusty clouts which brought across nine registering counters. From a fielding point of view the teams were about even, neither doing anything remarkable along this line, the Saurer team making a total of five errors against the opponent's trio.

Many new recruits received tryouts in the Hope chapel fold Saturday afternoon in preparation for the opening of the Sunday-school League season and many of the new ones looked good from a playing standpoint. Not only did Schott shine on the mound but his work at the bat was better than that of any other player on the field. He got two lusty clouts and brought across one run. Thorn's work at the initial corner was also of the top notch variety, this player making ten putouts without a slip. Two pitchers adorned the Saurer mound but both were treated in the same way by the Hope stickers. Rogers faring slightly the better of the two.

PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL BATTERS SCORE VICTORY OVER HIGH SCHOOL OF COMMERCE

Coughlin's twirling and Peacock's throwing to bases were easily the predominant features of the game at Parker Field, Saturday afternoon, when Plainfield High School scored a notable victory over the High School of Commerce ball tossers, hailing from New York city. While the final tally card read 6 to 2, the diamond battle itself was much tighter than the score, either team having a chance to win or lose up to the time the final putout was registered. An early lead of one counter made by the metropolitan schoolboys, put the local aggregation on fighting edge and they soon retaliated with a tieing score, then one to put them ahead, and from that point on proceeded to sew up the contest.

For the better part of the whole nine innings, Coughlin had the New Yorkers completely at his mercy, and time and again caused them to whiff the air on his moist ball, and even on fast straight balls, delivered just where they were not expected. Plainfield's moist ball artist garnished the pill with about thirty cents worth of saliva every time he delivered it and he had the opposing batters breaking their bats to knock little grounders, which were quickly disposed of as put holes int he discard heap.

When the battle was in its earliest stages and festivities were tied up, the High School of Commerce moundsman looked good enough to win the game single handed, but the local sluggers got to his delivery soon after the fray started and their hitting, coupled with frequent spasms of erraticness gave the Queen Cityites a lead which was never headed. A somewhat encouraging, for the time being, but in the end futile, as far as winning was concerned, attempt to win the game was made as a last dying chance by the visitors in the ninth inning, when the rival captain sent in a program of pinch hitters. These reserves looked good for the first few minutes, especially after Grisley had dropped a throw from Peacock, which was one of the prettiest of the afternoon, and had he caught it, would have meant sure death to the base runner, who finally scored the other team's second and final tally.

While the visitors appeared to be well groomed and at times showed evidences of inside baseball, they were not on deck when a bingle was needed to bring in a run, and time and again Coughlin disposed of harrassing situations single handed by whiffing a batter. The opposing pitcher's work was also worthy of favorable comment, especially in the sixth inning, when P. H. S. had three men on bases. The visiting moundsman displayed his mettle on that occasion by whiffing Peacock, leaving the three base inhabitants stranded. He did a similar piece of work in the eighth, when two men occupied the sacks and Davenport was made to roll out the easiest kind of a grounder. The hitting of Grisley and Rosenson and the bast running of Sminck went hand in hand with Coughlin's and Peacock's work in the points. Sminck's exhibition of the plunge into a base was something that is seldom seen pulled off by a schoolboy. The P. H. S. center fielder sailed through the air on three occasions, fully a foot above the ground, landing feet first squarely on the sack.

NEW PLAYERS FOR Y. M. A. A.

Manager William Conger, of the local Y. M. A. A. baseball team, has signed up two new players to fill in the weak places in his lineup brought to light in the game against the Y. M. A. team, of Bound Brook, here Saturday afternoon, and will play them for the first time in the weekend game this Saturday. One of the new recruits is understood to be Harry Hand, the former second baseman of the now extinct Plainfield A. C., and the other new member is thought to be one of Hand's teammates. Conger's brother, a member of the Roselle High School contingent, will play centre field hereafter for the Y. M. A. A. aggregation.

ALL NEW YORK STAR HERE.

"Bull" Blodgett, the All-New York scholastic football halfback, caught for the High School of Commerce baseball team, which was defeated by the Plainfield High School troop on Parker Field, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 6 to 2. Blodgett's huge frame was commented on by every one who witnessed the game, as his strength did much toward bringing the greater New York football title to the High School of Commerce eleven during the season just closed.

P. H. S. PLAYER HURT.

Donald Sminck, centre fielder and pitcher on the Plainfield High School baseball team, was obliged to retire from the game with High School of Commerce, Saturday afternoon, after spraining his wrist when sliding into second base. Sminck is a southpaw and as it is his right hand that is injured, it is not thought that he will have to remain out of the pitcher's box for any great length of time. He is one of the P. H. S. mainstays on the mound and his work will be sorely needed in games to come.

THIRTY-FIVE STRIKEOUTS WHEN N. P. H. S. LOSES ITS SECOND EXTRA INNING GAME

North Plainfield High School's ever reliable fork-sider, "Newt" Spencer, and one Gerard, a recently unearthed strikeout phenom, sporting the woolens of High Bridge School, had a little game between themselves at the latter place Saturday afternoon, holding the othed sixteen players like so many infants before their respective cross-fire deliveries, and in consequence a total of thirty-five strikeouts were added up during the course of an eventful thirteen inning diamond battle. All things taken into consideration there wasn't much of a decision rendered even after the battle was prolonged beyond the usual time limit, for the home players scored their winning run, making the final tally 4 to 3, after two men had bit the dust in the unlucky thirteenth.

The boroughites were treated to another overtime defeat but this time it came in the thirteenth session, which is considered the greatest of hoodos, even in the shifting game of baseball It so turned out for N. P. H. S., but the little Canadians had the pleasure of seeing Spencer mow down seventeen of the opposition with his slants. Not only did the N. P. H. S. twirler set up a strikeout mark, but on the other hand, he was equally as conspicuous as a hit preventer, holding the High Bridge batters to a scattered trio. In fact, all of the hits made during the contest and there were only nine, six for the visitors and three for the home team, were easy bouncers with the exception of Smalley's two base clout

While this was the second over time contest of the season in which N. P. H. S. has drawn the small end, the players returned from the rival town Saturday night, much elated over the showing made against the renowned Gerard, who has been fanning as many as twenty-three batters a game, and the High Bridge aggregation is considered to be well nigh invincible with him on the mound. As far as the Saturday game is concerned little in the way of contrast can be said of the work of Spencer and Gerard, for each pitched sensational ball and neither received the kind of support that he deserved. The boroughites were guilty of eleven errors behind the little moundrsman, enough to lose two or three games, while Gerard had to counteract a half dozen slipups. Both of the hill men had the batters who faced them brushing their sticks so hard at sharp breaking curves that it will probably take an osteopath the better part of a week to iron the kinks out of their backs.

Fast work on the bases, when once a player got firmly launched on a cushion, was another glowing feature of the game and a half, a total of ten bases being pilfered, six by the home sprinters and a quartet by N. P. H. S. Dunning and the Townley brothers suffered off days in the field, the N. P. H. S. captain making two misplays as did also George Townley and the youngest edition of the Townley tribe, who has been putting up a stellar article of the National pastime in the vicinity of third base all season, was guilty of a trio of fizzels around the difficultc orner. Hoffman, of the High Bridge team, was the only batter to annex more than a solitary bingle, and he was credited with two of the three for which Spencer's delivery was dented.

ANOTHER FOR "LAWRENCE."

Russell Lawrence Beatty, the former Leal School athletic star, now sporting the silks of Columbia University, was first in the Intercollegiate shot-put event at the championships on Franklin Field, Saturday afternoon. "Rus" heaved the iron pill a distance of 46 feet, 3½ inches, against 45 feet, 10½ inches made by Kohler, of Michigan, his nearest competitor. Beatty at present holds the Intercollegiate championship for the shot-put event, having set up a new one last year in the Intercollegiates at Franklin Field when he threw the shot 48 feet, 10¾ inches.

LOCAL BOY WINS FOR TIGERS.

Ludlow Vandeventer, a graduate of Plainfield High School, who lives on Belvidere avenue, this city, defeated one Jennings, of the University of Pennsylvania, by scores of 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, at Princeton Saturday afternoon, competing under the colors of the Orange and the Black, in the tennis meet with the U. of P. The tiger team won the meet by eight out of the nine matches. Vandeventer also competed in the doubles with Saggerman as his teammate, defeating Leonard and Jennings, of Penn, by scores of 6-3, 6-4.

S. S. LEAGUE MEETING.

An important meeting of the Sunday-school Baseball League will be held at the Y. M. C. A. tonight, at which time the committee appointed to draw up a schedule will submit its report to the governing board. All members of this official body are requested to be on deck at tonight's meeting.

SHAMROCKS WON A GAME YESTERDAY

With Crippled Lineup They Snow Under Their Rivals With Hits and Runs.

The Shamrocks, with only five of their regular players, defeated the Netherwoods by a score of 10 to 8, yesterday afternoon. Les Stites, who pitched for the victors, won for himself a place in the hall of "Fame" by allowing only 8 hits, 1 walk and striking out 10 men. The feature of the game was the batting of Darling, the star catcher of the Shamrocks, who garnered a 2 bagger and 3 singles. Others who starred in the same manner were Doyle, who got a 3 base hit and 2 singles, and Henzel, who got a 2 base hit and a single. Deady was easily the fielding star of the day, making several sensational stops around short and third. Moore starred in the field for the Netherwoods, robbing a number of the Shamrock players of their longed for hits. Smith, the regular pitcher of the Shamrocks, was unable to play on account of a sore hand. Miller, who played first base and center field for the victors, showed up well when you take in consideration his sore hand.

The Shamrocks would like to arrange a game for next Sunday with the West End Jrs., Plainfield A. C., or a team of like strength. Write Manager, 509 West Third street, Plainfield, N. J.

BALL GAME AND SMOKER FOR LEAL'S ALUMNI ASSN.

The annual baseball game between the alumni association team and the regular nine of Leal's School will take place on Saturday afternoon, May 10, at 3 o'clock, and it promises to be an exciting contest. The regulars hope to "get even" with the alumni for the defeat of last year. Will T. Glenney, manager for the alumni team, announces that the following former graduates will appear. Robert Tilney, William Doane, William Schoonmaker, Robert Schoonmaker, Morris J. Dumont, Edward Daniel, George Schoonmaker, Owen Fleming, W. Lester Glenney and Will T. Glenney.

The baseball game will be followed in the evening at 8:30 o'clock by a smoker and the annual meeting at Truell Hall. This will be for the members of the alumni association and it is expected that about 150 will return for the annual affair. There will be a "spread" with plenty to smoke and the committee in charge will provide an informal program of entertainment. The smoker will take the place of the banquet which was held last year.

OUTBATTED BUT WON THE CONTEST

Y. M. A. A. Aggregation Put up a Good Game Against Bound Brook Rivals.

One run in the ninth inning won a contest for the Y. M. A. A. baseball team, of this city, in their game against the Y. M. A. aggregation, of South Bound Brook, on the Centre street diamond, Saturday afternoon, the final count being 3 to 2. The battle was one of the closest waged in this city this season, both teams being about on the par and were about even up in every department. While the locals won out by getting the most runs, the visitors did the most hitting, knocking out a total of seven bingles. Thorn, the Roselle High School pitcher, who did mound duty for the Plainfielders, kept all of the seven bingles well scattered, however, and the result turned out to be a Y. M. A. A. victory.

The losers also had an edge on the fielding work, thanks to the quartet of errors contributed by George Huff, the Y. M. A. A. nine's keystone man. His misplays were directly responsible for a third of the visitors' runs and he made more of the erratic variety than all of his teammates taken together. Thorn annexed thirteen strikeouts on his initial apearance here and together with a teammate of his from Roselle, was the star of the game Saturday afternoon. Young Conger, a brother of the manager, was the other visitor whose work was exceptional, a particularly bright feature being his speedy work on the bases.

BATTIN JOINS THE RANKS.

Battin High School, of Elizabeth, is now a member of the Union County High School Athletic League. Battin made application for entry last month and was formally notified of the acceptance as a member last Monday. As Battin has the habit of turning out fast teams the entry in the league should add considerably to the competition for the supremacy in the various lines of sport. The Rahway High School athletes usually had things all their own way, but with Battin as a contestant for the various cups the opposition should be much stronger. The present members of the league are: Roselle Park High School, Westfield High School, Cranford High School, Roselle High School, Rahway High School and Battin High School.

MARTIN RECEIVES TRIAL.

Jack Martin, the local player who was recently let out to the Rochester team of the International league, by Manager Frank Chance of the Yankees, was used at shortstop in the place of Preist in the game Saturday afternoon when Rochester was defeated by a score of 3 to 1 by the Jersey City Skeeters. Martin failed to get a hit out of three trips to the rubber and the rest of his work consisted of two putouts, four assists and a couple of errors. He did not get into yesterday's battle with Jersey City. A number from this place went to the Jersey City park yesterday afternoon expecting to see him play but had to be content with watching him pull off some big league stuff in the preliminary practice.

SCOTCH PLAINS WON.

In a baseball game played on the Scotch Praish Parish House ball diamond Saturday afternoon, the Parish House representatives defeated the Westfield A. C. by a score of 10 to 8. This was the second contest of the season for the home team, they having suffered a 9 to 3 defeat at the hands of Commercial High School last Saturday. No box score was kept of the contest other than the runs pulled across the pan, Scotch Plains getting two more than their Mt. Ararat rivals. Lee pitched for the winners and Demarest did the backstop work.

PLAINFIELD WON CLOSE GAME.

The Plainfield Association Soccer football team defeated the New Brunswick Club on the Clinton avenue grounds Saturday afternoon by the score of 3 to 2. This was the last season of the season for the locals.

DORFLINGER CLAN SHUT OUT ROYALS

Practise Contest Played on the Oval Resulted in a Victory for Prospective Leaguers.

Manager Ernest Dorflinger, of the Plainfield baseball team, put his recruits up against the Royal Colored Giants' baseball team on the oval, Saturday afternoon, to get a line on the material he had at hand, and the youngsters came back on the bigger end of a 4 to 0 score. Many of the newest of the tribe, all of whom hang their hats in this city, appear to be finds and it looks as though Ernie was out to pull a star aggregation out of the material that has come to hand bearing Queen City labels. Of the veterans who played last year, "Big Six" Walter Nelson was the sole remainder and his work savored of mid-season calibre, especially in the seventh stanza when he poled a home run into deep left field. This was one of the longest hits ever made on the oval, and traveled on a straight line for the woods in the left just high enough to pass over the top of Kline, who was covering that territory for the Giants.

Nelson had ample time to ramble around the bases at will and took all that was coming to him and then seated himself on the home bench to watch the ball sail through the air on its return trip to the plate. The work of "Katz" Miller in right field was another bright feature of the contest. His sure catches and work at the bat easily placed him in the running for an outfield job. Miller is one of the best outfielders in this section and will no doubt prove of great value to the Dorflinger clan during the coming season. Earl Moran, on first base, also put up a good article of baseball, as did Frank Evans on second and Bergen in right field. Williams, a former Sunday-school leaguer, bearing the trade mark of the Monroe Avenue M. E. combination, did some brilliant fielding around short, and Garretson, a former Manufacturers' League player, who preceded Moran at the first corner, also pulled off some good fielding and hitting. Russell Stewart, the pitcher who did some strikeout work for Temple Baptist last year, did the hill duty for the Dorflinger combination and was touched up pretty strong by the colored sluggers at times.

VISITING PITCHERS TREATED ROUGHLY

St. Mary's Team Pounded Bound Brookers for 21 Hits and Nearly as Many Runs.

Playing on the Hope Common diamond Saturday afternoon, St. Mary's baseball team scored a 17 to 4 victory over the Bound Brook ball team, driving out a total of sixteen hits at the expense of Challo, Dogerty and Johnson, the visiting twirlers. The game was featured by a number of long hits and the box work of Richard Lawton, who pitched for the home team.

He held the visitors to seven scattered bingles and fanned twelve. Lawton also drove out a trio of lusty bingles which aided materially in winning the contest.

F. J. HENEY IN SENATORSHIP RACE

FRANCIS J. HENEY

Governor Hiram W. Johnson, who is openly charged with having yielded against his convictions to political expediency in leading the anti-Japanese sentiment in this State, may have done all this in vain. Mr. Johnson's ambition now centres upon the Senatorial seat to be vacated by the veteran George C. Perkins, and he has confidently relied upon the support of Theodore Roosevelt, whose running mate he was in the progressive national campaign. Now report has it that Mr. Roosevelt, incensed by the throwing of the national security into the scales of local demagogic politics, has indicated that Francis J. Heney will have his support for the Senatorship of which California progressives expect to dis-

SOUND TALKS ON PUBLIC HEALTH

Drs. Emerson and Williams Tell How to Prevent and Care for Tuberculosis.

MAKE SUGGESTIONS

President William S. Tyler of Anti-Tuberculosis League Tells What is Required to Carry on the Work.

Dr. Haven Emerson and Dr. Linsley R. Williams, both of New York, presented at the meeting at the High Shcool auditorium last night, in a most interesting manner the work that is being done along the line of disease prevention. Dr. Emerson said that preventing and caring for tuberculosis is only one of the phases of meeting our problem. He suggested that an anti-tuberculosis league could work well under the name of the League for Improving the Public Health, since to cure tuberculosis as well as to prevent it good housing is a prime requisite, and also that only with a change of conditions which bring about poverty could complete control be acquired. Bad social and industrial conditions, Dr Emerson declared, weaken the natural physical resistance to any disease germ, so unless the people discover and gradually root out causes no lasting good can be accomplished. Much can be done though, he added, by requiring all communicable diseases to be reported to the health authorities, who would require the segregation of the victims, thus safeguarding the public. New York city he said, was first in line to put tuberculosis on the list of diseases to be reported and he believed it would gradually be required everywhere.

Dr. Williams spoke especially of the importance of beginning with the children. School inspection which discovers any defect in the child however slight, puts it in the way of having it cured before that child is permanently injured, thus becoming a possible loafer or criminal through inefficiency due to physical causes and sooner or later a burden upon the public. He explained the various kinds of tuberculosis, insisting that children suffering from it should never be in school with well children on account of the danger of infection. He then referred to the child who was not normal, but who had no particular disease that a physician could diagnose; in other words, children susceptible to tuberculosis. These children have in thirty-five different cities been proved to be much benefited by open air schools, making progress in their studies where before they had been dull and backward. He approved of the school just started here, and laid great stress, as did Dr. Emerson, on the fact that now before this growing city of Plainfield becomes too congested and the value of land prohibitive in the centres of the town, open spaces should be provided, school playgrounds, and recreation centres giving light and air for the schools and the children. There would then be no such possibility of having recess any place but out of doors, a thing impossible to accomplish in cities like New York.

William S. Tyler, president of the Plainfield League, told of the past work of the organization and gave some interesting figures relative to the work of the current year, including the inauguration of the open air school this week at Muhlenberg place where on Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock a "Donation Tea Party" will be held, and everything will be in readiness for the inspection of the public. The figures showed that the removal of the pavilion from the hospital grounds and putting it in order for the school will cost $2,300; operating expenses for the school about $2,000; the league's interest in the Nursing Bureau, $1,250; Friday Afternoon Class for arrested cases, $125; a proposed evening clinic in co-operation with the Board of Health, $250; miscelleanous cases and expenses, $575; total, $6,500.

Of this amount $1,500 is received from subscribers annually; $450 from the sale of Red Cross stamps, and $450 interest on investments. The balance, $4,100, it is hoped the public will be interested in subscribing. The work is so valuable and of such general interest, especially the open air school that we feel there should be no difficulty in our raising the funds necessary for carrying on the various departments of the work.

WILD WEST SHOW IS IN TOWN TODAY

This is Not News to the Small Boy, But Possibly it is to Some Grown-ups.

If any small boy was missing from his classroom at school today it didn't take the teacher long to guess where he was. There's a show in town, and it's a wild west show, and what's more it is the first wild west show that has been here in several years. The small boy who did not know the show was scheduled to be here has been in the hospital for the last two weeks, for every big colored bill board poster has had its group of admiring spectators every day since it was put on the boards.

The Oklahoma Ranch Wild West is the real thing. At least there are cowboys and cow girls, Indians, Cossacks, lots of horses, an old stage coach, and all the proverbial and traditional things which go to make up a show of the kind. In addition an added feature which has come out of the more modern wild west is a game of auto polo, which is reported to have about as many thrills as it is possible for a person to conceive. When this latter feature was put on at Madison Square Garden a little earlier in the winter, it was said that a number of the reporters of the New York newspapers had something they had not had for years before—a new thrill.

The show is being given this afternoon and will be repeated tonight at the corner of West Front street and Grant avenue. A fully waterproof canvas protects the spectators, so that there need be no fear of any clothes being spoiled in case it should shower. The show did not arrive in town until 9 o'clock and it was nearly 11 when the first wagon reached the show lot, due to delay in unloading from the train. By a lot of hustling under the direction of Manager Beckman, things were in readiness for the performance to start promptly.

MR. AND MRS. BABCOCK ENTERTAIN AT A DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Babcock, of West Eighth street, gave a delightful dance at the Hartridge auditorium, last night. There were about two hundred guests, including a few from out of the city. The dancing began about 9 o'clock and continued until 3 o'clock this morning, with an intermission at midnight when supper was served. A stringed orchestra furnished the music.

The auditorium was attractive in its decorations of palms, ferns and dog-wood, the arrangement being by Stanley, the florist. There were no special features, the affair being just a dance arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Babcock for the entertainment of their many friends.

MISS LILLIAN PETERSON HAS A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Lillian Peterson, of 307 Hunter avenue, was given a surprise party at her home last evening in honor of the fourteenth anniversary of her birthday. There were games, music, etc., by way of entertainment and refreshments were served by the hostess. The affair was arranged by several friends of the young woman.

Among those present were the Misses Carrie Pennoyer, Mary Norgard, Jennie Steenson, Grace Lidgate, Ida Stranahan, Florie Gordon, May Miller, Ethel Smith, Lillian Peterson, E. Colvin, Winnie McClinton, Dorothy Bowden, Lillian Helti, Mrs. E. Peterson and Mrs. S. CLOSING MANUAL TRAINING SCHOOL

North Plainfield Education Board Hopes Thereby to Cut Down Expenses.

TEACHERS RE-ENGAGED

Principal Also Asked to Stay Another Year—Not to Raise Pay—Plans for Commencement Exercises.

Following a recess to discuss and consider the matter of the appointment of teachers of the North Plainfield public schools, which in effect is about the same thing as an executive session, the North Plainfield Board of Education offered reappointment to Supervising Principal Arthur B. Vossler, and to all of the teachers at present employed. It was practically decided to close the manual training department of the borough educational system for one year, because it was deemed an unnecessary expenditure. This will include the cooking class for girls. Resolutions to that effect was unanimously adopted at the conclusion of the "recess" when the regular session was resumed. The building and grounds committee was authorized in a clause embodied in the resolution to make a thorough investigation into the advisability of this plan; to secure the sentiments of the taxpayers in this respect and to see if the manual training building can be utilized for other purposes and still comply in every respect within the law.

Speaking of the discontinuance of the cooking class, former Mayor Newton B. Smalley, a member of the Board, said: "If that department of the borough educational system is too expensive when considering the relative good derived therefrom, 'flag it,' and rent out the building. Let the mothers teach their daughters how to cook, like they did in the olden days."

At a recent meeting of the Board of Education it was decided that because of the demand for the curtailing of expenses, the salaries of the present teachers would not be increased, although in many instances their services warranted it. Miss Evelyn Huff and George E. Webster, the latter teacher of manual training, submitted their resignations to the Board last night. It is thought that this resolution prompted their action. Miss Coon, another teacher, has also signified her intention to resign because she has been offered a better-paying position in another place, but due to a technicality, her written resignation was not presented at last night's session.

A petition was received, signed by

HOLY CROSS YOUTHS TO GIVE REAL SHOW

The Boys' Club of the Church of the Holy Cross is planning for an enjoyable time in the parish house tomorrow afternoon and evening from 3 to 10 o'clock. The boys are keeping some of the features "dark," especially the "African Dodger," which, according to report, will be "some" dodger. Jack Hebert is the president of the club, and in that capacity he has turned his incentive mind to all kinds of wise devices to keep things moving so that the affair may go smoothly and the treasury of the club be replenished. The proceeds are to go to the baseball and other sports.

The patronesses will be: Mrs. J. O. Stevens, Mrs. J. H. Carman, Mrs. H. E. Langford, Mrs. J. A. VanMater, Mrs. F. L. Sill, Mrs. William McCoy, and Miss Ruth Burt. The boys invite all their friends to see the show.

F. F. PROCTOR, JR., IN TOWN.

F. F. Proctor, Jr., son of F. F. Proctor, the head of many vaudeville motion picture theatres throughout the country, was in Plainfield, yesterday, visiting Proctor's theatre. Mr. Proctor is the general manager for his father's amusement enterprises and gives his personal attention to the business.

"LADIES' NIGHT."

"Ladies' Night" will be observed tonight in the Netherwood Reformed church, when members of the Dutch Arms Society will act as hosts. A program of music will be rendered by the Dutch Arms band of the Trinity Reformed church, after which a general social time will follow.

MRS. MARTHA OLMSTEAD.

Mrs. Martha Olmstead, aged 50 years, colored, of 314 Arlington avenue, died at Muhlenberg Hospital, this morning, following a long illness from complications. She had been at the hospital since April 19. She is survived by a daughter. The announcement of funeral will be made later.

SCHOOLS FUNDS ARE DISTRIBUTED

Union County Obtains $183,610.74 and Somerset County Receives $38,535.74.

TOTAL IS $2,756,150.03

Checks Sent by State Treasurer—Plan is to Stop District School Boards From Borrowing Money—County Apportionments Made.

Trenton, April 29 (Special).—The distribution of school funds under the law of the last Legislature took place today, and amounts to the total of $2,756,150.03, as against $2,758,955.96 to be collected of the 1912 railroad tax on "main stem" property, showing that the State has collected all of the assessed tax excepting $2,805.93. The statisticians of the State comptroller's office have figured that the amount of money to be collected from the railroads on the 1912 assessment is but .9989829739 per cent. of the total assessed, rather close collections, they say.

Under the law this money goes to the counties and the checks went out from State Treasurer Grosscup's office today. This is a move of the Legislature to stop the borrowing of moneys by the counties for school purposes and paying interest on such borrowings.

Union county's 1912 allotment is $183,797.67 and the distribution to it is $183,610.74. Somerset county's allotment is $38,574.97 and its share on distribution is $38,535.74. Middlesex's allotment is $80,102.08 and it gets on distribution $80,020.61.

VOTES FOR WOMEN TALK AT W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Feickert Addresses Union County White Ribboners on Equal Suffrage.

Cranford, April 29.—Mrs. Edward F. Feickert, of Plainfield, addressed the spring institute of the Union County W. C. T. U., yesterday afternoon on the subject of "Equal Suffrage," during which she presented the "votes for women" arguments in an interesting way. The institute was held in the Presbyterian church, with Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson, of Plainfield, the county president, in the chair.

A feature of the afternoon program was a play given by children of Cranford under the direction of Miss Watson. Last night Miss Christian I. Tingling, a lecturer for the National W. C. T. U., made the principal address, and there was vocal and instrumental selections by Mrs. L. A. Udell, of Plainfield, and delegates from Elizabeth and this place.

The principal addresses of the morning were given by Mrs. C. W. Scott, of Elizabeth, on "Temperance and Labor," and by Mrs. M. E. B. Noe, of Elizabeth, on "The Education of the Child, the Hope of the Nation." Mrs. C. M. Anderson, of Plainfield, gave a Bible reading.

THESE SCHOOL BOYS MAY MAKE GOOD FARMERS

Providing the plans of Supervising Principal Arthur B. Vossler, of North Plainfield Public Schools, are carried out, the borough pupils next term will be taught the art of milking cows, raising and caring for poultry and the proper way to hoe potatoes. At a meeting of the Board of Education last night Mr. Vossler said he contemplated inaugurating a vocational and agricultural course in the borough's educational system, which, he said, was being urged by many citizens. He stated that the course would be carried out on but a small scale at first.

When former Mayor Newton B. Smalley asked if the pupils would be taught to milk cows and breed chickens, Mr. Vossler laughingly replied, "Yes, we could teach them a few things in this respect, too!"

AUTOIST FINED $10.

A. C. Arnowt, of Far Hills, was arraigned in the North Plainfield police court this morning on a charge of letting his automobile stand on Stone street last night after dark without the proper lights on the machine. He was fined $10 by Recorder Gano in the borough court this morning.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

Julius Barek, of 221 Grove street, was arraigned before Recorder Gano in the borough court this morning on a disorderly charge having been arrested by Chief Weiss. A sentence of ten dollars fine was suspended over him.

COMMISSIONER OF BOY SCOUTS

Allen E. Beals Succeeds Chas. R. Bostwick and Announces Plans.

MOVEMENT IS GROWING

Local Scout Council to Standardize Industrial and Commercial Ability of Each Boy in the Ranks—For Mutual Help.

Charles R. Bostwick, who with C. William Bingeman, secretary of Boys' work in the Y. M. C. A., was a first commissioner of boy scouts in Plainfield Council, has resigned to carry on a more extensive boy scout work this summer and Allen E. Beals, scoutmaster of Troop No. 5, of the First Presbyterian Sunday school, has been elected to succeed him. He received his certificate from the National Boy Scout headquarters yesterday. He will continue to serve as scoutmaster of the Wetumpka Sentinel Troop, but the Plainfield Scout Council, of which William N. Runyon is president, and Dr. George T. Moore is secretary, plans to extend the scope of the boy scout movement here so as to reach as many boys in the district as possible.

The council at its next meeting, says Mr. Beals, will take up for consideration a plan for standardizing the industrial and commercial ability of every boy scout in the jurisdiction of the council, as well as training him in the essentials of manhood and good citizenship. The plan contemplates placing at the disposal of business men of this city and New York commuters living here, boys between the ages of fourteen and nineteen years, who have proved themselves trustworthy, ambitions and of good character.

The commissioner will keep a card index of every boy scout in the council's jurisdiction. These cards will contain the name of the scout, his rank, the rapidity with which he rose from Tenderfoot to First Class and what particular lines of merit badges he has won, whether in printing, chemistry, photography, music, machinery, electricity, civics, carpentry, automobiling, architecture, agriculture, public health, plumbing, surveying, painting or general business aptitude. A rating code has been tentatively adopted for consideration of the council, upon which the general character of the boy can be determined at a glance. These ratings will be credited to him according to his adherence to the scout law, the twelve points of which, if lived up to in uniform or out will guarantee him to be trust-

A LYRIC SOPRANO FOR THE FIRST M. E. CHOIR

Miss Gabrielle Drosse, of Yonkers, N. Y., soprano, will succeed Miss Lois Samuel, as the soloist at the First M. E. church, on Sunday, the quartet comprising beside Miss Drosse, Mrs. Josephine Boughan, contralto; Aleck MacGowan, tenor, and Edgar A. Cole, baritone.

Miss Drosse and Mrs. Boughan are the two new members of the quartet, Mr. MacGowan and Mr. Cole having sung at the First M. E. church for the past year. Miss Drosse is a lyric soprano possessing wonderful ability and flexibility of voice. She has been studying repertoire with Dr. Nicholas Elsenheimer, of New York, director of the New York Catholic Oratorio Society, and has been in great demand for recital and concert work.

Mrs. Boughan has been soloist in one of the largest churches at Middletown, N. Y. Her voice is a beautiful contralto rather than mezzo. It is well equalized throughout, powerful, flexible and capable of a large vaiety of color. The monthly musical services, which have been a delightful feature at the church during the past year will be continued. With all due allowances for human fallibility, the choir would offer in the anthems, subjects for that high form of worship which is in silent meditation, faithfully and devotedly endeavoring to follow St. Paul, and "sing with the spirit and with the understanding also." Clifford A. Braider will continue as organist and musical director.

$600,000 MARK REACHED.

The State Trust Company announces that its deposits have reached a total of more than $600,000. This enterprising company is certainly forging ahead at a remarkable rate.

Miss Elizabeth Chadbourne, who has been a guest of Mrs. Disborough's at 119 Crescent avenue, during the winter and spring months, left today for her home in Maine, where she will reside the next six months.

TROLLEYMEN ENJOY "REAL THING" SMOKER

It Sure Was a Big Night for P. S. R. Employes of Plainfield District.

The "Joke Trust" monopolized the third annual smoker of the Public Service Railway Company's employes of the Plainfield division last night at the Dunellen car barns. It was the real thing as a smoker. Besides a galaxity of story telling artists and singers, impersonators and musicians, "Bob" Fitzsimmons, the "grand old man of the prize ring," made an address, and just to make him feel at home, Billy King, of Plainfield, and Albert Leonard, of Cincinnati, gave a boxing exhibition which was timed and refereed by the former world's boxing champion.

Last night's affair has been looked forward to with much anticipation by the many local employes of the Public Service, who had invited many motormen and conductors from Elizabeth and other nearby places to share in the enjoyment of the occasion. ... W. Bolen, superintendent of transportation, whose popularity among his usbordinates was demonstrated by the prolonged applause greeting the announcement that he was to speak, gave a short address in which he urged the employes to be courteous at all times to the patrons of the Public Service. The Elizabeth delegation was headed by J. J. Gettings, Division Superintendent, and Frank Southard, Supervisor of Elizabeth Service.

Those who furnished entertainment were: Frank Sherman, a novel entertainer; Richard Thomas, comedian; William Coogon, funny song artist; William Boiler, vocalist; H. W. Weber, appearing in a monologue entitled, "Dr. Munyon;" Harry Elder, comedian; Messrs. King and Leonard, boxing artists and Bob Fitzsimmons. Joseph Denny, of this city, accommodated on the piano.

The excellent evening of fun was arranged by George J. Luhr, assisted by Hugh Higgins, W. J. Huenke, George W. Benton, H. J. Eick, Michael Nevins, Thomas Jefferson Dorgan, Michael Jeremiah Walsh, Robert Partain, H. J. Smith, A. E. Smith, Charles Toman, L. J. Stadelle, Joseph Dunham, Harry Goldstein and Oliver Kiefer.

HEAVENLY REST CHURCH ASCENSION DAY PROGRAM

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will attend special Ascension Day services at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Thursday night, upon invitation of the rector, Rev. C. H. Mallery. The Men's Association of the parish will also attend. An elaborate musical program has been prepared by Wendell C. Glovern, organist of the church, assisted by Arthur Mosher, violinist.

The musical numbers will include prelude, Handel's Largo, violin and organ; duet, "Hark, Hark, My Soul," F. C. Willis, Jr., and Juan Babcock; anthem, "The Lord's Exalted," West, by vested choir of men and boys; offertory, Gounod's "Ave Maria," violin and organ; postlude, "The Heavens are Telling," Handel, violin and organ.

Mr. Mallery will make an address and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. Robert T. Walker, rector of St Andrews' church, Brooklyn. The clergy of the other Episcopal churches is expected to attend the service.

FORM TRANSIT COMPANY.

Some seventy subscribers to capital stock of the Plainfield Transit Company met in Sebring's auditorium last night and resolutions adopted authorizing that incorporation papers be filed with H. P. Vosseller, Dr. Marcus L. Clawson and H. C. Prichard as incorporators. These were named as directors: George T. Hughes, of Watchung; F. J. Smith, of Millington; A. Binz, of Mt. Bethel; William E. Smith, of South Plainfield; R. E. Alland, of Stirling, and Dr. Clawson, of this city and Mr. Pritchard, of New York. Dr. Clawson was chosen temporary treasurer. Mr. Pritchard was authorized to issue 386 shares of stock to meet the demand. William McIntyre was chairman of the meeting and Guy D. Peck acted as secretary.

AN ENTERTAINMENT.

A social and entertainment was given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian Sunday-school last evening in the chapel rooms with Miss Martha Kline and an efficient committee in charge. The program included a sketch entitled "School Days" and Miss Kline acted as teacher. The regular program of school work common to the rural pupil was gone through much to the amusement of the audience, including a spelling bee, arithmetic test and methods of discipline.

CITY AIMING TO EQUALIZE TAXES

Conference Between Assessors and Mayor and Council Productive of Results.

REVISION IS PLANNED

Mayor to Name Committee to Co-operate With Assessors—Some Buildings in Business Section Assessed far Below Value.

That the city should strive for an equalization of tax assessments rather than a possible abnormal general increase in values was the concensus of opinion at the conference of the Common Council with the Board of Assessors last night. In addition to the members of the Council and Board of Assessors there was present Mayor Percy H. Stewart, Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed and City Treasurer William F. Arnold.

After President George S. Clay had stated the idea of the conference which was for the purpose of considering ways for remedying possible inequality in tax assessments, Mayor Percy H. Stewart briefly reviewed the situation, calling the attention of the assessors to the fact that there seemed to be numerous cases where various differing percentages were employed in levying assessments. In his opinion, he said, there was no doubt but that in certain sections of the city values had increased and in others they had not, and he believed that great care should be exercised in making assessments on such properties. The city has certain obligations to meet and the tax must be raised for that purpose, but he thought that a careful revision of assessments was needed not only in the business section, but the residential as well.

Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed gave a talk on the subject of taxation, in which he offered a number of suggestions for the guidance of the Council and the assessors, again emphasizing his belief that a higher tax rate with a lower assessed valuation is more desirable than a low tax rate with a high valuation. Mr. Reed said that it is not the tax rate that is to be feared, but the valuations.

Councilman A. D. Edgar had a list of tax assessments in the business section covering the past six years which were used for comparative purposes. These showed that in that time there had not been any change in some instances. That the tax assessors are trying to do the right thing and want to levy an equitable assessment was the opinion of everyone present.

Mayor Stewart suggested that possibly the assessors needed help in their work of revision, and Asa F. Randolph concurred with him on behalf of the board. Later a motion was adopted that a committee of five disintersted freeholders be appointed as an advisory board to work with the assessors in making a revision. This committee is to be composed of men who are conversant with property values and each ward will be represented.

The advisory committee will be appointed after Mr. Stewart has had an opportunity to consider the matter. That there will be an increase in valuations in the business section this year is assured, and where it is found that the assessments are too high there will be reductions and in cases where they are too low the levy will be increased with the idea of establishing a uniform basis for assessment.

MUSICAL CLUB GUESTS OF MISS MAUD VAN BOSKERCK

Miss Maud VanBoskerck entertained The Musical Club at her studio at Truell Inn, yesterday, when a delightful program of music was given. There were several ensemble numbers, two pianos, by members of the club, and in addition there were solo numbers by Miss Elsie Goddard and Miss Mary G. Runkle and piano selections by Miss Beatrice Hedges, interspersing other features of the program.

Another feature of the program was the ensembled numbers by pupils of Miss Van Boskerck, which added much to the enjoyment of the affair. The whole program was of popular character and those who furnished the pleasing music were heartily applauded.

DOG ACCOMPANIES PRAYER.

Asbury Park, April 29.—A prayer, accompanied by the mournful howling of a dog which had been sleeping under a front pew, proved too much for the equanimity of a congregation in the Avon Baptist church Sunday. Solemnity was replaced by uproar. The dog furnished a climax to a series of unsual incidents. Rev. H. C. McBride, a Methodist clergyman, who was preaching as a candidate for the pulpit, created a sensation at the start by describing the Ladies' Aid Society as a "partnership with the devil" after he had read a notice of a supper to be served soon by this organization for the benefit of the church. Later the clergyman startled the congregation by declaring that he would rather have a sewer running through his house than to have a Sunday newspaper enter it. Through it all, however, the congregation remained quiet, until the dog broke loose as Theodore Brown began a prayer.

NASSAU CHANGES DRAMATICS.

Princeton, April 29.—In order to relieve the manager of the entire burden of preparing the English Dramatic Association productions in the future, plans were made at the annual banquet of the association to adopt a constitution providing for the appointment of a committee and the assignment of duties. A temporary committee was appointed to do the work. It includes Henry J. Hadfield, of New York, who has coached the productions for the past few years; Professor C. Van Winkle, R. J. Ross, M. A. Spencer and E. Lloyd, manager for the coming season. The committee will plan for the election of a president, secretary and manager along the same lines used by the University Triangle Club.

NEW BAGGAGE RULE.

Chicago, Ill., April 29.—Several problems which for years have been a scource of trouble for railroad baggage agents throughout the country are solved by the recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which went into effect today. The new ruling relates principally to charges for excess baggage. Whenever the dimensions of a trunk exceed 45 inches the railroads will be entitled to collect for each additional inch a charge equal to that for transporting 5 pounds of excess baggage. By the same rule the railroads are also authorized to refuse to transport as baggage trunks that are more than 72 inches in any dimensions.

CHATHAM SCHOOL STILL CLOSED

Chatham, April 29.—The public school was not opened yesterday owing to another outbreak of measles. The Board of Education decided to close the school last Monday for one week, but since then other cases have appeared the educational body has decided to keep the institution closed for the remainder of the week.

MORE PAY FOR SUMMIT MASONS.

Summit, April 29.—An advance of five cents an hour, amounting to forty cents a day, has been granted the journeymen by the master masons of Summit. The increase goes into effect May 1, the agreement having been signed Saturday. The new wage scale will be $4.80 for an eight-hour day.

CO. K NOTES

Orders have been issued stating that the company will participate in the Regimental review to be tendered to Maj. General Dennis F. Collins in the Elizabeth Armory, Saturday night, May 3, at 8 o'clock. The company will assemble in the armory at 7:20 o'clock and will proceed to Elizabeth on the 7:41 train. The olive drab uniform, with cap, canvas puttees and russet shoes will be worn. Private Philip Millwater has been detailed for guard duty and will report to Lieut. Dabb on arriving in the armory at Elizabeth.

Special schools of instructions will be held for the new recruits elected into the company tomorrow and Thursday night. Corporal A. H. Van Arsdale will conduct the school tomorrow night and Sergeant James B. Conkling will drill them Thursday night.

The last proficiency test in rifle practice will be held in the armory tonight and all men who have not shot as yet or have shot and failed to qualify will be given another chance to raise their scores.

Several new men were introduced to the company last night and their names were placed before the recruiting committee to decide whether or not they should be allowed to join the company. At next Monday night's drill session these will be voted on and the returns will show whether they will become members or not.

Captain Charles A. Peterson will attend the commissioned officers' School at Elizabeth tomorrow night.

It is expected that Captain Peterson and Lieut. Phillips will attend the banquet to be given in honor of Maj. Gen. Collins before the regimental review in Elizabeth, on Saturday night.

To overlook, day after day, classified ads that were practically written to and for you—that is enough "bad luck" for any one person.

BIG CIRCUS AT NEWARK WITH SPECTACULAR FEATURE

Ringling Brothers' circus is attracting unusual interest this season because of its many new features and the new aspect given the show by the addition of the great spectacle, "Joan of Arc." The circus will be seen in Newark on May 14, and this city and surrounding country will be well represented as it always is when Ringling Brothers are within excursion distance.

There will be a new parade in the forenoon three miles in length. The menagerie is practically twice as big as it was last year and contains many specimens of strange animal life new to American zoos. Audiences will be entertained by 375 of the greatest of Europe's circus artists. Chief among the stars who are exploiting novelties and sensational acts are: The Saxon Trio of the world's strongest men, whose wonderful feats of strength have startled Europe. No act like this has ever been seen in America. Close upon it in importance are the Balkani family of sensational riders, the Janowsky family of novelty acrobats, the three Jahns, ladder-balancing sensationalists, the Lorbeer troupe, who juggle human beings; the Portio quartet of women contortionists, the Maryland family of springboard gymnasts, the Alpine family of wire performers, Capt. Huling's two troupes of performing seals and sealions, the Schuman performing horses, the three herds of best trained elephants on earth, Mijarez, the Mexican wizard of the high wire, the Klarkonian aerialists, and the fifty funniest clowns on earth.

The great feature of the show is of course the newly added spectacle, "Joan of Arc," with a trainload of special scenery, costumes and stage properties and a cast of 1,200 characters. There is also a ballet of 300 dancing girls, a chorus of 400 voices and an orchestra of 100 soloists. This is the greatest dramatic and spectacular production ever presented in America, enacted on a specially built stage bigger than a hundred ordinary theatres. It is made portable so that it can be erected in the main tent each morning. This great entertainment is given as an introductory to the regular circus performance and entails no extra charge of admission.

"Joan of Arc" tells a masterful story from French history in a thrilling and dramatic way and with the wonderful illusion of tons of special scenery and stage devices. In the great battle scene the audience is held spellbound by the realism of the scene, while the enactment of the coronation of Charles VII is beyond question the most sumptuous and inspiring stage picture ever seen.

MOSQUITO FOES ACTIVE.

Elizabeth, April 29.—T. J. Headlee, State entomologist, accompanied by Health Inspector Louis J. Richards, of this city, secretary of the Union County Extermination Commission, and Russell W. Giles chief inspector of the commission, have been making a tour of inspection where the commission's workers have been crusading against the mosquito pest, and expressed himself as pleased with the progress made. Among the places visited were the outskirts of Summit, Murray Hill, New Providence and Lyons Farms, the Weequahic Park section, Frelinghuysen avenue and the Singer meadows. The necessity of having the railroad companies co-operate with the commission was made apparent to Mr. Headlee, as some of the land adjoining the Lehigh Valley and Central Railroad tracks has not been cared for. Mr. Richards is to meet Central Railroad officials today and will endeavor to arrange for the cleaning of swamps in the vicinity of Division street, this city.

MISSING MACHINIST SOUGHT.

Rutherford, April 29.—Believed to be suffering from mencholia, Albert Murphy, twenty-six years old, of 177 Park avenue, East Rutherford, left his home in his working clothes, at 1 o'clock, Saturday morning, and has not been seen since as far as could be leared by Chief of Police George McClelland yesterday. He asked his wife for fifteen cents to go to Jersey City, and she thought best to refuse him. He did not even draw his wages at Fuch & Lang's, where he was employed as a machinist. His wife told the chief of her husband's disappearance yesterday and he immediately telephoned to his father, who is a watchman in Bamberger's store, Newark, but he had not seen him. All his old haunts were visited, with no result. He did not work Friday, complaining of severe pains in his head. He had told his wife that his associates at the shop were hounding him and it appeared to affect his mind. Murphy took a place of one of the strikers. He is light complexion, gray eyes and weighs about 140 pounds, five feet eight inches tall. He wore brown suit and black shirt.

DARTMOUTH MEDICAL TO GO.

The Dartmouth College Medical School, the fourth oldest in the country, will be practically abandoned after the present junior class has be a graduated in 1914. After that date, according to announcement published yesterday, the medical course at Dartmouth will be cut from four years down to two, and no further degrees in medicine will be given, the two-year course in medicine being maintained merely for students who elect it to count toward a degree of Bachelor of Science. The trustees have decided to take this action because the old medical school has suffered from the lack of clinical material, due mainly to its isolated situation. The school was established in 1798. The one hundred and fifteenth graduation exercises were held on Friday last, when ten degrees were conferred.

J. A. RIIS TO SPEAK AT PRINCETON.

Princeton, April 29.—Under the joint auspices of the Municipal Club and Philadelphia Society at Princeton, Jacob A. Riis, of New York, will address a meeting Thursday evening on some subject pertaining to social work. After the meeting Maitland Dwight, captain of the track team at Princeton during his senior year, will outline the opportunities for personal work in the service as alumni.

TO EQUALIZE TAXES.

That the conference of the Mayor and Common Council and the Assessors, held last night, will be productive of much good appears to be the belief of the average taxpayer, particularly he who shows marked interest in civic affairs. It was not denied by the assessors that certain valuable real estate, particularly in the business section, is rated far below what it should be. In fact, in some instances no increases in assessments have been made in the six years although property values have taken an extraordinary jump during that period. The situation is a serious one inasmuch as it is admitted that the taxes are not equalized as the law requires. It is one that demands immediate correction and there is assurance that the remedy will be applied.

Mayor Stewart has been authorized to appoint a committee of five citizens to co-operate with the Board of Assessors in its proposed effort to equalize tax assessments. Undoubtedly, he will name men who are familiar with property values based on recent sales and on offers of purchase and other facts upon which to base assessments. Charles H. Hand, for instance, is the kind of man to call upon for such work, and there are some others who possess the desired knowledge.

It has been asserted by men who should know that assessed valuations are higher here than in other parts of Union county. It might be well, while the special committee is performing its task here, to make an investigation to ascertain whether this be so. If the situation is as represented, then the matter should be brought to the attention of the Union County Board for the Equalization of Taxes. In the event of that body, then failing to act, complaint should be made without delay to the State Board which would be sure to see that the alleged condition be rectified.

SIXTH SPECIAL SESSION.

When the New Jersey Legislature is re-convened on Tuesday, May 6, to reconsider the jury reform bill, it will be the sixth occasion since before the Civil War that the State's lawmaking body has been called in special session. The first time was on April 30, 1861, when the solons gathered in special session to arrange for the raising of troops and to appropriate money for the war. Not until May 25, 1897, was a similar meeting held and then it was to correct an error in a law providing for an election on proposed Constitutional amendments.

During 1903 there were two special sessions, the first convening on April 21 to correct an error in the Passaic Valley sewerage district act, and the second, called on October 15, to enact a public instruction law in place of one declared unconstitutional. Again, on April 12, the Legislature met in special session to pass an act for a roads' appropriation. The then Governor, Franklin Murphy, was angry because the original appropriation was so heavy and he ran his pen through the entire item. The farmers set up a howl and to save his party from possible defeat, Murphy called a special session.

Special sessions are very costly but the money is well spent when such a matter as jury reform, a crying need, is the problem for solution.

During the course of the mass meeting of the Anti-Tuberculosis League last night, President William S. Tyler told what that very worthy organization has been doing for the public health and incidentally he stated its financial needs. Approximately $4,500 must be raised to carry on the laudable undertaking for with the Open Air School in operation the expenses of the society materially increase. The sum wanted must be obtained necessarily through popular subscription. Considering the wealth of our community, despite the fact that its people are called upon to aid many fine charities, it does not seem that it should be difficult to get $4,500 for this purpose.

North Plainfield's Board of Education, acting on the suggestion that it is a violation of the State school law to hold executive sessions, has ceased the practise. At last night's session, the body took a "recess" to discuss some matters and the reporters were invited to call again after the "recess." Rather clever idea, isn't it?

THE FORUM.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Mr. Harrison seems to have gotten mixed in the acceptance of my letter which appeared in your issue of April 25. I wrote "that there seems to be an element of danger in going too fast at the commission plan of government election. We should undertake a campaign of education and take our time about it, giving the matter cool, deliberate, satisfactory investigation, etc."

Mr. Harrison seems to think that I said, "there will be an element of danger in a campaign of education." I trust that he will now understand and if he does not, he can come around to my office and find a warm welcome and an explanation ready at any time.

I knew what Mr. Donnelley was going to say in the speech which he delivered at the High School auditorium, on the 25th inst. He had been making the same kind of a speech in other places.

I have already appointed the committee and am sorry that Mr. Harrison objects to the Board of Trade, taking up an inquiry into the matter. —Next.

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK TO BE THE THEME

Inter-Denominational Conference to Be Held Early in May.

The second annual inter-denominational social service conference, in which many Plainfielders are interested, will be held in the First Presbyterian church, Broad, near Mechanic street, Newark, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 5, 6 and 7, at which time a number of prominent speakers will be heard on various topics.

Rev. James A. Francis, of Boston, will speak on Monday. On Tuesday the topic will be "The Church and the Industrial Situation," and among the speakers will be Rev. Dr. E. L. Earp, formerly of Grace M. E. church, the borough, but now of Drew Seminary, where he is a professor, and Mayor G. R. Lunn, of Schenectady, N. Y. In the evening Dr. Jonathan C. Day, of Labor Temple, New York, will speak.

"The Church and Recreation" will be the topic Wednesday afternoon, the speakers being Mrs. C. D. Alexander, of Hoboken, and Mrs. Charles H. Israels. The evening topic will be "Co-operation," and Rt. Rev. Edwin S. Lines, of Newark, and Everet Colby will be the speakers. Then will follow five minute speeches by representatives of neighboring cities, including Paterson, Jersey City, Newark, Passaic, Orange and Elizabeth.

FINED FOR FIGHTING.

Samuel Donaldson was fined $15 and Irving Cassett had sentence suspended when arraigned before City Judge De Meza this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct. According to the testimony the two men decided an argument with their fists at West Third street and Plainfield avenue, attracting a large crowd before being separted.

WATCH ON SHOE, NEW FAD.

London Dealer Inaugurates Odd Fashion For Women.

A new caprice of fashion shown in a smart shop in Oxford street, London, is a watch worn on the shoe. A window displays a gray suede pump with a tiny jeweled watch worn as a buckle and fastened with a tiny silver chain.

The proprietor says that several society women patrons have given orders. He asserts his belief that it will be as popular a fad as the wrist watch

Shut Her Up.

In every large hotel the chamber maids are always ready and willing to perform a personal service for the sake of the customary tip that accompanies it. Remembering this, the woman tourist who was stopping at a famous hotel in Cairo rang at last for assistance after vainly struggling for fifteen minutes with the intricacies of the rear fastenings of her gown. To her dismay, one of the Arab porters responded to her ring.

"Madame requires something?" His voice was soft and sweetly modulated.

"Yes. Please send up one of the maids to hook my dress."

"Ah, if that is all." He bowed and waved a deprecating hand. "Madame desires to be shut up? I can shut her up."

Which he did.

Why He Didn't Like Pistols.

Discussing pistols as dueling weapons, a Paris paper sought the views of a man who had the reputation of an expert on the field of honor. He at once began to rail at duels with pistols He could not bear even to speak of them. The fact was that he had once himself at an encounter of that kind received a ball in the shoulder.

"Then you disapprove of them simply because you were defeated?"

"Why, I was not defeated."

"What!"

"No; I was a second. You may well believe that I, promised myself never to mix again in affairs of that sort. However, one day I had to accompany a friend on the field. He had asked it of me as a personal favor. I could not refuse. But I insisted upon one condition."

"What was that?"

"That I should climb a tree during the firing."

"A good scheme."

"You think so? Well, I was wounded again. My friend fired in the air!"

Real Kind of Her.

"I remember hearing," says Lady Dorothy Nevill in her reminiscences, "of a very good natured lady who was always helping a relative of hers who was very extravagant. Having one summer lent this feather brained creature a considerable sum of money, what was her surprise at the end of the season to be applied to again in order that what were described as some pressing debts might be settled.

"'I am very sorry,' said the kind hearted lady, 'but I can't possibly help you again just now. In order to lend you that money some time ago I was forced to go without a motor this season.'

"'Dear me!' was the ply. 'If I had only known that I should have been delightend to lend you mine!'"

EPWORTH LEAGUERS HOLD A RALLY HERE

Rev. John R. Brown, of Newark, Delivers an Interesting Discourse.

Fifteen churches, comprising the Plainfield group of the Elizabeth district, were represented at the Epworth League rally held in the parlors of the First M. E. church, last night, a large delegation of young people attending the affair, which proved highly successful from every point of view. A business session at which methods of league work were discussed and suggestions for the furtherance of the work being carried on here and in other cities were offered and each delegation profited from some set of new methods outlined by another branch of the league where they have been tried and have proved popular.

Rev. John R. Brown, of Newark, was the speaker of the evening, taking for his subject, "Progressive Christianity." He outlined the history of religion, tracing its progress from the earliest sources to the present time, telling the influences it has held over the people in their various walks of life. The speaker spoke of the religious progressiveness from a political standpoint, telling of the position it occupied in the country's history.

The speaker urged the leaguers to do everything in their power to promote the work of God and to further the cause of Christianity, and to keep the progressiveness ever in view.

W. J. WHELAN A BEARER.

William J. Whelan, of this city, was one of the pall-bearers at the funeral service of Mrs. James J. Brenan held at the Chuch of the Sacred Heart, Elizabeth, yesterday, where a solemn high mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul. Among the mourners at the service was former United States Senator James Smith.

ALIEN LAND BILL IS SURE OF PASSAGE

Bryan's Visit Gained Nothing and Senator Work Serves Notice.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, April 29.—Asserting the right of California to enact laws prohibiting aliens from holding land, Senator Works, of California, in a statement issued today said that if the National Government makes a treaty infringing upon this right the State is not bound thereby. He suggests that the treaty obstructing the rights of the State be abrogated as one solution of the difficulty.

New York, April 29.—A despatch from Sacramento says that the general impression there is that Secretary of State Bryan has accomplished anything in his efforts to prevent antagonistic Japanese litigation and that the alien land bill will go through the California Legislature Threats have been made to pass an initiative bill within a week, the despatch says, if the alien land measure is put overr.

TARIFF DEBATE RULES.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, April 29.—Consideration of the tariff bill under the five minute rule will be commenced in the House today. No member can discuss a paragraph for more than five minutes and there can be no roll calls on votes. It is thought that two or three weeks will be devoted to further consideration of the bill in the House.

RESCUER OF LITTLE TITANIC WAIFS WEDS NEWPORT, R. I., PHYSICIAN

Miss Margaret Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Hays, of New York, who was the rescuer of the two little Titanic waifs, was married recently to Dr. Charles D. Easton, of Newport, R. I. Miss Hays was a passenger when the ill fated Titanic sank, and it was her experience to rescue the little French boys, Edmond and Michael Navratil, who were for a long time known only as "Mono" and "Lolo," and bring them to her home, where she cared for them until their mother was finally found.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

"Excuse Me" is to have a Paris production.

"A Man's Friends" will go on tour next season.

Adeline Genee is to make a tour of Australia.

David Bispham is to star in "The Jolly Peasant."

Lillian Russell will return to vaudeville in Pittsburgh.

Olive Briscoe is to appear in London in a musical revue.

"Du Barry" is to reappear next season as a musical production.

Walker Whiteside will appear again next season in "The Typhoon."

Bessie Wynn may head a company of star specialists for the spring season.

Miriam Clements, an English actress, has been engaged for the revival of "The Amazons."

Lily Langtry is the latest star to be secured by Daniel Frohman for his moving pictures.

Constance Collier will appear shortly in a new play with Ian Maclean as her leading man.

When "The Garden of Allah" is presented in London Lawson Butt will play the leading role in Boris.

Helen Lowell has finished her tour in "The Red Petticoat" and will spend her vacation in Newport, L. I.

Margaret Illington will close her season in "Kindling" about the middle of May and will probably go abroad for the summer.

Lucille La Verne will play the title role of "Ann Boyd" on tour the coming fall. Miss La Verne adapted the play from the novel.

The dramatization of "The Inner Shrine," by Channing Polock, is to have a spring production under the direction of A. G. Delamater.

Catherine Countiss has made a big success in vaudeville in a playlet called "The Birthday Present," and is making a tour of the country in it.

Frances Cameron, one of the Sonias of "The Merry Widow," and who has been playing in "The Count of Luxemburg," is to marry a Pittsburg millionaire.

Arthur Hammerstein is to produce in Chicago, in the autumn, a musical farce called "High Jinks," by Otto Hauerbach and Rudolf Friml, authors of "The Firefly".

The Liebler Company next season will present in this country Isreal Zangwill's latest play, "The New Religion." This play was barred by the censor from London on account of several passages which were considered by him objectionable and which the author refused to change.

worthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, mentally and spiritually, clean, physically and morally, and reverent.

Employers are constantly in search of boys answering these requirements and it is the purpose of the plan to provide this service without charge to either the employer or the scout. After the scout has been placed, his scoutmaster and assistant scoutmasters will co-operate with the employer to help him to make good. If the boy becomes careless in his work, the employer can help the boy to get a better grip on his job by reporting the laxity to the lad's scoutmaster who will counsel the boy in the rudiments of business deportment which, is the unwritten scout law of efficiency, namely, to play with all his might, but when it comes time to work, to work with all the enthusiasm he put into his play.

During the last two years the boy scout movement has grown remarkably. It is non-sectarian although some of the local troops are at present affiliated with Sunday-schools, and there are now more than eight registered scoutmasters in the city and the total membership runs above the hundred mark. The active scoutmasters are Charles R. Bostwick, who is organizing a troop in the First M. E. church; H. R. Hubbard, who has charge of the troop in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church; Allen E. Beals, who is Scoutmaster of the troop in the First Presbyterian Sunday school; William D. Murray, who is a member of the National Editorial Board of the Boy Scouts of America, and Stanley M. Garner, Scoutmaster of a large troop of colored boy scouts of the Bethel chapel. Other troops are in process of organization among the Italian young men of the city and a movement is underway to establish troops in Hope chapel, at Scotch Plains and in Grace Episcopal church.

H. Craig Smith, of the 1913 Memorial Day detail of the local Grand Army of the Republic post, has issued to all the Scoutmasters of the city, a formal invitation to participate in the Memorial day parade and exercises on May 30. This will be the first formal public appearance of the Plainfield Boy Scouts and almost two hundred boys will be in line, behind their own fife, drum and bugle corps.

ROAD WORKERS FIND MORE HUMAN BONES

Springfield Again Stirred by Unearthing Remains of Revolutionary Soldiers.

Springfield, April 29.—Springfield has been aroused by the unearthing of more human bones near the old Revolutionary cemetery in Morris avenue. While plowing through the base of the little knoll for the new county highway being built from Morris avenue to Westfield through the F. & F. Nursery property in this township, Saturday afternoon, the employes of the Winans Construction Company of Linden laid bare the bones of two more bodies evidently of Revolutionary soldiers. It is thought that the remains of six bodies have been dug up while this new road has been under construction.

The older residents of the township can remember back many years when the attempt to build a highway through this property, as is being done today, was halted by the law, because several bodies were unearthed. It is believed that at one time the Revolutionary cemetery, now set off in a small plot of ground measuring about 100 feet square, covered about ten times as much land and that this land is still filled with the graves of soldiers who lost their lives in the battle of Springfield, fought June 23, 1780.

It was stated here this morning that twenty-five years ago Captain McJilton, an old Civil War veteran, who owned the property which is now occupied by William Flemer, planned to open a highway and sell lots for building purposes. His plans were killed, however, when graves were unearthed.

Eye witnesses to the unearthing of the bodies on Saturday stated that the skulls and bones were laid on the grass in the Revolutionary cemetery. The skulls and bones have disappeared, however, and it is believed that someone buried them.

The Daughters of the American Revolution have been appealed to by old citizens of the township in regard to the matter, and it is expected that something can be done to have the other remains, if found, removed to the Revolutionary cemetery and stones erected.

MANUAL TRAINING SCHOOL

thirty-three teachers of the North Plainfield schools, requesting that the reopening of the schools following the summer vacation be postponed from September 3 until a week later, but this was defeated when offered in a resolution, on the ground that it was unnecessary and would necessitate the reconsideration of the entire school schedule.

The matter of commencements was discussed in detail but no definite plans were made. It was advocated at a previous meeting that the graduation exercises be held at the Park Club, which can accommodate approximately 400 persons, instead of in the Plainfield theatre and thereby considerably reduce the expenses of the affair. Supervising Principal Arthur B. Vossler told the Board members last night that he had made an investigation and found that if this plan was carried out, in many cases the immediate members of the family to which the respective graduates belonged, would be unable to be present because of the limited accommodations. It was suggested to secure State Educational Commissioner Albert B. Meredith as the speaker at the commencement, but he notified the Board in a communication that he has another engagement arranged previously, which would prevent his appearance. The sentiment of the Board seemed to be, following the reading of Mr. Meredith's letter, to have the exercises in the Plainfield theatre, where many more people can be accommodated and to curtail expenses in the matter of a speaker.

Dr. Cooley reported that the reason the State has not turned over the appropriation for the manual training account is due to the fact that the report for the fiscal year has not been sent in. This will be done immediately.

Den. J. Galbraith, after a lengthy discussion, was awarded a payment not to exceed $886.01, on account of his contract for installing the heating and ventilating system in the Somerset School building. The district clerk was authorized to sign warrants to meet a $2,500 note with interest. Joseph Meyers, of Linden avenue, was granted working papers.

Supervising Principal Arthur B. Vossler submitted his report for the month of March, which showed that the total registration in the Somerset School to be 892 and in the Watchung institution, 269. In the report, he said the United States Express Company had refused to extend credit to the North Plainfield Board of Education because bills for the present year have not been paid.

KRAUSE GREATER SHOWS TO BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Overetta, the show beautiful, which is one of the many features carried by Krause Greater Shows who exhibit here next week under the auspices of the Plainfield Council, United Commercial Travelers, is considered one of the most instructive entertainments today with any tented organization, embracing all the famous works of art of ancient and modern times, being a reproduction.

There will be a reproduction of the famous art galleries of Europe, and amid elaborate settings are reproduced the crafts of ages past, considered the acme of perfection. The lecturer virtually transplants his audience to these art galleries and with the aid of modern electrical appliances presents scenes beyond the powers of description.

The performance opens aboard ship about to leave for Europe to visit the art galleries, including the national galleries of Great Britain, Berlin and various European centres. Forty-five minutes is required for a performance.

CRIPPLE FOUND DEAD ON STEPS.

New Brunswick, April 29.—Members of his family found Michael F. Doran sitting dead on the cellar steps at his home at 14 Central avenue. Doran was a cripple, having had both legs cut off at the knee eight years ago by a train in the freight yard here, but was able to get about by the aid of crutches. Coming home exhausted he dropped upon the cellar steps at a side entrance to the house. The family thought him asleep. Death was due to heart disease.

The Housewife's Daily Economy Calendar

Drying and Sprinkling.

Much of the success of well-laundered clothes depends on the way they are dried and sprinkled; some laundresses think, in fact, that half the ironing is done when well dried, smoothly folded and carefully sprinkled clothes are laid before them on Tuesday morning.

For one thing, the clothes should be dried out of doors, if they are to look their best. Sunshine and air have actual cleansing value. It is said, too, that the early morning air has a certain bleaching quality, owing to the presence of something called actinic, which the mid-day or afternoon air lacks.

Clothes dried on the grass are whiter than those dried on lines, although clean, thick grass should always be chosen, and the clothes should be protected from the footprints of dogs and cats if they are dried on the ground. The sun brings a little chlorine, a bleaching agent, from the grass, and this whitens the clothes.

Smoothness.

So much for the cleansing which can be given clothes while they are drying. Much of smoothness can also be given them. For one thing, always put the clothes-pins in where they will leave the least noticeable mark. Shirtwaists, for instance, should be hung from the bottom, as marks from clothes-pins in the shoulders are noticeable and difficult to iron out. Skirts should be hung from the waistbands, as there is no difficulty in getting out pin marks there. This method of hanging also saves room, and by giving the wind free sweep through the lower part of the skirt, makes drying quicker.

Sheets and tablecloths should never be hung from a single thickness. They should be folded ten or twelve inches over the line, pulled even and then pinned in place. If they are to be dried quickly, they must be pulled taut on the line; but if there is no hurry about drying them, they can be looped a little to save room.

To save room always hang handkerchiefs, doilies and napkins by a single corner.

Collars washed at home can be strung through the buttonholes on a soft string and hung by the string from the line. This saves room and saves the collars, too, from wear and tear.

Sprinkling.

Sort all clothes before sprinking them. They can be taken from the lines sorted if this plan is feasible, and kept in piles of separate kinds when they are sprinkled. Fold and roll all articles of one kind together when they are sprinkled. This method will simplify the task of putting the clothes away after they are ironed, and will also make the ironer's work easier.

Some Cookery Suggestions

SPRING RHUBARB.

THE acid in rhubarb stimulates the appetite and acts wholesomely on the blood. This plant is an ideal spring food, and it should at this season appear on the table as often as possible.

Jellied Rhubarb.—Take one pound of rhubarb cut fine and put in a granite dish with one cupful of sugar, the grated rind of a lemon and a small piece of ginger root. Cover and bake till tender. Add one-half ounce of gelatin softened in cold water and stir over hot water till thoroughly dissolved; then add one tablespoonful of lemon juice and pour into a fancy mold which has been dipped in cold water. Keep on ice until time to serve; then turn out on a glass dish, fill the center with whipped cream and put small mounds of it around the jelly.

With Custard and Meringue.

Rhubarb Custard.—Take slices of stale sponge cake and place them in a deep glass dish in alternate layers with stewed rhubarb. Just before serving cover with a cold boiled custard made as follows: Beat the yolks of three eggs with three tablespoonfuls of sugar and pour over them two cupfuls of boiling milk. Put the custard in a pitcher placed in a pan of boiling water. Cook over the fire till the mixture will coat the spoon. Flavor with one teaspoonful of lemon extract. Make a meringue with the whites of the eggs and two tablespoonfuls of sugar and spread over the top. Bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven. The rhubarb must be very cold before the custard is poured over it.

Rhubarb Sponge.—Take about a dozen stalks of red rhubarb and cut into small pieces. Stew with about half a pound of crushed loaf sugar. Line a small pudding dish with slices of sponge cake and fill with alternate layers of rhubarb and cake. Put on a cover and small weight and set aside till cold. Turn out on to the serving plate, spread thickly with a meringue of the whites of two eggs and two tablespoonfuls of sugar beaten stiff and place in the oven to set the meringue.

Handsomely Molded.

Rhubarb Mold.—Peel and cut up two and a half pounds of rhubarb, put it in a basin with a little cold water, not enough to quite cover it. Place a plate over the top and cook it in the oven till soft.

Dissolve one heaping tablespoonful of powdered gelatin in half a cupful of boiling water, add strained juice from rhubarb to it and stir till quite dissolved.

Rub the cooked rhubarb through a sieve; then add it to the gelatin, with seven tablespoonfuls of whipped cream and eight heaping tablespoonfuls of sugar. Set this on the fire to reheat, but on no account to boil, and stirring it all the time. Pour into a wet mold, turn out when firm and serve with custard round it.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Story Of the Chameleon.

The Men Quarreled Over It.

"CHILDREN," asked daddy one evening, "did either of you ever see a chameleon?"

"No," said Evelyn and Jack together, and then Jack asked, "What's a chameleon?"

"A chameleon is one of the most wonderful animals in the world," said daddy. "It's a funny little fellow, like a lizard, and it has the strange power of changing its color according to the things upon which it rests or which are around it. Sometimes it is red, sometimes green, sometimes gray, and then again it may be black or white. It changes color also according to the way it feels. It may be one color when it is quiet and happy, but if you disturb or annoy it it may be quite another color.

"Once upon a time there were two men traveling in Arabia, where chameleons are found. They were talking of different things and chanced to speak of the chameleon.

"'That's a funny animal for you,' said one of the men. 'It has a long, thin body, a head like a fish, a tongue like a snake, a foot with three claws, and, my, what a long tail! And its color—whoever saw such a beautiful blue?'

"'Blue!' said the other man. 'Did you say blue?'

"'Certainly,' said the first man; 'that's the color of a chameleon, isn't it?' and the man looked quite offended.

"'Why, no,' said the other traveler; 'the chameleon is green. Only the other day I saw one, and it was the finest deep green I ever saw,' and he looked very determinedly at the other man.

"So they got to arguing and disputing about the chameleon, although before that time they had been riding together just as friendly as could be. But now angry words arose, and they might have fought and harmed each other, but they saw another traveler approaching.

"'We'll leave the matter to this man,' said one of the two, 'and I'm sure he will agree with me.'

"'Nothing of the kind,' said the other. 'He'll agree with me.'

"So when the third man came up they asked him whether the chameleon was blue or green.

"'You are both wrong,' said the judge. 'Luckily I caught a chameleon last night, and I have him in my pocket. He is quite black. I'll show him to you, and if he isn't black—why, I'll eat him!'

"With that he took out the chameleon. All three took a good, long look at the animal and then burst out laughing. The chameleon, which one man had said was blue and another man had been sure was green and the third man had insisted was black, was white when they saw him in the daylight."

THE FASTING FAD FOR GOOD LOOKS

Its Magic Lies In the Fact That It Puts the System In Order and Thus Improves the Health and Appearance.

THE old doctrine of plain living and high thinking is being made the basis of the new therapeutics. The newest school in medicine is the fasting school.

The doctor of this class will tell you when you come to see him that you eat too much. He is right too. Most women do eat more than they really need, and they are thin and scrawny and nervous because they do not eat nourishing food or do not eat it correctly. They think they are hungry when their pampered stomachs merely crave the stimulus of the highly seasoned foods to which they have accustomed it.

There are few ills that are not accentuated by a stomach out of order. So the new school doctor begins by getting the stomach cleared before he administers medicines. If the illness is not a very startling one he will tell you to fast until the next day or for twenty-four hours. Sometimes he will suggest copious drinks of hot water as part of the fasting process.

One advantage of this system is that in minor illnesses you can be your own physician. If you have not an appetite it will help you. If you are too stout it will reduce your weight. If you are too thin you will put flesh on afterward, when the clogging of your system has been overcome and your digestive organs recover tone after the rest, which is their greatest need. If you wish to cure your indigestion, your gout, your tendency to colds, your general rundown condition, follow up three days' light diet with a course of common sense food regulation.

Then when the cure is complete do not go back to the old diet. Eat simple, nourishing foods. Take a light breakfast—a slice of toast, an egg or fish or bacon with one cup of tea. Follow it with a still lighter luncheon—a plate of soup with toast and fresh fruit.

The third and last meal of the day may include a little fish, a small piece of meat with vegetables and toast and with a piece of cheese in place of sweets or savories.

Every two or three weeks return to the day's starvation. If you have lost your appetite you will very soon find that a few weeks' dieting on these lines will restore an appreciation of flavor and a healthy joy in food, which is the very best indication that the treatment has been a success. You will increase your energy and your interest in life and be a much more cheerful companion as a result.

The woman who suffers from overstoutness and indigestion, who never has an appetite, sleeps badly and wakens with a headache, and the gouty or rheumatic person who suffers from irritability or "nerves" may both profit by scientific fasting. The people with colds in the head at periodic intervals, whatever the season of the year, should fast to break the colds.

Many women are sick and depressed, martyrs to dyspepsia or semi-invalided with gout, because their systems get clogged with the products of imperfect digestion from overtaxing the tissues that have to do with combustion of food. They need not more food, tonics, overcoddling of any sort or description, but a little judicious starvation. They need to go without food altogether for twenty-four hours and then follow up with two or three days of the lightest diet, say a tumberful of milk three times a day.

If the digestive apparatus were thus kept in tone women would scarcely find it necessary to resort to cosmetics or the beauty doctor and business women would find their brains in better working order.

SPOTS AND STAINS.

To remove ink stains that are old and dry from woolen or cotton goods cover the spots first with olive oil or butter and then rub them with chloroform.

To remove scorch spots wet the scorched portion with clear water and sprinkle with borax. It will remove the scorch and leave no stain and may be used on the most delicate fabrics.

To remove the yellow in a garment that has been laid aside for a couple of years put a teaspoonful of powdered borax in the last water in which the article is washed, letting it remain for a few minutes.

Cleaning a Shawl.

To clean a wool shawl make a good lather of soap and warm water, just comfortably hot to the hand, and squeeze the shawl in this with both hands until it is clean. Do not rub soap on the garment. Then rinse the article in several waters of about the same temperature as the suds, squeeze the water out or run it through the wringer, but never wring with the hands. Lay the shawl loosely on a clean cloth to dry moving it about occasionally. When nearly dry spread a clean sheet on the floor and pin the shawl out to its proper size on a line unless you want it stringy.

A Unique Lingerie Display.

It is a most entrancing display of lingerie that Gimbel Brothers is having in their eighth floor auditorium. It will last throughout the week, and the hours are from 10. to 12 in the morning, and from 3 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Women only are admitted to the auditorium, and they give their full share of appreciation, for if there is anything that a woman loves it is dainty lingerie.

All around the auditorium boudoirs are arranged with dressing rooms between. They are furnished with exquisite taste in ivory white and old-rose, and strongly suggest the luxurious Parisienne. The French idea is further carried out by copies of Le Figaro which are nonchalantly read by the occupants of the boudoirs.

When the display opens the models have just had their morning chocolate and are still in bed. Their dainty lace caps and night robes make beauty even more beautiful. Presently with the assistance of capped and aproned maids they rise. Negligees that rival the filmy cobweb in texture are thrown over their lace or silk nightgowns, and after pinning up their hair they are ready for the morning bath. The bath-robes they wear are as becoming in their way as the other garments. Some of them have caps shaped like monks' hoods to protect the wet head. For the woman who enjoys her cigarette before or after her bath there is the most betwitching smoking costume which is quite the newest thing for my lady of fashion. This is made with a clinging skirt and a straight jacket.

After the bath and chocolate the robing begins. The corset is placed on the model, and a corsetiere adjusts it, giving a practical demonstration of the correct way to put on a corset. Every model wears a different make, and this alone is an education in itself. Every woman who can, ought, for her own sake, to visit this display and learn not only what corset to wear but how to wear it. The models shown are not only for matured figures. There are also young girls displaying corsets and lingerie, and a trained nurse has charge of a doll baby which she dresses completely for the benefit of the mother who wants points on the proper way to clothe an infant.

After the corset comes the most bewildering and entrancing lot of undergarments of the sheerest of muslins, the finest of laces, and the softest of silks. Entire combinations are made of lace, and petticoats and negligees are seen in silk crepes and crepe de Chine. Many nightgowns are displayed, also negligees and kimonos. The prices of any of these, and the makes of the corsets, are given on request. The display of the more intimate accessories of woman's dress on living models is unquie, and wonderfully successful in bringing out their indivdual beauties. The event is one which every woman ought to attend.

THE RIGHT QUESTION BUT THE WRONG ANSWER

"MAC" SAYS

Were we president of the Central New Jersey Baseball League, now in the progress of reorganization, our first move would be to try to place a representative league race contender at the North Pole. A traveling combination would suffice.

What material Manager Ernest Dorflinger had out on the oval Saturday afternoon looked exceedingly good and this, together with the rest of the stars contemplating wearing Plainfield woolens, will probably be sufficient to land another pennant.

A peculiar thing about these advertised "free days" at the oval when Dorflinger feels generously inclined, is the mammoth crowd they draw. Last Saturday was one of the gratus exhibitions and the stands were well filled.

Thirty-five strikeouts in one game. Somewhat of a feat for two school boy heavers to perform. Newton Spencer, the little borough twirler, pitched the game of his life Saturday afternoon during the thirteen innings N. P. H. S. battled against High Bridge. After fanning seventeen and holding the hits to three it is rather hard to have to be contented with the smaller end of the tally card.

Spencer will pobably be saved to fan the city High School batters next Saturday afternoon at Hyde Oval in the first of the interscholastic clashes.

P. H. S. also has a steady moundsman in the person of Matty Coughlin. This portsider fanned ten of the High School of Commerce sluggers.

A number of new faces appeared in the Hope chapel lineup Saturday afternoon in the practice game with the Saurer people. Wonder if all of these recruits have attended Sunday-school the required number of times to be eligible to play in the Sunday-school League?

Another strikeout phenom was developed over the week-end in the person of Dixon, a borther of the Dunellen backstop. This youngster made fifteen of the Oak Field Club batters whiff the air at Perth Amboy Sunday afternoon in a West End A. C. uniform. That makes three for Plainfield this week with a total of forty-two strikeouts.

It is about time for Townley to work again on the N. P. H. S. mound. He will probably be used in tomorrow's game with Bernardsville.

There appears to be enough factory baseball nines in this city this season to start another Manufacturers' League. Nearly all of last year's aggregations are still chasing the horseside.

Scotch Plains Parish House boasts of a baseball team extraordinary. That is to say, one that does not require practice and never keeps a box score. Somebody ought to get wise to the art of recording putouts and assists in that hamlet and show by actual records the kind of ball that is really pulled off on the 'Plains sandlots.

BASEBALL NOTES

Al Kaiser, formerly of the Boston Braves, has signed with the Indianaponis team, of the new Federal League.

"Long Tom" Hughes, who has been pitching 'lo these many years, is still pitching and pitching regular 18-K ball for Washington.

For the first time in his seventeen years in the big leagues, Bobby Wallace, of the Browns, was out of the opening game of the season.

Charlie O'Leary, the old Detroit shortstopper, is back in the big show, playing like a hero in the movies with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Big Chief George Murphy Johnson, the Indian hurler turned over to Cincinnati by the White Sox, is pitching some great ball for the Reds.

"Old Fox" Griffith's Washington boys are traveling in the third speed and American League teams will have to play their prettiest to stop them.

Danbury, Conn., has been admitted to the new New York and New Jersey League. The club will be owned by Ernest C. Landgraff, of New York.

"Pep" Young, who is holding down short for the Highlanders, is not very strong in stick work, but plays a nifty game in the field.

A watch fob with a monogram of silver set with diamonds was presented to Roger Bresnahan by St. Louis friends, when the Cubs opened the season in Hugginsville.

The "hidden ball" trick has been tossed into the discard by the American League. Umpires have been instructed not to call base runners out when they fall victims of the ancient stuff.

Captain Larry Doyle, of the Giants, has his old war club working with good results. Said results consisting of hits that rap the fence in the outskirts of the ball yard.

"Minstrel Cy" Morgan had his old wing oiled up nicely and came home a winner the first game he pitched for Kansas City. Toledo was the victim of the former Philadelphia-Boston heaver.

The Brooklyn Superbas are playing good ball, and with a fair share of the breaks of the game Dahlen's crew should be able to do something for the other end of the big bridge.

The Giants have signed Dave White, who has been pitching for the Georgetown University nine. He is a brother of Steve White, the former star twirler for Plinceton University.

Frank Schulte, of the Cubs, says that he will make 30 home runs this season. As 12 homers was Frank's share last season he will have to do considerable clouting to make good his boast.

Young Janvrin has not been setting the grass on fire around first base for the Red Sox. But it isn't the kid's fault at that. His regular position is across the diamond at the hot corner, where he is able to hold up his end with the best of them.

LOCAL BOYS' TEAMMATE CLASSY.

Ray, an eighteen-year-old boy signed by Manager Clancy, of the Winston-Salem team, of the Carolina League, of which Tommy Mullin, Louis Slocum and Otto Frederickson, of this city, are members, yesterday pitched a no-hit no-run game against the Durham aggregation of the same league. The youngster exhibited perfect control and through his wonderful performance will undoubtedly land a permanent berth on the team. Neither Slocum or Freddy have twirled a league contest as yet but they are expected to mount the hill during the next couple of days. Mullin is playing regularly at short for the team.

HOPE'S NEXT GAME.

On Hope Common next Saturday afternoon, the Hope Chapel Sunday-school League baseball team will play another ante-season contest with the Scotch Plains Parish House nine. This team is considered to be of the same class as the Chapelites and will make the local boys hustle to come out in the van.

ANOTHER LEAGUE FOR PLAINFIELD

Baseball Teams of This City Will Combine in New Organization.

Plainfield could not get along without a factory league, at least that is what everyone has thought right along, and those who have been boosting the project now come across with the information that a four-team organization has been formed to be known as the City League. This will fulfill the want, if there is a want present, and at the same time give the four independent aggregations a chance to frolic on the baseball diamond Saturday afternoons. The four nines composing the circuit are the Spicer Manufacturing Company's team and the Saurer Motor Company team, of last year's Manufacturers' League, the West End A. C. and the Royal Colored Giants.

Players on the various aggregations must all be local residents and each team will be allowed to carry an unlimited roster. This latter condition will probably serve to make this organization one of the strongest of its kind as the respective managers will thus be enabled to carry as many reserves as they wish. A schedule of games will be drawn up in the near future and a set of umpires selected to govern the league affairs during the playing season will be appointed.

BIG JEFF TESREAU GETTING HIS BUMPS

Giants Star Heaver Has Already Been Driven From the Slab While Pitching.

Baseball is full of upsets, as the records show. Prior to the opening of the season fans confidently expected that Big Jeff Tesreau, of the Giants, would start right off the reel and pile up a string of consecutive victories. Instead, McGraw's mammoth spitballer dropped the opener to the Boston Braves, being driven from the slab while dropping it, and then, on his first appearance in a relief role, allows the opposition to come from behind and win out.

Tesreau undoubtedly will win great number of games for the McGrawites this year, and possibly may surpass his 1912 record. There is one record he made in 1912, however, that he cannot possibly equal, even though the season is still in its infancy. That record relates to home runs. Last year only one National League player made a homer off Big Jeff, who worked in 243 innings, equivalent to twenty-seven complete games. On Tesreau's first two appearances on the slab this season he labored for just seven stanzas, and in that time was located for two four-baggers. John Titus was the lone National Leaguer who clouted for the circuit off Tesreau last season, the present Bostonian, then a Phillie, making his four-bagger in the game played on May 2.

The players who poled howers off Tesreau this year were Bill Rariden, who used to be Rube Marquard's backstop when the tall port-sider was with Canton, and J. Carlisle Smith, who started the season in sad fashion, since Tom Seaton whiffed him thrice. Despite the fact that Tesreau has had two home runs made off him in less than one full game, he undoubtedly will remain on the Giants' payroll all season long, and will receive the consideration of the jury of experts serving on the award for the National League's best player.

SPICER NINE WILL PLAY ROYAL GIANTS

Wise Ones Say That the Factory Combination is Better Than Ever Before.

Spicer Manufacturing Company's employes have formed a baseball combination and will open the season Saturday afternoon against the Royal Colored Giants on the Filmore avenue grounds. The Spicer team is a great deal stronger than it was in the Manufacturers' League last year and is making preparations to cop the bunting in the City League this summer. Simmons is equally as confident of winning the game, and has gathered together the choicest of colored material for this battle.

The manager of the Spicer team desires to arrange games with teams in and out of the city and are ready to lineup against any aggregation, no matter how strong or heralded the combination may be.

Y. M. A. A. PLAYERS TO TRY PARK NINE

Good Game Expected at Parker Field Next Saturday Afternoon.

Since the game played between the Y. M. A. A. team, of this city, and the Y. M. A. nine, of South Bound Brook, on the Centre street diamond, Saturday afternoon, Manager William Conger, of the former combination, has had the pleasure of hearing from a number of the fans who witnessed the contest and marveled at the style of ball put up by the respective contenders. Conger promises the same attraction regularly if the attendance continues to be as large as it was last week and has been arranging a schedule with a number of the fastest combinations in this vicinity.

Next Saturday afternoon the Y. M. A. A. team will cross bats with the Park Avenue Baptist team, of the Sunday-school League, on Parker Field, and Thorne, the Roselle High School heaver, will be in the box once more for the athletics, with Terr, holding the shoots behind the bat. Two good hitters have been signed up to make their first appearance this Saturday and will fill the two weak spots in the lineup evidenced in the game last Saturday afternoon.

M'CARTY AND MORAN.

New York, April 29.—What promises to be the choicest tidbit fed to metropolitan fight fans in some time wil be served at the St. Nicholas Athletic Club tomorrow night, when Luther McCarty, claimant to the white heayweight championship, and Frank Moran, the Pittsburg heavyweight, will come together for a ten-round argument with the gloves. It will be the best opportunity that McCarty has had to display his prowess to the followers of the game in New York. Moran, though a smaller and lighter man than McCarty, is counted upon to give the Missourian an interesting battle. Moran has done most of his fighting in the West and in Europe, being unusualy successful in foriegn lands. The most notable of his recent achievements was a twenty-round bout with Gunboat Smith, in which he lost the decision to the Californian, but brushed aside the hard punches for the full twenty-rounds.

CHAPELITES TO FEED.

Hope Chapel baseball players will be treated to their annual baseball supper in the Chapel rooms next Friday night. During the evening an exhibit of the work accomplished by the girls' sewing class of Hope Chapel will be shown.

KILBANE TO DEFEND HIS TITLE TONIGHT

Featherweight Championship at Stake in Ring Battle to go Twenty Rounds.

Being a world's champion, Johnny Kilbane is a pronounced favorite over Johnny Dundee, with whom he will clash in a scheduled twenty-round bout in the Vernon Arena, Los Angeles, Cal., tonight.

There would be something radically wrong if it were different. A championship match in which the titleholder is not the first choice is a rare occurrence—so rare that no one can clearly recall an instance of that kind. It is easy enough to remember cases in which "the other fellow" should have been the favorite. But these are painful memories to the wise men of sportdom.

As Kilbane is an extra talented ringster, possessing everything a champion should have, from a perfect defense to a knockout wallop, he is more of a favorite than ever. It is no more than right, of course, that he should be firmly entrenched with the Los Angeles fight fans, but lives of other champions oft remind us that hero-worship cannot become too fervid at times.

A direct comparison of the fighting engagements of Kilbane and Dundee shows a balance in favor of the present featherweight champion. He is taller than Dundee. According to the best information obtainable, he has made the weight much easier than Dundee has done. This means that if the bout resolves itself into a test of condition Kilbane will be the one more likely to hold his own, or, for that matter, improve the farther the thing went.

On top of all these things, Kilbane has a decided advantage in the matter of cleverness. Dundee's friends will not subscribe to this, and they say that even if it were an established fact that Kilbane was the cleverer of the pair, Dundee is decidedly the stiffer puncher, and that one quality offsets the other.

Another thing pointed out by the Dundeeites is that New York Johnny is several years younger than Cleveland Johnny, but it is doubtful if the argument that youth will be served can be sprung in a case where both lads are under twenty-five.

Here are a few of the things advanced in favor of Dundee: To begin with, the hackneyed term "A glutton for punishment" describes him to a dot. He has figured in over 200 contests and has yet to experience the sensation of stretching his length on the floor of a ring. He shows improvement every time he boxes.

So far as Kilblane is concerned, there is more at stake for him than there is in the case of Dundee. Kilbane wants to break into the lightweight class, and has already declared himself on the point. Now, if he merely succeeds in defending his featherweight championship in a close contest, Promoter McCarey, for one, is liable to tell him that there is no special reason why he should aspire to a match with Willie Ritchie, Joe Rivers or Ad Wolgast.

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT.

Los Angeles, April 29.—Fight followers of Los Angeles and vicinity are on edge in anticipation of the championship bout between Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Dundee, which is to be staged tonight at Vernon arena. While Kilbane, the present holder of the featherweight title, is a heavy favorite in the betting, there are many followers of the game who believe that Dundee will make a good showing against the little Cleveland fighter. That the two are generally expected to put up a fight well worth seeing is indicated by the fact that the entire house has been practically sold out for the contest. The two fighters concluded their work of preparation yesterday and will rest until the gong calls them into the right at 9:30 o'clock tonight to start on their 20-round setto.

MCCORMICK SMILE IS ALWAYS THERE WHEN THE GIANTS NEED A HIT

HARRY McCORMICK, WEARING HIS "PINCH HIT" SMILE

When McGraw is called upon to cut the personnel of the Giants to twenty-five players next month maybe Harry McCormick will be given the gate and maybe again he won't. If waivers are asked on him it would not be surprising if one or more National League clubs refused to waive claim, nor would it be surprising if the manager refused to put him on the market.

JONES WILL RACE KIVIAT AND TABER

Mile Run in Cambridge Expected to Be Fastest Ever Stepped.

Boston sportsmen are very keen over the desire on the part of some athletic enthusiasts to stage a foot-race in the Harvard Stadium which would probably result in the greatest pedestrian event ever held in the world between amateurs. Realizing that the stadium is an exceptionally fast cinder path and that almost perfect conditions exist within the inclosure in June, arrangements are being made to make the event a certainty.

It is stated that Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, in combination with others interested in the furtherance of athletics in the Hub, has almost consummated a deal which will warrant a race of one mile between John Paul Jones, of Cornell, the holder of the world's amateur record of 4:15 2-5 for the distance; Abel Kiviat, Irish-American A. C., whose mark is 4:15 3-5, and Norman S. Taber, of Brown University, who almost dead-heated Kiviat in the 1,500-meter race at the Olympic games in Stockholm, in which event he incidentally beat Jones.

Still another entrant may be added to the trio named, who are probably the fastest runners in the world at the distance, in the person of A. N. S. Jackson, of Oxford University, the man who showed the Americans the way in the 1,500-meter race at the world's championship, which he won in 3:56 4-5, making an Olympic record.

It may be that Jackson will be able to become a starter in the four-sided race, which is to be carded for the purpose of giving the men an opportunity to break the long existing record for the distance of 4:12¾, made by W. G. George, of England, in his memorable match against William Cummings for the professional championship of the world.

Overtures made to the New York Athletic Club to stage the attempt at the record by these men were rejected by the Winged Foot organization, so that the chances of New Yorkers witnessing the race of the century are practically nil. It is the idea of close followers of the game that either Jones or Kiviat, in a race such as is being arranged, will do it in 4:10.

UNION BANK FUND OVER $30,000.

Lyndhurst, April 29.—More than $30,000 of the required $50,000 in stock for the proposed national bank for Union Township has been subscribed by the residents of the town. The incorporators are H. D. McCraney, William D. Cooper, Jesse J. Joralemon, M. W. Becton and William Brandenburg. It is expected that the bank will be in operation by June 2.

FREDERICKSON BACK AFTER LEAGUE TRIAL

Mullin Goes to Georgia and Slocum is Still Twirling in League Uniform.

Playing ball in the South does not appeal to the ball tosser possessing a Northern appetite, according to Otto Frederickson, who returned from the Southern climate yesterday afternoon, where he has been trying out for a pitcher's berth on the Winston-Salem team, of the Carolina League. Freddy comes across with exactly the same tale that Tommy Mullin had to offer when he returned to Plainfield after spending some days in a Petersburg uniform. After starving to death during the training season, and just getting to a point where he was becoming used to the inhabitant's diet of that section, Freddy was notified by President Garrel, Sunday afternoon, to pack up his duds and make ready to go to the Nashville aggregation of the Southern Association.

Although the Nashville team is in a Class A league, much better than the one in which Winston-Salem is, Freddy was discouraged over what he discovered to constitute southern hospitality and announced that he was through, catching the 8:10 train Sunday night for his home in this city, arriving here yesterday afternoon. While Freddy did not twirl any games during the league season, which opened Thursday afternoon, he did mound duty in a number of the preliminary contests and his work was creditable on all occasions. Not only did Freddy make some startling revelations regarding the menu placed before the team every day but he also had something to say regarding the two other Plainfielders who have been performing on the same team this season. Louis Slocum, who left Plainfield the same time that Freddy did, is still with the league nine, and according to his side partner, is making good in every sense of the word. Slocum is subject to one drawback, however, and that lies in the fact that he does not pitch with the club catcher, who is inclined to bully the youngsters to some extent. He will probably be used in the league game scheduled to be played this afternoon with Durham.

Tommy Mullin, the other Queen City edition, has been shipped to the team at Brunswick, Georgia, where he is playing shortstop. Mullin made good in the preliminary games he played and according to Winston-Salem papers was Clancy's choice for the shortstop berth as a regular. A college star stepped in at the eleventh hour, however, and took the job away from him.

LEAGUE BOARD MET.

The first meeting of the Sunday-school baseball league governing board was held at the Y. M. C. A. last night with F. O. Dunning, Sr., the newly elected president, in the chair. Several matters pertaining to the opening of the league season were discussed.

"FITZ" READY TO MEET ALL COMERS

Veteran of Many Pugilistic Battles Has Been Training For Return to Ring.

Appearing to be in the "pink" of condition and weighing 210 pounds, "Lanky Bob" Fitzsimmons, former champion pugilist of the world, who spoke last night at a smoker of the Public Service employes in the Dunellen car barns, again renewed his challenge to Al Palzer, Lew McCarthy and "Gunboat" Smith, to meet them all in the same ring, the same night, in three consecutive ten round bouts before any club offering reasonable inducements.

"They think I am an old man," said Bob, "and do not take me seriously, but I was never in better shape in my life than at the present time, and I'd bet that I could put the sleep producer on those three leading 'white hopes' any time they accept my challenge."

This line of talk handed out to a Daily Press reporter, made yours truly smile faintly and then the scribe glanced at the freckled one's bald head. As if reading the reporter's thoughts, Fitz, unbuttoned his coat and showed that even if his hair was falling away, his "pouch" was also missing, and the rolls of muscle about his mid-section were hard as iron. His punch deliverers were also in good shape; all signs of flabbiness or fat were gone, and he was truly in wonderful condition for one of his age. Even the skin on his face had an unusually boyish glow, and was drawn tight across his features.

Questioned if he had been training, Fitz admitted that he has been taking daily work-outs during the past month in Jim McGinnity's training quarters, at 64 Market street, Newark, and that he expected to be signed up for a bout with one of the leading "hopes" at a New York club.

The popular pugilist in compliance with numerous requests, made a speech preceding a four-round boxing exhibition at the smoker. This oratorical ability surprised even his most ardent admirers.

"Your earnest and hearty greeting tonight has touched me deeply," he said, "and reverts by memory to fifteen years ago, when I was followed about the streets by an eager and curious crowd and paid homage wherever I went, as 'champion of the world.' But no longer do my desires or ambition turn to the roped arena or the applauding crowds; not even the clang of the gong has a fascination for me. My thoughts are in other directions. I want to be one of you; to be a good New Jersey citizen and I want you all to remember Robert Fitzsimmons as a man who has always striven to give both friend and opponent a positively square deal. And some day, you may read in the newspapers that my pumpkins, or my potatoes, have won the heavy-weight championship in the agricultural world. That is my thoughts, rather than those of additional honors in the boxing game, but I will always find solace in the fact that I succeeded in my chosen line of endeavor, which after all is a triumphant victory for any man, no matter whether his efforts are or were directed in the boxing business or in the science of medicine or law."

SONS OF TEMPERANCE IN QUARTERLY SESSION

Fifty delegates, representing divisions from all parts of the State, gathered at Reform Hall last night to attend the quarterly session of the New Jersey Division of the Sons of Temperence, over which Ross Slack, of Philadelphia, presided. Howell Division, No. 9, of Plainfield, was represented by Mrs. Sarah Mattox, one of the oldest members of the organization; Mrs. Gibbons, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Maria Terry, Mrs. Westerfield and Miss Tryphinia Mattox. Committees on various phases of the work made encouraging reports. An invitation was extended to the National Division to hold the annual session in New Jersey in 1914. Following the business session refreshments were served by a local committee.

HELD FOR STABBING AFFRAY.

Elizabeth, April 29.—John Ochwizza, a laborer, twenty-eight years old, who boards at Fifth avenue and Spencer street, is being held by the police pending the outcome of the injuries he is alleged to have inflicted on Joseph Dallas, fifty-five years old, of 30 Palmer street, who is at the Elizabeth General Hospital with a stab wound in the abdomen and on the right hand. Dallas' condition was reported improved today and he made a complaint to Judge O. P. Mahon at the hospital, in which he charged Ochwizza with stabbing him with a penknife. Ochwizza, according to the police, was intoxicated at the time and started a quarrel with Dallas in Third avenue, which is in the Peterstown section. After the stabbing he fled to Bayway, but was trailed there by Plain-clothesman James Ward. At night he returned to his boarding-house and was arrested by County Detective Joseph Buckley. He is married and has a wife in Italy.

Another GIMBEL Innovation Has Set All New York Talking

"Why, this is more startling—more beautiful, than your delightful 'Promenade des Toilettes'"

La Parisienne Elegante in Her Boudoir

The moment you push your foot through the very closely drawn double portieres that guard the exhibition from all outside eyes, you have the sensation of having stepped into another world.

And it IS another world—the very inner fastness of that mystery of woman's fascination—the intimate privacy where feminine Beauty conceives and composes the charming witcheries with which she makes her social conquests.

It is a world little known to Americans.

It is the foundation of that domination of the whole world of fashion that Paris seems to possess in perpetuity.

La Parisienne Elegante is constantly a marvel of exquisite daintiness; her presence pervades the very atmosphere, like a vase of fragrant flowers; the fit of her gowns is the wonder of all other women, and the SECRET of all her perfections may be discovered only in her Boudoir.

The Gimbel organization in Paris has gathered all the witching new garments that Paris had conceived, up to two weeks ago, and they are here in delightful profusion.

They have told us the latest secrets of La Parisienne's boudoir.

Today, closely locked in the exquisitely furnished rooms that have been arranged in the Auditorium, all these charming intimate garments are being donned and worn, in this delightful privacy, by a score of beautiful girls and women.

A wonderfully artistic Pantomime, acted by charming Mannequins.

And the women of New York and vicinity are invited to come and see the alluring and fascinating Exhibition.

Of course, the invitation is extended to women only.

Mornings, 10.30 to 12. Afternoons, 2 to 4. All this week. Auditorium, 8th Floor

A visit to this Event will give you an idea of the inspiration that has impelled us in the preparation of the great Lingerie Event that is coming — the authenticity and correctness of the fashions and the thoroughness with which we have gone into all details of style and construction.

The Gimbel reputation as "The House of Fashions," is upheld quite as effectually by the Lingerie it presents, as by its famous collections of outer Fashionable Apparel.

'The Atonement' -BY- Rev. Dr. P. B. Strong

While it may be aid that there was a time when there was so many religious cults and so much apostasy to the faith as there is today, it is equally true that there never was a time when the plain, simple Gospel was more loved and honored.

Nothing but the pure "God so loved that He gave," grips the hearts of the people, and nothing short of this precious doctrine can compete with the religions of heathen lands which we are striving to bring to the light of life.

The Old Testament is full of the doctrine of the atonement, particularly the Book of Leviticus. We see the types and shadows of the ministering and suffering Christ in the various sacrifices laid down in the Levitical code and how vastly better one can understand the Old Testament when one studies it in the light of the New Testament, and when we come to study Christ as revealed in God's word, we find in Him the fulfilment of what could not be clearly understood until He came.

The doctrine of the atonement need not puzzle or distress any right-thinking person. If God, who is His own legislator, executor and judiciary, so loved those whom He made in His own image that He could give one whose atonement was made complete in that He was as willing to be sacrificed as the Father was to give Him, then why not accept that gift humbly, gratefully, even though we may not be able to understand it fully? Then, having accepted the expiation for our sins, we shall conform our lives to His life and grow into His likeness. For no one can lay hold on the atonements of Jesus Christ without repentance, forsaking of sins, and regeneration.

—A great deal of today's "Good luck" is going to attach itself to those who read and investigate Press want ads.

BOLT STUNS A SCORE.

Atlantic City, April 29.—A score of women and children were stunned by a bolt of lightning, which struck Phillips' Photograph Studio, on the Boardwalk, and set fire to the painted ceiling of the room, in which the throng had taken shelter from a sudden thunder shower that drenched the resort Sunday night. Employes helped to get screaming babies and hysterical women from the interior of the building. They were cared for in nearby hotels until the storm had subsided. The flash ripped open the roof, tore out electric wires and partially wrecked the interior. No one was seriously hurt.

A Cord Fabric Tyre with the Cords running radially to the wheel. This means across the tyre.

This we accomplish by a new process. No hooks in the Bead.

Each fibre insulated in rubber. No fabric friction possible.

Therefore it cannot HEAT. It is RESILIENT. It is FAST.

The results are remarkable in ease of riding and great mileage.

We predict that at least 50 per cent. of all tyres made next year will be built by our process.

Buy one tyre and be convinced now. We have something the other fellows cannot give you.

We spent several hundred thousand dollars to develop and perfect this idea and want the public to benefit from this really great improvement in pneumatic tyres. Sooner or later you will try Fabric Cord Tyres. Why not now!

FOR CHILD LABOR LAW

Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson, of This City, Conducts Parliamentary Drill—Mrs. M. E. B. Noe Makes An Excellent Address.

A resolution commending the President, Vice President, Secretary of State and Speaker of the House for not permitting intoxicating liquors to be served at public dinners was passed by the Union County Woman's Christian Temperance Union at its spring conference, held in the Presbyterian church, at Cranford. Resolutions were also passed to work for the enforcement of all laws regarding child labor and for the enfranchisement of women in New Jersey. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, the President of the United States, Vice President, Secretary of State and Speaker of the House have declared their intention of not permitting intoxicating liquors to be served at public dinners, be it

"Resolved, That we rejoice to know that we have men of principle and courage at the head of this Nation, who are an example not only to the people of this country, but to those of other lands as well, since 'Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people.'

"Resolved That we work for the enforcement of all laws regarding child labor.

"Whereas, the W. C. T. U. stands for all moral advancement in government.

"Resolved, That we work for the enfranchisement of women in New Jersey."

A resolution was also passed thanking the pastor, the trustees of the Presbyterian church and the ladies who entertained the visitors and contributed to the success of the institute.

Features of the session were an able address of over an hour on "Equal Suffrage," by Mrs. E. F. Feickert, of Plainfield, State presi-

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER TO GEN. COLLINS SATURDAY

Elizabeth, N. J., April 30.—Major-General Dennis F. Collins will be given a complimentary reception, dinner and review in honor of his promotion to the head of the National Guard of this State at the Elks' clubhouse next Saturday afternoon and evening. Every officer in the State has been invited and more than 100 already have accepted. The reception will be from 4 until 6 p. m. and the dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. The affair wil not only celebrate General Collins' promotion, but also the forty-fifth anniversary of his birth and the twenty-fifth anniversary of his connection with the State militia.

Addresses will be made by Judge Nelson Y. Dungan, Chancellor Edwin R. Walker, Judge James C. Connolly, Congressman William E. Tuttle, Jr., Mayor Victor Mravlag, the Rev. Dr. Otis A. Glazebrook and John M. Cady, director of the Board of Freeholders. After the review in the armory Adjutant-General Wilbur F. Sadler, acting for Governor Fielder, will present to General Collins a medal in token of his twenty-five years, military service.

The committee on arrangements is composed of the following: Colonel Robert L. Patterson, chairman; Major William B. Martin, Major Conrad Hall, Major Archibald Alexander and First Lieutenant George Coyne.

AGAINST COMMISSION GOV'T IN NEW BRUNSWICK

New Brunswick, N. J., April 30.—For the second time since the Walsh act went into effect commission government was yesterday defeated in this city. This time it was by a bare majority, the opponents of the new system of municipal government winning by a majority of 57 votes.

The fight was hotly contested, both sides up to the last minute claiming victory. At the last election on this matter it was lost by 1,200 votes. In order to win the adherents of the movement had to obtain not only a majority of the votes cast but thirty per cent. of the total vote cast at the last election for members of the General Assembly. In this case it was only 1,600 votes.

This they did, getting a total of 1,880 votes yesterday. The total vote was 3,817, and there were 1,937 cast against the proposition.

ABANDON PLANS FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL PARADE

The Sunday-school Superintendents' Association, at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A., last night, decided upon the recommendation of the executive committee not to hold a Sunday-school parade in Plainfield this year, on May 30, the date proposed, as there was not sufficient time to carry out the details successfully.

The question of having a parade here was referred to the executive committee and when it came up last night a majority was found to be in favor of the proposition. There was a minority report, however, and after due consideration it was thought to be unwise to try and plan a parade this year. An invitation was given to the association to attend the parade of the Essex County Sunday-schools in Newark on June 7, when it is believed that some valuable suggestions will be offered looking toward the holding of a parade in this city next year.

Sixteen Sunday-schools were represented at last night's meeting. The executive committee comprises Arthur M. Harris, chairman; George E. Hall, William C. Hubbard, J. W. Gavett, James R. Joy, Mrs. Rapa Armstrong and F. E. Smith.

BATTERED WIFE'S FACE; TWO MONTHS IN JAIL

Mrs. Amanda Nelson, 36 years old, wife of Garfield Nelson, 32 years old, of 30 Elm place, appeared before City Judge De Meza this morning. Her right eye was swollen and closed tight and her face battered almost beyond recognition. The injuries she said were inflicted by her husband, who was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery, and was sentenced to serve sixty days in the county jail. Mrs. Nelson was freed on a suspended sentence after being warned to leave liquor alone.

The couple were arrested by Patrolman Kelley, who has apprehended Nelson four times on disorderly charges.

ADAMS RE-ELECTED TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Horace G. Adams, of this city, was elected to serve another term as a member of the Board of Directors of the Essex County Funeral Benefit Association, Jr. O. U. A. M., at the convention of that organization held in the Old Masonic Temple, at Washington, D. C., the latter part of last week. Over 450 delegates and from 300 to 400 life members attended the affair and encouraging reports of the work being accomplished by that organization were submitted by the chairmen of the various committees. The association now has a membership of 5,794 and the treasury showed a balance on hand of $1,338.04.

Among other routine business disposed of was the alteration of the by-laws in an effort to make the constitution one of mutual benefit to the various societies now insured in the organization. Officers were elected for the issuing year: President, E. L. Benson, of Newark; vice president, G. M. Griffin, of Jersey City; secretary, J. G. Thompson, of Newark, and treasurer, Warren S. Furman, of Newark. The Board of Directors was selected with the following members: F. A. Phillips, of Newark; H. G. Adams, of Plainfield; A. G. McClees, of Homedale, and R. B. Harrow, of Newark. Mr. Adams returned from the convention Monday morning, after spending three days at the nation's capitol.

CALIFORNIA'S NEW BILL TO BAR OUT THE JAPS

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Sacramento, Cali., April 30.—Early today Senator A. E. Boynton, president pro-tem of the Upper House, convened the Senate and an amended land bill which provides that no alien who is ineligible to citizenship under the laws of the U. S. may hold real property in California, was adopted as a substitute for the pending measure by a unanimous viva voce vote. It will come up for regular passage in the regular course of business tomorrow. It is believed that Governor Johnson will sign the measure if the Legislature puts it through.

The new bill is drawn in strict conformity with the treaty between Japan and the United States.

SUFFRAGETE ROWDIES WORK.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, April 30.—A violent attack was made today by a party of anti-suffragists on a shop and offices used as the headquarters of the Woman's Social and Political Union here. Bricks were hurled through the windows and all the desks in the place were broken open, while quantities of suffrage literature and bannerets were destroyed.

MR. AND MRS. M'GEE'S PHONOGRAPH DANCE

One Hundred Guests at Fifth Wedding Anniversary Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. McGee, of North Plainfield, celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary last night by giving a "phonograph dance," at the home of Mr. McGee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee, on Orchard place, the borough. The invitations to the affair were novel in that they were issued on small pieces of wood, appropriate to the wooden wedding anniversary.

There were about one hundred guests present, including some from out of the city. The music for dancing furnished by a large phonoghaph, proved popular with the guests, the selections being some of the latest musical hits.

The home was attractively decorated for the occasion with spring flowers, including apple blossoms, which were used in profusion. During the evening supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. McGee received a large collection of gifts, chiefly wooden articles and some very beautiful. They also received the congratulations of the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. McGee were married in the First M. E. church five years ago by Rev. Dr. Herbert Welch, a relative of Mr. McGee. Mrs. McGee was Miss Saidee Mae Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josephus H. Howell, of North Plainfield.

BIG BOND TO COVER PROPERTY IN DISPUTE

To insure the preservation of property valued at $50,000 at present in dispute, Mrs. Frances Sparks Hood, wife of Richard Haden Hood, of this city, was ordered yesterday by Vice Chancellor Stevens to give a bond to cover the value of the personal property. The vice chancellor said that if the defendant in the action would give bond for the delivery up of the personal property which she claimed to own and desired to retain and would deliver over to Mr. Hood the balance of such property upon Mr. Hood giving a bond for the return of that, a receiver would not then be necessary.

Mr. English, of counsel for Mrs. Hood, it is said, declared that he believed his client would give the bond and accordingly the matter was laid over until next week for a final answer in the matter. Provided bonds are given they will be in double the value of the property retained by either party to the suit and will be with sufficient surety. The value would have to be reached by an appraiser appointed by the court unless Mr. and Mrs. Hood could mutually agree on a division of the personal property.

GAVE AN INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION IN COOKERY

Practical demonstrations in cookery proved an interesting subject for the meeting held in Vincent chapel, of the First M. E. church, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Current Event Circle of the Ladies' Aid Society. There were about 250 women present. Miss Miriam Spaulding, of the Teachers' College, New York, was in charge of the demonstration. She gave a lecture on the subject of "Some Spring Dishes." During the afternoon she baked beans, brown bread, made all kinds of salads and cooked a chicken while she was talking to the audience.

Miss Spaulding gave a number of excellent recipes, and told of numberless ways in which a woman can exercise economy in her home cooking. At the close of the meeting the various things cooked were sold and everything was disposed of at reasonable prices. The demonstration of the fireless cookers through the kindness of A. M. Griffen was enjoyed.

The last meeting of the Current Event Circle for this season will be on Tuesday afternoon, May 27, the subject being "Religions of the World and Their Effect Upon the Civilization of the Countries Where They Are Followed." The speakers will be Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, of the First Baptist church; Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. F. J. Hubach, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church. An informal reception and tea will follow.

CHANGE HOURS OF SERVICE.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor Warren chapel, announces a change in the hours of the Sunday services beginning on Sunday. The Sunday-school will meet at 9:45 o'clock in the morning and the morning hour of worship will be 11 o'clock. The evening service will be at 7:45 o'clock.

LOCAL FORESTERS HAVE A BIG TIME

State Officers of Order Speak at Court Plainfield's Big Open Meeting.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, entertained the largest number of visitors in its history last night, when the guests of honor were high court officers of New Jersey. The final degree was conferred on fifteen candidates, the work being exemplified by the degree staff of Court Somerset, of Somerville, in a manner that called forth the highest commendation on the part of the high court officers.

Supreme Deputy W. T. Bingham, of Elizabeth, gave an interesting address. He referred to the early history of Court Plainfield when it was instituted on July 22, 1892, with eleven charter members, up to the present day when the court has 430 members, and in addition Courts Watchung, Union and Warren with a membership of 300. Other speeches were made by Past High Chief Rangers John Huff, of Somerville, and Louis Titsworth, and High Court Officer John J. Praed, of this city.

The Somerset Court team was accompanied by sixty members from Somerville and a large delegation from Courts Warren, Watchung, Union and Westfield was present. After the meeting the members retired to the banquet hall, where an elaborate supper was served.

Past Chief Ranger Louis J. Feiring, chairman of the general committee, was assisted by John R. Cline, Cornelius P. Regan, John F. Casey, Sr., Edward J. McCue, Frank Donnelly, Patrick Harrington, Charles Pagliuca, and much credit is due the committee for the success of the reception and banquet which followed.

DOG CATCHER CASE IS LOST BY BOROUGH

Wm. A. Coddington as Counsel for Stonewall Jackson, Wins Big Victory.

The case of the Borough of North Plainfield against Stonewall Jackson came up this morning before Recorder Gano in the Borough Court, Jackson being charged with allowing his dog to run at large without a muzzle. When the dog catcher caught the dog and was on his way to the pound Jackson, it was alleged, ran up to him and had a tussle with him and took the dog away and then got into a fist fight with the dog catcher, in which, according to the evidence produced by the complainant, the dog catcher got the worst of the encounter.

The court room was crowded with interested spectators. At the conclusion of the dog catcher's side of the case William A. Coddington, who represented Stonewall Jackson, moved for dismissal of the complaint, because it had not been shown that the dog catcher had been legally appointed by the Mayor and Council of the Borough, and furthermore, that it appeared by the evidence that the dog catcher was only sixteen years of age. Mr. Coddington claimed that the appointment of a minor to this office was not legal, and inasmuch as the dog catcher, according to the evidence, had seized the dog, which Jackson claimed, had a muzzle on at the time he was taken, acted wrongfully, and if Jackson was obliged to use force to capture his property he acted within the bounds of the law, and that the dog catcher resisting and fighting back at Jackson, Jackson was justified in using force to avoid the attack made upon him by the dog catcher.

After the argument made by Jackson's counsel, Recorder Gano held a conference with Mayor Clark and on returning to the court room dismissed the case against Jackson and let him go without a fine or other punishment. This result seemed to meet with the approval of the people in general who had heard the case from start to finish.

SHAY-SNEE.

Miss Mary Ann Snee and Michael Shay, both of this city, were married at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Daniel F. Hogan at St. Mary's church. The couple were attended by John Shay, a brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Catherine Snee, a sister of the bride. Upon their return from a short honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Shay will reside on Spooner avenue.

MARTINE HONORED.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, D. C., April 30.—United States Senator James E. Martine, of New Jersey, left last night for St. Louis, Mo., where he will be one of four Senators representing that body at the dedication of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial in Forest Park tomorrow.

E. C. SUFFERN WEDS MISS MEYER TONIGHT

North Plainfielder's Marriage to Take Place in Jersey City.

Miss Dorothy Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theodore Meyer, Jr., of Jersey City, and Edward C. Suffern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Suffern, of North Plainfield, will be married at 7 o'clock this evening at the home of the grandparents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Klumpp, of 640 Ocean avenue, Jersey City. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Daniel H. Hadley, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Jersey City, assisted by Rev. Dr. Augustin Elmendorf rector of Holy Cross Episcopal church, Jersey City.

The maid of honor will be Miss Hildegarde Meyer, sister of the bride-elect, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Marie Bettcher and Miss Esther Maver, of Jersey City. Robert Suffern, of this city, will be the best man and the ushers will be DeWitt Brokaw and Edward Overton, of North Plainfield.

Following the ceremony a small reception will be held for the relatives and intimate friends. The couple will take a wedding trip, after which they will reside on Stelle avenue, this city, where Mr. Suffern has purchased and furnished a home. The bridegroom-elect is associated with his brother, Robert Suffern in the importing business, the firm's place of business being in New York city. Miss Meyer is socially prominent in Jersey City and is a communicant of St. John's Episcopal church.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR WILLIAM HORNER HELD

Funeral services for William Horner, 65 years old, of 432 East Fifth street, who was struck and instantly killed Sunday by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train while walking along the tracks of the Central Railroad near Rock avenue, were held this afternoon from his late home. Rev. Dr. Charles M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, officiated. A delegation of Freedom Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, of which Mr. Horner was a member, conducted a short service at the grave-side in Hillside cemetery, where interment was made.

Mr. Horner is survived by his widow and a son, Clarence Horner, of this city; a son by a former wife, of Philadelphia; his mother, also of Philadelphia, and a brother and sister living in Delaware.

ST. JOSEPH'S PEOPLE PLAN 3 DAYS FESTIVAL

A special meeting of members of St. Joseph's church was held in the basement of the old edifice last night for the purpose of devising ways and means of raising funds to assist in the discharge of the outstanding debt on the recently erected church in North Plainfield. It was finally decided to hold a three days' festival in the old church beginning Monday, May 19, and continuing on May 20 and 21. A special feature will be arranged for each of the three nights, making each session entirely different from the preceding one.

Present plans call for a strawberry festival on one of the nights while the other two will be featured by a euchre and dance. This will be the last event of any kind held in the old St. Joseph's church as this structure will be torn down immediately after the fair. A. E. LaPorte was appointed chairman of the committee on arrangements at last night's meeting and Miss Agnes Fitzgerald as secretary and Mrs. A. E. Kenney as treasurer.

C. W. FULLER.

Col. Charles Wesley Fuller, who had many friends in this city, and who was an honorary member of the Chamber of Commerce, died at his home in Bayonne, Monday night. Col. Fuller, it will be remembered, was one of the speakers at the Chamber of Commerce banquet at Truell Hall two years ago. He held a number of State offices, including that of State superintendent of schools. Col Fuller was for many years the principal attorney for the Standard Oil Company in New Jersey.

EXEMPTS' CONVENTION.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the Exempt Firemen's convention which will be held at Long Branch, May 21, and Horace G. Adams, of this city, received the silver and bronze delegates' and officers' badges this morning for that occasion. A program of interest to the exempts of the State is being planned and representatives from all of the New Jersey associations are expected to be present.

COUPLE CELEBRATED THEIR 10TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Cochran of North Plainfield, celebrated their tenth-year of wedded life at their home on Watchung avenue, last night, entertaining sixty of their friends at a "500" party. Cards were played at fifteen tables and the prizes won by the following contestants: Women's awards, Mrs. Robert Gow, Mrs. Alfred E. Causbrook, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. W. T. Carr, men's awards, Lewis Bennett, Robert Gow, William Carr and U. G. Tingley.

A program of vocal and instrumental music followed the card playing and delicate refreshments were served by the host and hostess late in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran were presented with a ladle and gold lined punch bowl by the guests at the anniversary, the presentation taking the couple completely by surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Cochran are well known in the section of the borough where they have resided for the past six years, moving to this city from Philadelphia. They were married in the Quaker City in 1903. Mrs. Cochran was Miss Sarah Lee, of Philadelphia.

CIRCUS MAN STRUCK BY AUTO; SLIGHTLY HURT

William W. Fryer, of Newark, an employe of the wild west show which appeared here yesterday, was struck by an automobile owned and driven by George B. Naylor, Jr., of 1001 West Front street, shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon while crossing West Front street, near Grant avenue. Mr. Naylor picked him up and placed him in the machine taking him to Muhlenberg Hospital, where it was found that he sustained bruises about the head and body and a sprained left ankle. En route to that institution, the injured man was taken to police headquarters where Dr. Harold D. Corbusier who had been summoned from the North Avenue depot, where he was awaiting a train for New York, rendered first aid and accompanied the patient to the hospital.

Naylor was arrested on a technical charge of reckless driving and will be arraigned before City Judge De Meza Wednesday morning, May 14. In the car with him was Morris Mann, of 919 West Front street.

According to Naylor he was driving his car slowly east on West Front street and noticing Fryer about to cross the street, shouted a warning to him. He said Fryer hesitated, and as the car neared him, evidently became confused and stepped directly in front of the machine. He was struck by the hood of the vehicle and the right side front wheel passed over the victim's left leg.

TRINITY'S BAND HEARD BY DUTCH ARMS CLUB

Playing under the auspices of the Dutch Arms, of the Trinity Reformed church, a forty-piece brass band, under the leadership of Edmund D. Young and George Dufford, was enthusiastically received at the Men's Club entertainment held at the Netherwood Reformed church, last night. The band, only recently organized, rendered a number of selections, providing entertainment for a packed house. The musical program followed a business session of the club, after which the church rooms were thrown open for a "ladies' night" entertainment, and the band of amateur musicians performed for their benefit.

O. P. Wahlig, president of the club, addressed the gathering, telling of the work of the organization and welcoming the guests, after which he introduced Rev. Royal Stout, pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church. He spoke of the work being done by the club and laid particular stress on the two new Bible classes which will convene for the first time early in May. The Men's Class will be led by Horace J. Martin and the Ladies' Class by Samuel O. Rush.

Following the program of music and speech-making a committee consisting of members of the Men's Club, of which Horace J. Martin was chairman, and had for his assistants William J. Banks and F. O. Cooper, served refreshments.

A PLAYLET.

"Little Red Riding Hood," a playlet, depicting certain fairy life, was presented by the Girls' Friendly Society of Grace Episcopal church in the parish house, last night, about 150 persons attending the performance. The girls were dressed in costumes representing different story book characters and a musical program was rendered appropriate to the occasion.

—Neuman Bros. will offer for tomorrow's trade a large and choice assortment of fancy strawberries, Jersey asparagus, fancy peas, Jersey lettuce and hot-house cucumbers. ***

DEMOCRATS FOR WILSON'S BILLS

Local Club Endorses Jury Reform and Constitutional Convention Measures.

TO HEAR PRES'T SPEAK

Organization Asks Union County Representatives to Support Favored Bills—Boom E. C. Pearson For Convention Delegate.

A discussion of the matters to come before the special session of the Legislature was had at the monthly meeting of the Plainfield Democratic Club last night. Edward C. Pearson led in this discussion and resolutions were passed calling on the Union county representatives in the Senate and Assembly to support the administration's Jury Reform Bill and the Constitutional convention measure. A resolution was also passed suggesting to the Legislature that if a small board of freeholders' bill is passed it provide that no municipality or division of a county be allowed to have a majority of the freeholders.

The club decided to send a committee to Trenton to present its resolutions to the members from Union county. It was also decided to attend in a body the meeting in Elizabeth tomorrow night to hear President Woodrow Wilson speak on the Jury Reform Bill. The club members will leave Plainfield at 7:41 o'clock.

The Underwood tariff bill and ship subsidies were discussed and a resolution passed condemning the proposal to give a discount on duties imported in American ships, it being considered a weak concession to ship subsidy schemes, etc. A lively debate on the proposed duty on rough diamonds followed the introduction of a resolution protesting against the duty on the theory that it was taxing raw materials. Messrs. Claybrook, Pearson and Zerega opposed the resolution as being a proper tax on luxuries and quite consistent with the theory "tax wealth not poverty," which appears on the sign over the Plainfield Democratic Club rooms and the introducer of the resolution found himself marooned.

If a Constitutional convention is called, it is quite likely that Edward C. Pearson, of this city, will be a candidate for delegate to the convention. He is said to have experience and ability that would especially fit him for the position. Mr. Pearson has manifested much interest in public affairs, though he has never sought office.

Howard Lapsley's interesting history of Plainfield, which appeared in The Daily Press, has brought him prominently before the public and it was suggested last night that he be made historian of the club.

MAYOR ROBERT CLARK GETS NEW BRIDGE FOR BOROUGH

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders at its meeting in North Branch, yesterday afternoon, awarded a contract for a new bridge to be built on Rockview Terrace, the borough, to Burke & Bonham, of this city, the firm's bid being $3,968. This bridge, which will replace the small wooden structure, will have a width of fifty feet, and will be a steel and concrete bridge, reinforced with concrete parapets.

It was largely through the efforts of Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., of North Plainfield, that the freeholders were persuaded to build the new bridge. The old structure is worn out and is altogether too narrow for the present roadway and beside is unsafe in many respects.

The freeholders also awarded a contract for a bridge to be built at Bernardsville, the price to be $600. This structure, a small one, will replace another worn out bridge.

SEVENTY-NINE PATIENTS AT BONNIE BURN NOW

Dr. J. F. Runnells, superintendent of Bonnie Burn Sanitorium, reports that there were 72 patients at the sanitorium on April 1, twenty-one having been admitted during the month and fifteen discharged, leaving 79 at the county institution at the present time. Of the fifteen discharged four were deaths. Of the eleven discharged, six left with the disease arrested, three with the disease improved, one unimproved and one was re-admitted.

Of the twenty-one admitted, thirteen were men and eight women. Of this number one was incipient, ten moderately advanced and ten advanced. The average number of patients per day has been seventy-five.

Dunellen & Vicinity

The Brotherhood of the local Methodist church will meet Friday night in regular session.

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Brown, who died Saturday in Philadelphia following an operation, were held this afternoon at her late home in Greenbrook.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Whittier School held its regular meeting last night in the lecture room of that institution. Suggestions were made regarding the part the local school children would take in the Fourth of July celebration as contemplated, but nothing definite was decided. It is probable, however, that the Dunellen school children will march en masse in a monster parade which will be a part of the civic carnival.

"Warry" McLaughlin, who has signified his intention to play with the Dunellen baseball team of the Central New Jersey League, is being urged to sign up with the Scotch Plains aggregation by Joe Alberts, the hustling manager of that nine. In all probability, however, the former Pittsburgh National League will perform for the locals when the league season opens.

Mrs. Charles Day, organist of the First Baptist church, is steadily improving from her recent illness.

All local members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. have been invited to attend the dance of the Plainfield lodges to be held Friday night, May 2, in Sebring's auditorium, West Front street, Plainfield.

The Dunellen Home and Investment Company has started a realty operation on the tract situated at the intersection of Washington avenue and Culhane place.

The Symphony orchestra, led by W. A. Korff, rendered an excellent program of concert music last night at the First Baptist church for the benefit of the choir fund. The church choir also delighted the audience with several selections. The event was enjoyed by a large audience and a comfortable sum was realized.

Rev. Herbert Poland, of Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., will probably make his initial appearance at his new pastorate, the Seventh-Day Baptist church, the first Sunday in June.

C. A. Coriell, of Dunellen, has joined the Middlesex County Automobile Club.

A Good Collector

A statement reaching a debtor on the first of the month is a good collector—five, or even two days later, the same statement won't pull as well.

That's just one of many advantages of Burroughs-made statements—to make out, they take less than half the time of pen-made statements.

Which means, they go out on the first of the month—not from the fifth to the tenth. And the old rule of "first come, first served" applies to statements.

Result—less collection expense—less money on the books—less bad debts.

And it's being proved every month by many thousands of business men now using these machines.

Let us make out your statements next month—no cost nor obligation.

STYLISH — RELIABLE

Make It a Contest.

There's a bunch of imitations floating around these days—imitations from clothiers who want your patronage.

And we're not exceptions—we want it too!

But we only WANT it if we DESERVE it, and so we ask you to make a "contest" of your clothes-buying.

In other words, let the best suit win. No matter what STORE or WHOSE store you find it in.

That's fair enuf, isn't it?

Sack Suits at $10-$12-$15-$18 to $25

STYLED quite unlike any garments in town, which is a characteristic of Rothberg's clothes.

Norfolk Suits $10-$12-$15-$18 & $20

The Norfolk Coat will be a factor this season—because it deserves to be!

There's a jauntiness about a Norfolk that isn't to be found in the staider styles.

Come in today if only to look.

PIE-CRUST PROMISES.

The P. S. R., if we remember rightly, announced that as soon as it had laid new rails on its West Fourth street line, a similar improvement would be made on the Netherwood line, where the tracks are in a notoriously wretched condition. Then, it was given out that it was too late in the season to start such work and that the new tracks would be laid when spring came. During the last few days, loads of small stone have been placed along the tracks which is circumstantial evidence that the P. S. C. has no intention of remedying the condition.

It's the same old story. Some few years ago, the promise was given the then mayor, C. J. Fisk, that as a part of the consideration for being allowed to double track its line in the business section, new cars would be placed on all local lines. That promise was never kept.

The strange part of it all is that whenever the P. S. C. wants any privilege from the city, it gets it. Isn't it about time that the giving of such favors cease until the company shows an inclination to fulfill some of its promises?

In advocating the closing of the so-called manual training department of the North Plainfield High School, former Mayor Newton B. Smalley, told his colleagues on the Borough Board of Education the other night that he could see no reason for using public funds to teach girls how to cook. He added that in the olden days mothers considered it their duty to instruct their daughters in this necessary art. But then, Mr. Smalley, mothers did not spend their time playing bridge.

President Wilson has an opportunity to make an excellent choice and at the same time please a host of admirers, irrespective of party, by appointing Rev. Dr. Otis A. Glazebrook, of Elizabeth, as minister to Switzerland. The popular clergyman occupies the same position relatively in Elizabeth as the late Rev. Erskine M. Rodman did in Plainfield. He is beloved by all.

It does seem singular that the party, whose cardinal principle is States' rights, should, in administering the Nation's affairs, be found in the position of attacking a State for asserting its rights.

With a fanfare of trumpets, the real estate brokers' association was organized a few months ago and a great future was predicted for it. Has anybody heard from it since?

William Jeffery promises to put his Board of Trade into action tomorrow night. As "Jeff" is a live wire we may expect some great things from his pet organization.

Large bodies move slowly. Probably that is why the Councilmanic street committee takes so much time in having the streets oiled.

It is a wonder that Buffalo Bill has not engaged Mrs. Pankhurst and her tribe of howling suffragettes for his wild west show.

COURT INTERPRETER NOT ENTITLED TO HIS POSITION

Trenton, April 30.—The Civil Service Commission, at its meeting yesterday, decided that Ferdinand Wasserberger is not entitled to hold the position of court intepreter in Union county. Mr. Wasserberger was first appointed by Judge Atwater. The former claimed the judge had waived the probationary period Wasserberger would have to serve following his appointment.

The Civil Service Commission found that no absolute waiver of the probationary period of three months was given to Wasserberger and decides that he is not entitled to be reinstated.

VOTE TO DIVIDE UNION INTO TWO TOWNSHIPS

Elizabeth, N. J., April 30.—Hillside voted overwhelmingly yesterday for the division of Union Township into two. The new township will be called Hillside and will take in the territory in Union east of the Elizabeth River. The special election was held under a recent legislative enactment and a test vote was taken yesterday in the Lyons Farms section to determine the willingness of the citizens for such a divsion.

The vote was as follows: For a township, 32. The total registration township, 32. The total registration for the election was 421. This is considered a preliminary step to the annexation of Lyons Farms to Newark.

REGULATING BROKERS.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Albany, April 30.—The Stilwell bills to amend the penal law relative to false representations concerning securities and relative to reporting and publishing fictitious transactions in securities have been passed by the Assembly. The Assembly rules committee reported out favorably today the Stilwell bill to make it a felony for a broker to transact business after insolvency or to hypothecate a customer's securities

AGAINST FREE TOLLS.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, April 30.—Representative Britten today introduced in the House a bill proposing to repeal the no toll section of the Panama Canal act and further to put coastwise S. S. lines under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Britten opposes free tolls for domestic shipping because he said it is no more than a disguised subsidy.

TO SUPPRESS ROWDIES.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

London, April 30.—The British Home Office today began a more active campaign to put an end to suffragette militancy. The headquarters of the Woman's Social and Political Union, where many outrages are said to have been organized, were occupied by the police and all the active leaders taken into custody.

BALLOON RACE.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Dresden, Germany, April 30.—Hans Berliner, who was piloting the baloon Nieder Schliesen, which landed in Arendal, Norway, won the elimination race which started on Sunday to choose the German representatives for the James Gordon Bennett race to be held in France in the autumn.

GRAFTERS IN JAIL.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, April 30.—The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court today denied the application of former Police Inspectors Sweeney Thompson, Hussey and Murtha for permission to be released from custody pending their trial.

DUNDEE-KILBANE DRAW.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Los Angeles, Cal., April 30.—Johnny Dundee was given a draw at the end of his twenty round fight last night with Johnny Kilbane, the feather-weight champion.

dent of the New Jersey Suffrage League and a medical temperance drama entitled "The Sick Baby," which was acted by public school children under the direction of Miss Watson. The cast of characters was as follows: Mother, Margaret Christman; two children, Henry Ashland Currie and Daisy Elsie Orf; Dr. True, Harry Cox; Mrs. Useful, Louise Johnson; Mrs. Careful, Helen Peniston; Mrs. Flyaway Home, Elizabeth McFadden; Mrs. Come Often, Gladys Houghton; Mrs. Say Little, Charlotte Cox; Mrs. Fidget, Catherine Ruhtard and children, Doris Denning and Virginia Crickenberger. "Laddie," a pet dog belonging to Master Currie, also performed an active part in the drama.

During the afternoon a Parliamentary Drill was conducted by Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson, of Plainfield, and Mrs. E. M. Compton sang. The feature of the closing session last night was an address by Miss Christine I. Tinling, a National Women's Christian Temperance Union lecturer, who proved to be a delightful speaker of ability and eloquence who gave a scientific talk on the results of the use of alcohol which she illustrated by charts. During the evening vocal solos were given by Mrs. Bessie Allan Collier, contralto soloist of the Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Udelle, of Plainfield, and instrumental duets were given by Mrs. Orf and Mrs. Brooks.

A feature of the morning meeting was the excellent address of Mrs. M. E. B. Noe, of Elizabeth, on "The Education of the Child the Hope of the Nation."

"All persons are educated who have so developed the powers and abilities that God has given them, individually, that they can do well the things they undertake to do." This Mrs. Noe gave as her estimate of educated persons. Home environment and atmosphere she believed had more to do with real education than schools and colleges, and heredity also enters into important consideration, intemperate habits in parents finding a result in children. Home discipline must wisely adjust itself to the varying needs of growing children, with consideration for the fact that a child assimilates more in the first seven years than in after life. The Bible should be the rule of government in our families as in the nation. With a word of praise for the Loyal Temperance Legion, Mrs. Noe closed, emphasizing that the education of the child is the only hope of the nation.

At the executive session it was decided to hold the fall convention in Elizabeth. Mrs. Mary V. Littell was appointed county superintendent of the department of "temperance and missions," and Mrs. McFadden superintendent of parlor meetings and socials, to succeed Mrs. N. Mosher, resigned.

Mrs. Brigham, of Boston, Mass., national superintendent of fairs and open air meetings, was introduced during the morning session and gave greeting. The playlet given in the afternoon deserves special mention. A mother with a sick baby, visited by neighborhood women who each had a remedy to apply, goosegrease, liniment, mustard, onion poultice, and last of all whisky, which threw the child into spasms, the town physician arriving just in time to save life and denounce the whisky bottle. All participants were children of Cranford

DELTA SIGMA RHO DINNER.

Princeton, April 30.—Princeton Chapter of Delta Sigma Rho, a society of honor corresponding in the field of debating to Phi Beta Kappa in scholarship, held a banquet last evening at the Princeton Inn. The chapter was founded last year, and this was the first dinner. The initiation of new members took place immediately preceding the banquet, when several candidates, including undergraduates, alumni, faculty members and postgraduate students, were taken into the society. The list of new members includes Professor Robert McNutt McElroy, Professor R. W. Loescher, A. C. Richardson, R. S. Rife and A. S. Richardson. Professor Frank A. Fetter was taken in as an affiliated member.

WILSON, JR., WINS AWARD.

Princeton, April 30.—The annual prize offered by the Nassau Literary Magazine at Princeton for the best story appearing in its columns during the issues of December, January or February has been awarded to Edmund Wilson, Jr., of Red Bank. Wilson is a member of the freshman class and has done an unusual thing in carrying off the prize from a field of upper classmen. His story was entitled "The Spirit of New Jersey." The judges were Professor Covington, Jesse Lynch Williams and Mrs. G. H. Gerould.

TARIFF DEBATE.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, April 30.—An effort is being made by the Democratic leaders to finish the consideration of the tariff bill in the House by next week and send it over to the Senate. So far it has not been necessary to take a recorded vote on any amendment offered. Today the House began with the earthenware schedule with Representative Dixon in charge of the debate. A committee amendment correcting the phraseology of the paragraphs on optical instruments was agreed. A motion made by Representative Moore to increase the duty of 30 per cent. on stained glass windows to 40 per cent. was voted down.

$200,000 Worth of French & Domestic Undermuslins At Economies of 20 Per Cent and More

First, the Lingerie! In magnitude, the collection which we have assembled for this Sale, is quite the largest in the history of White Sales in America—it includes the exquisite handwork of French, Austrian, Madeira and Filipino needleworkers, as well as American machine-made undermuslins, which are unrivaled in the world.

For this occasion, it has been our aim to revolutionize White Sales! And to accomplish this, we did not endeavor to get the cheapest, and obviously poorly-made garments, but we endeavored to get—and succeeded in getting—Undermuslins of the best qualities to sell at 20 per cent less than the minimum prices of today.

And, very much more important to the women of New York, we had this Lingerie made in styles that conform with the modes of the hour, and, although we could cite dozens and dozens of illustrations, there is a Nightgown at $10.75 that is an exact copy of a $75 French Gown, even to the tiny rosebud design of the Valenciennes lace galloon. Scores of the $1 Nightgowns are copied from quite expensive styles—there is one with an Empire yoke entirely of lace, both back and front, and there are many deep V-neck styles, which are one of the latest whims of Fashion.

True it is that cotton prices have increased, and that silk prices are soaring—but the fact that we placed our orders about two months ago explains the reason that the smallest economy in this Sale is 20 per cent.

Paris Now Says, Crepe de Chine and Chiffon Lingerie and Here Is $25,000 Worth in This Sale

Although luxurious in reality, this Lingerie is not so in price—for there are Crepe de Chine Petticoats trimmed with dainty laces, at $2.95; Combinations at $3.95, and Nightgowns at $5. CO. K'S PROFICIENCY TESTS ANNOUNCED

A. R. Phillips, G. L. Apgar and G. B. Howell the Three Best Shots.

The results of the proficiency tests held in the Company K armory closing last night shows that the local company has several men who are developing into excellent shots. Out of the entire company, over three-fourths of the men qualified. The men had to shoot in four positions ten shots in each position, standing, kneeling, sitting and prone. The ranges used, with the reduced size of targets and the elevations of the sights of the rifle, are equivalent to the two and five hundred yard ranges that are shot on out of doors.

The total scores of those qualifying at the matches on the first three nights follow:

Lieut. A. R. Phillips, 192; Sergt. George L. Apgar, 192; Corp. George B. Howell, 191; Capt. Charles A. Peterson, 189; Priv. Elmer Archbold, 187; Priv. William M. Darling, 184; Priv. Hullett S. Perrine, 184; Corp. A. H. VanArsdale, 182; Sergt. James B. Conklin, 182; Sergt. J. Arthur Dow, 182; Priv. Philip Millwater, 182; Priv. Oscar Anderson, 180; Corp. J. A. Thompson, 179; Priv. Edson Cardner, 178; Priv. Otto Hansen, 178; Sergt. O. R. Pearson, 176; Priv. Ernest Bird, 174; Priv. William Dunham, 174; Priv. John Randlaw, 174. Priv. Rudolph Heinold, 174; Priv. Carl Rollerson, 170; Priv. Adam Miller, 167; Sergt. Harry Manning, 167.

Those qualifying at the shooting last night were Priv. Thomas Rotchford, 180; Artificer Gunnar Hansen, 164; Priv. William H. Young, 164, Priv. Myrton E. Glover, 170; Priv. Herbert Renninger, 172.

Lieut. Phillips and Sergt. Apgar tied for first place while Corporal George Howell was a close second. In the awarding of the individual trophy it is possible that the two tied for first place will be compelled to shoot the tie off, the winner of which will be given the prize.

CHISEL AS ROBBERY CLUE.

New Providence, April 30.—A seven-eights-inch wide chisel has figured in all of the recent robberies or attempts in this place, particularly the four during the past week. After an attempt was made Sunday night to enter the home of Rev. Reid Steward Dickson, in Springfield avenue, which was frustrated by Mrs. Dickson, who scared the burglars away, it was found that the chisel used to pry open one of the windows facing on the front porch of the house, was a seven-eights-inch tool. Mr. Dickson is pastor of the local Presbyterian church. Coincident with this feature of the attempt on the Dickson home, was the blowing up of the safe at the New Providence postoffice early Sunday morning. In this robbery a chisel was used to effect entrance. On the same night the blacksmith shop of Oscar Dickinson was entered after the same fashion. Again a chisel figured in the attempt on the home of Councilman William D. Clark last Friday. Mr. Dickson, who feared that, in a registered package which was stolen in the safe robbery he had lost a $100 gold watch, discovered on a trip to jewelers in New York, Monday, that the jeweler had not sent the watch, but only a couple of chains, which were not of exceptional value.

Store Closes Saturday at 9 P. M. Others Days 5:30.

WINS FIGHT FOR OLD PLACE.

Trenton, April 30.—Finding that the dismissal of William A. Spencer as secretary of the Middlesex County Tax Board, was in violation of section 24 of the civil service law, the Civil Service Commission yesterday directed the reinstatment of Mr. Spencer. Evidence produced at the hearing convinced the commission that Mr. Spencer was not lacking in efficiency, that he had not refused or failed to properly perform his duties and that his discharge was for political reasons and consequently in violation of the civil service law.

CHANGE PLACE OF MEETING.

The Brightside Circle of the King's Daughters will hold its annual meeting at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. C. LaBoyteaux, 39 Fairview avenue, instead of at the home of Mrs. J. A. Powlison, on Somerset street, as previously announced. The members are requested to especially note the change of place of meeting and hour.

ORDERS SUNDAY CLOSING.

Elizabeth, April 30.—Mayor Victor Mravlag yesterday issued orders to Chief of Police John A. Peters telling him to see that the Sunday closing laws are enforced. The Mayor informed the chief that orders issued by himself and his predecessor, Alfred A. Stein, have not been revoked and added that recent stabbing affrays in saloons show that they are being kept open on Sundays.

The Saving Touch of Color.

A lot can be done this year to freshen up last summer's supply of clothes by adding a touch of color to each frock, shirtwaist and suit, providing the touch of color be wisely added.

One of the easiest ways of giving this saving touch of color is to buy or make colored girdles for white or colored cotton frocks. These girdles, in the shops, are made of silk or velvet ribbon. They are generally long enough to tie in knots and hang in two long ends. Roman striped ribbon, six or eight inches wide, or even wider, is utilized effectively for girdles. It is folded about the waist; if the stripes run lengthwise of the ribbon it is so folded that only two or three of the colors show. The girdles made of this ribbon are finished with silk tassels, of the predominant color of the stripes, and are tied or knotted.

Belts are also made of striped ribbons. The ribbon used for these is either just the width of the belt, or else is wider and is folded once to make it the required width. These belts are fastened with ribbon-covered buckles.

Flowers.

Corsage flowers are much in evidence this spring and will probably be worn all through the summer. Sometimes three bunches of flowers, either matching or else harmonizing, are worn at the same time—one at the belt, one on the hat and the third at the neck, either as a finish to the neck ruff of tulle, or else fastened to the jabot.

Artificial flowers, too, are much worn on evening frocks. As festoons on lace or net skirts they are popular, and they are also attached to the foundation of silk or satin over which chiffon or lace is draped. They are sometimes carried over one shoulder, sometimes across the front of the bodice, sometimes about the belt and sometimes about the hem of the skirt. A recently imported evening gown showed an overskirt of lace, embroidered with roses, and the overskirt was caught up on one side with a large artificial rose. This idea could be easily copied in a remodeled evening gown.

Beads.

There seems to be no end to the uses of beads made by the dressmakers. They are used as fringe and for embroidery on many of the newest gowns of thin materials. Bead embroidery is comparatively simple to accomplish. The pattern is marked in the usual fashion, and the beads, in the colors chosen, are fastened in place with colored silk thread. Bead fringe and embroidery in colors on the end of chiffon or net sashes are especially effective.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

This is the latest Balkan blouse. It has drooping shoulders and a wide belt over the hips. It is becoming to young girls and to small women, and it can be utilized with a skirt to match or as a separate blouse be worn over pique, linen, serge and the like. It is a simple garment, involving little labor in making, and it will be found appropriate for serge, linen, galatea and all materials of a similar kind, with the collar in contrast.

The blouse itself includes only shoulder and underarm seams, and the one piece sleeves are sewed to it. They can be made in full or three-quarter length.

There is a separate shield that can be made with or without a stock collar and used or not, as occasion requires.

For the sixteen-year-old girl the blouse will require three and three eighths yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, with three-quarters of a yard of twenty-seven inch fabric for the collar and shield.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for girls of fourteen, sixteen and eighteen years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7811, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

Some Cookery Suggestions

DESSERTS WITH LEMONS.

LEMONS are always in the market, and they are comparatively inexpensive. With them many an emergency dessert may be concocted that will be both wholesome and delicious. Lemons really should appear on the bill of fare oftener then they do, for citric acid, a constituent of lemons, is one of the most wholesome things that may be taken into the system. Victims of rheumatism, those who have a scrofulous tendency and the sufferers from kidney troubles will all find the lemon diet suitable for their cases.

Lemons and Oranges Combined.

Jellied Lemons and Oranges.—Take two-thirds of a box of gelatin and soak it in a half cupful of cold water. When dissolved pour a half teacupful of hot water over it. Take the juice of two lemons, two oranges and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, separate one orange into small pieces, removing the seeds. Lay bananas, cut in small pieces, and Malaga grapes with oranges in the bottom of the mold. Strain the liquid over these and set aside to cool. Serve with whipped cream.

Lemon Souffle.—One pint of boiling water, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, mixed in a little cold water. Boil until as thick as a custard. Add a little salt; also butter the size of a nut. Take from the stove, add the yolks of three eggs beaten with a cup of sugar, juice and the rind of one large lemon. Mix well. Bake fifteen minutes. Take from the oven, put on white of eggs. Beat with three teaspoonfuls of powdered sugar. Brown and serve cold.

A Tempting Sweet.

Lemon Custard.—Take the grated rind and the juice of a lemon and mix with half a pint of water, let it all come to the boil in an enameled saucepan, add a tablespoonful of fresh butter and a tablespoonful of cornstarch mixed smooth with a gill of cold water. Stir all till it boils; then take off the fire, add a pinch of salt and allow it to cool. Meanwhile beat two yolks of eggs and one white until light, add them to the cornstarch and sweeten to taste with sugar. If you have any scraps of pastry roll them out, wet the edges of the pie dish, place the strips of pastry on it and press firmly. Make a pattern on this with a spoon. Pour the lemon mixture into a buttered pie dish and bake till set, probably about twenty minutes. Beat one white of egg to a stiff froth, mix it with a tablespoonful of sugar and pile it on the pudding, return it to the oven and let it get lightly browned.

30,000 VOICES!

And Many Are the Voices of Plainfield People.

Thirty thousand voices. What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Plainfield people are in this chorus. Here's a Plainfield case.

Mrs. Cecelia Rosseter, 127 Watchung avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I am only too pleased to again recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and I hope that all kidney sufferers who read my statement will profit by my experience. I have had a world of good from this remedy, backache, headache, dizzy spells and trouble with the kidney secretions being removed by it. I do not know what I would have done without Doan's Kidney Pills and I am certain that there is no kidney medicine that can be compared with them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

In Front of Him Rose Another Pig.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Little Pig's Naughty Revenge.

"FOLKS generally think that pigs are very stupid animals," said daddy one evening to Jack and Evelyn, "and I am not sure but that they are right. But they are not all foolish. Once I heard a funny story about a pig that got even very nicely with another pig that frightened him."

Of course Jack and Evelyn wanted to hear the story. So daddy went on to tell it.

"This happened many, many years ago," said daddy, "in a western city which is now one of the most beautiful in America and has streets that are well paved, but in those days the streets were nothing but streaks of mud, and pigs used to run about in them.

"This particular pig had been rooting around in the mud for something to eat and had found nothing, so he decided to go away and root in another street. He got up and walked along slowly, just as though he were thinking very deeply. He was quite a young pig, but active and strong.

"He had gone but a short distance when very suddenly up in front of him rose another pig, which had been lying in a mudhole in the street, buried so far down that unless you looked very closely you could have seen nothing of him. The first pig had not seen him, and when he rose so suddenly in the middle of the road the first pig was very much startled.

"He jumped back about three feet and then stood still for a moment, staring at his brother pig. Then he turned and ran off as fast as his four short, fat legs would let him. His little tail was shaking with fright, and he was squealing as loudly as though the butcher were after him with his biggest, sharpest knife.

"But he hadn't run very far when he slowed up, and soon he stood quite still, with his tail still shaking. But he wasn't so frightened any more. He seemed to be saying to himself: 'Now, what did that stupid pig mean by scaring me so? I'll teach him a lesson. I will! I'll show him he can't scare me!'

"And he ran back as fast as he could to the mudhole. There stood Mr. Pig No. 2, with a sort of astonished look on his face, as much as to say:

"'Now, what did he mean by running off and squealing? I didn't do anything to him.'

"But the first Mr. Pig got right down to business. He jumped upon the other pig, and soon the two were squealing at a great rate. Then the pig which had been so scared came out of the mudhole and trotted away with what looked like a smile on his face, and in his mouth he had a piece of the other pig's tail. That's how he punished him for frightening him so. Do you think it served him right?"

Square Pot Boiler

I installed one last fall and there hasn't been a minute since when we haven't been perfectly comfortable. I slip down in the morning, turn the grate, take out the little ash that's accumulated, put on some fresh coal and before Emma gets the breakfast on everything's as warm as a tin oven. Then at night I do the same thing again and that's all the care it takes. Actually, that Square Pot is the best investment I ever made—it's great."

BASEBALL NOTES

The father of Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, died in Cincinnati recently.

Honus Wagner believes that Everett Booe, now with the Pirates, is the coming star infielder in the major leagues.

That boy Weilman, the tallest pitcher in the big show, is doing some beautiful flinging for the St. Louis Browns.

Dick Hoblitzel, the Cincinnati Reds first sacker, is in fine form and out to duplicate his great work of last year.

Eddie Collins, of the Athletics, is a real "fence buster" at the present time, with a batting average of between .600 and .650 per cent.

Winning the first six games of the season gave Charlie Carr's Kansas City Blues a good start in the American Association pennant race.

Larry Lajoie is one of the oldest players under the big top today, but he is still able to clout the ball away out yonder, and then some.

Tim Jordan, the Toronto first baseman, was credited with eighteen of the twenty-four putouts registered by his team, in a recent game at Newark.

If the Athletics continue to slaughter American League teams, they will be so far out in front by July 4 that they can stop and rest up for the world's series.

"Death Valley" Jim Scott has surprised Chicago fans with his classy pitching for the White Sox. Jim was in poor condition last year, but looks like a winner this season.

It begins to look as if the Boston Braves were again doomed for the cave. Stallings will have to do a heap of figuring if he succeeds in bringing his crew to the surface.

Pitcher Falkenberg and Catcher Carisch, of the Cleveland Naps, form a genuine "come back" battery. Both were formerly with the Naps, but performed with Toledo last season.

Pitcher "Dutch" Klawitter looks strong enough to land a regular berth with the Detroit Tigers. He had a trial with the Giants a couple of years ago, and last season pitched for the Portland team of the Pacific Coast League.

Up to date Manager Johnny Evers, of the Cubs, has had a little something on his old pals, Frank Chance and Joe Tinker. The Cubs have been displaying better wares than either Tinker's Reds or the "Peerless Leaders'" Highlanders.

WITH THE BOXERS

Tommy Murphy received $4,000 for his bit in his battle with Ad Wolgast.

Eddie McGoorty is now under the management of Rudie Unholz, the Boer lightweight.

Bud Anderson, who recently put Knock Out Brown to sleep, will meet Joe Mandot at Vernon, Cali., May 20.

A battle between Luther McCarty and "Gunboat" Smith would no doubt be the biggest drawing card that could be staged at the present time.

SEASON OF TRI-STATE.

Trenton, N. J., April 30.—The Tri-State Baseball leeague started today on what promises to be the most successful season in the ten years af its existence. From the Harrisburg champians down to the tailenders of last season every team has made several changes with a view to strengthing its organization. The circuit has been reduced from eight clubs to six clubs, Reading and Chester having been dropped. In the opening games today York appeared at Harrisburg, Wilmington at Allentown and Atlantic City at Trenton. The season will end Labor day.

DENNY'S TWIRLING BEATS RIVAL CLASS

A Pinch Hitter Forced to Take Three Whiffs with the Bases Full in the Ninth.

By defeating the senior class baseball team on Parker Field yesterday afternoon in a regularly scheduled league contest the Plainfield High School sophomores took the lead in the series being played for the interclass championship with a percentage of 1,000 per cent. still hanging to their credit. The final score was 6 to 2.

Denny pitched a splendid game for the winning team, allowing but one hit, and proved himself master of the situation on several different occasions when he got into seemingly unsurmountable ditches and pulled himself out unscathed. Bryniarski twirled nearly as well as his rival moundsman but his followers did not hold him up in the field and time after time easy bounders were turned into fizzles.

In the ninth inning, with the bases full, "Cy" Guttridge was rushed into the fray as a pinch hitter, and Denny did the stunt of making this husky Dutchman fan three times at the air.

A CHALLENGE.

The Riverside Turners, one of the fastest light semi-pro baseball teams in Passaic county, would like to hear from teams having home grounds and offering suitable inducements. Address communications to Frank A. Iannucci, manager, P. O. Box 1785, Paterson, N. J.

ENGLAND WON'T SEND HER ATHLETES HERE FOR GAMES

The athletic authorities of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge have not yet received any formal invitation from the Universities of Harvard and Yale to participate in a track meet at Harvard Stadium in June or July this year. The secretary of the Oxford University Athletic Union, however, expressed the opinion today that it would be impossible to send a team from the English universities in June, as the examinations would be then in progress, while the month of July would, he thought, be too hot.

No action will be taken by the English universities on the invitation to take part in the American Olympic games at Chicago from June 28 to July 6 until the Harvard-Yale matter has been settled.

RIVAL MANAGER TALKS.

Sporting Editor:

The Netherwoods would like to make a few corrections in regard to the game published in your paper Monday afternoon in which our team played the Shamrocks. The box score gave the hitting of Darling as a feature of the game, whereas his hitting was not the feature in any sense of the word except for the lack of effectiveness, having struck out at least two times. The errors were made by the scorer who gave several men three base hits when they were really entitled only to singles and men were advanced on errors by the fielders. Hoffmaster and Luthman both secured two hits while Scainkle fanned fifteen men. Dodd was held in respect by the Shamrocks after throwing out eight men. Thanking you for your kindness and consideration, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

F. HOFFMASTER, Manager.

[Mistakes of this kind would be eliminated to some extent if the other manager (Hoffmaster in this case) would also turn in his box score so that the two could be compared by the Sporting Editor before any publicity was given. The fact is, the Shamrock manager was the only one who was on the job, and if the Netherwood A. C. pilot wanted his version of the battle published he should have been on the job with his score. The box score of this particular contest came into the hands of the sporting editor about noon time on Monday and it was then too late to do anything in the matter of comparison even if the other account had been received. If Mr. Hoffmaster will turn in his box scores as soon as the game is finished, Saturday night preferably, or as soon as he can following the completion of the contests, his games will be given due prominence on the sporting page and at the same time mistakes, which occurred in the box score Monday which were probably due to over zealousness on the part of the rival scorer, can be eliminated entirely.—Sporting Editor.]

McGraw Said to Have Completed Arrangements for Trip of Giants and Sox.

The world's tour of the baseball teams representing the Giants and the White Sox was arranged last evening at a conference between Manager John J. McGraw and a representative of Charles Comiskey, owner of the White Sox. It is understood that McGraw and the intermediary got together in New York to complete final plans.

The tourists will leave from Chicago on October 14, and will play through to the Coast. Honolulu will be the first stop after the players embark on their long sea journey. The outfit will then play its way to Japan, and will give exhibitions in four of the biggest cities in the land of the slant-eyed inhabitants—Tokio, Yokohoma, Hakodade and another large province.

The following two games will be played in China, at Pekin and Hong Kong. Manila will be the next destination of the pilgrims, and then they will show the natives of India how the American game is played.

Then will come a trip through Europe. Exhibitions will be played at the capitals of the various nations. The junket to Australia has been abandoned.

The sojourn will consume four months, the players getting back to the States in time to go South for spring training. They will have to become acclimated again.

Y. M. A.-PARK AVENUE CLASH.

A good game of baseball is expected to take place on Parker Field next Saturday afternoon, when the Y. M. A. baseball aggregation lines up against the Park Avenue Baptist aggregation. The Y. M. A. combination will take the field as follows: Thorn, p; Van Cleef (of Roselle) or Terry, c; Howell, 1b; Trotter, 3b; Raffinido, ss; Meyers, lf; Conger (of Elizabeth), cf; Harry Hand, rf. The Park Avenue team will take the field in the following order: VanArsdale and Mills, p; E. Mosher, c; W. Doane, 1b; Nathan Wilson, 2b; Thompson and Weber, 3b; J. Ricketts, ss; R. Mosher, lf; Tice, cf; Gage, rf.

RUTGERS AFTER BLODGETT.

"Bull" Blogett, the husky High School of Commerce baseball catcher, has become a new football and baseball prospect for the Rutgers College athletic teams for next season, as it is understood that he intends to enter the New Brunswick college in the fall. Blodgett displayed his ability behind the bat here last Saturday afternoon, playing against the Plainfield High School contingent and his huge frame, together with his great strength and remarkable football ability, will make him a valuable asset to the Rutgers team. He did much toward bringing the Greater New York football title to the High School of Commerce last season.

WISCONSIN-ILLINOIS LEAGUE.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 30.—The ninth session of the Wisconsin-Illinois Baseball league was opened today and will be continued until September 7, each team playing 130 games. The circuit this year embraces Racine, Appleton, Oshkosh, Madison, Rockford, Wausau, Green Bay and Milwaukee, the last named city having the franchise formerly held by Fond du Lac.

PRINCETON GYMNASTIC CAPTAIN.

Walter J. Wolf of New York City has been elected Captain of the Princeton University gymnastic team for next Winter. Wolf is a member of the junior class. Two years ago he was intercollegiate champion on the flying rings, and this year he won second place in that event.

HOW MURPHY GOT ROGER BRESNAHAN

Old Giant Catcher is to Become Manager in Case Evers Fails.

Just why Roger Bresnahan, the deposed manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, signed a Chicago contract in preference to a Pittsburgh, Cincinnati or Philadelphia contract has lately come to light.

As is well known, all the clubs that wished Roger's services bid high and the Cubs only won out on a promise that Chubby Charley Murphy gave Bresnahan, and not because of any greater monetary consideration.

It is said that when the various clubs began bidding for the services of the former Cardinal wily Roger had a talk with both Manager Fred Clarke, of the Pirates, and President Murphy, of the Cubs, and stated that, apart from the salary offered, it be stipulated that he (Bresnahan), be made manager in the event that either Clarke quit or Evers fell down as a manager.

It is said that Fred Clarke, of Pittsburgh, acceped Bresnahan's original proposition, but that he did not make good, because Dreyfuss would not agree to turn his team over to him in the event that Fred Clarke should quit baseball.

Shortly after that, so the story goes, Roger received an offer from Murphy which gave him $10,000 as a bonus for signing and a three-year contract for $20,000, which in all mean $30,000 for three years' work.

Having this proposition in writing Bresnahan showed it to Garry Herrmann, who also was in the market for his services.

Herrmann agreed to increase the Chicago proposition, but he refused to make any further promises, and Bresnahan turned the proposition down and finally accepted Murphy's offer on the condition that he will be made manager in the event that Evers fails.

NEW YORK LEAGUE OPENS.

Albany, N. Y., April 30.—The "little old New York State League," which stands pre-eminent among the baseball organizations of its class, started upon its eighteenth annual pennant race today, with Syracuse playing at Utica, Binghamton at Scranton, Elmira at Wilkesbarre and Troy at Albany. League officials and club owners are unanimous in predicting the most successful year in the history of the organization. The circuit remains the same as last year, though several managerial changes have been made. Dick Smith has succeeded "Buck" Freeman as manager at Scranton, and Lou Ritter, the former major league catcher, is the new pilot at Elmira. September 1 will be the closing date of the season.

ROYAL GIANTS' SUNDAY CARD.

Manager Pete Simmons and his Royal Colored Giants will assist Joe Alberts and his 'Plains ball tossers to inaugurate the diamond season at Scotch Plains next Sunday afternoon. It is proposed to have regular Sunday attractions at the 'Plains from now on and Manager Alberts has been busy booking some good attractions prior to the opening of the Central New Jersey League, after which regularly scheduled league contests will be pulled off there on Sundays.

PRESBYTERIANS WANT GAMES.

Games for the First Presbyterian church baseball team to be played previous to the opening of the Sunday-school league season May 17 are wanted by that aggregation and teams desiring to arrange dates are requested to write to the manager at 112 Plainfield avenue. Saturday afternoon is the regular playing day of this combination.

POINTERS FOR A BASEBALL SCORER

Local Teams Having Trouble With Officials Acting in This Capacity.

Ban Johnson has issued detailed instructions to his official scorers which are of interest to everybody interested in baseball. Last year John Heydler, secretary of the National League, drew up a table rating pitchers by earned runs off them. This year Johnson has gone into the earned run subject in careful detail and his instructions, as devising a way of forming a correct estimate of a pitcher's value, will appeal to followers of the game as having considerable merit. The American League president's instructions to his scorers are as follows:

Your attention is called to several changes in the official score blank of the American Leaguue for this season, the more important of them being for the purpose of establishing as a basis for computing the official records of pitchers, a modification of the former "earned run." This is designed to replace the won and lost system of rating pitchers' ability.

To accomplish this it is desired to obtain a complete record of the runs for which each pitcher was practically responsible—something quite different from the basis idea of the former "earned run." In determining the number of "runs earned by opponents" in the pitchers' summaries this year please follow this rule:

Earned Run.

Charge the pitcher with an "earned run" every time a player completes the circuit and scores by the base hits, sacrifice hits, stolen bases, bases on balls, batsmen hit, wild pitches and balks before chances to retire the side have been offered and missed.

The intent of the rule is to include under "earned runs" all the factors that produce runs for which the pitcher is chiefly responsible.

Runs scored as a result of fielding errors of all kinds or passed balls are not to be charged to the pitcher in this computation. Runs should not be charged against the pitcher, even if scored by clean hitting, after good chances to retire the side have been offered and not accepted by the fielders including the pitchers.

Complications and differences of opinion may arise regarding certain runs, particularly when a change of pitchers occurs with men on bases. In such cases the scorer should use his own judgment or include the facts and the difficulty encountered in his official report of the game, so that faults in the system may be remedied as far as possible.

It will no longer be necessary to determine the "winning" and "losing" pitcher, which will offset partially the additional task of computing "runs earned by opponents."

An "earned run" column has been added to the individual record of the batsmen and also columns showing individual bases on balls and strikeouts.

S. S. LEAGUE OPENING.

Members of the board of governors of the Sunday-school Baseball League have set May 17 as the opening date of the league schedule. At that time Park Avenue will play Hope Chapel and First Baptist will lineup against Monroe. Owing to the fact that there is an odd number of teams in the organization it is necessary for one aggregation to remain idle every week and the opening date falls the lot of the First Presbyterian combination, who, according to the schedule issued, does not get into action until June 7.

Y. M. A. WANTS A GAME.

Owing to the cancellation of the St. Joseph-Y. M. A. attraction at Bound Brook originally carded for next Saturday afternoon by the manager of the former team, the Y. M. A. aggregation has been left without a game for that date and the manager would like to get into communication with any team in this section having that date open. Address all letters to Percy Koechlin, Bound Brook, N. J.

A NEW WAY TO WIN.

A formal protest of the games played on the Polo Grounds, New York, April 23 and 24, between the New York and Philadelphia teams of the National League was filed by telegraph with President Lynch of the league by President Locke, of the Philadelphia club, yesterday. The protest is based on the claim of the Philadelphia players that there was a hole in the ground back of the pitchers box at the Polo Grounds on those two days. "This," President Locke says, "is a violation of the playing rules, section 2, rule 9, which says that the ground must slope gradually from the pitcher's box to the bases on either side. The hole was filled in for the game of yesterday, April 29."

CENTRAL ASSOCIATION OPENS.

Ottumwa, Ia., April 30.—The sixth season of the Central Association of Baseball Clubs opened today with Burlington playing at Muscatine, Waterloo at Kewanee, Cedar Rapids at Monmouth and Keokuk facing the Ottumwa champions in this city. Since the close of last season important changes have been made in the association circuit. Calesburg and Hannibal have been dropped and Waterloo and Cedar Rapids have taken their placees. The schedule for the present season calls for 120 games, closing Labor day.

...Silk Nightgowns are a practical novelty, especially saving in laundry bills when traveling.

Lingerie designed by Premet, the Paris dressmaker, has been exactly copied. The same fascinating eighteenth century fichu of washable net, the high Empire waist line, the pretty transparent material may be had now in American nightgowns and combinations moderate in price

Two-tone Nightgowns are of nainsook with trimming of delicately tinted ecru batiste embroidery at $3, $4.50 and $6.

Ribbon Shoulder Straps are used very largely.

Flesh color Batiste is a charming material employed extensively.

Net Petticoats copied from a Paris Jupon have three little hemstitched flounces, each edged with ribbon. The original model was $85. The copy is $7.50.

Dimity Nightgowns with lace galons, $3.

Blue or pink striped crepon Gowns, piped with plain color, $1.

Lingerie de Paris

Correct lingerie is most important in wearing the new gowns. Exhibitions of underclothes in Paris late in February interested all the mondaines who had been puzzling how to secure straight lines that would look as natural and uncorseted as Poiret, Callot and Jeanne Lanvin demanded. Several weeks ago New York women saw these earlier models posed in the Wanamaker Store. Especially for the Summer Sale of White we have had expressed from Paris the later models of the rue de la Paix. The straight, unconfined, entirely natural lines of the Chinese are the new note.

The simplicity of styles ...able in the best gowns also has affected the lingerie.

Our increasingly large orders have resulted in moderate prices on even these novelties.

With these new fashions are hundreds of inexpensive garments ordered many months ago and embroidered by French peasants during their unoccupied season. Chemises, 65c to $2.50; drawers, 85c and $1; corset covers, 65c to $4.50; nightgowns, $1.50 to $5; petticoats, $1 to $3; combinations, $2.50 to $5; vest chemises, $2.

Paris Blouses

Hand-made and embroidered batiste, $3.85.

Low neck blouses, $5.

Cotton Crepe and the new handkerchief linen, $5.50 and $6.

Batiste, with real Valenciennes, $13.50

Others, $6.75, $7.50, $10, $12.

Copies of Paris Blouses

...models imported from Paris only two to four weeks ago have been copied in blouses prepared for this sale at $2, $3 or $5. That they are well copied it ...only a glance to see.

The pretty ruffle blouse so becoming to almost every face at $3.

The charming Debardeur model, with its ...cream and black taffeta, at $2.

...fichu blouses of crepe de chine at $5 or ...with embroidery or lace, at $5, $5.75 and $6.75.

Groups of net blouses, some embroidered with Futurist colors, at $6.

White tub silk blouses at $4.50 and $5.

A special purchase of hand embroidered white linen blouses, severely tailored, are wonderfully good for $1.75.

Hundreds of new models of better quality for the prices and more Parisian in style than in any previous White Sale.

Summer Corsets

In no part of this Half-Yearly Sale are we more particular than in the corsets we offer.

Value in a corset is a fleeting thing. Style counts for as much as good make. A good style in a Spring corset regularly $2 is more to be desired than a $5 last year's model—even if the $5 model were lessened to $2.50. Corsets in this sale are new, correct models, freshly made.

They are offered for less because our large orders throughout the year enable the makers to co-operate with us at this time.

$6 Silphin model for $3—figured batiste.

$5 Florita model for $3—pink or blue stripes.

$5 W. B. model for $3—white and pink brocade.

$3.50 Amercian Lady model for $2.50—fancy materials.

$3.50 Nemo model for $2.

$1.50 Warner's Rustproof model for $1.50

$2 W. B. model for $1.50.

Silk Petticoats

Models regularly priced $5 are here at $2.95—chiffon taffeta, in changeable colors, with cotton underlay.

Evening skirts, regularly $3.85, are $2.95—crepe de chine, in pink or white, with creamy shadow lace and rosebuds.

Girls' Blouses

Norfolk blouses—middies—which we have been selling at $2 are here at $1; sizes 8 to 18 years.

Sample blouses in lingerie and simple styles, with low collars, which are usually $2 and $2.50, are here at $1. No two are alike—and each is pretty.

White crepe de chine blouses at the extraordinary prices of $3.50 and $4.

China silk, $3 and $3.50.

Negligees House Dresses Aprons

This is the time when hundreds of crisp new coiffing sacques, matinees, wrappers, kimonos and tea gowns may be had in washable materials at special prices.

American-made coiffing sacques of dotted swiss, $1; other materials up to $6.75.

Negligees of flowered cotton crepe at the particularly low price of $1.50; figured voile, $2.50; dotted silk and cotton material, $2.75; white swiss trimmed with lace $2.50.

Negligees of excellent crepe de chine trimmed with net are most unusual at $6.75, and rich crepe meteor with scalloped edges, $6.50.

House Dresses

It is a pretty fashion in many summer homes to have the maids dress in pink. This White Sale offers plain chambray dresses in a charming shade of pink at $2 and $2.50. For personal maids and waitresses who wear gray chambray there is a good model at $2.25. Dainty cool lawn, percale, gingham and striped madras for the housewife have low collars. Specially prepared for this sale at $1.50 to $7.50.

Aprons

So many kinds of aprons these days it is worth while spending a few minutes in discovering the new shapes.

Babies' Clothes

It will be a happy little girl who will wear the pretty Russian dresses of blue or pink percale, and mothers will find them well made and properly proportioned for the White Sale price of $1.25. Cunning dresses of rose printed dimities and lawn will make girls of 2 to 6 years look like dainty rose gardens. $1 to $2. New two-piece middy dresses convenient to get in—have short sleeves and patent leather belts, for $2.50.

Children's white dresses, with embroidered yokes, 6 months to 2 years, 50c to $6.50. Paris-American dresses, with hand-embroidered yokes, are a surprise at 60c.

Boys' bloomer suits of chambray or white striped madras in a number of styles are $1. Others are $1.50 to $2.50; sizes 2, 3 and 4 years.

Babies' slips, 45c, 50c, 85c and $1. Handmade dresses, $1.50.
